Not a Full Explanation.

The manifestation called heat is with humans and most other animals a sensation indescribable. From the time of Democritus and Epicurus, and far back of that, the mystery of the source of heat was hotly discussed. As time flew on and on the mystery was segregated into learned words, and Sir Humphry Davy explained it all by saying that heat was merely the vibration of corpuscles of the body. He did not tell of the origin of the corpuscles or why they vibrated.

Quiet Shoes.

To make nice sick-room shoes in which you can step about softly, cut from old felt hats sole and heel pieces. Glue these on and you have a quieter shoe than those sold as nurses' shoes. The patter of little feet, so hard on some people's nerves, is easily deadened by the same method, also helping to keep the little feet warm when playing on a cold floor.

The Fishing Banks.

Newfoundland would be nothing without the great submarine plateau known as the "banks," on which all the fishing is done. At a small station within the edges of the great bank that the cod loves so well the sea is quite smooth. It is usual for vessels fishing on the banks to inquire from those that have arrived from the c[illegible] as to what sort of weather [illegible] —Exchange.

DRAFT PROGRAM FOR ACTION

Object of Conference Not to Suggest Steps to Bring Present War to End—Short Record of Work Done.

The Hague, via London, April 13.—For three days there has been a private discussion of peace here by a conference consisting of about 30 delegates from the United States, Holland, Germany, Austria-Hungary, Sweden, Norway, Great Britain, Belgium and Switzerland.

The conference came to an end with the drafting of a program for action in the various countries. Only a short record of the work of the conference has been issued, as follows:

"The object of the meeting was not to suggest steps to bring the war to an end, but to consider by what principles the future peace of the world would best be guaranteed. After a full discussion, a minimum program was adopted.

For a Durable Peace.

"The action to be initiated in the different countries ultimately will be supplemented by an international propaganda. A central committee for a durable peace has been created as a link between the national organizations.

"The committee of the Dutch antiwar council, supplemented by members from other countries, will serve as the executive committee."

Mrs. Fanny F. Andrews of Boston was the American delegate.

Hindenburg Does Not Fear New Army.

Berlin, via wireless to Sayville, April 13.—General von Hindenburg, hero of the Mazurian lakes battles, told a neutral correspondent that he has absolutely no fear of Lord Kitchener's new army massed along the Franco-Flanders battle line. "Kitchener has a million soldiers, but not a real army," said von Hindenburg. "He has just uniformed crowds. These officers and noncoms lack the experience of German officers who have generations of military training behind them."

WISCONSIN SOLON LEAPS TO DEATH

ASSEMBLYMAN PAULUS JUMPS FROM TENTH FLOOR OF BANK BUILDING.

HUNDREDS ARE PETRIFIED

Body Narrowly Misses Group of Ten—Legislator Was Candidate for Speakership of House—Mind Believed to Be Affected.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 12.—Assemblyman Christopher Paulus leaped from the tenth floor of the First National bank building and was instantly killed.

Paulus prepared for his leap with a deliberation that petrified hundreds of persons in the street below. He was seen to climb to a window ledge and stood upright for fully a minute, his back to the street. He attracted only slight attention at first, as it was believed that he was a window washer.

Then he turned carefully around, poised for an instant facing the street and leaped.

Strikes on His Head.

He turned completely over twice and struck on his head. The body narrowly missed a group of 10 who were entering the bank and one leg struck a bicycle which a messenger had just parked at the curb.

Paulus is said to have recently exhibited signs of mental aberration and steps were to be taken to have a commission investigate his sanity. He recently became involved in financial difficulties.

In the campaign for legislative offices he was a candidate for the speakership of the house and made an active canvass for the office, but his candidacy played little part in the organization of that body. He was elected to the assembly last fall.

He leaves a widow and two children.

Stampede on Stock Exchange.

New York, April 12.—Scenes of wild excitement attended the renewal of operations on the Stock Exchange. The trading floor was crowded with members and the visitors' gallery was lined with spectators, many of them women. Overnight buying orders and a further stampede of the short interests lifted prices throughout the list, gains extending from 1 to 3 points in speculative favorites and specialties. United States Steel, the leader of the spectacular movement, was again the chief feature, opening with a block of 15,000 shares at 57⅛@57¾ and soon advancing to 59. Bethlehem Steel was the only prominent stock to hold back, declining 2 points. Rock Island was the most erratic issue, rising almost 4 points and soon losing all its advance. Trading during the first half hour was on the largest scale for the period in the recent history of the exchange. Recessions ranging from a fraction to 2 points ensued soon after the initial outburst on heavy profit-taking.

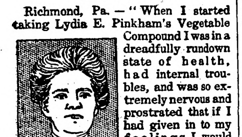
WOMAN WOULD NOT GIVE UP

Though Sick and Suffering; At Last Found Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Richmond, Pa. — "When I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was in a dreadfully rundown state of health, had internal troubles, and was so extremely nervous and prostrated that if I had given in to my feelings I would have been in bed. As it was I had hardly strength at times to be on my feet and what I did do was by a great effort. I could not sleep at night and of course felt very bad in the morning, and had a steady headache.



"After taking the second bottle I noticed that the headache was not so bad, I rested better, and my nerves were stronger. I continued its use until it made a new woman of me, and now I can hardly realize that I am able to do so much as I do. Whenever I know any woman in need of a good medicine I highly praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound." — Mrs. FRANK CLARK, 3146 N. Tulip St., Richmond, Pa.

FOR REGULATING BRIDGE BUILDING

BILLS TO INVESTIGATE ALLEGED UNFAIR COMBINATION ADOPTED BY THE HOUSE.

WOULD AMEND CASHMAN LAW

Senate Railroad Committee Reports Commission's Bill in Spite of Appeal—Defines Twin Cities Freight Terminal Status.

Amid scenes of considerable tumult the house passed Representative James Dwyer's civil service repeal bill. The bill now goes to the senate for action and both sides claim the majority there.

The repeal bill, if it becomes a law, would abolish the Minneapolis civil service commission and the merit system of employment and promotion in effect in Minneapolis since the legislature of two years ago adopted the bill which created the commission and the system.

St. Paul, Minn.—Two bills prepared by the special house committee appointed to investigate an alleged unfair combination of public bridge contractors were passed by the house with but few dissenting votes and the report of the committee was also adopted.

One bill would authorize the state highway commission to act as agent for any town, village or county in the purchase of bridge material and in letting contracts for the erection of the bridge.

The commission would let the contract to the lowest responsible bidder, retaining the privilege, however, to reject one or all bids.

The other bill would compel the governing body of a town or county to advise the commission at least 3 weeks before time fixed for receiving bids.

The bill providing for industrial training in public schools was passed by the house.

To Amend Cashman Tariff Law.

In spite of an appeal by the state railroad commission to allow it more discretionary power, the senate railroad committee reported the commission's bill amending the Cashman distance tariff law with a clause added defining the status of the Twin City freight terminal. At present under the Cashman law, shipments to Minneapolis and St. Paul take different rates. The purpose of the amending act is to make the Twin City terminal, from Hopkins to South St. Paul, a single point. The added clause restores the old rule that the distance from any station to either of the Twin Cities is governed by the distance to the nearer city.

The bill has passed the house, and there was opposition to the amendment on the ground that it might jeopardize final action on the bill. It was adopted in committee and then reconsidered for a further hearing. Minneapolis business men were on hand to urge its adoption. Without the amendment, they said, it would be possible either for the railroad commission or the courts to make the distance to Minnesota Transfer the measure of rates to Twin City terminals. This would add five miles to every existing distance and increase rates to and from the Twin Cities all over the state.

May 6 Designated "Clean-up" Day.

Governor Hammond has designated Thursday, May 6, as clean-up day. "The annual loss of property by fire in the state is appalling," says Governor Hammond in his proclamation. "This loss arises very largely from carelessness. In designating May 6 as Clean-up Day, I recommend that mayors, fire marshals and all public officers use all diligence in calling to the attention of the people within their jurisdiction the importance of putting their premises in order against the danger of fire."

Governor Hammond further urges that the schools of Minnesota both public and private, recognize May 6 by having fire drill exercises and discussions of the best methods of protecting property and life. All civic organizations are also urged to observe the day.

Indorse Bank Bill Report.

After a long debate the house adopted the majority report of the judiciary committee, which held that a majority vote of the house would be sufficient to pass the bill introduced by the banking committee compelling banks to keep their reserve in banks having a reserve of $25,000 or more. Another bill, which was referred to the judiciary committee for consideration as to the number of votes necessary to pass, is yet to be taken up

No Passes to Land Agents.

By a vote of 29 to 36 the senate voted down the bill proposing railroad passes for land agents. Senator E. P. Peterson of Litchfield, arguing against the minority report, declared that passage of the land agent's transportation bill would throw down the bars as regards anti-pass legislation in Minnesota. Senator D. P O'Neil of Thief River Falls, favoring the minority report, declared the rapid development of northern Minnesota and other sections of the state depended greatly on the giving of railroad passes to agents.

COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE MAYO FOUNDATION PROPOSAL

St. Paul, Minn.—Bearing the names of Senator Frank E. Putnam of Blue Earth and Senator Oluf Gjerset of Montevideo, a resolution calling for a senatorial investigation of the proposed affiliation of the University of Minnesota medical department and the Mayo Foundation of Rochester, has been adopted unanimously by the senate.

The resolution has the backing of Senator William S. Dwinnell of Minneapolis and other members of the senate, who desire to have full light thrown on the agreement by which it is proposed to establish this foundation.

Lieutenant Governor J. A. A. Burnquest at once named Senators Oluf Gjerset of Montevideo, Carl L. Wallace of Minneapolis and J. W. Andrews of Mankato as members of the committee.

Conflicting Statements.

The resolution adopted by the senate reads as follows:

"There is now pending in the senate a bill involving the proposed affiliation of the University medical department with the Mayo Foundation at Rochester, and conflicting statements are made as to the real agreement upon which it is proposed to establish such affiliation.

"Senators F. E. Putnam and Oluf Gjerset therefore move that a senate committee of three be appointed to visit the university and ascertain the exact facts and agreement upon which it is proposed to establish such affiliation, and to report the same to the senate."

APPROPRIATION OF $5,213,397 ASKED BY HOUSE COMMITTEE

St. Paul, Minn.—The house appropriations committee has introduced its departmental appropriation bill. The total recommended for the department is $5,213,387 for the biennial period, as against $5,327,290 granted two years ago.

Even so, the house departmental bill is approximately $200,000 in excess of the similar bill introducel some time ago by the senate committee. One of the chief differences is in the appropriation for the foresty department. This department now is receiving $75,000 a year, which the senate cut to $40,000 a year. The house bill carries $75,000 per year, the same as now received. The house also gives the board of health a larger appropriation than does the senate committee, which granted $71,300 per year, while the house granted $106,000.

The house bill also provides a $25,000 appropriation for a waterways commission. This is not included in the senate bill.

The house committee bill does not mention the state immigration department. The senate committee granted $25,000 per year. There is pending in the house a bill to abolish this department.

BILL TO INCREASE MAYORS' SALARIES PASSED BY SENATE

St. Paul, Minn.—After a fight, during which unsuccessful efforts were made to amend the measure radically, Senator John A. Healy's bill providing an increase in salaries and extension of terms of office for municipal officials in villages of more than 5,000 population, was passed by the senate by a vote of 46 to 5.

The measure, known as the "Range Towns Mayors' Bill," was fought by Senator Richard Jones of Duluth, who submitted an amendment to make the salaries of mayors $300 per annum instead of $1,2000 as provided in the bill.

This amendment was lost on a roll call, 36 to 14.

The senate then passed the bill as it stood.

Senator Healy said the bill had the approval of the Hibbing Commercial club and other public organizations in the Range towns.

WOULD BE FIRST STATE TO CONTROL INSURANCE RATES

When Governor Hammond affixes his signature to Senate File 558, which he is expected to do at once, Minnesota will be the first state in the Union to assume jurisdiction over and control of fire insurance rates.

Senate File 558 is the product of the State Insurance Department of which S. G. Works is the head. It gives Commissioner Works supervision over the making of rates for fire insurance companies. It provides that the commissioner may examine any and all rate making bureaus in the state and ascertain their methods of procedure in matters of rate-making.

Teachers' Pension Bill Passed

The teachers' pension bill was passed by the house by a vote of 82 to 39 after a warm debate and fruitless efforts to amend it.

It provides for a compulsory contribution of $5 a year for five years and $10 a year thereafter by all teachers.

Approves Franchise Bill

Minneapolis, April 9. The Hennepin house delegation has placed its seal of approval on the bill which would permit the Minneapolis city council to enter into negotiations with the street railway company relative to franchise renewal.

House Takes Up Insurance Bills.

The house took up as a special order 13 insurance bills. Among them was a bill by Representative Theodore Christianson of Dawson, providing for state insurance on public buildings

SPRINGS NEW ONE IN HOTEL ROBBERY

Sends to Office for $100 Change and Leaves Bearer Locked In.

IN ROOM 50 MINUTES

New York Hotel Is Loser on New Scheme—Guest Beats, Ties and Robs Bellboy, Who Brings Him Change.

New York.—A 50-minute guest at the Hotel McAlpin robbed the management of $100 after knocking unconscious and binding a bellboy who had been sent to the room with the bills as change. Then he tumbled the stunned boy on to the bed, locked him in and escaped.

At 3:34 o'clock a swarthy, well dressed man, apparently in his thirties, registered as "N. C." or "N. G Grey, Washington" (the management preferred to believe it was "N. G.") and a $4-a-day room on the fourth floor, Thirty-second street side of the hotel, was assigned to him.

Asks Change for $100.

Just 50 minutes later Grey telephoned down to the cashier to please send him up change for $100, preferably in small bills.

Nineteen-year-old Joseph Abbundi of 34 East Twenty-ninth street, a trusted boy who has been with the hotel since it was opened, was sent to the room with the money in a sealed envelope.

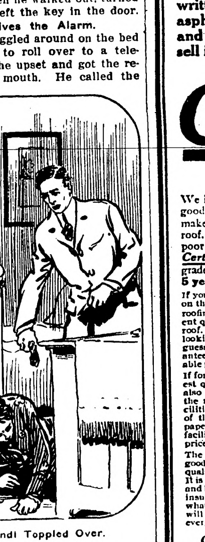
Grey received him with a smile took the envelope and then seemingly dropped a quarter as if by accident.

"That's for you," he said. "Pick it up."

As the boy was leaning over, the man whipped a revolver out of his pocket and struck him over the back of the head, inflicting a slight cut. Abbundi toppled over, but did not lose consciousness. Grey flourished his gun and threatened to shoot if there was an outcry and then tumbled Abbundi on to the bed and bound him with blankets, pillow slips and strips of sheets. Then he walked out, turned the lock and left the key in the door.

Boy Gives the Alarm.

Abbundi wriggled around on the bed and managed to roll over to a telephone, which he upset and got the receiver in his mouth. He called the office and H H Bascombe a house officer, went up with a bellboy. At the hotel hospital Dr Ross McPherson, the hotel physician, said his injuries were not serious.



Abbundi Toppled Over.

Detective Sussillo of the second branch detective bureau was unable to find anybody who saw Grey leave the hotel

The robber had a cheap new suit case in which were found four or five shirts with the laundry marks cut out. The shirts were 14½ size, obviously too small for him. The suitcase also contained a hammer, two screw drivers, a roll of sandpaper, a pair of 8½ "sneakers" and a pair of 8½ shoe trees.

Grey was five feet ten inches tall and weighed about 165 or 170 pounds. He had a prominent nose He wore a brown suit, an alpine hat and a dark overcoat.

Lucius M Boomer managing director of the McAlpine, said the plan of robbery was a new one in the hotel business and he couldn't blame any hotel employee for being caught by it.

The reasons for Certain-teed Roofing

Every buyer needs the proper assurance, when he pays for the best quality, that a second or third quality will not be delivered. The market is flooded with too many brands. Some manufacturers with poor facilities too often meet competition by cutting quality. Some wholesalers buy any old quality, put their labels on it, and say it is the best. Our Certain-teed label is backed by the written guarantee of the world's largest manufacturer of asphalt roofings. It gives each buyer the assurance wanted, and our unequalled facilities for manufacturing enable us to sell it at a very reasonable price.

These are the reasons for Certain-teed

Roofing

We invite every one interested to come to our mills and see how we make the goods. We know that our Certain-teed Roofing is the best quality that we can make. It's the best quality that can be made to last and remain waterproof on the roof. It is made with that one purpose in view. We also make cheap grade, poor quality roofings to meet the demand for very temporary roofs, but the Certain-teed label goes only on our best quality, longest life product. It is the grade which carries our Company name and endorsement and guarantee—1-ply 5 years, 2-ply 10 years, 3-ply 15 years.

If you want the right quality and want to be sure you are getting what you pay for, insist on the Certain-teed label. The price is reasonable. No one can tell the quality of a piece of roofing by looking at it. The man is not living who can take three kinds of roofing of different qualities and tell with any degree of accuracy the length of time each one will last on the roof. He cannot tell their relative values by looking at them. Why take the chance of guessing, when you can get the safest guarantee on the best quality goods at a reasonable price.

If for any reason you do not care for the highest quality—if you want a temporary roof, we also make goods sold at the lowest price on the market, because we have unequalled facilities, and are making approximately a third of the entire asphalt roofing and building papers of the whole world's supply. Our facilities enable us to beat all competition on price goods as well as on Certain-teed quality. The difference between the total cost of the goods, the freight, the laying, etc., between quality goods and price goods is insignificant. It is much better policy to cut out the guessing and let the manufacturer of real responsibility insure you on all the vital points. He knows what he puts into the goods and what they will do—you can then insist upon getting everything as represented.

LET'S BOOST BUSINESS

Less Politics—More Prosperity

We have had enough starvation business—enough of political "cure-alls" of every party, with their smashing and busting—enough of politicians who promise economy and honesty in order to get into office and then practice unheard of extravagances and then play for votes or party rather than for principle and right, etc. The cost of living is not going down. Let's go after good times and make enough money to pay for the cost of a living, whatever it may be. We don't want cheap living—we want good business and good times for everybody and if we all pull together we will get them.

The game of the politician is to promise everything. Many of them ought to be prosecuted for fraud on account of the difference between what they promise and what they deliver. They're worse than the business man who over-advertises the quality of his goods. Let the business interests, from the laborer to the superintendent, from the office boy to the president, from the hired man on the farm to the owner of the farm, remember that they have a common interest in good business and a square deal in business. Stop listening to the fakers and let's boost ourselves back into good times. It can be done. No more knockers and false prophets are wanted. We are going to be too busy to listen to any except those who promise "good business" legislation.

160 ACRE FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE

The war's fearful devastation of European crops has caused an unusual demand for grain from the American Continent. The people of the world must be fed and there is an unusual demand for Canadian wheat. Canada's invitation to every industrious American is therefore especially attractive. She wants farmers to make money and happy, prosperous homes for themselves while helping her to raise immense wheat crops.

You can get a Homestead of 160 acres FREE and other lands can be bought at remarkably low prices. Think of the money you can make with wheat at its present high prices, where for some time it is liable to continue. During many years Canadian wheat fields have averaged 20 bushels to the acre—many yields as high as 45 bushels to the acre. Wonderful crops also of Oats, Barley and Flax.

Mixed farming is fully as profitable an industry as grain raising. The excellent grasses, full of nutrition, are the only food required either for beef or dairy purposes. Good schools, markets convenient, climate excellent.

Military service is not compulsory in Canada, but there is an extra demand for farm labor to replace the many young men who have volunteered for the war. The Government this year is urging farmers to put extra acreage into grain.

RATE INCREASE NECESSARY

FARMERS' UNION OFFICIALS THINK RAILROADS ARE ENTITLED TO MORE REVENUE.

Products of Plow and Farmer Who Lives at Home Should Be Exempt From Increase.

By Peter Radford.
Lecturer National Farmers' Union.

The recent action of the Interstate Commerce Commission in granting an increase in freight rates in the eastern classification of territory; the application of the roads to state and interstate commissions for an increase in rates, and the utterances of President Wilson on the subject bring the farmers of this nation face to face with the problem of an increase in freight rates. It is the policy of the Farmers' Union to meet the issues affecting the welfare of the farmers squarely and we will do so in this instance.

The transportation facilities of the United States are inadequate to effectively meet the demands of commerce and particularly in the South and West additional railway mileage is needed to accommodate the movement of farm products. If in the wisdom of our Railroad Commissions an increase in freight rates is necessary to bring about an improvement in our transportation service, and an extension of our mileage, then an increase should be granted, and the farmer is willing to share such proportion of the increase as justly belongs to him, but we have some suggestions to make as to the manner in which this increase shall be levied.

Rates Follow Lines of Least Resistance.

The freight rates of the nation have been built up along lines of least resistance. The merchant, the manufacturer, the miner, the miller, the lumberman and the cattleman have had their traffic bureaus thoroughly organized and in many instances they have pursued the railroad without mercy and with the power of organized tonnage they have hammered the life out of the rates and with unrestrained greed they have eaten the vitals out of our transportation system and since we have had railroad commissions, these interests, with skill and cunning, are represented at every hearing in which their business is involved.

The farmer is seldom represented at rate hearings, as his organizations have never had the finances to employ counsel to develop his side of the case and, as a result, the products of the plow bear an unequal burden of the freight expense. A glance at the freight tariffs abundantly proves this assertion. Cotton, the leading agricultural product of the South, already bears the highest freight rate of any necessary commodity in commerce, and the rate on agricultural products as a whole is out of proportion with that of the products of the factory and the mine.

We offer no schedule of rates, but hope the commission will be able to give the railroad such an increase in rates as is necessary without levying a further toll upon the products of the plow. The instance seems to present an opportunity to the Railroad Commissions to equalize the rates as between agricultural and other classes of freight without disturbing the rates on staple farm products.

What Is a Fair Rate?

We do not know what constitutes a basis for rate making and have never heard of anyone who did claim to know much about it, but if the prosperity of the farm is a factor to be considered and the railroad commission concludes that an increase in rates is necessary, we would prefer that it come to us through articles of consumption on their journey from the factory to the farm. We would, for example, prefer that the rate on hogs remain as at present and the rate on meat bear the increase, for any farmer can then avoid the burden by raising his own meat, and a farmer who will not try to raise his own meat ought to be penalized. We think the rate on coal and brick can much better bear an increase than the rate on cotton and flour. We would prefer that the rate on plows remain the same, and machinery, pianos and such articles as the poorer farmer cannot hope to possess bear the burden of increase.

The increase in rates should be so arranged that the farmer who lives at home will bear no part of the burden, but let the farmer who boards in other states and countries and who feeds his stock in foreign lands, pay the price of his folly.

Correct Vibrations of Health.

The Indian in his natural state has no diseases as we know them. He lives in the open air and hunts and fishes enough to make his blood circulate fast; his lungs exercise enough to keep his blood pure. Human beings sit in the house and do not exercise their lungs, and in due time they run down a vibration sufficiently low to enable the disease germs to take hold on the tissue cells of the body and poison or destroy them.—Elizabeth Towne in Nautilus.

AVIATOR GARROS IS TAKEN BY GERMANS

FAMOUS FRENCH AIRMAN CAPTURED IN BELGIUM, SAYS BERLIN REPORT.

IS WELL KNOWN IN AMERICA

Lieutenant Flew in Many Competitions in this Country.—His Latest Exploit Was at Dunkirk Three Days Ago.

Berlin, April 20.—The report on the progress of hostilities given out by German headquarters relates that Lieutenant Roland G. Garros, the famous French aviator, has been made a prisoner by the Germans at Maelmunster, Belgium, seven miles north of Courtrai.

Lieutenant Garros is well known in the United States, having flown in many competitions in this country.

Most Daring Airman.

Since the beginning of the war he has been among the most intrepid and daring of the French military airmen. His latest exploit was at Dunkirk, three days ago, when he shot dead, in the air, the aviator and the observer of a German aeroplane. He went out against this machine alone, and as his machine was the faster, he was able to gain an advantageous position, from which he fired, with fatal precision.

Two of Garros' bullets took effect and the German machine crashed to earth. Both the aviator and the observer had been shot dead.

Garros was born of French parents at Capetown, Union of South Africa, in 1885. He is a graduate of the Universities of Paris and of the Law University of Paris, and for a time practiced his profession in the French capital.

Breaks Aviation Records.

The exploits of Garros have made him a prominent figure in aviation circles throughout the world.

Among the aviation records broken by Garros were his flight made on Dec. 11, 1912, when he ascended to a height of 19,032 feet and established a world's altitude mark; his flight from Tunis to Sicily in December, 1912, when he traveled for a distance of 160 miles entirely over water, and his flight across the Mediterranean from St. Rapheal to Bizerta. This latter feat was accomplished by Garros in 7 hours and 53 minutes, in which time he traveled 558 miles.

TURKS REPEL ALLIED SHIPS

Force British Battleships in Dardanelles to Withdraw—German Aviators Shell Steamers.

Constantinople, via Wireless to Berlin and London, April 20.—The following Turkish official statement regarding recent operations at the Dardanelles was given out here.

"On the afternoon of April 14 the British battleship Majestic bombarded a land position near Baba Tepeh on Saros Bay. The fire was returned and the Majestic was forced to retire.

"On the following afternoon the Majestic attacked our advanced batteries, but was struck three times. The warship retired and was replaced by the British battleship Swiftsure, which continued the bombardment without result.

"On the nights between the 13th and 15th of April, enemy torpedo boats tried to penetrate the Dardanelles. They were easily repulsed. German aviators dropped bombs which struck and exploded on enemy coal steamers.

"Main headquarters reported that Saturday an enemy hydroplane was damaged by Turkish fire and fell into the sea. A second hydroplane attempted to save it and was sunk by our fire. An English armored cruiser, which lugged away the damaged machine was sturuck by our shells. The cruiser with the hydroplane withdrew."

WAR GAME STARTS IN TEXAS.

Texas City, Tex., April 20.—Ten thousand United States troops belonging to the Second division have started an extensive war game here. Many visitors are coming here long distances to see the maneuvers.

All of the service—infantry, cavalry, artillery and hospital corps—are represented. The division has been subdivided into two armies. The commander of each side will know of the movements of the "enemy" only as he learns of them through his scouts. Umpires have been appointed who will report the game fully to Washington. Full field equipment of rations, arms and ammunition will be carried by the troops. Battles will be fought, towns and villages attacked and defended, trenches dug and forced marches made. The game will last 12 days, terminating April 30.

McAdoo Returns for Bank Suit

Chicago, April 20.—That the Administration sees political danger in the Riggs National Bank's suit against the treasury was evidenced by reports that Secretary McAdoo of the treasury was expected to resume his official duties this week, after a long siege following an appendicitis operation and general breakdown.

There is a strong impression that McAdoo has shortened the period of his convalescent to get into the bank's fight against his associates.

GRAND DUKE SHOT, IS TEUTON REPORT

SICKNESS OF RUSSIAN COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF ACCOUNTED FOR BY GERMAN PAPER.

HEATED COLLOQUY OCCURS

General Sievers Given Box on Ear by Grand Duke When Summoned to Explain Defeat of Russian Tenth Army—Shooting Follows.

Berlin, April 19.—By Wireless to Sayville, N. Y.—The General Anzeiger of Duisburg Rheinish Prussia, says it learns "from an absolutely unimpeachable source" that the reported sickness of Grand Duke Nicholas Nicholvitch, commander in chief of the Russian forces, was due to a shot in the abdomen fired by the late General Baron Sievers of the defeated Russian Tenth Army.

The General Anzeiger says General Sievers was summoned by the Grand Duke to explain the defeat of the Russian Tenth Army. A heated colloquy took place, the newspaper says, and the Grand Duke gave General Sievers a box on the ears. The latter, thereupon, drew a revolver and wounded the Grand Duke, subsequently turning the weapon upon himself.

Commanded Tenth Army.

The fact that General Sievers had committed suicide, the General Anzieger continues, was learned at the time of his funeral, but the news that Grand Duke Nicholas had been wounded has only just become known.

General Sievers was the commander of the Russian Tenth Army which, in the middle of February, met with a severe defeat at the hands of the Germans in the Mazurian Lakes region of East Prussia. The report that the general had committed suicide appeared in the Frankfurther Zeitung on March 12. The newspaper said it had received a dispatch from Petrograd intimating that the Russian officer had ended his life. The authority for this inference, however, seemed to rest on the fact that reports had been in circulation concerning a mourning service in which was held for the general in a Lutheran church and the report was not confirmed from any other source.

FIRE ROUTS EIGHTY GUESTS IN MINNEAPOLIS HOSTELRY.

Minneapolis, April 19.—Fire routed 80 guests and caused injuries to two persons swept through the Alton hotel, on the second, third, fourth and fifth floors of 800-802 Nicollet avenue, and damaged the quarters of several adjoining business concerns at an early hour, causing an estimated loss of $26,000. The blaze started from an unknown cause in the stockroom of the C. M. Davies Stationery company, located on the corner below the hostelry, and gained great headway among piles of paper before it mounted to the upper floors.

The fire department was not notified until an alarm, by a strange freak, was sprung automatically by a burglar alarm system in the A. E. Paegel jewelry store, when flames burst into that place. Detectives summoned to the scene by this burglar alarm system notified the fire department. Then they set to work to assist those trapped in the building, who were just being aroused by hotel employees.

Chicago, April 19.—Mrs. Potter Palmer, wealthy leader of Chicago society, who is known on two continents, is in a fair way to become the world's most renowned market gardener. Grapefruit and lemons have been coming up regularly from Sarasota for several years, and friends of Mrs. Palmer, all over this country and in Europe as well, have had presents from her of crates of grapefruit.

First dispatces to London indicated that the taube flew in from the North Sea from the direction of Hull, but contained no report of any damage.

"COUNT" TOO ABSENT MINDED

Principal Reason Why One International Marriage Was Permanently Called Off.

Henry P. Davison of the Morgan banking firm was talking about international marriages:

"Well," he said, "I know of one international marriage that failed, thank goodness, to come off. The girl was the daughter of a Paint Rock millionaire. The man was a count, a Spanish count.

"The count was absent minded. That was his undoing. The girl's father gave a dinner for him in the Paint Rock castle overlooking Paint Rock, and at the dinner's end the count got up to light a cigarette, and then, by jove, started to remove the plates.

"The guests watched him in an open-mouthed silence. His napkin slung over his arm, he had got nearly all the plates removed when his millionaire host said to him gently:

"'Wake up, George. You're not waiting in the beanery now, you know. You're pretending you're a count in Paint Rock. Wake up, man, for gracious sake!'"

A FOOD DRINK

Which Brings Daily Enjoyment.

A lady doctor writes:

"Though busy hourly with my own affairs, I will not deny myself the pleasure of taking a few minutes to tell of the enjoyment obtained daily from my morning cup of Postum. It is a food beverage, not a stimulant like coffee.

"I began to use Postum 8 years ago; not because I wanted to, but because coffee, which I dearly loved, made my nights long, weary periods to be dreaded and unfitting me for business during the day.

"On advice of a friend, I first tried Postum, making it carefully as suggested on the package. As I had always used 'cream and no sugar,' I mixed my Postum so. It looked good, was clear and fragrant, and it was a pleasure to see the cream color it as my Kentucky friend always wanted her coffee to look, 'like a new saddle.'

"Then I tasted it critically, for I had tried many 'substitutes' for coffee. I was pleased, yes, satisfied with my Postum in taste and effect, and am yet, being a constant user of it all these years.

"I continually assure my friends and acquaintances that they will like Postum in place of coffee, and receive benefit from its use. I have gained weight, can sleep and am not nervous."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Postum comes in two forms:

Regular Postum—must be well boiled. 15c and 25c packages.

Instant Postum—is a soluble powder. A teaspoonful dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water, and with cream and sugar makes a delicious beverage instantly. 30c and 50c tins.

Both kinds are equally delicious and cost per cup about the same.

A pianist was to give a concert, and as the audience was filing in the ticket taker stopped a man who presented two tickets.

"Didn't I pay for my tickets?" questioned the would-be auditor. "Aren't they in order?"

"They're perfectly in order," was the reply, "but the truth is you're drunk."

"Drunk? Drunk?" mused the other, solemnly placing the passports in his pocket. "Of course I'm drunk. If I weren't drunk would I come to a piano recital?"

JOINT ECONOMY BOARD FAVORED

COMMISSION OF ELEVEN MEMBERS PROVIDED FOR IN RESOLUTION PASSED IN SENATE.

INCREASES APPROPRIATIONS

House Adds $5,000 to Departmental Omnibus Bill for Maintenance of Wage Commission—Motion to Cut Highway Allowance Lost.

St. Paul, Minn.—

In a session marked by turmoil and bitter dissension, the house of representatives completed consideration of and passed, with only four dissenting votes, the department omnibus appropriation bill, which had been under consideration for two days.

Apparently tired of what was characterized as "needless horseplay" the house then got down to business and in less than 30 minutes agreed upon the institutional omnibus bill carrying an appropriation of $4,783,533.

Adds to Appropriation Bill.

The house added $5,000 to the departmental omnibus appropriation bill for yearly maintenance of the minimum wage commission, the vote being 89 to 16. A motion to strike out the $100,000 annual allowance for the state highway commission was defeated.

Working on the department appropriation bill, the house approved the item of $75,000 a year for the state forestry service. This is the same as the allowance for the last four years, but the state senate committee has cut it to $40,000 a year. The item of $25,000 a year for the immigration department was restored. This is a cut of $10,000 a year, but corresponds with the senate committee action.

The state board of health appropriation was cut on motion of P. W. Guilford, reducing the $10,000 for collecting vital statistics to $5,000, and the $25,000 for preventable diseases to $15,000. The house added $10,000 a year to the $100,000 appropriated for the tuberculosis sanatoriums.

Favors Joint Economy Board.

A joint commission on efficiency and economy is proposed in a resolution passed by the senate and sent to the house for concurrence. The commission is to be of 11 members, four appointed from the senate by the lieutenant governor, four from the house by the speaker, and three by the governor, either from the legislature or from the citizenship of the state at large.

The original resolution by James A. Carley provided the 11 members should all be appointed by the governor. When it was called up, F. H. Peterson offered an amendment making it six house members and five senators. F. A. Duxbury offered the substitute which was adopted.

Senator Peterson stood up for a strictly legislative commission, and called attention to the fact that numerous commissions of citizens have proven failures, their work being uniformly rejected by the legislature. C. W. Gillman of Windom opposed the whole proposition, saying "the late lamented commission of 30 did an enormous amount of work, which amounted to nothing at all." The bill demoralized the house, he said, and the whole thing proved a farce. He didn't believe anything better could be expected from a new commission.

Senate Passes Omnibus Bill.

By a vote of 49 ayes to 9 nays, and without debate, the educational omnibus appropriation bill, carrying a total of $7,122,760 for the two-year period ending July 31, 1917, was passed by the senate.

The main plant at the University of Minnesota is given $1,846,500. The university farm school at St. Anthony Park is given $383,000. The items for general school aid throughout the state total $3,830,000.

Capital Control Bill Postponed

By a vote of 45 to 18 the Senate indefinitely postponed the Sam Y. Gordon bill, which had been passed by the House, proposing to take from the Governor and place in the hands of the State Board of Control, management of the Capitol building and grounds. The measure was urged by Senator Wm. S. Dwinnell of Minneapolis; Ole O. Sageng of Dalton and others as a practical step toward efficiency and economy.

Gordon's Census Bill Defeated

Representative Sam Y. Gordon's bill carrying an appropriation of $90 000 for the taking of the sixth decennial census of the state, was defeated by the house of representatives. A companion bill has been killed by the senate. The vote in the house was 56 ayes and 43 nays.

Boxing Bill Strikes Snag

Efforts to advance H. F. 450 the Moeller 10 round boxing bill—passed by the house in the Minnesota senate, met with failure when Senator O. O. Sageng of Dalton raised objections. The bill takes the regular course with reference to committee. The house passed the senate bill amending the game law so as to prohibit shooting of ducks from a motor boat. The bill will be returned to the senate for concurrence in an amenament eliminating a provision that a hunter cannot carry more than twenty-five decoys.

BILL TO LEGALIZE 10-ROUND BOXING MATCHES IS PASSED.

St. Paul, Minn. —The bill by Representatives A. L. Lennon and George Moeller, legalizing 10-round no decision boxing bouts in Minnesota, was passed by the house of representatives by a vote of 75 to 47, after three amendments had been adopted, one of them limiting the operations of the act to cities of 50,000 or more. Friends of the bill expressed confidence that it will be passed by the senate.

One amendment adopted will raise from 7 to 10 per cent the amount of gross receipts which would go to the support of state tuberculosis sanatoria. Another amendment reduces from $3,500 to $1,200 the amount to be paid for the expenses of the boxing commission.

The Lennon-Moeller bill is patterned largely after the law now in effect in Wisconsin.

Children's Code Planned.

Senator Henry N. Benson of St. Peter, chairman of the senate committee on education, introduced a resolution providing for a comprehensive investigation by a senatorial commission of all statutes pertaining to children and for codification of all these children's laws for report to the 1917 legislature.

The Benson resolution, which under the rules lies over one day, provides for the appointment by the lieutenant governor of a commission of seven members, of which at least three shall be members of the senate.

The resolution provides $3,000 for the expenses of the committee, but the members are to serve without pay.

Such a study and codification of statutes relating to children has been championed by Judge Waite of the Hennepin county juvenile court and other social workers.

Puts Bar on Hypnotism.

Public exhibition or teaching of hypnotism, except in recognized schools, was disapproved by the house committee on judiciary which recommended passage of Senator W. S. Dwinnell's bill prohibiting such practices. Protracted naps in store show windows and the breaking of large stones on the stomachs of frail boys by the stage hypnotists would be forbidden if the bill is enacted into law.

Suffrage Is Defeated Again.

Woman suffrage flared up in the house of representatives again, but met defeat on a motion to suspend the rules and pass Representative A. S. Larson's bill granting women the privilege of voting at presidential elections. The vote to suspend the rules was 75 years and 49 nays, a two-thirds vote of the entire house being necessary.

Would Give State $1,000,000 Revenue.

Knul Knudson's bill to lay a tax of 1 cent on every $100 consideration in any trade in futures in grain or stocks was suddenly jumped from its repose in the hands of the grain and warehouse committee to the head of the house calendar. In its new position this measure, which is of high importance to the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce and the Duluth Board of Trade, probably will be reached in a day or two and put upon its passage. It is expected to pass the house, and may be substituted in the senate for a similar measure pending there.

No Bible Reading in Schools.

The senate committee on education reported indefinite postponement of S. F. 636—permitting the reading of the Bible in the public schools. The report of the house roads committee recommending for indefinite postponement the bill proposing amendments to the Dunn good roads law, was adopted after an attempt to override the committee action and place the bill on general orders.

Roadhouse Bill Becomes Law.

Senator O. O. Sageng's anti-road house bill became a law when it was signed by Governor W. S. Hammond. As fast as their licenses run out, saloons outside of cities and villages will be put out of business by the new law. A test case in the courts probably will follow the enforcement of the act.

Compensation Bill Repassed.

The senate repassed the workmen's compensation law, the house having receded from its amendment, making the period of waiting after an injury one week instead of two weeks, and repassing the bill. The measure now goes to the governor for approval.

Trolley Bill Pased in House.

The house has passed the Minneapolis street railway franchise enabling act by a vote of 76 to 44, amended to provide that the city shall reserve the right to authorize suburban lines to use the tracks of the street railway company.

Banking Board Bill Passed?

The banking board bill was given 79 years and 41 nays and declared by the speaker to have passed. Some members insisted that a two-thirds vote was necessary and that it had not passed.

End of Session Approaches

Governor Hammond will have a fine chance for "pocket votes" on the work of this legislature. He has three days after any bill reaches him before he needs to sign it. If the legislature is in session, a bill becomes a law without the governor's signature if he fails to act within three days. But if the time limit expires after the legislature adjourns, the bill dies without the governor's approval. He does not need to write a veto message in that case.

"LIFE, LIBERTY AND PURSUIT OF HAPPINESS"

A Western Canada Farmer Writes as to Conditions.

A G Hansen is a farmer living near Clavet, Sask., and as an old resident of Minnesota, takes strong exception to some of the articles appearing in American papers disparaging the true conditions in Western Canada. The "Cottonwood Current" of Cottonwood, Minn., an important weekly paper in the southwestern part of the state, recently published a letter from Mr. Hansen, which is interesting reading In his letter Mr. Hansen makes a splendid case for Western Canada against those who seek to deter farmers in the States from settling in Canada. He says:

"The district in which we live is a fair comparison to any other district in the country, made up mostly of settlers from the States. The majority here consists of Americans from Minnesota, Iowa and the Dakotas, with a few Canadians and an odd Englishman We have been here eleven years, ever since this part of the country was settled, and the majority have done well. If they have not, it is certainly not the fault of the country.

"There has not been a crop failure in this district since settled. This year was the poorest, caused by lack of rain, although a fair estimate of wheat is about twelve bushels per acre, average, and oats about ten. Some farmers got as much as twenty-five bushels of wheat per acre, and we all got good prices.

"The laws of Canada are nearly the same as those of Minnesota, and we enjoy the same privileges.

"So far as the European war is concerned, we suffer to a certain extent as all the world does. Canada is giving a helping hand to her Mother Country, and we American-Canadians firmly believe it is Canada's duty to do so. I have not heard one American-Canadian who has expressed a different opinion. Canada is not compelled to send her soldiers. The service rendered is all voluntary service.

"The accusation that old settlers are considered undesirable citizens and are forced out of business, even in danger of being 'mobbed at their own fireside,' is all false, a mere fabrication in the mind of badly informed correspondents. There are a few who have been discovered carrying letters, others papers and plans to prove them spies, and whose object is to conspire against the government. These have justly been arrested. Such a class of people cannot be considered good citizens, whether living in Canada or in the United States.

"Some people are failures wherever they are, and as an excuse for failure in their country it may seem easy to put the blame on the Canadian people and the Canadian government. Fact is, thousands of people from the United States are emigrating to Canada at the present time, which shows they are not afraid of the Canadian government.

"The government is giving away, free of charge, provision through the winter to farmers in certain districts affected by the drought, and is also sending seed grain to those in need of help. This is very different from driving settlers away from their own homes.

"I have always observed that the people who love their Mother Country most are those who make the best citizens of their adopted country. The glorious 'Stars and Stripes' will always stand for what is good and noble to us, though we live in a neighbor country where we also enjoy 'life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.'"—Advertisement.

Sick Women Attention

Is it possible there is a woman in this country who continues to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial after all the evidence that is continually being published, which proves beyond contradiction that this grand old medicine has relieved more suffering among women than any other one medicine in the world?

We have published in the newspapers of the United States more genuine testimonial letters than have ever been published in the interest of any other medicine for women—and every year we publish many new testimonials, all genuine and true. Here are three never before published:

From Mrs. S. T. Richmond, Providence, R. I.

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—"For the benefit of women who suffer as I have done I wish to state what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I did some heavy lifting and the doctor said it caused a displacement. I have always been weak and I overworked after my baby was born and inflammation set in, then nervous prostration, from which I did not recover until I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The Compound is my best friend and when I hear of a woman with troubles like mine I try to induce her to take your medicine."—Mrs. S. T. RICHMOND, 84 Progress Avenue, Providence, R.I.

From Mrs. Maria Irwin, Peru, N.Y.

PERU, N.Y.—"Before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was very irregular and had much pain. I had lost three children, and felt worn out all the time. This splendid medicine helped me as nothing else had done, and I am thankful every day that I took it."—Mrs. MARIA IRWIN, R.F.D. 1, Peru, N.Y.

From Mrs. Jane D. Duncan, W. Quincy, Mass.

SOUTH QUINCY, MASS.—"The doctor said that I had organic trouble and he doctored me for a long time and I did not get any relief. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised and I tried it and found relief before I had finished the first bottle. I continued taking it all through middle life and am now a strong, healthy woman and earn my own living."—Mrs. JANE D. DUNCAN, Forest Avenue, West Quincy, Mass.

WHAT A YANKEE CAPTAIN DID

Cape Codder Sailed Into Rio Janeiro Amidst Shot and Shell, and "Bob" Evans Approved.

Capt. Henry Blachford was one of those old New England sea captains who "lived better stories than the novelist can make up," as somebody has said. Captain Blachford's death at the age of eighty-three at West Yarmouth reminds me of an incident in his career that was typical of the old Yankee mariners of past generations, a writer in the Boston Post states.

On one voyage he arrived at Rio Janeiro while a rebellion was going on, and while a rebel fleet was blockading the port. He was notified that if he tried to enter he would be sunk. Three hundred other vessels lay outside, overawed by the same threat; but the Cape Cod mariner refused to be bluffed.

Hoisting an American flag at each masthead he started to enter the harbor. A shot was fired across the ship's bow, but Captain Blachford sailed steadily on.

He triumphantly entered the harbor; the other vessels followed; the blockade was ended; that ended the rebellion, and "Fighting Bob" Evans, who had witnessed the affair, personally visited Captain Blachford to congratulate him. They were men after each other's hearts, that Cape Cod mariner and that naval hero.

WELL TO PRAISE SOMETIMES

Constant Criticism and Fault-Finding Will Destroy Self-Confidence in a Child.

Unattractive, cheerless homes, and harsh, unsympathetic parents are responsible for a large part of the misery, the unhappiness, wretchedness and crime of the world, and the frightful conditions of the submerged class.

There is many a poor wretch in the failure army today who can trace his failure and disappointment to early discouragement. If a father wants to get the most out of his child, he cannot do it by cramping him, by watching him all the time, or by criticizing him. Children become so discouraged by being constantly denounced, scolded and perpetually reminded of their shortcomings, that they lose confidence completely in themselves, and even their self-respect.—Orison Swett Marden, in Nautilus.

Bitter Pill.

The night was pitchy dark; and Robinson seemed to have been driving his car round and round in circles for some hours and hours. He hadn't the foggiest notion where he was; in fact, had lost his way completely. The hour was midnight, and now it had just begun to rain.

Robinson felt very bitter toward the world. At length he came upon what appeared to be a signpost; though what was written on it, try as he would, he could not see. He shook the post, and swore at it. But that helped him not at all.

So, taking off his shoes, he fumbled in his pockets and eventually brought out a box of matches. Luckily it contained a match—just one match and no more.

Slowly and with much labor, Robinson proceeded to climb the post; and at the top, anxiously and carefully, he struck the match.

What he said then cannot be printed. The flickering glare of the match showed these three words:

"Try Tinker's Tablets."

Crushed Again.

It thrills us to see any act of politeness, from the poor boy, who timidly raises his cap and gives his seat to a woman in a street car to the Kentuckian who hands his friend the bottle and turns his back, but we are not in it with other four-by-nine countries.

During a long ceremonial given by the sultan of Morocco at Fez in honor of the resident general, General Lyautey noticed that none of the clocks was running, and hinted that he would like to present the sovereign with a timepiece that would go. The sultan smiled.

"They were stopped by my orders," he said. "During your excellency's too brief stay with us why be reminded of the flight of time?"

Malicious.

At German seaside places they have a way of assigning each bather a number. These numbers are conspicuously displayed on beach chairs, tents, and bathing dresses. The two young women in the swimming suits who had been drawing the eyes of all beholders were very agreeably posed as a group, when they caught sight of a third young woman coming toward them across the sands.

"My," said the one in the red cap, "but Laura is wearing a big number on her suit. What is it—75,000?"

"Oh, don't you know?" giggled the nymph in green. "That isn't really Laura's number. That's the figure of her dowry."

Wanted Information.

Apartment houses in New York are prisons to small children who have been accustomed to roaming at large and doing what they pleased in the country. One boy in Harlem has discovered that whenever he jumps from a chair to the floor he is sure to be told, "You mustn't do that. There is some one below." One Sunday, he was being taught about heaven. "If I go there," he asked, "will I be told all the time to keep quiet because there is some one below?"

Holt Wins State Highway

Messrs Latta and Sorum returned yesterday from St. Paul where they were as a committee to represent the Commercial Club of Holt and the farmers east of the river on behalf of the state road east from Holt to the southeast corner of East Valley township, which was laid out as a state road over a year ago, and which the county board in February passed a resolution to discontinue.

A letter received by Mr. Latta from the State Highway Commission yesterday states that that body had decided not to approve of the proposed change. This means that the state road stands as before and that a bridge will be built across the Thief River on the town line between East Valley and Agder.

LEGISLATURE ENDS; APPROPRIATION CUT

GRAND TOTAL VOTED IS $17,910,000—$2,000,000 LESS THAN IN 1913.

ANTI-MAYO BILL UNTOUCHED

House Also Fails to Act on Bill to Limit Expenditures of Mesaba Range Towns—Agreement Reached on Referendum.

St. Paul.—The 1915 Legislature has adjourned sine die.

There stands out foremost of all of the events of the last day and night that which should cheer both the heart and the pocketbook of the taxpayer. For the legislature of 1915, if it has no other claim to fame, at least has called a halt to increased appropriations, it has turned the current of the river of state expenditures.

Appropriations Less Than in 1913.

The grand total of appropriations voted for the biennial period to come is considerably less than the grand total made by that prince of legislative spenders—the body of 1913. This legislature can be marked as the first in a great many years which can boast that it voted less money than its predecessor.

An official statement issued by State Auditor Preus just before adjournment showed total appropriations of $17,910,000. Two years ago this total was $19,094,168.

Light Direct Taxation.

Of the amount appropriated for the coming biennial period it is estimated that $14,180,000 will come from gross earnings taxes, inheritance taxes and other such sources while it will be necessary to raise for the two years only $3,730,000 by direct taxation. A levy of 1.4 mills is calculated to produce this as against 2.3 mills set two years ago.

The house did not touch the bill which would prohibit the affiliation of the University medical school with the Mayo Foundation. It never was mentioned during the day. If this bill, passed by the senate, reached the house at all it was not spoken of.

Range Town Bill Untouched.

The house also failed to act on the bill which would limit the expenditures of Mesaba range towns. For several weeks the house has filibustered to keep away from that bill.

The house agreed with the senate amendments on the initiative and referendum constitutional amendment and this measure, defeated at the polls last fall, once more will be submitted to the people. Frank Nimocks did some lobbying in the senate and with the help of Senator Pauly managed to get through the senate the bill authorizing another $100,000 bonds for Bassett's creek. The Minneapolis high school bonds also went through at $375,000.

Woman's Reformatory Bill Passed.

During the day a conference committee agreed on the woman's reformatory bill and this was passed. It appropriates $30,000 and leaves selection of a site to the board of control. The senate passed the house bill abolishing the game and fish commission but leaving the special agent as directing head.

APPROPRIATIONS MADE BY MINNESOTA LEGISLATURE

For the two fiscal years ending July 31, 1916, and July 31, 1917:

State Government and Miscellaneous	$6,001,707
State Charitable and Penal Institutions	4,783,533
State Educational Institutions	7,124,760
Total	$17,910,000
Estimated receipts 1916-1917	14,180,000
Balance	$3,730,000

To be raised by tax levy of one and four-tenths mills on all taxable property.

1913 legislature tax was two and three-tenths mills.

BOXING BILL UP TO GOVERNOR

St. Paul, Minn.—By a vote of 72 to 30, the House of Representatives repassed the Moeller-Lennon bill legalizing ten-round no-decision boxing matches in the Twin Cities and Duluth, after concurring in the two amendments made by the Senate.

One of the Senate amendments would strike out the appropriation of $1,200 for the boxing commission, and the other would prohibit more than twelve bouts in any one of the three cities in one year.

When the bill came over from the Senate, Representative George Moeller of St. Paul moved that the house concur and that the bill be placed upon final passage.

It now goes to the Governor for his signature.

Alleged Swindler Arrested.

Minneapolis, April 23.—Hans Schroeder, said to be a former business man of Detroit, who became a large scale swindler after disastrous financial reverses, was arrested by the police and private detectives. Carl Benderann, living at the Bellevue hotel, was locked up as a confederate. According to the police and Charles F. Trotter, Minneapolis head of a detective agency, the two successfully worked swindles based on forgery that netted more than $3,000 from merchants.

The measure provides also that the clerk of the supreme court shall be appointed by the court instead of elected.

The bill imposing a tax on grain sales for future delivery was passed, 68 to 30.

Dwyer Repeal Bill Killed.

Civil service will continue as a feature of Minneapolis government. Its principle has resisted the most determined attack imaginable. The senate refused to pass the Dwyer civil service repeal bill which Mr. Dwyer put through the house last week.

On final roll call there were recorded 34 negative and 26 affirmative votes. Seven senators did not vote and they were allowed to escape when those advocating the bill saw 34 votes, constituting a majority registered against it.

CANADIANS LOSE 1,000 NEAR YPRES

TEN OFFICERS DEAD — FIRST LISTS ARE RECEIVED IN WINNIPEG.

SURROUND BULLETIN BOARDS

Wives and Mothers of Soldiers Wait for News of Fate of Sons or Husbands—King George Congratulates Canada.

Berlin, April 27.—In the official statement just given out it was announced that more than 1,000 Canadians had been captured in the fighting around Ypres, Belgium. The statement says:

"The Germans hold Lizerns, on the west bank of the canal, which the French pretend to have conquered. Also on the east of the canal the conquered terrain remains in the possession of the Germans.

Northwest of Zonnebake the German attacks continue. More than 1,000 Canadians were taken prisoners. The total number of prisoners rose to 5,000."

King George Sends Message.

Ottawa,Ont., April 27.—King George has sent a mesage to the Duke of Connaught congratulating Canada on the behavior of her troops in the fighting around Ypres.

Winnipeg, April 27.—Winnipeg is in mourning and thousands of its citizens are steeling themselves for news of the worst as the Canadian casualty lists from the fields of the engagements at Langemark, Belgium, come in.

Canada must brace itself to the realization that at least 1,000 of her sons are killed, wounded or missing.

Three Winnipeg men are already known dead and many are known to have been wounded.

Casualties Placed at 1,000.

As it becomes certain here that there were at least 1,000 Canadian casualties in the Lanngemark battles, in which the valor of the Canadian regiments was praised by General French, anxious wives and mothers surround the bulletin boards, waiting with what fortitude they can for the first news of the fate of their sons or husbands.

FIGHTS POSSE; KILLS SELF

Discharged Farm Hand Returns With Revolver and Drives Out Former Employer.

Joliet, Ill., April 27.—George Yarema, a farm hand who was discharged by Matson Clark, a Wilmington farmer, returned to Clark's home, drove Mr. and Mrs. Clark out with a revolver, barricaded himself within, and after an all-day battle with a sheriff's posse, set fire to the house and shot himself.

Clark was awakened at midnight by Yarema, who stood over him with a revolver.

"I've come back to kill you," he said, according to Clark, but seemingly lacked the nerve, for he stood at the bedside threatening his former employer until 6 o'clock, Clark said. He then permitted Clark and his wife to leave the house. "Go and do the chores," he said, "and come back so I can kill you after breakfast."

Telephones for Sheriff.

Sheriff Scholl of Will county and a posse responded to Clark's telephone call. Yarema began shooting when the posse arrived. His aim was bad and he was so well concealed that the officers failed to hit him when they returned the fire.

Just before sundown, the house was fired. Yarema, with his clothes almost burned from his body, appeared in a window and fired four shots into the crowd. He then pressed the muzzle of the revolver to his ear and fired. His charred skeleton was taken from the ashes.

Swindlers Solicit Relief Funds.

Parish, April 27.—An exhaustive inquiry conducted by the judicial authorities of Paris as the result of complaints made by the public has revealed, the Matin says, that out of 147 charitable organizations formed since the war began 76 are swindles. Thirty-five of them are reported to be conducted by men who were released from prison just before or after mobilization.

Two of these "philanthropists" in particular attracted the attention of the investigators. While they were destitute when the war began they now have handsome town and country residences, luxurious automobiles and are the hosts of sumptuous dinners. The receipts of their "charities" are said never to have fallen below 2,000 francs ($400) a day since they began operations in September.

AMERICAN SENTENCED TO DEATH IN MEXICO

Washington, April 27.—Philip E. McCleary, an American newspaper correspondent at Vera Cruz, has been imprisoned and sentenced to be shot by Carranza authorities for having sent out uncensored news dispatches. Secretary Bryan received an appeal for aid from John W. Roberts, another American correspondent there, and instructed Consul Silliman to take the question up at once with General Carranza. No official report on the affair had reached the department.

MANY LIVES LOST IN TEXAS FLOODS

FIFTEEN KNOWN DEAD AT AUSTIN—PROPERTY LOSS ESTIMATED AT $1,000,000.

DALLAS SUFFERS HEAVILY

Lightning Strikes Oil Warehouse causing Loss of $120,000—Tanks Containing Oil Ignited Near Taylor, Texas.

Austin, Texas, April 26.—With the bodies of fourteen persons drowned here recovered, eleven persons missing, and rescuing parties still at work among the ruins of 200 homes that were swept away by the rain and wind storm, the citizens of Austin have begun a systematic plan for the relief of the sufferers. Property loss is estimated at $500,000. Temporary headquarters were provided for all whose homes had been swept away or are not habitable and food and clothing is being furnished.

Austin, Texas, April 24.—Floods that swept down Waller and Shoal creeks here took a toll of 15 or 20 lives, according to late estimates. Houses were jammed in masses against the bridges and the high water flooded many business houses. Heroic work was done by citizen rescue parties and by the fire and police departments.

Of eight persons in one house which was swept down Waller creek, all but one are believed to have perished.

COMMUNICATION BY RAIL AND WIRE INTERRUPTED

Dallas, Texas, April 24.—Twenty persons, perhaps more, it was estimated met death in a rain, electrical and wind-storm general over nearly all Texas and eastern Oklahoma. Resultant floods have interrupted communications by rail and wire. In some parts of the storm area, the wind and rain continues. Austin felt the greatest fury of the tempest, which in places reached cyclonic proportions.

Austin Death Toll 15.

The death toll at the state capital is expected to be at least 15.

The storm was especially severe at Austin, and that city was in darkness during the night. It was said about 20 houses had floated to and were packed against a bridge theartening the structure. Rescue squads were busy all night taking endangered persons to higher ground while the rain continued to fall in torrents.

Of eight persons in one house which swept down Waller creek, all but one are believed to have perished.

The Thrall oil field, near Taylor, Texas, tanks containing 150,000 barrels of oil, were set on fire. The loss, it is estimated, would be $75,000. Lightning is believed to have started the blaze.

Lightning started a fire in an oil warehouse in Dallas, causing a loss of $120,000.

FIGHTING HAS NOTHING ON FOOTBALL, WRITES CANADIAN

Minneapolis, April 24.—Fighting in the trenches in France has nothing on football so far as the nervous effect on combatants is concerned, according to one British soldier who has written a letter to a sister living in Minneapolis. This soldier, who is captain of a gun team, writes his sister that he felt more nervous before football games and regattas than he did before going into the trenches for the first time. And it was soccer football at that, a parlor pastime alongside the American gridiron sport.

This soldier is Richard Whetter, of the Royal Highlanders of Canada. His sister is Mrs. A. G. White, wife of the Rev. A. G. White, 417 Fifth avenue southeast.

Chicago Carpenters to Fight.

Chicago, April 24.—A statement defining the position of the union carpenters now conducting negotiations with their former employers seeking to end a strike and lockout, was made public by the state board of arbitration, which announced its own withdrawal from the effort to bring peace. The statement called attention to eighteen other building trades which, with a maximum of 75 and a minimum of 65 cents an hour, an average of 71 cents an hour is paid, one cent more than the wage demanded by the carpenters.

WAITING FOR YOU
160 ACRE FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE

Yes, waiting for every farmer or farmer's son—any industrious American who is anxious to establish for himself a happy home and prosperity. Canada's hearty invitation this year is more attractive than ever. Wheat is higher but her farm land just as cheap and in the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta

160 Acre Homesteads are Actually Free to Settlers and Other Land at From $15 to $20 per Acre

The people of European countries as well as the American continent must be fed—thus an even greater demand for Canadian Wheat will keep up the price. Any farmer who can buy land at $15.00 to $30.00 per acre—get a dollar for wheat and raise 20 to 45 bushels to the acre is bound to make money—that's what you can expect in Western Canada. Wonderful yields also of Oats, Barley and Flax. Mixed Farming is fully as profitable an industry as grain raising. The excellent grasses, full of nutrition, are the only food required either for beef or dairy purposes. Good schools, markets convenient, climate excellent.

Military service is not compulsory in Canada but there is an unusual demand for farm labor to replace the many young men who have volunteered for service in the war. Write for literature and particulars as to reduced railway rates to Superintendent Immigration, Ottawa, Canada; or to Sympathy is the safeguard of the human soul against selfishness.—Carlyle.

I Bought The Tractor So My Boys Could Farm
The New Way

I expect there will be as much change in a few years as there was from the old reapers to the binders.

That's what one Avery Tractor owner writes us. And within the last two years thousands of others have shown that they believe the same thing by buying Avery Tractors and Plows and changing from horse or mule farming to Tractor Farming.

Tractor Farming is coming fast. And the reasons are simple: It costs less to farm with tractors than with horses or mules. You can raise bigger crops by plowing deep and doing all your work at the right time. And it is much easier work to farm with a Tractor than with horses or mules. Turn a switch at noon or night and you are through. Avery Tractors a success on any size farm

MINNESOTA'S EXHIBIT AT THE WORLD'S FAIR

M. W. SAVAGE OF MINNEAPOLIS SHIPS FAMOUS FAMILY TO FRISCO.

Dan Patch's Colts Will Carry Minnesota Colors in Panama-Pacific Stakes.

Minnesota will be represented at the Panama-Pacific Exposition. The legislature refused to appropriate the money necessary for a model farm home, and the attempt at raising funds from private sources failed. Nevertheless, the North Star State will be heard about by hundreds of thousands of San Francisco visitors from June to September.

Instead of one star there will be a galaxy that will be known as the Savage-Patch Constellation. To be exact, there will be eleven stars, and it is predicted, a meteor or two.

M. W. Savage, at the head of big business enterprises in Minneapolis, and incidentally owner of the best equipped horse breeding farm in America, has taken it upon himself to see that Minnesota is on the exposition map. The premier, Dan Patch, and other world champions have helped to make the farm and its owner known around the world, and the Panama-Pacific visitors will all know they are Minnesota products.

Mr. Savage is a member of the advisory board of the horse department of the world's biggest exposition, and is in close touch with the racing plans. Nearly a year ago he entered some of Dan Patch's most promising colts in the twenty thousand dollar stakes.

Just now he has decided to enter nine more, and take a stable of eleven horses to Frisco. They were shipped in a special car by fast express on March third. Raley Macey, head trainer, will have charge, and with a dozen caretakers, and a truck load of harness, bikes and racing paraphanalia, the Minnesota emigration to California was a considerable one.

"We might as well do it up right," said Mr. Savage to a friend a few days ago. "Minnesota ought to have some exhibit out there, and I'm sending a hundred thousand dollar one. I am going out myself in April, and I hope to be able to arrange an attractive place where our friends from Minnesota and the Northwest can meet each other, and make headquarters."

The horses that will start in the $135,000 worth of races in June and September, are, with one exception, sired by the only Dan Patch. In fact, it will be a regular Patch party, and horse lovers from all over the world will attend.

Minnesota's representatives in the big races are:

SAVAGE STABLE THAT WILL RACE AT SAN FRANCISCO.

DAZZLE PATCH 2:09¾ (trial 2:02½). Pacer. Entered in the $20,000 stake for 2:06 pacers at both the June and October meetings. Six years old. Paced a half in 59 seconds as a two-year old, one in 58 seconds as a three-year-old, and in 56¾ seconds as a four-year-old, at which age he also paced his trial mile of 2:02½ noted above.

ELECTRIC PATCH (3) 2:09¼. Trotter. Entered in the $20,000 stake for 2:10 trotters at both the June and October meetings. Four years old. Trotted a half in 1:05 as a two-year old, and a quarter in 30¼ seconds, a 2:01 clip. Raced last year as a three-year-old, winning eight races without losing a single heat.

PRINCESS PATCH 2:06¾. Pacer. Entered in the $5,000 event for 2:08 pacers. Seven years old. Was separately timed in a race at Cleveland, Ohio, as a four-year-old in 2:05¾. Took an official record of 2:08¼ in 1913, which she lowered in 1914 to 2:06¾, in which time she paced several heats in races.

MARY E. PATCH 2:17¾. Trotter. Entered in the $2,000 event for 2:2? trotters, to which she is eligible on account of the fact that her record was not made in a winning race. As a three-year-old this mare was second to Jack Swift at Milwaukee in 2:10¼, and was one of the fastest trotting colts of that age that Dan ever sired. Since then she has been held over to mature her for hard racing, but was started educationally a couple of times last season.

JEAN ARION 2:08¼. Trotter. Entered in the $5,000 free-for-all trot. Eight years old. Took her record in the second heat of a race at Milwaukee in 1912. Started only once in 1913, winning a race at Cleveland. Last year was held over. Looks capable of trotting a mile in 2:06. Is one of the steadiest and gamest trotting race mares.

POWER PATCH (4) 2:09¼. Pacer. Entered in the $2,000 event for 2:20 pacers. Five years old. Record made against time in 1914, which leaves him eligible to all the slow classes. Is a fast, level-headed pacer, and as his dam was the famous race-mare, Effie Powers 2:08¼, is looked upon as an unusually high-class speed prospect.

BUZZ PATCH (3) 2:12. Pacer. Entered in the $2,000 event for 2:17 pacers. Four years old. Record made against time in 1914 leaves her eligible to all the slow classes. Could have paced a mile last year better than 2:10 as a three-year-old, and has such a flight of speed that she is expected to pace around 2:05 this season.

AGNES PATCH (2) 2:24. Pacer. Entered in the $3,000 stake for three-year-old pacers. Took her record as a two-year-old last year, and shows remarkable speed promise, besides being a show-mare of the first rank.

DRIFT PATCH (2) 2:21. Pacer. Entered in the $3,000 stake for three-year-old pacers. Took his record as a two-year-old last season, and is a young stallion of magnificent conformation and extreme speed.

JUDITH PATCH. Pacer. Two-year old filly by Dazzle Patch; dam, Hal Raven 2:03¾. First colt by Dazzle Patch. Entered in the $2,000 stake for two-year-old pacers. Has shown unusual speed in early training this spring, is level-headed, and acts very much like her sire. This is one of the most beautiful fillies in the world.

FAY PATCH. Trotter. Two year old filly by Dazzle Patch; dam, by Baron Wilkes. Entered in the $2,000 stake for two-year-old troters. A large, strong filly of magnificent conformation and one that with a little handling has shown so much speed at the trot that she is looked upon as a splendid colt performer.

The Public School discontinued their stay at the old stand to continue their school duties in the New School House Thursday. This event has been looked forward to with keen interest both by the school and parents alike, and while it gives great pleasure to at last enjoy this well equipped modern school house of which any town may well be proud, yet it is with disappointment to both teacher and pupil that their stay in the new school house has been limited to about ten days of this school year.

Dreams.

It is a common saying that one dreams of that which one has been thinking most about. This is the exception and not the rule. The dream may be of something that one thought of at some time, but possibly not for years, that would not be recalled in waking hours, which had lain dormant in the mind, to be prosaically rehearsed through some operation of physical functions, such as impeded respiration, feverish conditions, some posture of the body, a late supper, possibly ended with a dessert of mince pie, stomachic distress, clogging of the circulation or some bodily pain.

I Bought The Tractor So My Boys Could Farm

The New Way

I expect there will be as much change in a few years as there was from the old reapers to the binders.

That's what one Avery Tractor owner writes us. And within the last two years thousands of others have shown that they believe the same thing by buying Avery Tractors and Plows and changing from horse or mule farming to Tractor Farming.

Tractor Farming is coming fast. And the reasons are simple: It costs less to farm with tractors than with horses or mules. You can raise bigger crops by plowing deep and doing all your work at the right time. And it is much easier work to farm with a Tractor than with horses or mules. Turn a switch at noon or night and you are through. Avery Tractors a success on any size farm

ZEPPELINS MAKE RAID ON ENGLAND

DROP ONE HUNDRED TWENTY-FIVE BOMBS ON TOWNS FORTY MILES FROM LONDON.

DAMAGE TO PROPERTY HEAVY

South End, Leigh-on-Sea and Canvoy Island In Thames Suffer—One Woman Killed and Several Persons Injured.

Sunderland, Scotland, May 11.—The steamer Wilhelmina, owned by the A. H. Hull Steamship company, of 1,696 tons, has been torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine.

London, May 11.—Zeppelins and aeroplanes dropped bombs within 40 miles of London. They flew over South End and its suburb, Westcliff, at the mouth of the Thames. Many bombs were dropped and extensive property damage was done, many buildings either being demolished or set on fire.

Woman Is Killed.

Two persons were seriously injured. A woman known to have been killed was Mrs. Agnes Whitwell, who jumped from a window. The authorities report to the officials here that 38 bombs fell around Queen Mary's hospital, but fortunately none hit the structure.

The raid took place early when the residents of the two towns were in bed. It is stated that the aircraft came from the direction of the North sea, but their course afterward is not yet known.

The raiders proceeded as far as Ben Fleet and then turned seaward, heading back to Germany.

Warning of the approach of hostile air craft was given South End at an early hour. Several machines took part in the raid.

Several Shops Burned.

It is reported that several shops were burned at Leigh, a town near South End. Four Zeppelins are said to have dropped 40 or 50 bombs there.

It is estimated 100 bombs were dropped at South End and vicinity and 25 at Leigh-on-Sea. Eight buildings were set on fire at South End. The forts at the mouth of the Thames fired a fusillade of shells at the aircraft, finally driving them off. The gas works at Leigh-on-Sea was the object of the attack there, but it failed utterly.

The troops were ordered out, and the special military constables who have been sworn in for just such emergencies were soon on hand to quiet the people and receive the injured.

English Aircraft Pursues.

A British airoplane went in pursuit and drove the hostile aircraft to the sea.

A number of bombs were dropped on Canvoy island, in the Thames, where high explosives are stored, but no damage was done. Bombs were also dropped without result on the marine parade grounds and near the gas works.

South End is a municipal borough and popular seaside resort of England, in Essex, at the mouth of the Thames on the north side near Sheerness and 40 miles from London. Its population is about 30,000. West Cliff-on-Sea is a less crowded suburb of South End.

Finds Kaiser Guilty of Murder.

Kinsale, Ireland, May 11.—The coroner's jury which has been investigating the deaths attendant upon the loss of the Lusitania, returned the following verdict:

"The jury finds that this appalling crime was contrary to international law and the conventions of all civilized nations and we therefore charge the officers of the submarine and the German emperor and the government of Germany, under whose orders they acted, with wholesale murder."

Mme. Depage Among Dead.

Queenstown, May 11.—The body of Mme. Marie Depage, wife of Dr. Antoine Depage, medical director of the Belgian Red Cross, is among the identified dead. Mme. Depage recently lectured in the United States on conditions in Belgium and collected funds for the suffering of her country.

Says Germany Was Justified.

New York, May 11. — Dr. Bernard Dernburg, former colonial secretary of the German empire, in a talk with representatives of the press here, reiterated and emphasized statements he made in Cleveland holding that the German government was justified in its action of sinking the Cunard liner Lusitania.

Victoria Under Martial Law.

Victoria, B. C., May 11.—Victoria is under martial law as a result of renewed attacks upon German establishments by mobs bent upon revenging the sinking of the Lusitania.

Debaters To Seek Peace.

New York, May 11.—Representatives of the Carnegie endowment for international peace have announced that the endowment will undertake during the next few months a campaign to disseminate throughout the United States international information in the interest of peace. Special efforts will be made to cover the southern and middle western states. Skilled debaters have been engaged to deliver peace addresses from 1,600 Chautauqua platforms to audiences which it is estimated will aggregate 4,000,000 persons.

WILSON WILL ACT WITH FIRMNESS

KNOWS PEOPLE WISH RIGHT ACTION TAKEN IN LUSITANIA MATTER.

115 AMERICANS LOSE LIVES

Government Learns Ill-Fated Liner Was Not Armed and Therefore Not Liable to Attack Under Law.

Washington, May 10. — President Wilson, on whom the eyes of the world are focused at the present moment, is studying in quiet seclusion the aspects of law and fact in connection with the sinking by a German torpedo of the British liner Lusitania, with a loss of 115 American lives.

The great human tragedy, coupled with the responsibilities of the hour, caused the president to deny himself to all callers, even to members of his official family, while he turned over in his mind the course to be pursued by the United States government in one of the most serious crises in its history.

Wilson's First Word.

The only glimpse of the workings of the President's mind was given when the White House isssued its first formal comment on the disaster. The announcement was made that the President realized the country expected him to deal with the situation "with deliberation as well as firmness."

After a conference with the President at the White House, Secretary Tumulty said:

"Of course, the President feels the distress and the gravity of the situation to the utmost and is considering very earnestly, but very calmly, the right course of action to pursue. He knows that the people of the country wish and expect him to act with deliberation as well as with firmness."

Carried No Arms.

One important fact was definitely ascertained by the Washington government from the port authorities at New York, who gave clearance to the Lusitania—that she carried no guns, either mounted or unmounted, in accordance with the caution of the tate department and the British government early in the war.

This disposed, in the minds of officials, of the claim that the German submarine had a right to attack the Lusitania because she was an auxiliary or a converted cruiser. Officials of the Cunard line are understood to have stated that the Lusitania was not convoyed.

No Excuse Under Law.

These facts, in the opinion of law officers of the American government, left the German submarine no excuse under law or reason for an attack without warning on a ship with hundreds of noncombatants aboard, including neutral men, women and children.

The position of the United States has been that the presence of contraband—even arms and ammunition—according to the rules of international law, including the declaration of London, which Germany has upheld, cannot warrant the sinking of a merchantman without the previous exercise of the right of visit and search and the removal of noncombatants to a place of safety.

Germany Was Warned.

The government stated this in its last note to Germany and at the same time issued a warning that the imperial German government would be held "to a strict accountability" by the United States for any loss of American vessels or lives.

The suggestion that the warnings by the German embassy in newspaper advertisements should have been sufficient to deter Americans from traveling aboard ships flying the British flag was widely commented upon among diplomats.

No Official Notice.

At the State department, Secretary Bryan revealed that the embassy's warning had never been officially communicated to the State department, and that since the announcement by the German admiralty in February of its proclamation of a war zone, the American protest and the reply from Germany saying the government would disclaim responsibility for accidents to neutrals, the subject for several weeks had not been officially mentioned between the Berlin and Washington governments.

Italian Troops to Front.

London, May 10.—A Copenhagen correspondent sends the following: "A private message from Berlin states that Italy yesterday called to the colors all infantry classes from 1876. Many trains loaded with troops are proceeding to the front."

MRS. CARMAN ACQUITTED ON CHARGE OF MURDER

Mineola, L. I., May 10.—A verdict of acquittal was returned after a short deliberation by the jury trying Mrs Florence C. Carman on the charge of murdering Mrs. Louise Bailey at Freeport on the night of June 30 last.

The jury was agreed on the first ballot and the verdict was returned in one hour and twelve minutes after the jury had retired.

Are Acting Promptly.

London, May 10.—Before taking action on the Lusitania disaster President Wilson must have official information gathered by representatives of the American government. That is being gathered now.

Consul Frost of Cork is also making reports on the political aspect. Ambassador Page is sending information to Washington hourly. It cannot be long before the whole evidence is in President Wilson's hands.

No action may be expected from the President until he has been fully informed.

Jobless Turn to Gold Mining.

How to provide for the army of the unemployed, thrown out of work because of the business depression resulting from the European war, is naturally a much more serious problem in the British colonies than anywhere else outside of the continent of Europe. The city of Edmonton, Canada, has found at least a partial solution, and one that puts no added burden on either the taxpayer or the charitable. The bars of the Saskatchewan river, which runs through the city, contain much gold dust of the very fine flour variety. With the outbreak of the European war and the necessity to provide as much available work for men whom war conditions might throw out of employment, the city council turned to the gold-mining industry, which offered returns right within a hundred yards of the city's main streets. A number of experienced mining men who had settled in the city after the Klondike rush of '98 offered to act for a while as instructors to the uninitiated, and some 200 men soon went to work. The average cleanup per man for the months of August and September was about $1.50 to $2 a day.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

The Modern Child.

"I suppose you are going to take your children to see the circus."

"No, I'm afraid I'll have to go alone. Their time is so taken up with tango teas, hesitation hops and foxtrot functions that they really haven't an evening to spare."

"I see Jimmie studies his arithmetic lesson faithfully every night now."

"Yes, the class has taken up percentage, and he's learning how to figure out batting averages."

FIND OUT

The Kind of Food that will Keep You Well.

The true way is to find out what is best to eat and drink, and then cultivate a taste for those things instead of poisoning ourselves with improper, indigestible food, etc.

A conservative Mass. woman writes: "I have used Grape-Nuts 5 years for the young and for the aged; in sickness and in health; at first following directions carefully, later in a variety of ways as my taste and judgment suggested.

"But its most special, personal benefit has been as a substitute for meat, and served dry with cream when rheumatic troubles made it important for me to change diet.

"Served in this way with the addition of a cup of hot Postum and a little fruit it has been used at my morning meal for six months, during which time my health has much improved, nerves have grown steadier, and a gradual decrease in my excessive weight adds greatly to my comfort."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

Mirrors Protect Bank Vaults.

In constructing a vault in the basement of one of the Los Angeles banks, a plan has been followed which makes the six sides of the chamber visible to a watchman and eliminates all chances of its being entered by tunneling beneath it. It is set on concrete columns in the middle of a white-tiled pit which is brightly illuminated. To make it possible to command a view of the space beneath the vault, from the level above, mirrors have been arranged on the floor at such an angle that every part of the space is reflected in them. Light is reflected by the white walls so that the top of the vault is illuminated and easily inspected.

MINNEAPOLIS WOMAN ESCAPES OPERATION

Mrs. Sinclair Finds Wonderful Remedy in Time to Avoid Knife.

Mrs. Sadie E. Sinclair of 418 East Lake st., Minneapolis, suffered from stomach derangements for more than six years. She became despondent and hopeless. She feared she would have to undergo an operation. Her complexion suffered along with her general health.

Then she discovered Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and took a course of treatment. The first dose brought results. She wrote:

"Only one dose and I slept like a log. And I felt relieved right away. If I should need any more medicine you may be sure I will send for it. It is a wonder one can be rid of such conditions without pain. And my complexion is clearing; they all speak of it—I was so yellow and brown before."

Mayr's Wonderful Remedy gives permanent results for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. Eat as much and whatever you like. No more distress after eating, pressure of gas in the stomach and around the heart. Dog Hero Saves Little Girl.

Little Elsie Perry, daughter of C. L. Perry of Wilson, N. C., was saved from the fangs of a rabid dog by the bravery of a nondescript dog, the property of Mr. Perry, and the constant playmate of little Elsie.

While playing in front of her home the little girl was attacked by a large dog, which came running down the street. Her playmate, much smaller than the attacking dog, threw himself on it, and battled grimly, until the little girl escaped into he house. The canine hero was terribly bitten in the encounter, and when it was learned that the strange dog had rabies, the hero had to be shot, as physicians said it was certain he would go mad. He was buried with the highest honors.

Not Asking Much.

"So you are ambitious to have a little garden?"

"Yes."

"You ought to get a lot of pleasure out of it."

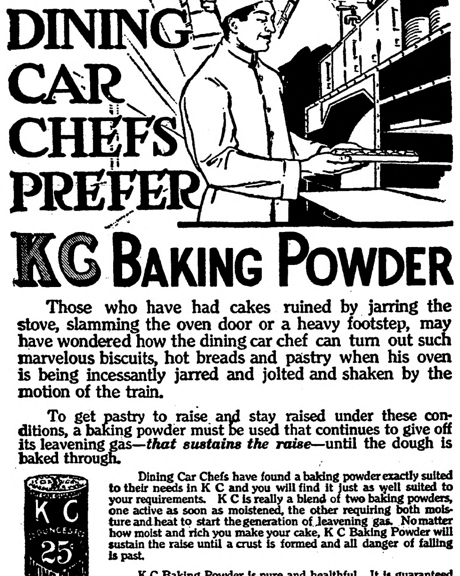
Too True.

"What is the main point of a censor's job?"

"I guess it's incensing people."



WHY DINING CAR CHEFS PREFER KC BAKING POWDER

Those who have had cakes ruined by jarring the stove, slamming the oven door or a heavy footstep, may have wondered how the dining car chef can turn out such marvelous biscuits, hot breads and pastry when his oven is being incessantly jarred and jolted and shaken by the motion of the train.

To get pastry to raise and stay raised under these conditions, a baking powder must be used that continues to give off its leavening gas—that sustains the raise—until the dough is baked through.

Dining Car Chefs have found a baking powder exactly suited to their needs in K C and you will find it just as well suited to your requirements. K C is really a blend of two baking powders, one active as soon as moistened, the other requiring both moisture and heat to start the generation of leavening gas. No matter how moist and rich you make your cake, K C Baking Powder will sustain the raise until a crust is formed and all danger of falling is past.

K C Baking Powder is pure and healthful. It is guaranteed under all pure food laws, and is guaranteed to please you. And it is sold at a reasonable price—no baking powder should sell for more.

Among the Wounded.

It happened at Christ's church dispensary. The little fellow had a badly dislocated thumb. He was only nine years old, but he was brave, and scarcely winced as the doctor pulled and hauled to get it back into position.

"We'll have you back in the trenches soon," said the doctor. "How do you stand on this war, anyway?"

"How do you t'ink I stand?" said the boy. "I'm a Belgian."

"How did you dislocate your thumb?" asked the doctor, somewhat abashed.

"Swinging on a German kid, but gee!"—a grin of delight overspread his countenance—"you just ought to see him!"—New York Evening Post.

Canada is Calling You to her Rich Wheat Lands

She extends to Americans a hearty invitation to settle on her FREE Homestead lands of 160 acres each or secure some of the low priced lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

This year wheat is higher but Canadian land just as cheap, so the opportunity is more attractive than ever. Canada wants you to help to feed the world by tilling some of her soil—land similar to that which during many years has averaged 20 to 45 bushels of wheat to the acre. Think what you can make with wheat around $1 a bushel and land so easy to get. Wonderful yields also of Oats, Barley and Flax. Mixed farming is fully as profitable an industry as grain growing.

The Government this year is asking farmers to put increased acreage into grain. Military service is not compulsory in Canada but there is a great demand for farm labor to replace the many young men who have volunteered for service. The climate is healthful and agreeable, railway facilities excellent, good schools and churches convenient. CHURCH SYNODS AGREE TO UNION

THREE THOUSAND CONGREGATIONS OVER ENTIRE COUNTRY ARE INVOLVED.

STATE NEWS OF MINNESOTA

Interesting and Important Happenings Of the Past Few Days Selected and Arranged for the Convenience of Busy Readers.

Minneapolis.—Final steps in the preparation for a union between the three largest and oldest Norwegian church denominations were taken when a joint committee representing the synods met at the Hotel Andrews to draw up a constitution for the amalgamation. A doctrinal agreement has been adopted by the three churches and articles of agreement relating to church property by two, so members of the committee were confident that the union, which has been sought for years will soon be an actuality.

The churches represented are the Norwegian Synod of America, the Hauges Norwegian Lutheran synod and the United Norwegian Lutheran. The committee represents more than 1,000 ministers and 3,000 churches located in various parts of the country.

Union of the three churches was discussed for several years before any actual steps were taken, but in 1912 representatives of the churches met in Madison, Wis., and after a long consideration of the doctrinal beliefs of the churches drew up the "Opgjoer," a doctrinal agreement which was presented to the churches involved and adopted by them.

The next step to be taken was to arrive at articles of agreement, relating to questions of church property and other business details. A meeting for this took place in Minneapolis last year and the articles drawn up have been adopted by the United church and the Norwegian synod.

STOPS SHIPMENT OF GRAIN

Canadian Order Taken As Most Sensational Since War Began—Wheat Dealers Are Puzzled.

Duluth.—Canada has stopped the shipment of grain from that country, and, according to a dispatch received here, the closest restriction will be enforced.

The dispatch, which was received at the close of the market here, came to a vessel concern, and reads as follows:

"Ottawa has notified shippers that grain cannot leave Canada for the United States unless it is for domestic consumption. Exports cannot leave Canada for the United Kingdom unless specified consignees are named; nor to any foreign country unless under Ottawa permit."

"Domestic consumption," as mentioned in the dispatch, is taken by grain men here as meaning Canadian consumption, the grain passing through American ports on its way to Canadian points other than the point of origin.

Locally the order was taken as the most sensational the grain market has received since the war broke out.

The Ottawa order is taken by Duluth grain men as meaning that Canada is either short of grain or that a long and trying war is anticipated by Canada and the United Kingdom.

Finds Mother After Forty Years.

East Grand Forks.—Separated from his mother and other members of the family at the age of three years, when his father died and children of the family were adopted by neighbors, George Kenney, a prominent East Grand Forks man, got into communication with his mother for the first time. Mrs. D. W. Baldwin, of Whittemore, Iowa, is the mother, and the relationship was established accidentally, through a mutual friend. Mr. Kenney expects to go to Whittemore soon to visit his mother, the first time he will have seen her in 40 years—during which time he has never previously known of her whereabouts.

Look for Charlie Chaplin.

Minneapolis, Minn.—Charlie Chaplin day was evident at the West hotel headquarters of the convention of the Motion Picture Exhibitors association of the Northwest.

Two aspiring young movie actors, made up in true Chaplin style, paraded the lobby throughout the afternoon and the advent of several score of the famous Chaplin moustaches, adorning otherwise beardless faces, added to the spirit of the festivities. There is still hope that Chaplin may be here in person, although it is not yet definitely decided.

Boy Burned by Explosion.

Minneapolis, Minn. — Boys played with matches in L. S. Staple's garage and Charles Staples, aged 8, was probably fatally burned. Milton Bloomquist, a playmate, escaped with slight burns. The garage was destroyed. Mrs. Staples heard a muffled explosion. She ran toward the garage to find the clothing of her son on fire. She beat out the flames and took the boy to the Eitel hospital. An open pail of gasoline was in the garage and is supposed to have become ignited in some way.

Secret Order for War Horses.

Minneapolis, Minn.—A large consignment of war horses which has been secretly collected in the northwest on an order from the British government, which will use them in the European struggle, will be shipped from the Twin Citis about May 15. The horses are now in stables in the Midway district and in small towns throughout the northwest. Additional shipments have begun arriving in the Twin Cities. The number of horses and the identity of the English officer is kept secret.

Coleraine Cashier Kills Wife.

Coleraine, Minn. — Roy R. McQuade, aged 27, assistant cashier of the First National bank of this village, murdered his wife at their home here and then committed suicide. The bodies were found when the police broke into the McQuade home. The coroner's inquest has so far failed to develop any cause for the crime. An investigation of his accounts showed them correct. It is said his domestic relations were happy and the police are at a loss to assign a motive for the crime.

Stop Sunday Dancing in Jackson.

Sherburn.—Sunday dances are a thing of the past in Jackson county. At the last term of the district court the grand jury asked the court to instruct county officials to see that no public dances are held on the Lord's day in the county, as has been the practice for five years. Handbills were distributed announcing a big opening dance at the Lakeside bowery on Sunday night, but County Attorney Nicholas and Sheriff Lee took steps to stop it.

Farmer Kills Wife and Self

Brainerd.—Following a quarrel with his wife at a home where she was employed as housekeeper, Gustave Menz, a retired farmer, shot and killed her and turned the revolver on himself. Five shots lodged in the woman's head. Menz shot himself in the temple, dying instantly. He was a widower before he married Mrs Katherine Hammer, a widow of Centralia, Wash., whose acquaintance he had gained by correspondence. They were married in December.

Danger in Waiting.

Just because an Oregon scientist declares that old men do the best work is no reason, of course, why young fellows should put off contemplated achievements until the arrival of declining years. It may be that the man who accomplishes little in his early maturity will make up for the lack when he starts down the western slope of life. It doesn't sound reasonable, however.

Sincerity.

I should say sincerity, a deep, great, genuine sincerity, is the first characteristic of all men in any way heroic.—Carlyle.

Onion's Good Properties.

From the best authorities we learn that colds are caused by three things —a chill, a germ and a uric acid tendency which provides a soil for the germ's growth. The pungent oil of the onion neutralizes and destroys the germs that infest the mouths of us all, even of those in good health.

Loyal to Aunt May.

Aunt May was the favorite aunt of little Ellen. One day the former said to her, naming three other aunts, "Which do you like best, Aunt Anna, Aunt Emily or Aunt Palmer?" Little Ellen looked thoughtful a moment and then said, "Why, I like Aunt Anna better than Aunt Palmer, but I don't like anybody best what isn't you."

Made Slavery Hereditary.

The first formal recognition of negro slavery in Virginia was March 1, 1661, when the assembly declared that "negroes are incapable of making satisfaction for the time lost in running away, by addition of time," and slavery was made hereditary in Virginia in 1662 by an act of the assembly that the is of slave mothers should follow condition.

He Had It.

In honor of a visit to his plant by the governor of the state an automobile manufacturer once had a complete car assembled in something like seven minutes. Some weeks later, after this feat was heralded in the daily papers, the phone rang vigorously. "Is it true that you assembled a car in seven minutes at your factory?" the voice asked. "Yes," came the reply. "Why?" "Oh, nothing," said the calm inquirer, "only I've got the car."

I Bought The Tractor So My Boys Could Farm

The New Way

I expect there will be as much change in a few years as there was from the old reapers to the binders.

That's what one Avery Tractor owner writes us. And within the last two years thousands of others have shown that they believe the same thing by buying Avery Tractors and Plows and changing from horse or mule farming to Tractor Farming.

Tractor Farming is coming fast. And the reasons are simple: It costs less to farm with tractors than with horses or mules. You can raise bigger crops by plowing deep and doing all your work at the right time. And it is much easier work to farm with a Tractor than with horses or mules. Turn a switch at noon or night and you are through. Avery Tractors a success on any size farm

Obituary

The sad tidings were received here last Friday of the death of Mrs. Hogan Anderson on last Thursday May 13th, at the sanatorium in Fergus Falls, Minn. where she had been taken for medical treatment a few weeks ago. She had been afflicted for some time with Bright's Disease and a complication of other troubles. The news of her death brings a sense of personal loss to everyone who knew her, for few were better liked or more highly respected than she was. She was born August 15, 1848 near Trondhjem, Norway, and came to this country when 22 years of age and settled in Chicago where she resided for ten years. On Oct. 20th, 1872 she was united in marriage to Hogan Anderson and lived a happy married life until his decease in Sept. 1912. In 1879 they moved to Brookings, S. D. where they resided on a homestead for about 23 years, when they moved to their present home here. The remains were laid to rest in the local cemetry last Sunday. A large number of friends and relatives were in attendance and the profusion of beautiful floral offerings mutely expressed the high esteem in which she was held by all. Services were conducted by Rev. M. B. Ordahl who delivered a very appropriate and beautiful sermon. She is survived by four children, Guy, Alfred, Oscar Anderson of Holt and Mrs. N. N. Landro, of Stady, N. D., who indeed have the heartfelt sympathy of us all.

Card Of Thanks

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to all who in any way assisted us during the illness and death of our beloved mother. We wish to especially thank the Ladies Aid and others for the many beautiful flowers for the funeral.

Alfred, Guy, and Oscar Anderson and Mrs. N. N. Landro.

Life Insurance!

The disability and accident benefits now contained in their polices together with the other good features makes it a good and safe protection and a desirable investment. It is a proposition you can hardly afford to pass up. Mr. C. M. Davenport is now assisting Mr. Docken in this work and is a reliable and competent man who clearly and correctly explains the advantages of life insurance.

Support your home paper.

S. S. Kolden was in Middle River Tuesday between trains, on business.

Adolph Sollom returned Friday from a short visit at Glenfield, N. D. While there he sold his house, taking in a Reo auto as part payment.

As you sow, so shall ye reap. Good crops are rarely harvested on a poorly prepared seed bed. Good deeds, a good character and a useful life do not come from sinful habits.

On account of the rain last Saturday, the auction sale of the Free Mission Ladies Aid was postponed until Saturday evening of next week. The ladies will serve lunch, there is to be some special music and a good time is promised to all who attend.

U. S. BANKING LAW BEST IN EXISTENCE

GOVERNOR OF MINNEAPOLIS FEDERAL RESERVE BANK PRAISES SYSTEM.

STATE NEWS OF MINNESOTA

Interesting and Important Happenings Of the Past Few Days Selected And Arranged for the Convenience of Busy Readers.

Owatonna.—Theodore Wold, governor of the Federal Reserve bank of Minneapolis, told the bankers' convention here that the present banking laws were the best ever adopted by any nation and that due to them a repetition of the panics of former times was impossible. Every man who spoke at the bankers' convention voiced the opinion that the country is entering upon an era of unparalleled prosperity and all stated that never were Minnesota's financiers in better shape nor its people more prosperous. According to the bankers here the European war has had but little effect upon the banks of Minnesota.

J. W. Wheeler, of St. Paul, president, Capital Trust company, spoke on "Rural Credit Banks." E. A. Sheasgreen, bank expert of Chicago, spoke on "Cost Accounting in Banks." "Interest Paid by Banks" was the subject discussed by Kent Ferman of Cedar Rapids, Iowa. George Richards, secretary Minnesota Bankers' association, told of the progress made by Minnesota bankers and the prosperous condition of all state banks. President E. F. Cook of Rochester, delivered an address.

Election of officers was held.

Oppose Mayo Affiliation.

Minneapolis, May 14.—Opponents of the proposed affiliation of the Mayo Foundation with the University Medical school had the floor most of the time at the open hearing on the question. The hearing was conducted by the executive committee of the Board of Regents of the University and was held in the Law building.

Eleven persons spoke in opposition to the project and one in its support. All the regents were present except Governor Hammond, A. E. Rice of Willmar, John G. Williams of Duluth, and Dr. W. J. Mayo of Rochester. Doctor Mayo had been exempted purposely in the action of the regents a week ago referring the subject to committee. About 30 persons were present, excluding regents.

"Horror Beyond Description."

Winona.—"The horror of this last war disaster, the destruction of the Lusitania, is beyond description," said ex-Congressman James A. Tawney, a foremost peace advocate. "A more barbarous act of war never was committed. But this is no time for Americans to lose their heads.

"Ordinarily the wilful destruction of the Lusitania with its human cargo composed largely of Americans would constitute an act of war. But this does not mean, nor does it make necessary the sending of our army and navy across the seas to engage in war with the power responsible for this barbarous act. There are other ways whereby we could more effectively show our resentment, and avenge the wrong thus committed."

Judge's Appointment Popular.

Winona.—Within the week that George W. Granger, attorney at Rochester, will celebrate his twenty-fifth anniversary as a lawyer, he will assume his duties as the ninth judge in the Third judicial district, embracing the counties of Winona, Olmsted and Wabasha. The appointment announced by Governor Hammond is popular throughout the district. Mr. Granger was born on a farm three miles from Rochester. He was educated in the rural and high schools there.

Booked on Lusitania.

Mankato.—Arthur and Sidney Braddick, young English machinists, who for the past year have worked in a shop in Mankato, were booked for passage on the Lusitania, to return to England, where they felt they were called to labor as British subjects in the manufacture of war materials. The brothers had worked in Minneapolis some years before coming here, and visited there before starting for New York last week.

Minnesota Man Lost.

Austin, Minn.—Fear is entertained that Fred Judson, son of Henry Judson, formerly of this city, lost his life on the Lusitania. He sailed on that boat and no word has been received of his being among the rescued. His father is a brother of Mrs. Dr. Avery of this city.

Three Aged Brothers Murdered.

Glenwood, Minn., May 14.—Sven, Louis and John Mitmoen, often called by the name of Jacobson, were murdered on their farm five miles west of Lowry in this country. The three brothers had "bached" it on their farm for 35 years.

The tragedy was discovered by a neighbor who went to see the brothers concerning the purchase of some hay. Upon notifying the authorities, Sheriff George Gilbertson went to the scene.

EVELETH TO ENTERTAIN 3,000

Expects Many Delegates During the Eagles' State Convention June 8—Special Features.

Eveleth.—Eveleth expects to entertain 3,000 persons in the three days of the Eagles' state convention, June 8, 9 and 10. This will be the first big convention Eveleth has ever had.

A special feature will be trips to the mines. Arrangements have been made with the Oliver Iron Mining company to take visitors through the properties. The Leonidas mine will be visited as it is of special interest from the fact that it is the largest underground property in the world and the fee is owned by the state of Minnesota. The Adams and Fayal open pit mines will also be inspected.

Delegates to the convention will be at the "top of the state." The point where the "mulligan" will be served, just north of Eveleth, is the highest elevation in the state. If by any mischance an Eagle spills his coffee it may find its way to the Gulf of Mexico, the Great Lakes or Hudson bay. "Mulligan-land" is the water divide between three basins.

Three bands have been engaged. A special march composed by a member of the Eveleth aerie will be played in public the first time. There will be a good program of races every day and ball games every afternoon. A free dance will be given at the auditorium on the 10th.

The Eagles of the range are uniting to assist the Eveleth aerie to entertain the delegates from other parts of the state. Automobiles will be provided to take visitors to any of the range towns they desire to see.

COMMERCIAL CLUBS OF STATE

Secretaries to Hold Conference in Minneapolis, May 28—Three Subjects to Be Discussed.

Minneapolis.—A state conference of commercial club secretaries will be held in Minneapolis all day Friday, May 28 at the Hotel Radisson.

According to men well informed, this is the first state-wide conference of this character ever held in Minnesota. It is convened by the Minnesota Commercial and Civic Federation. The officers of that body say that acceptances have been already received from the secretaries of the commercial bodies of Duluth, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Winona, Rochester, Brainerd and about twenty other cities, large and small.

Three subjects will be discussed: How to get members; How to collect dues, and How to plan programs of civic developments.

The time, place and subjects of the meeting were determined by a mail vote of the secretaries.

President Wilson of the Federation has received an invitation from the Minneapolis Rotary Club that the whole number of secretaries attending the conference should be guests of the Rotary Club at luncheon.

SAVE DROWNING BLIND BOY

Sightless Companions, Guided by Voice, Rescue Youth in River at Faribault.

Faribault, Minn.—The rescue from drowning of a blind boy by three blind companions and his resuscitation by artificial respiration, has stirred Faribault.

While Superintendent J. J. Dow was absent from the State School for the Blind, Charles Hoetel, a 17-year-old pupil there, together with three companions, slipped away from the school in contravention of the rules. They walked up Straight river about a mile and then went in swimming. Hoetel got in deep water and called for help. His companions, guided by his voice, went to his rescue after considerable delay in locating him. When they took him from the water he was unconscious. The boys took him to the river bank; one ran for help, and the other two resorted to artificial means of respiration.

When Dr. F. U. Davis of the school arrived with a pulmotor, young Hoetel had been revived.

U. S. to Direct World's Course.

Minneapolis, May 14. — Raymond Robins of Chicago told the members of the Minneapolis Social Service club that the next 30 years will determine the progress of the world for a thousand years to come. In the determination of this matter, the voices of three nations will count—those of the United States, Japan and Russia.

Germany, France and England will be so burdened by the economic conditions as a result of the war, he said, that for generations they will have little effect in directing the course of the world.

Letter Carriers Plan Meeting.

Mora.—Rural letter carriers of Kanabec and Isanti counties will hold their annual meeting here on the 30th to elect officers and delegates to the state convention at Detroit.

Billie Burke Recovers.

Red Wing, Minn.—Miss Billie Burke was Billie Burke again at the Red Wing Auditorium, pleasing a crowd that packed the municipal theater. She has completely recovered from her illness of the night previous, when she collapsed on the stage of a Stillwater theater.

"The loss of a dear friend, Charles Frohman, proved too much for me, and I just could not help breaking into tears," was her explanation. "The good cry which resulted relieved me greatly."

RAILROADS MUST GIVE UP VESSELS

OWNERSHIP OF WATER CARRIERS HELD IN VIOLATION OF PANAMA CANAL ACT.

VICTORY FOR TWIN CITIES

Decision Of Interstate Commerce Commission Ends Lake-Rail Fight Begun by Minneapolis in 1903—Given Until December 1 To Sell Boats.

Washington, May 17.—All railroads owning or operating vessels on the Great Lakes must give up their water carriers by Dec. 1, according to a decision handed down by the interstate commerce commission. Every application made by the railroads for permission to continue operation of their Great Lakes vessel lines was denied by the commission.

The railroad and vessel lines affected are:

Railroads—Pennsylvania, Lehigh Valley, New York Central, Rutland, Erie, Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, and Grand Trunk of Canada.

Vessel lines—Anchor, Lehigh Valley Transfer, Mutual Transit, Western Transit, Rutland Transit, Erie Railroad Lake line and Canadian Atlantic Transit.

"The Anchor line," says the decision, "is owned jointly by the Pennsylvania railroad and the Northern Central, which latter company is operated under lease by the Pennsylvania, and operates 12 vessels serving the ports of Buffalo, Erie, Cleveland, Detroit, Mackinac Island, Milwaukee, Chicago, Sault Ste. Marie, Marquette, Hancock, Houghton, Superior and Duluth. It may be noted that since the evidence in these cases was completed, the Northern Central has been merged with the Pennsylvania.

Competition Between Vessels.

"The first controlling question arising under these applications is whether or not, within the meaning of the Panama canal amendment, there is or may be competition between the vessels operated and the railroad interested in them.

"This question would be easily answered in the affirmative if the ports of call were served in common by the boats and by the paralleling rails of the owning railroad. The physical situation would itself establish the case. It appears though, that no such case is made out on the records here presented, since no ports of call are served in common by the boats and the paralleling rails of the particular owning railroad entity. It is a fact, however, that in the case of the Pennsylvania, New York Central, Erie and the Grand Trunk, the railroad entity owning the boats or the interest therein also owns, or has an interest in, other railroad entities whose paralleling rails do serve ports of call in common with the boats.

GERMANY WOULD ARBITRATE

Berlin Newspaper Says "High Government Circles Favor Submitting Lusitania Matter To Court."

Berlin, via Amsterdam, May 17.—Germany is willing to submit her side of the Lusitania case to a court of arbitration, according to the newspaper Vassische Zeitung, which printed the following statement:

"High government circles in Germany favor submitting the Lusitania matter and the difficulties with America to a court of arbitration."

Ambassador von Bernstorff may be given immediate instructions to suggest arbitration to America, according to the Vossischo Zeitung. It is the belief in official circles here, the newspapers said, that Germany shall make prompt answer to the American note before proceeding with her policy of torpedoing merchant steamers carrying passengers.

HER ROMANCE IS A REAL TRAGEDY

Wooed and Won on Shipboard, Husband Is Murdered in Mexico.

FORETOLD HIS DOOM

American Shot Dead With Own Revolver by Enraged Employee—Sisters, Alleging Loan, Sue to Recover From Estate.

New York.—Another tragedy of Mexican life is revealed in a suit in the supreme court.

The immediate action concerns only the efforts of a sister to recover $20,000 from the $1,500,000 estate of her brother, who was murdered in Mexico. Behind it all appear the details of a shipboard courtship, the marriage, the hazardous life in the turbulent country and the last scene, the violent death of the husband after he had accumulated a fortune at the cost of much hardship.

In the fall of 1907 Albert H. Lawrence, whose name at birth was Leszynsky, started for Mexico to look after "El Portrero" sugar plantation, in the state of Vera Cruz. On the same steamship was Miss Virginia Pernet, a young southern society woman, whose father, accompanying her, was a large sugar-cane grower in Mexico.

Betrothed on Voyage.

Lawrence and Miss Pernet were engaged to be married before the vessel arrived at Vera Cruz. Even the details of the nuptials had been arranged in the brief courtship. Owing to parental opposition, however, Miss Pernet was not married to Lawrence until late in 1908.

The turmoil of the revolution-stricken country did not appeal to the gentle tastes of the southern woman, and Lawrence himself became unhappy on his wife's account.

When Lawrence came to New York in 1912 to attend to some business affairs he had a premonition of impending peril which he confided to his secretary, Mrs. Mott. "This will be the last time you will ever see me," said Lawrence. "I have a premonition that I will never again come to New York. Someone is going to kill me."

And Lawrence, so convinced that he had properly read his own horoscope, began making preparations for his impending fate. He gathered together all his private papers and placed them in a safe deposit vault. He bought an automatic revolver and started back to Mexico and his death.

Killed Lawrence With His Own Weapon.

Slain With Own Revolver.

One day not long after he arrived back on his plantation Lawrence was seated at his desk. His revolver lay on his desk beside him. Charles Baillet, an employee, suffering from some imaginary wrong, his mind affected by the constant fear and dread in which the people lived in the disturbed country, came into the office.

Grabbing the revolver from the desk, Baillet killed Lawrence with his own weapon.

Lawrence's will left his entire estate to his wife. Despite the many obstacles he had been highly successful, and it was believed that his estate was valued at more than $3,000,000. But the value dwindled to $1,500,000. Hannah and Ray Leszynsky, sisters of the dead planter, brought a suit in Mexico to break his will but lost.

Hannah Leszynsky died, and Ray has continued the suit in New York to the extent of demanding $20,000 from her brother's estate She alleges that her mother, Mrs. Amelia Leszynsky, loaned her brother, known as Lawrence, $20,000, and that before the death of the mother she assigned this claim to her two daughters.

You can't always make everything "just so." Sometimes you will get in more shortening than usual; or make the batter a little thin; or it may not be convenient to put a cake in the oven the moment it is mixed; or your oven may not bake evenly and it is necessary to turn the pan around—none of these little uncertainties make the slightest difference in results if you use

"I began to note improvement in my condition very soon after I took on Postum. The change proceeded gradually, but surely, and it was a matter of only a few weeks before I found myself entirely relieved—the nervousness passed away, my digestive apparatus was restored to normal efficiency, and I began to sleep restfully and peacefully.

U. S. NOTE TO GERMANY IS FIRM; VIOLATION OF AMERICAN RIGHTS ON HIGH SEAS MUST BE STOPPED

Communication Insists Upon Absolute Cessation of Submarine Warfare on Ships Carrying Non-Combatants—America Will Not Omit Any Act Necessary to Perform Sacred Duty.

Washington, May 15.—The United States government has called the German government to account for violation of American rights on the high seas, culminating in the sinking of the Lusitania with the loss of more than 100 American lives.

President Wilson's note asks that Germany give adequate assurance that it will discontinue submarine operations endangering the lives of non-combatants.

AMERICANS WILL PERFORM SACRED DUTY.

The communication, which was cabled to Berlin over the signature of Secretary Bryan, concludes with this significant sentence: "The Imperial German government will not expect the government of the United States to omit any word or act necessary to the performance of its sacred duty of maintaining the rights of the United States and its citizens and of safeguarding their free exercise and enjoyment."

GERMANY EXPECTED TO DISAVOW ACTS.

The note expresses the confident expectation of the United States that Germany will disavow the acts of which this government complains, and that it will make "reparation, so far as reparation is possible, for injuries which are without measure."

Germany is asked to take immediate steps to prevent the recurrence of "anything so obviously subversive of the principles of warfare for which the Imperial German government in the past so wisely and so firmly contended."

WILSON'S TERMS ARE UNMISTAKABLE.

President Wilson's communication, though setting forth in unmistakable terms the firm determination of the United States to obtain protection for its citizens in the exercise of rights guaranteed by international law, is phrased in exceedingly courteous language.

Text Made Public.

The text of the note made public by the state department, is, in part, as follows:

"Department of State, Washington.

"The secretary of state to the American ambassador at Berlin.

"Please call on the minister of foreign affairs and after reading to him this communication leave with him a copy.

"In view of recent acts of the German authorities in violation of American rights on the high seas, which culminated in the torpedoing and sinking the British steamer Lusitania on May 7, 1915, by which over 100 American citizens lost their lives, it is clearly wise and desirable that the government of the United States and the Imperial German government should come to a clear and full understanding as to the grave situation which has resulted.

"The sinking of the British passenger steamer Falaba by a German submarine on March 28, through which Leon C. Thresher, an American citizen, was drowned; the attack on April 28 on the American vessel Cushing by a German aeroplane; the torpedoing on May 1 of the American vessel Gulflight by a German submarine, as a result of which two or more American citizens met their death, and, finally, the torpedoing and sinking of the Lusitania, constitute a series of events which the government of the United States has observed with growing concern, distress and amazement.

Sanctioned by Germany?

"Recalling the humane and enlightened attitude hitherto assumed by the Imperial German government in matters of international right and particularly with regard to the freedom of the seas; having learned to recognize the German views and the German influence in the field of international obligation as always engaged upon the side of justice and humanity; and having understood the instructions of the Imperial German government to its naval commanders to be upon the same plane of humane action prescribed by the naval codes of other nations, the government of the United States was loath to believe—it cannot now bring itself to believe—that these acts, so absolutely contrary to the rules, the practices, and the spirit of modern warfare could have the countenance or sanction of that great government. It feels it to be its duty, therefore, to address the Imperial German government concerning them with the utmost frankness and in the earnest hope that it is not mistaken in expecting action on the part of the Imperial German government which will correct the unfortunate impressions which have been created and vindicate once more the position of that government with regard to the sacred freedom of the seas.

Strict Accountability Held.

"The government of the United States has been apprised that the Imperial German government considered themselves to be obliged by the extraordinary circumstances of the present war and the measures adopted by their adversaries in seeking to cut Germany off from all commerce, to adopt methods of retaliation which go much beyond the ordinary methods of warfare at sea, in the proclamation of a war zone from which they have warned neutral ships to keep away. This government has already taken occasion to inform the Imperial German government that it cannot admit the adoption of such measures or such a warning of danger to operate as in any degree an abbreviation of the rights of American ship-masters or of American citizens bound on lawful errands as passengers on merchant ships of belligerent nationality; and that it must hold the imperial government to a strict accountability for any infringement of these rights, intentional or incidental. It does not understand the Imperial German government to question those rights. It assumes, on the contrary, that the imperial government accepts, as of course, the rule that the lives of non-combatants, whether they be of neutral citizenship or citizens of one of the nations at war, cannot lawfully or rightfully be put in jeopardy by the capture or destruction of an unarmed merchantman, and recognize also, as all other nations do, the obligation to take the usual precaution of visit and search to ascertain whether a suspected merchantman is in fact of belligerent nationality or is in fact carrying contraband of war under a neutral flag.

Submarines Impracticable.

"The government of the United States, therefore, desires to call the attention of the Imperial German government with the utmost earnestness to the fact that the objection to their present method of attack against the trade of their enemies lies in the practical impossibility of employing submarines in the destruction of commerce without disregarding those rules of fairness, reason, justice and humanity, which all modern opinion regards as imperative. It is practically impossible for the officers of a submarine to visit a merchantman at sea and examine her papers and cargo.

Sustains American Rights.

"American citizens act within their indisputable rights in taking their ships and in traveling wherever their legitimate business calls them upon the high seas and exercise those rights in what should be the well justified confidence that their lives will not be endangered by acts done in clear violation of universally acknowledged international obligation, and certainly in the confidence that their own government will sustain them in the exercise of their rights.

"The government and people of the United States look to the Imperial German government for just, prompt and enlightened action in this vital matter with the greater confidence because the United States and Germany are bound together not only by special ties of friendship, but also by the explicit stipulations of the treaty of 1828 between the United States and the Kingdom of Prussia.

U. S. Ready to Act.

"Expressions of regret and offers of reparation in case of the destruction of neutral ships sunk by mistake, while they may satisfy international obligations if no loss of life results, cannot justify or excuse a practice, the natural and necessary effect of which is to subject neutral nations and neutral persons to new and immeasurable risks.

"The Imperial German government will not expect the government of the United States to omit any word or any act necessary to the performance of its sacred duty of maintaining the rights of the United States and its citizens and of safeguarding their free exercise and enjoyment.—Bryan."

WOOL GROWING IN CANADA A SUCCESS

This By-Product of the Farm Will Make Many Western Canada Farmers Rich.

Alberta wool growers are looking for 25 cent wool this year. That is the assertion made by a prominent sheepman of the Grassy Lake district. "It is quite within the pale of possibility that we will receive that figure from our wool this summer," said he, "and I would not be surprised to see some get more than that.

"The war has caused a great demand to be made on the woolen mills, and they have got to have the raw material."

The present season has been most propitious for the growing of wool, and the growers expect to reap a big harvest of a splendid quality. The winter has been very even, and the sheep are doing well on the ranges.

No special breed of sheep is kept on Western Canada farms, and all seem to do well. The advice of those interested in the welfare of the farmers of Western Canada, advise all who can at all do so to enter upon the raising of sheep. They have proved most profitable to those who go into that industry on a scale commensurate with their means, and their farm area.

The climate is perfectly adapted to the raising of sheep, they are easily kept, and as pointed out, there is good money to be made out of them.—Advertisement.

Phases of the Problem.

"Did you find it easy to enforce prohibition in Crimson Gulch?"

"Yes," replied Broncho Bob. "The only difficulty is to keep the population from movin' over an' settlin' permanent in Rum Holler."

Rheumatism Is Torture

Many pains that pass as rheumatism are due to the failure of the kidneys to drive off uric acid thoroughly. When you suffer achy, bad joints, backache, too, dizziness and urinary disturbances, get Doan's Kidney Pills, the remedy that is recommended by over 100,000 people in many different lands. Doan's Kidney Pills help weak kidneys to drive out the uric acid which so often causes backache, rheumatism and lumbago.

A North Dakota Case

Walter Schwartz, Dickinson, N. D., says: "After straining my back, I suffered terribly from kidney complaint. My back got so weak and painful I couldn't lift and the kidney secretions were irregular in passage, especially at night. After using different medicines without success, I tried Doan's Kidney Pills. They restored me to good health and I have never had a sign of kidney trouble since."

Sick Women Made Well

Reliable evidence is abundant that women are constantly being restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The many testimonial letters that we are continually publishing in the newspapers—hundreds of them—are all genuine, true and unsolicited expressions of heartfelt gratitude for the freedom from suffering that has come to these women solely through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Money could not buy nor any kind of influence obtain such recommendations; you may depend upon it that any testimonial we publish is honest and true—if you have any doubt of this write to the women whose true names and addresses are always given, and learn for yourself.

Read this one from Mrs. Waters:

Camden, N.J.—"I was sick for two years with nervous spells, and my kidneys were affected. I had a doctor all the time and used a galvanic battery, but nothing did me any good. I was not able to go to bed, but spent my time on a couch or in a sleeping-chair, and soon became almost a skeleton. Finally my doctor went away for his health, and my husband heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and got me some. In two months I got relief and now I am like a new woman and am at my usual weight. I recommend your medicine to every one and so does my husband."—Mrs. Tillie Waters, 530 Mechanic Street, Camden, N.J.

From Hanover, Penn.

Hanover, Pa.—"I was a very weak woman and suffered from bearing down pains and backache. I had been married over four years and had no children. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound proved an excellent remedy for it made me a well woman. After taking a few bottles my pains disappeared, and we now have one of the finest boy babies you ever saw."—Mrs. C. A. Rickrode, R.F.D., No. 5, Hanover, Pa.

Now answer this question if you can. Why should a woman continue to suffer without first giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial? You know that it has saved many others—why should it fail in your case?

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs, it has restored so many suffering women to health.

Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO. (CONFIDENTIAL) LYNN, MASS., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

FOR THE WIFE'S PROTECTION

French Laws Make Drawing Up of Ante-Nuptial Contract a Matter of Highest Importance.

If an American girl marries a Frenchman, or vice versa, and they go to live in France, let there always be an ante-nuptial contract. But let it be remembered that if no contract has been signed the consorts, after they have returned to France, will find themselves under the community regime. Every married couple is supposed to make a marriage contract in France, and if they have not done so the law gives them a contract, which is the legal community, Case and Comment says.

The legal community may be likened to a partnership, but a partnership of a special kind, in which the husband is the sole manager and absolute master, and the wife has no voice in the management. Consequently the husband may dispose of all community property without any hinderance. By community property you must understand all personal property belonging to the spouses before and after the marriage. The husband has full and untrammeled right to cash and squander all interest and dividends, to draw checks against the community funds, to incumber or sell at pleasure all real estate belonging to the community. He is the lord and master.

Now, let us take it for granted that the French husband is a sterling character, that he is possessed of high business ability. But he may be unsuccessful in the management of the community. He may have debts, and still be the best man on earth. Precisely in the case of debts or unsuccessful management, and because there is no fraud, the creditors of the community will have the right to attach the community property, even if it belongs exclusively to the wife, thus leaving her penniless.

Enough has been said, we believe, to demonstrate that it is a wise precaution to carefully draw an ante-nuptial contract, minutely describing and reciting what property belongs to the wife, and it is not to be included in the regime of the community.

RULE THAT HAS EXCEPTIONS

Not Always Well to Place Building Stone as Experts Have Agreed It Should Be.

In modern masonry it is, generally speaking, the rule that stone used in building should be so placed that it will be as it lay in its natural bed when quarried. This rule is not, however, always to be depended upon and in many cases needs to be supplemented with other precautions.

There are three planes of fracture known to quarrymen. The "rift" is the direction in which the stone splits most easily; the "grain" that which is next easiest; the "head" that which offers greatest resistance. In a paving block the two sides represent the rift fracture, the top and bottom the grain, and ends the head. But in a quarry the natural bed is sometimes considerably inclined to the plane of the rift; hence the imperfection of the ordinary rule for placing stone in building.—Popular Mechanics.

Fruits in England.

By far the greatest achievement of Cardinal Wolsey was combining strawberries and cream. A world benefactor, his failings may well be forgotten and forgiven!

How long have Britishers been, at least, partial fruitarians? Apples, pears, gooseberries and plums appear to have been grown in England for a very long time, but cultivated raspberries did not arrive until the sixteenth century.

Rhubarb was introduced from Russia in 1573, but did not become popular until the nineteenth century. It is recorded that a Deptford gardener in 1810 sent a few sticks to the London market, but was unable to find a customer.

Cherries were brought over by the Romans, but ceased to be cultivated until one of Henry VII's gardeners reintroduced them.

I Bought The Tractor So My Boys Could Farm

The New Way

I expect there will be as much change in a few years as there was from the old reapers to the binders.

That's what one Avery Tractor owner writes us. And within the last two years thousands of others have shown that they believe the same thing by buying Avery Tractors and Plows and changing from horse or mule farming to Tractor Farming.

Tractor Farming is coming fast. And the reasons are simple: It costs less to farm with tractors than with horses or mules. You can raise bigger crops by plowing deep and doing all your work at the right time. And it is much easier work to farm with a Tractor than with horses or mules. Turn a switch at noon or night and you are through. Avery Tractors a success on any size farm

ITALY DECLARES WAR ON AUSTRIA; ENVOYS RECALLED

TROOPS ARE IN CONTACT ALONG THE NORTHERN BOUNDARY OF ITALY—AUSTRIANS REPULSED.

VON BEULOW TO LEAVE ROME WITH AUSTRIANS

Italians of All Classes Are Electrified By Swiftly Moving Events—Italian Residents on Austrian Tyrol Experience Great Difficulty in Returning to Italy.

TURKISH ENVOY LEAVES.

London, May 25.—Marquis di Garroni, Italian ambassador to Turkey, and his staff, are leaving Constantinople, according to an Athens dispatch to the Telegraph.

Rome, via Paris, May 24.—Lieutenant General Cadorna, chief of the Italian general staff, has left for the front.

MILLION MEN AT FRONT.

London, May 24.—"Austrian and Italian forces are facing each other, at some places only a half mile apart," says the Geneva correspondent of the Daily Express. "The forces at the front are estimated at a million men on each side.

"The Austro-German headquarters staff has arrived at Trent and the Austrians have mounted artillery in the Stelvio pass, which is still covered with snow. A continuous stream of troops from the Tyrol is arriving near the Swiss-Italian frontier."

London, May 24.—The authorities at Smyrna are taking stringent measures against Italian citizens there, says a Reuter dispatch from Athens. Their departure is forbidden under the death penalty.

Rome, May 25.—Italy has cast the die for war with Austria-Hungary. The Rubicon has been crossed and the Italian ambassador at Vienna, the Duke of Avarna, has been recalled.

The actual state of war now exists. The formal declaration handed to Baron Rajech, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, is to go into effect at once. Baron von Macchio, the Austro-Hungarian ambassador to Italy, was handed his passport and has left Rome.

Italian and Austrian troops are already in contact along the northern boundary of Italy. The Alpine chasseurs drove back an Austrian patrol which had crossed the frontier.

Prince von Beulow, the German ambassador, has received instructions to leave Rome conjointly with the Austro-Hungarian ambassador, according to a Berlin official dispatch.

Events Electrify Italians.

Although drastic action has been looked for momentarily, Italians of all classes have been electrified by the swiftly moving events. Great crowds gathered around the Quirinal to await the ministers who called on the king, for the purpose of discussing the situation and signing decrees.

When Premier Salandra and Signor Sonnino, the foreign minister, left the palace, the people cheered them enthusiastically. General Zeppeli, minister of war, and Vice Admiral Viale, minister of marine, remained with the king for a considerable time after the others left, and later they had a conference with Lieutenant General Cadorna, chief of staff, and Vice Admiral Phaon di Revel, chief of the naval staff.

Strong Forces on Frontier.

When the first blow will be struck cannot be foretold, but after many months of preparation, the army and the navy are ready. Exceedingly strong forces are in position all along the Austro-Italian frontier, on the Austrian side of which feverish preparations have been going on the last few days to make the fortifications as strong as possible and to clear the way for effective artillery action.

The German and Austrian ambassadors will be given safe conduct when they do leave and so far as Germans and Austrians resident in Italy are concerned, every effort has been made to see them safely out of the country.

On the other hand, most alarming reports have been received from the Italian border towns that Italian residents on the Austrian Tyrol are experiencing great difficulty in returning to Italy and in many cases have been placed under arrest.

According to the Giornale d'Italia the problem concerning the diplomats accredited to the Vatican has been solved satisfactorily and the law of guarantees remains untouched.

About 800,000 Bavarians and Hungarians have already been concentrated against Italy, Austria insuring them commissariat service.

Although Field Marshal Baron Conrad von Hoetzandorf, chief of staff of the Austrian army, had prepared for many years for a possible outbreak of war between Austria and Italy, the belief is held here that the campaign will be conducted by the German general staff, which, it is said, has planned a strong offensive movement against Italy, in the hope of breaking the Italian lines and forcing their way into Italian territory, thereby arousing alarm and strengthening the feeling favorable to peace.

Austrian Defenses Strong.

Should such an attempt fail through the resistance of the Italian army, the Austrians and Germans would then have to resort to defensive measures against a certain invasion. The Austrian defenses are particularly strong and have been constructed everywhere even along the Dalmatian coast which is already protected by fixed and floating mines and guarded by a dozen submarines carrying German officers and sailors.

The Austrian fleet is centered at Pola, with only a few torpedo boats and destroyers at Cattaro and Spalato. Other Austrian warships are in the Dalmatian archipelago on the northeast coast of the Adriatic sea. Naval men here do not consider it likely that the Austrian fleet will leave Pola unless forced by an Italian attack.

Roumanian Envoy Cheers Italy.

Paris, May 25.—The Havas agency's correspondent at Rome telegraphs that in answer to cries of Viva Roumania, from a crowd assembled before his residence, the Roumanian minister acknowledged the acclamations of the people by shouting "Viva Italy."

KING CONSTANTINE

Constantine, king of Greece, is suffering from an attack of pleurisy, and is unable to attend to state business.

ITALY'S WAR DECLARATION

Amsterdam, May 25.—(Via London)—A dispatch from Vienna says the Italian ambassador to Austria, the Duke of Avarna, has presented to Baron von Burian, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, the following declaration of war:

"Conformably with the orders of His Majesty, the King, His August Sovereign, the undersigned ambassador of Italy has the honor to deliver to His Excellency, the Foreign Minister of Austria-Hungary, the following communication:

"Declaration has been made, as from the fourth of this month, to the Imperial and Royal Government of grave motives for which Italy, confident in her good right, proclaimed annulled and henceforth without effect, her treaty of alliance with Austria-Hungary which was violated by the Imperial Government and resumed her liberty of action in this respect.

"The government of the king, firmly resolved to provide by all means at its disposal for safeguarding Italian rights and interests, cannot fail in its duty to take against every existing and future menace measures which events impose upon it for the fulfillment of national aspirations.

"His Majesty, the King, declares that he considers himself in a state of war with Austria-Hungary.

"The undersigned has the honor to make known at the same time to His Excellency, the Foreign Minister, that passports will be placed this very day at the disposal of the Imperial and Royal Ambassador at Rome, and he will be obliged to His Excellency if he will kindly have his passport handed to him.

(Signed) "AVARNA."

Paterson Gives Sunday $25,000.

Paterson, N. J., May 25.—Billy Sunday has cleaned up Paterson. When he left the New Jersey town there were 15,000 better citizens there. He took $25,000 as the "free will" offering of Patersonians. This gift of $25,000 places the city far ahead of the big cities where Sunday has conducted revival campaigns. Philadelphia, with 2,000,000 people, gave Sunday $52,300, and Pittsburgh gave him $42,000. Sunday is going to his farm in Michigan after a brief stay in Philadelphia.

Ask Leniency for Beum.

Minneapolis, May 25.—The federal parole board, which considered at a meeting at Leavenworth, Kans., an application for leniency in the case of Charles N. Beum, Minneapolis ironworker, who was convicted in the dynamite conspiracy cases at Indianapolis, took the application under advisement. It is believed the board will recommend parole. Four other men who applied were J. H. Barry, Peter Smith, W. Bert Brown and W. E. Reddin.

WAS HAPPY IN HIS PRISON CELL

California Millionaire Says Term Was "Most Useful in My Career."

CALLED PRISON ANGEL

F. A. Hyde, Land Speculator, Recently Released From Federal Prison, Does Great Work Among His Fellow Convicts.

Atlanta, Ga.—When Frederick A. Hyde, sixty-seven years old, millionaire land dealer and former president of the board of education of San Francisco, left the federal penitentiary here, after serving 16 months, his first statement was that those months had been the most useful of his whole life. He added that he would return to his home in California, where his wife, daughter and three sons are waiting for him, not afraid to look any man in the face.

"Not only have these 16 months been the most useful in my career," said Hyde, "but this period has been the happiest of my life, and I have derived more good from my work at the prison than at any other time."

Sentence Is Commuted.

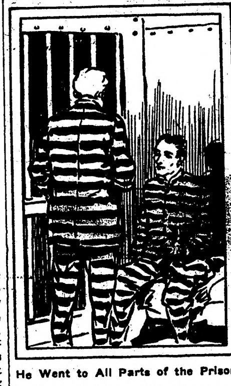
Hyde was imprisoned in December, 1913, after one of the most sensational court battles in the history of the country. He was sentenced to serve two years for alleged conspiracy in land frauds, but the sentence was commuted by President Wilson.

At the penitentiary Hyde was known among his fellow prisoners as the "angel convict," because of his work to better the conditions of the other prisoners, especially those who were poor. He was assigned to the prison newspaper, Good Works, and in the performance of his duties was allowed to go to all parts of the prison and mingle with all the convicts.

From the first he took an interest in their welfare. He found that baseball and a few worn-out movie films were the only amusements in the prison. He laid out plans for a complete athletic field which, with money furnished by himself, was constructed by Hyde and his fellow prisoners.

Great Work In Prison.

Hyde's greatest work in the prison was with the unfortunate men who finished their terms but looked upon freedom with no pleasure because they were without friends or money to make a new start in life. To hundreds of these Hyde gave encouragement and money, in many cases furnished them with sufficient funds to re-establish themselves in business.



He Went to All Parts of the Prison.

One of Hyde's philanthropies in the prison was the establishment of a library. He bought hundreds of valuable books with his own money and donated them to the prison.

Hyde's conviction followed an investigation by former President Roosevelt, through Detective William J. Burns, into alleged land frauds on the Pacific coast. Hyde and his business associates in San Francisco, where he was very prominent in social and civic life, declare that he never defrauded the government out of a dollar, but that his violation of the law was purely technical.

ALTAR BOY SAVES ENGINEER

Found Him Bound and Gagged by Highwaymen Who Planned Extensive Robberies.

Park Ridge, N. J.—Frank English, an altar boy, was on his way to early mass when he noticed that the water wheels of the electric power plant here were still turning. Thinking this unusual, he went inside and found the night engineer, Edward Griesch, bound and gagged.

Griesch said he had been visited by three masked men, who told him to shut down the plant and thus cut off all electric lights in the town. They also demanded that he direct them to the houses of the wealthiest people here, he said.

The engineer said he refused, and that they attacked him, bound his hands and feet, and thrust a gag into his mouth, and made off with $200 which he had in his pocket. The authorities are investigating his story.

WESTERN CANADA SEEDING FINISHED

Wheat and Other Grains Have Had an Excellent Start.

The seeding of spring wheat was pretty general this spring about 7th of April or about as early as in Illinois and Iowa. Oats and barley followed. Information is to hand that on first of May all seeding was practically finished. Farmers will now be busy at their breaking, and the land for summer fallow will be entered upon. Some who did not get their land prepared last fall, will be later than the others, but as the spring in Western Canada has been very open they will be only a few days later. At the time of writing rain would be welcome, but at seeding time, the ground contained a splendid lot of moisture and the lack of rain at the present time will not be serious. The number of farmers who have gone into the raising of cattle has been considerably increased, and the preparation for extensive cultivated grass pastures is in evidence everywhere. The cultivation of fodder corn is being largely entered upon in Manitoba there being upwards of 25,000 acres in corn. In Saskatchewan there will be a large increase in the area planted, and in Alberta many of the more progressive farmers are taking hold of it. The yield varies according to the cultivation it receives, and runs from five to nine tons per acre. In some portions of Manitoba where it has been poor for some years, success has been achieved in ripening and it is expected that a variety will soon be developed that will provide seed for the entire West, that will at an early date give to Western Canada a fame for the growing of a marketable corn equal to that it has now for the growth of smaller cereals.

A trip through Western Canada reveals field after field of alfalfa, the growth of which in any portion of the country is now absolutely assured. When these facts are made known to the farmers of the corn and alfalfa growing states, where their value as wealth makers is so well known, there will be no hesitancy in taking advantage of the splendid gift of 160 acres of land made by the Government of the Dominion of Canada, where equal opportunities are offered. Besides these free grant lands, there are the lands of some of the railway companies and large land companies, that may be had at low prices and on reasonable terms. During the month of February a large number of inquiries were received, asking for farm lands.

An encouraging feature of the farm land situation in Canada is the large percentage of sales made to settlers in the country who desire to increase their holdings or to others who will take up farming in place of different occupations previously followed.—Advertisement.

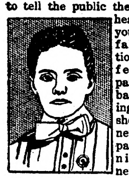
REMARKABLE CASE of Mrs. HAM

Declares Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Saved Her Life and Sanity.



Shamrock, Mo.—"I feel it my duty to tell the public the condition of my health before using your medicine. I had falling, inflammation and congestion, female weakness, pains in both sides, backaches and bearing down pains, was short of memory, nervous, impatient, passed sleepless nights, and had neither strength nor energy. There was always a fear and dread in my mind, I had cold, nervous, weak spells, hot flashes over my body. I had a place in my right side that was so sore that I could hardly bear the weight of my clothes. I tried medicines and doctors, but they did me little good, and I never expected to get out again. I got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier, and I certainly would have been in grave or in an asylum if your medicines had not saved me. But now I can work all day, sleep well at night, eat anything I want, have no hot flashes or weak, nervous spells. KNIGHTS TEMPLAR ON DRESS PARADE

OPEN FIFTIETH ANNUAL CONCLAVE OF SEMI-CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION.

STATE NEWS OF MINNESOTA

Interesting and Important Happenings of the Past Few Days Selected and Arranged for the Convenience of Busy Readers.

Minneapolis, Minn.—A dress parade through the business section of the city, followed by a banquet at the armory, wound up a strenuous day for the Knights Templar who are in Minneapolis to participate in the fiftieth annual conclave of the semi-centennial celebration of the grand commandery of Minnesota.

While the banquet was its height, a large tank of coffee, boiling over a gas range in a temporary kitchen in the armory, exploded, and eleven waiters were showered with the hot fluid and severely burned. Three of them were so badly scalded that treatment at the City hospital was necessary.

Two Thousand in Parade.

Two thousand five hundred Knights resplendent in plumed helmets, uniforms which blazed with gold lace and medals, passed through the streets thronged by thousands of Minneapolitans and visitors. All along the line of march, which started at Tenth street and Nicollet avenue, down to the Gateway and then over to Hennepin and out Hennepin to the armory, the marching Knights, representing the 31 commanderies in the state, were cheered by spectators. Many of the commanderies treated the public to fancy drills and formations.

MEN MAKE APPEAL FOR WORK

Over Six Hundred Petition City Commissioners—Say Even Actual Necessaries Are Lacking.

Duluth.—Six hundred and twenty-one men petitioned the city commissioners for work. Their condition was couched in terse language and the city officials are appealing to employers to do something to help the men out.

The petition, which contained no threat, recited that most of the men were attracted here by stories to the effect that sawmills were opening up, the steel plant work resuming and other concerns taking on extra men. The petitioners' spokesman told the commissioners the men are in actual need of the necessaries of life and some have families.

The city commissioners are trying to devise some means of employment so the men may earn enough to buy food and a place to sleep.

Club Receives Pike Fry.

Two Harbors.—Minnesota game and fish commission car Glenwood brought to this city 20 cans of pike, each can containing from 750 to 1,000 fry, consigned to the Two Harbors Rod and Gun club.

Members of the club accompanied the car to Highland and distributed the fry in Thomas lake, Long lake and one of the Twin lakes.

They also had 35 cans of pike fry consigned to August Tabor, deputy game warden. These were taken to Rollins and distributed in the lakes in the vicinity of that station by Mr. Tabor.

Admit Alleged Forgery.

Little Falls.—After confessing to forging and passing a small check at a local store and writing and attempting to pass several others, Inga Emond, 17, and David Emond, 18, her husband, were taken to St. Cloud by Sheriff Felix to plead guilty before Judge Roeser in district court to a technical charge of forgery in the second degree. The girl passed one check which was cashed, the boy failing in several attempts. They say their home is in Minneapolis.

Observe Sunday School Day.

Stillwater.—Sunday School day was observed by churches here with addresses by out-of-town residents. Rev. W. A. Brown, D. D., of Chicago, superintendent of missions of the International association, spoke twice. Professor A. M. Locker, general secretary of the association, spoke at a mass meeting on organized Sunday school work. Others who delivered addresses were Mark G. Holtzmann of Minneapolis, E. T. Street, C. J. Hunt and Mrs. Jean E. Holbert.

Wanamingo Pioneer Dies.

Red Wing.—Andres A. Haller, 88 years old, father of the late Judge Axel Haller, died at his home in Wanamingo. He was one of the first white settlers of that township.

Find Dray Loads of Liquor.

Brainerd.—At the raid made on the ideal hotel, of which W. T. Larrabee is proprietor, Sheriff Claus A. Theorin and Chief of Police Henry Squires, proceeding under a warrant charging Larrabee with conducting an unlicensed drinking place, found under search warrant, two dray loads of beer and whiskey which were hauled to the old city jail. Sheriff Theorin and Chief Squires then went to the Antlers hotel, where they seized a drayload of beer and whiskey and transported the same to the city jail.

ARRESTS CAUSE NEAR-RIOTS

Encounters Reported at Green Lake As Result of Obstructions Being Placed in Fish Outlet.

Willmar.—The past week has been a red letter week in the annals of the fishing sport in the county. The municipal court has had quite a run on illegal fishing cases during the last few days and there are more to follow. A couple of game wardens from St. Paul have been assisting in the detective operations in the county, it is said.

Especially down at the Green lake outlet have things been warm, and several arrests for illegal spearing have been made. Rumors of severe fistic encounters between wardens and native fishermen have reached this city.

A wire netting which had been placed in the lake to hinder fish from going down into the river has been yanked out by means of a team of horses, it is said.

It seems that since the digging of the ditch and draining of Lake Calhoun the fishing in Green lake has been poor and it is believed that the fish which have gone down the river to spawn in the spring have never found their way back into the lake. And for this reason those interested in preserving good fishing in the lake have caused the netting to be put in. Some of the farmers, however, declare that it only helps to preserve the fish for the city sports who come up in summer, and it deprives them of their usual opportunity of spearing a mess during this time of the year.

CHANGE IN PLANS FOR LOCK

Duluth Commercial Club Wants Waterway Built Deep Enough to Accommodate Ocean Craft.

Duluth.—The Duluth Commercial club has sent a request to the war department either to delay the construction of lock No. 4 at the Sault, for which excavation work has been finished, or to change the specifications so that the lock will permit boats that pass through it to load to a draft of thirty feet instead of twenty-four and a half feet as now planned.

When the new Welland canal is finished, in about two and a half years, vessels up to 800 feet in length, and having a draft of 30 feet, can be locked through. This will permit the passage of the largest ocean freighters.

Canada assures improvements in the St. Lawrence river, and the deepening of the channels in this harbor and in the rivers connecting the Great Lakes will complete the desired waterway.

TUNNEL THROUGH ROOF AND LOOT STRONG BOX

Minneapolis.—Working night after night with the determination of mining prospectors drilling for veins of gold, cracksmen drilled and dug their way through the brick and concrete roof of the vault in the rear of the Northwestern Fuel company's offices, 527 Marquette avenue, completed their work, droped into the vault and plundered the strong box of all it contained.

The work took several days, probably more than a week, the police believe. Each night the cracksmen replaced the roofing over the vault, but returned again to renew the operations.

The loss to the company in the robbery, the twelfth it has suffered in the last five years, could not be estimated by Manager A. W. Saunders without an examination of the books, but the robbers are believed to have obtained more than $500, which represented the day's late receipts.

Commencement Early at St. Olaf.

Northfield.—St. Olaf college will hold the twenty-fifth commencement of the college department and the forty-first of the school during the first week in June. Graduation exercises will be earlier than usual this year to avoid conflict with the annual meeting of the United Norwegian Lutheran church which begins June 9 and the twenty-fifth commencement of the United church seminary in St. Anthony park June 8.

Policeman Fatally Hurt.

Minneapolis, May 21.—Motorcycle Patrolman Otto Ostby was fatally injured when he collided with a street car at Lake street and Twenty-first avenue south, while traveling at a high rate of speed to answer what he thought was an emergency burglar alarm at the home of Miss Emily Martinson, 2529 Tenth avenue south. Ostby was picked up unconscious and taken to the city hospital where he died two hours later.

Owl Captures Prize Cat.

Buhl.—Frank Tily, a farmer, imitated an owl which he heard hooting in the nearby woods. He went into the house and a few minutes later heard a crash and an agonized "meow" of his prize cat on the porch. Tily ran to the veranda in time to see the owl fluttering away with pussy firmly clutched in its claws.

Jumps From Train; Held By Foot.

Crookston.—Sheriff O'Reilly of Grand Rapids had a hard struggle with Peter Erickson of Wheaton, whom he was taking to the Fergus Falls insane asylum. Erickson, after a hearing, was declared insane.

Before reaching Crookston Erickson jumped through a window of the moving train. Sheriff O'Reilly caught him by the foot and held him until the train was stopped and assistance secured in pulling the man back to safety. Later Erickson slashed his throat with a piece of the broken glass.

POULTRY •FACTS•

COST OF RENEWING A FLOCK

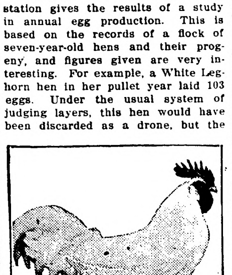
Bulletin 135 of the Utah experiment station gives the results of a study in annual egg production. This is based on the records of a flock of seven-year-old hens and their progeny, and figures given are very interesting. For example, a White Leghorn hen in her pullet year laid 103 eggs. Under the usual system of judging layers, this hen would have been discarded as a drone, but the next year she came back with 197 and repeated with 108. In her fourth year she fell down to 72, yet in her sixth year she laid as many as she had when a pullet. It is a question whether it paid to keep this hen after her third year, but such records are necessary in order to learn definitely about such things.



White Leghorn Cockerel.

The cost of renewing the flock is considered one of the greatest drawbacks to the poultry industry, the authors estimating the cost of a pullet—probably up to laying age—at from 50 to 60 cents. The average productive life of hens cannot be estimated at this stage of their work, but for the strain used in their studies was thought to be about four years. The range of individual egg production in their flocks was found to be from 100 to 160 in the first year, from 105 to 140 in the second year and from 100 to 130 in the third year. After the third year the production remained fairly constant at about 90, with a variation of not more than 10 or 15 eggs per year.

SERVICEABLE POULTRY HOUSE

Portable Colony Structure Shown in Illustration Will Accommodate Ten to Fifteen Fowls.

Here is a poultry house that will accommodate from 10 to 15 fowls, according to the amount of yard room, breed, etc. It is known as a colony house and is portable, so that it can be moved from one part of the field to another, says a writer in Western Farmer. The building is 9 feet long and 7 feet wide and about 6 feet high at the center and 18 inches at the eaves. The door is covered with fine wire netting, so as to provide light and ventilation. If desired the door can be covered with a muslin curtain, which can be swung open during the day and on warm nights. The chief recommendation for a house of this shape is the economy of labor and material needed to build it. Many poultrymen find use for colony houses. The house shown in the cut herewith given is easily constructed and at a low cost.

INFERTILE EGGS FOR CHICKS

Feed Made by Mixing With Rice and Flour and Baking Into Cake Wards Off Bowel Troubles.

Keep the infertile eggs taken from the incubator to feed the coming chicks. An infertile egg will not rot if kept in a clean place. After months you will find that it has merely dried down to something not much larger than a bean.

Mix the eggs with rice and flour and bake in a cake, which you can crumble to chicks, poults and ducks. The rice wards off bowel trouble. As they get older mix the eggs with sifted corn meal and bake up for them.

Start in Chicken Business.

While it is desirable it is not always necessary to start in the chicken business with a flock of purebreds. Buy the best hens you can afford and then spend as much more as you can afford for a purebred cock.

WHY NOT?
KC is pure. KC is healthful. It really does make lighter, nicer biscuits, cakes and pastry than the old fashioned single acting baking powders.
And you pay only a fair price for it. No baking powder should sell for more.

NOT GROWN FOR HORSE FEED

Grass Worth $1.50 a Pound Just a Little Too Expensive for Animal to Make a Meal Of.

"Gracious goodness, the horse is eating the grass!"

This anguished roar was heard by a visitor to the Canal Zone in the neighborhood of Guayaquil. He asked his host why on earth the horse shouldn't eat the grass. The answer was:

"My boy, that grass is worth $1.50 a pound. To feed a horse on it would cost $8 or $9 a meal. Real Ritz-Carlton prices!

"This is grass, you know, for Panama hats. We grow it here in Guayaquil with the utmost care—as one grows flowers. It fetches for the best average grade—the grade the horse was eating—$150 a hundredweight. That grade is free from knots and imperfections, is very fine and supple and measures two feet and more in length per blade.

"The quality of a panama hat depends on the quality of the grass put into it. You have perhaps seen Panamas worth $200 or $300. But doubtless you were not aware that the picked grass used in such hats cost $15 or $20 a pound. For, when it comes to picked grass, you get up to $1,500 or so a hundredweight. Thank goodness the horse wasn't eating that!"

FOR AN INTERNATIONAL CITY

Stupendous Plan Actually Has Been Given the Most Serious Consideration.

The plan for the $100,000,000 international city, designed by Hendrik Christian Andersen, an American sculptor living in Rome, is being accorded a very encouraging hearing. American diplomats have been directed by the state department to aid Mr. Andersen in advertising his plan. Many organizations devoted to the promotion of peace or philanthropy have volunteered their support. President Poincare of France is expected to attend a meeting at the Sorbonne December 5.

The designer is not desirous of having the world city built on speculation, believing that the nations will co-operate spontaneously when their attention is called to the plan. Possible sites have been studied on the New Jersey coast, the Dutch coast near The Hague, the Riviera near Cannes, Tervueren near Brussels, Lake Neuchatel near Bern, St. Germain-en-Laye near Paris, the Marmora coast near Constantinople, and the Mediterranean coast near Rome.—Engineering Record.

FEAR PLAGUE IN INDIA.

The plague is once more raising its head as the cold weather approaches, and the worst signs are in the Bombay presidency. There the weekly mortality is now over 1,200 out of a total of about 1,800 for all India. Bijapur, Kohlapur and southern Mahratta country, Satara, Belgaum and Poona districts furnish the highest returns. Bengal is entirely free from the disease for the moment, and other provinces have only scattered cases, but there are obviously centers of infection that require to be carefully watched. An unusual outbreak has occurred in the Hazara district, Northwest Frontier Provinces, 26 deaths being reported during the week.

"AT EVERY SOLDIER'S GRAVE, WITH LOVE"

Let tears bedew each wreath that decks the lawn
Of every grave! and raise a solemn prayer
That their battalioned souls be joined to fare
Dim roads, beyond the trumpets of the dawn.
Yet perfumed, somehow, by our flowers that heap
The peaceful barracks where their bodies sleep.

MEMORIAL DAY ANCIENT CUSTOM

Ceremonies Can Be Traced Back to the Very Earliest Days of Civilization.

MEMORIAL day, celebrated in almost every state of our Union, has been set apart by statute as a special day for decorating the graves of the nation's soldiers and for holding appropriate exercises in their memory. While it originally sprang from a spontaneous desire to do honor to the heroes who fell in the Civil war, still it is now celebrated in honor of all the soldier dead, that their heroisms and sacrifices may never be forgotten.

It is interesting to trace the origin of this holiday, for, like many another modern institution, it goes back to the early days of civilization. We have been celebrating it with a special significance for years, and yet, upon examining it, we find the adaptation of an ancient custom rather than the expression of a new idea. In fact, days set aside for ceremonies to honor the dead are so intimately connected with all races that they seem inseparable from the practices of civilization.

The pagan Greeks held sacred rites at the graves of their dead called zeal and made offerings of olives and flowers. A floral wreath was placed at the head of the grave, and if a bloom sprang from the mound it was considered a sign of the happiness of the departed one.

Roman Parentalia.

In Rome a similar festival was held for several days in February. It was known as the Parentalia. During this celebration the temples were closed and the last day offerings were made at the tombs. These consisted of milk, honey, fruit, wine and other things, while flowers of every variety were used in profuse decoration.

The Druids held a memorial service in the autumn on the eve of the Thanksgiving feast, while the ancient people of Japan and China had a service for the dead called the Feast of Lanterns.

After the various nations embraced Christianity this custom became more widespread and the nature of its celebration changed materially. The spiritual side of the day became the uppermost feature, and this led directly to the founding of All Souls' day. This is observed in our own country strictly in a religious manner, but in many places in Europe it includes the decoration of flowers in addition to the spiritual exercises. In France for several days before the feast wreaths and bunches of immortelles, dyed in various colors, are seen in the shop windows.

After the religious services are over the people go to the different graveyards laden with baskets and bunches of flowers, and before the day is over these burying places are a mass of brilliant color. Not a grave is slighted, and even in a corner of potter's field one will find a token of remembrance for the most neglected one. Another interesting feature is the placing of a lighted lamp at the foot of the graves. The lamps are usually taken to the graves as evening draws on, and often the people stay and kneel there in silent meditation. The colored garlands and the flickering lights present a strange and novel sight.

All Had Graves to Decorate.

Our Memorial day is in truth nothing more than a secular All Souls' day. It owes its origin to the women of the South, who began the practice of decorating their graves less than two years after the close of the Civil war. That struggle of four years had kept our country in a constant state of commotion and excitement. Every [illegible] of the nation had contributed [illegible] young and old, to the [illegible] peace was restored [illegible] a village or town that did not have a grave to remind it of the fearful cost.

A New York newspaper first published a paragraph stating that a few women of Columbus, Miss., had strewn the graves of the dead soldiers, Union as well as Confederates. This touching tribute caused a thrill of tenderness to pass through the North, and it aroused, as nothing else could have done, a feeling of national amity and love.

The practical result of this incident came in May, 1868, when Adjutant General Chipman suggested to Gen. John A. Logan, commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, that their organization set a uniform time to decorate the graves of the Union soldiers.

General Logan immediately took up the suggestion and named May 30 as the day for decoration. He added that it was his purpose to inaugurate this observance, and sincerely hoped it would be kept up each year while a survivor of the war remains to honor the memory of the departed. The idea spread rapidly, and the legislatures of the various states enacted it into law until the holiday is now a legal one in all but six states. In many of the southern states the celebration is held April 26, as spring visits the South a full month before its first harbingers appear in the North.

First Services at Arlington.

On the first Memorial day the services at Arlington were perhaps the most impressive. The speaker on that occasion was James A. Garfield. In his soul-touching address, which remains to this day as a foremost exponent of the spirit and significance of Decoration day, we read:

"I love to believe that no heroic sacrifice is ever lost; that the characters of men are molded and inspired by what their fathers have done; that treasured up in American souls are all the unconscious influences of the great deeds of the Anglo-Saxon race from Agincourt to Bunker Hill. Each for himself gathered up the cherished purposes of life—its aims and ambitions, its dearest affections—and flung all, with life itself, into the scale of battle. If each grave had a voice to tell us what its silent tenant last saw and heard on earth we might stand with uncovered heads and hear the whole story of the war. We should hear that one perished when the first great drops of the crimson shower began to fall, when the darkness of that first disaster at Manassas fell like an eclipse on the nation; that another died of disease while wearily waiting for winter to end; that this one fell on the field when the tide of war shook the dome of yonder capitol and re-echoed in the chambers of the executive mansion. The voices of these dead will forever fill the land like holy benedictions. What other spot so fitting for their last resting place as this, under the shadow of the capitol saved by their valor? Here, where the grim edge of battle joined; here, where all the hope and fear and agony of their country centered; here let them rest, asleep on the nation's heart, entombed in the nation's love!"

Memorial day has now grown to be a day of thought for all dead. When the national Decoration day comes, many who have no soldier dead, take the opportunity to honor relatives and other dead ones by strewing on their graves the symbols of love and affection.

THE NATION'S DEAD.

Beside the army of her dead
Once more the nation stands,
With banners waving at her back,
And blossoms in her hands,
With equal love and grief and pride,
Impartially, today
She drops her roses and her tears
Upon the Blue and Gray.

Forgotten are the years of strife,
The cause they lost and won,
Each sleeper in the silent tents
Is her beloved son.
The uniforms are ashes now,
The swords and guns are rust,
But Memory's eternal green
[illegible] in their dust.

I Bought The Tractor So My Boys Could Farm
The New Way

I expect there will be as much change in a few years as there was from the old reapers to the binders.

That's what one Avery Tractor owner writes us. And within the last two years thousands of others have shown that they believe the same thing by buying Avery Tractors and Plows and changing from horse or mule farming to Tractor Farming.

Tractor Farming is coming fast. And the reasons are simple: It costs less to farm with tractors than with horses or mules. You can raise bigger crops by plowing deep and doing all your work at the right time. And it is much easier work to farm with a Tractor than with horses or mules. Turn a switch at noon or night and you are through. Avery Tractors a success on any size farm

GERMANY REPLIES TO AMERICAN NOTE REGARDING SINKING OF THE LUSITANIA

Berlin Government Declares it Does Not Intend to Submit Neutral Ships to Submarine Attacks--Alleges Cunard Liner Was Armed--Withholds Final Decision.

Berlin, June 1.—Germany withholds its final decision on the demands advanced by the United States government in connection with the sinking of the Lusitania until the receipt of an answer from the United States to the note which Herr Von Jagow, the foreign minister, has delivered to Ambassador Gerard, in reply to the American note received by the German government on May 15.

In its reply, the German government declares that it is not its intention to submit neutral ships in the war zone, which are guilty of no hostile acts, to attacks by submarines or aeroplanes; that it is investigating the circumstances in connection with the attacks on the American steamers Cushing and Gulflight, and that in all cases where neutral vessels, through no fault of their own, have been damaged, Germany will pay indemnification.

The reply urges that in the case of the Lusitania which Germany alleges was armed and carried large stores of war munitions, it was "acting in justified self-defense in seeking with all the means of warfare at its disposition to protect the lives of its soldiers by destroying ammunition intended for the enemy."

The German government recalls the proposals submitted by the United States government to Berlin and London, designed to end the submarine warfare and the shutting out of food supplies from Germany, which, it declared, failed of their purpose because of the refusal of the British government to agree to them.

Text of German Reply.

Berlin, via London, May 31.—The following is the text of the German reply to the note of the United States government:

"The undersigned has the honor to submit to ambassador Gerard the following answer to the communication of May 15 regarding the injury to American interest through German submarine warfare:

"The Imperial government has subjected the communication of the American government to a thorough investigation. It entertains also a keen wish to co-operate in a frank and friendly way in clearing up a possible misunderstanding which may have arisen in the relations between the two governments through the events mentioned by the American government.

To Avoid Attacks on Neutrals.

"Regarding, firstly, the cases of the American steamers Cushing and Gulflight. The American embassy has already been informed that the German government has no intention of submitting neutral ships in the war zone, which are guilty of no hostile acts, to attacks by a submarine or submarines or aviators. On the contrary, the German forces have repeatedly been instructed most specifically to avoid attacks on such ships.

"If neutral ships in recent months have suffered through the German submarine warfare, owing to mistakes in identification, it is a question only of quite isolated and exceptional cases, which can be attributed to the British government's abuse of flags, together with the suspicious or culpable behavior of the masters of the ships.

Expresses Deep Regret.

"The German government in all cases in which it has been shown by its investigations that a neutral ship, not itself at fault, was damaged by German submarines or aviators, has expressed regret over the unfortunate accident, and, if justified by conditions has offered indemnification.

"The cases of the Cushing and the Gulflight will be treated on the same principles. An investigation of both cases is in progress, the result of which will presently be communicated to the embassy. The investigation, if necessary, will be supplemented by an international call on the international commission of inquiry, as provided by Article III of The Hague agreement of October 18, 1907.

Sinking of the Falaba.

"When sinking the British steamer Falaba, the commander of the German submarine had the intention of allowing the passengers and crew a full opportunity for a safe escape. Only when the master did not obey the order to heave-to, but fled and summoned help by rocket signals, did the German commander order the crew and passengers by signals and megaphones to leave the ship within ten minutes. He actually allowed them 23 minutes time, and fired the torpedo only when suspicious craft were hastening to the assistance of the Falaba.

Regarding the Lusitania.

"Regarding the loss of life by the sinking of the British passenger steamer Lusitania, the German government has already expressed to the neutral governments concerned its keen regret that citizens of their states lost their lives.

"On this occasion the Imperial government, however, cannot escape the impression that certain important facts having a direct bearing on the sinking of the Lusitania may have escaped the attention of the American government.

"In the interest of a clear and complete understanding, which is the aim of both governments, the Imperial government considers it first necessary to convince itself that the information accessible to both governments above the facts of the case is important and in accord.

"The government of the United States proceeds on the assumption that the Lusitania could be regarded as an ordinary unarmed merchantman. The Imperial government allows itself in this connection to point out that the Lusitania was one of the largest and fastest British merchant ships, built with government funds as an auxiliary cruiser and carried expressly as such in the 'navy list' issued by the admiralty.

Says Ship Carried Cannon.

"It is further known to the Imperial government from trustworthy reports from its agents and neutral passengers, that for a considerable time practically all the more valuable British merchantmen have been equipped with camon and ammunition and other weapons manned by persons who have been specially trained in serving guns. The Lusitania, too, according to information received here, had cannon aboard, which were mounted and concealed below decks.

"The Imperial government further has the honor to direct the particular attention of the American government to the fact that the British admiralty, in a confidential instruction, issued in February, 1915, recommended its mercantile shipping not only to seek protection under neutral flags and distinguishing marks, but also while thus disguised to attack German submarines by ramming. As a special incitation to merchantmen to destroy submarines, the British government also offered high prizes and has already paid such rewards.

"The Imperial government in view of these facts indubitably known to it, is unable to regard British merchantmen in the zone of naval operations specified by the admiralty staff of the German navy as 'undefended.' German commanders consequently are no longer able to observe the customary regulations of the prize law which they before always followed.

Canadian Troops Abroad?

"Finally, the Imperial government must point out particularly that the Lusitania, on its last trip as on earlier occasions, carried Canadian troops and war material, including no less than 5,400 cases of ammunition intended for the destruction of the brave German soldiers who are fulfilling their duty with self sacrifices and devotion in the fatherland's service.

"The German government believes that it was acting in justified self-defense in seeking with all the means of warfare at its disposition to protect the lives of its soldiers by destroying ammunition intended for the enemy.

"The British shipping company must have been aware of the danger to which the passengers aboard the Lusitania were exposed under these conditions. The company in embarking them, notwithstanding this, attempted deliberately to use the lives of American citizens as protection for the ammunition aboard and acted against the clear provisions of the American law, which expressly prohibits the forwarding of passengers on ships carrying ammunition, and provides a penalty therefor. The company, therefore, is wantonly guilty of the death of so many passengers.

Claims Ammunition Exploded.

"There can be no doubt, according to the definite report of the submarine's commander, which is further confirmed by all other information that the quick sinking of the Lusitania is primarily attributable to the explosion of the ammunition shipment caused by a torpedo. The Lusitania's passengers would otherwise in all human probability have been saved.

"The Imperial government considers the above mentioned factors important enough to recommend them to the attentive examination of the American government.

Withholds Final Dicision.

"The imperial government, while withholding its final decision on the demands advanced in connection with the sinking of the Lusitania until the receipt of an answer from the American government, feels impelled in conclusion to recall here and now, that it took cognizance with satisfaction of the mediatory proposals submitted by the United States government to Berlin and London as a basis for a modus vivendi for conducting the maritime warfare between Germany and Great Britain. The Imperial government, by its readiness to enter upon a discussion of these proposals, then demonstrated its good intentions in ample fashion. The realization of these proposals was defeated, as is well known by the declinatory attitude of the British government.

"The undersigned takes occasion, etc.

(Signed) "JAGOW."

EMPEROR OF GERMANY

POINTS ADVANCED BY GERMANY AND AMERICA

Germany advances self defense in support of submarine warfare against belligerent merchant ships.

The United States holds that such warfare is indefensible.

Germany declares that the Falaba was sunk because she signalled for assistance.

The United States has declared that no potential menace by submarines justifies the death of the American, Leon C. Thrasher.

Germany claims that carelessness or suspicious acts of neutral vessels is responsible for unjustified attacks by German submarines.

The United States insists German submarines have no right to make mistakes.

Germany charges that the Lusitania carried mounted masked guns.

The United States denies that the Lusitania left New York armed.

Germany describes the Lusitania as a British auxiliary cruiser.

The United States declares the Lusitania was an unarmed merchant passenger ship.

Germany alleges that by direct instructions of their government British merchantmen attack German submarines.

Germany announces that it will not regard British ships as undefended British territory.

The United States holds that humanity and international law forbids the exercise of a revolting practice.

Germany alleges that an American law was violated by the presence of explosives on the Lusitania.

The United States asserts that no American law was violated.

Germany suggests that it will cease submarine warfare if the United States will induce Great Britain to surrender its war against foodstuffs intended for the people of Germany.

The United States feels it cannot barter with Great Britain over a question which relates solely to Germany.

VON JAGOW EXPLAINS AD INTERIM NOTE TO U. S.

Berlin, via London, May 31.—Gottlieb von Jagow, the imperial German foreign secretary has outlined the reasons which impelled the German government to send ad interim the note to the United States government, instead of a final and definite reply to the American representations regarding the Lusitania and other ships that have been torpedoed and Germany's submarine policy.

"The issues involved," said Herr von Jagow, "are of such importance and the views in regard to the Lusitania show such variance that the German government believed it essential to attempt to establish a common basis of fact before entering into a discussion of the issues involved.

Open For Discussion.

"We hope and trust that the American government will take the same view of the case and let us know in what points their understanding of the facts differ from the German viewpoint as set forth in the note and in what points they agree before looking for a direct answer to their communication.

Chocolate Soldiers.

The soldier's weakness for sweetmeats, to which Mr. Bernard Shaw called attention when he wrote "The Chocolate Soldier," has been abundantly confirmed during the present war. The quantity of sweets consumed by our army in France has been prodigious, while from Cairo comes the news that the Australians have absolutely eaten the place out of chocolate. On the troopships which brought them, too, it was the same. Thus Capt. Bean, the official correspondent with the force, writes: "Our canteen had five times the demand for sweets and soft drinks that was expected and one-fifth the demand for beer."—Westminster Gazette.

More Words Followed.

"I'm a woman of my word," said Mrs. Prebscomb, with an air of finality.

"Indeed you are, my dear," said Mr. Prebscomb.

"When I go out I don't come home and tell an improbable yarn about where I've been."

"No, you don't my dear," replied Mr. Prebscomb mildly, "but that may be due to the fact that I have never had sufficient courage to ask you where you have been."

The Exception.

"Two is company," quoted the Sage.

"Unless they happen to be husband and wife," corrected the Fool.

DRIVER WAS BUSINESS MAN

Saw More Profit in Hauling Stranded Automobilist Than in Selling Him Gasoline.

Mack Sennett was going to the San Diego fair in his car. About three o'clock in the morning, and twenty miles from nowhere, Mack found that his supply of gasoline had given out.

There was nothing to do but sit by the side of the road and wait for something to come along, which Mack proceeded to do. He had waited but a few minutes when he heard the sound of wheels on the road and soon a wagon was distinguishable in the dark.

"There's a ten spot in it if you haul me to town," hailed Mack.

The driver readily consented and Mack settled down for a three-hour ride. They were drawing into a little burg when Mack remarked that it was rather early for the driver to be on the road.

"Yes," he replied, "but I have to start early to get around to all my customers."

And as Mack handed him the ten spot for his work, the man continued: "You see, I peddle gasoline to the stores in the small towns around here."—Photoplay Magazine.

Famous Feats of Archery.

In the days when the buffalo was found in vast herds on the western plains there were Indians who, while riding at a gallop, could send an arrow through a buffalo's body. Remarkable as this archery was, it did not equal that reached by the archers of ancient times. It is of record that the MacReas of Gairlock, Scotland, were such skilled archers that they could hit a man at the distance of 500 yards. In 1794 the Turkish ambassador at London shot an arrow in a field near that capital 415 yards against the wind. The secretary of the ambassador on hearing the expressions of surprise from the English gentlemen present, said the sultan had shot 500 yards. This was the greatest performance of modern days, but a pillar standing on a plain near Constantinople recorded shots ranging up to 800 yards. Sir Robert Ainslie, British ambassador to the Sublime Porte, recorded that in 1798 he was present when the sultan shot an arrow 972 yards.—Washington Star.

Boston's Advantage.

Mrs. Gotham—But your streets in Boston are so crooked.

Mrs. Hubb—And yours in New York are so straight.

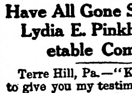
"But aren't straight streets an advantage?"

"Why, no. Now in Boston one can walk and walk and get some place, but in New York you can walk and walk and get nowhere."

This is to the credit of human nature: It is not on record that anyone ever resolved to be meaner next year.

MRS. LYON'S ACHES AND PAINS

Have All Gone Since Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.



Terre Hill, Pa.—"Kindly permit me to give you my testimonial in favor of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. When I first began taking it I was suffering from female troubles for some time and had almost all kinds of aches—pains in lower part of back and in sides, and pressing down pains. I could not sleep and had no appetite. Since I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the aches and pains are all gone and I feel like a new woman. I cannot praise your medicine too highly."—Mrs. AUGUSTUS LYON, Terre Hill, Pa.

It is true that nature and a woman's work has produced the grandest remedy for woman's ills that the world has ever known. From the roots and herbs of the field, Lydia E. Pinkham, forty years ago, gave to womankind a remedy for their peculiar ills which has proved more efficacious than any other combination of drugs ever compounded, and today Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is recognized from coast to coast as the standard remedy for woman's ills.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing hundreds of thousands of letters from women seeking health—many of them openly state over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; and in some cases that it has saved them from surgical operations.

We and the British Have Sweet Tooth.

Britons have the sweetest tooth, and Americans come next, if the statistics for consumption of sugar mean anything. An Englishman eats annually 92.4 pounds, an American consumes 79.2 pounds. In Denmark the average consumption is 72.6 pounds per capita; in Switzerland it is 55 pounds; in Germany, Holland, Sweden and Norway it is from 39 to 44 pounds; in France, 35 pounds; in Belgium, 33; in Austria, 24.2; in Russia, 19.8; in Portugal, 15.4; in Spain, and Turkey, 11; in Italy, Bulgaria, Roumania and Serbia, from 6 to 7 pounds.

The principal reasons for these variations is found in the relative highness or lowness of the customs duties on sugar and on the things with which it is commonly associated—coffee, tea, etc.

High-Browed Help.

"I see where there is a plan on foot to make every servant girl an 'educated household scientist.'"

"Do you think that is practicable?"

"It's hard to say. My experience and observation is that a 'scientist' in the kitchen means a dyspetic in the dining room."

Everybody Satisfied.

"I see where another baseball player has been fined for having a row with an umpire."

"Do you sympathize with him?"

"Not at all. My observation is that the average player who is fined for assaulting an umpire feels that he got his money's worth."

Light More Beneficial Than Heat.

When rays of light fall upon the skin of our bodies, which is translucent, the greater part of them are arrested some by one layer of the skin, some by another and still others are not stopped until they have penetrated the subcutaneous tissues. This arrest of the light rays produces radiant heat, which has a higher penetrating power than convection heat as generated by a hot water bag or poultice, for instance.

E. C. Titus in an address before the Illuminating Engineering society, said that such heat penetrated two inches or more, while convection heat was excited principally on the surface.

This is why electric light baths and sun baths are so stimulating to the organs of elimination, especially the skin and kidneys, and so beneficial in so many diseases.

Unfair Advantage.

Head Bookkeeper Must Be Reliable.

The chief bookkeeper in a large business house in one of our great Western cities speaks of the harm coffee and tea did for him:

"My wife and I drank our first cup of Postum a little over two years ago, and we have used it ever since, to the entire exclusion of tea and coffee. It happened in this way:

"I had an attack of pneumonia, which left me with dyspepsia, or neuralgia of the stomach. My 'cup of cheer' had always been coffee or tea, but I became convinced, after a time, that they aggravated my stomach trouble. I happened to mention the matter to my grocer one day and he suggested that I give Postum a trial.

"Next day it came, and we liked it so much that we will never change back; for I am a well man today and have used no medicine.

"My work as chief bookkeeper in our Co's branch house here is of a very confining nature. During my coffee drinking days I was subject to nervousness and the 'blues' in addition to my sick spells. These have left me since I began using Postum and I can conscientiously recommend it to those whose work confines them to long hours of severe mental exertion."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Postum comes in two forms:

Postum Cereal—the original form—must be well boiled. 15c and 25c packages.

Instant Postum—a soluble powder—dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water, and, with cream and sugar, makes a delicious beverage instantly. 30c and 50c tins.

Both kinds are equally delicious and cost about the same per cup.

"There's a Reason" for Postum.

LAND SUBJECT TO DRAINAGE LEINS

ATTORNEY GENERAL HOLDS BUYERS OF STATE PROPERTIES ARE LIABLE.

PURCHASER TO BE NOTIFIED

Opinion Says Public Notice of Encumbrance Should Be Given in Cases of Lands Improved at Public Expense.

St. Paul.—State land purchasers in the future must take their acres subject to all drainage liens, according to an opinion submitted to State Auditor J. A. O. Preus by Attorney-General Smith.

Mr. Smith says that when lands have been improved by drainage at public expense they should be reappraised before sale. When such reappraisement is made, there should be deducted from the value of the land itself the amount of the ostensible lien for the building of the ditch, which benefits the land and enhances its value.

The attorney general adds that no lands against which such a lien is recorded should be sold without notice to the purchaser, publicly given, of the existence of such a lien.

"The appraiser," says the opinion, "after finding the value of the land as it would be unencumbered, but enhanced by drainage, should deduct therefrom the amount of the encumbrance which the recorded lien shows. This would give the minimum price for which the land can be sold."

The attorney general says that this is not an ideal plan, nor one fully supported by the statutes, but it seems to be the only practical solution of the problem.

WETS PROPOSE TO TEST LAW

East Grand Forks Brewery Distributing Stations to Attempt to Continue Operations.

East Grand Forks.—A test of Minnesota's option law, as it relates to the operation of brewery distributing stations within "dry" counties, probably will grow out of the election by which Polk county was made dry.

It is understood the 12 brewery distributing stations in East Grand Forks will continue to operate. This doubtless will bring on the test. It is also understood that the East Grand Forks brewery and the Kewald brewery at Crookston will continue in operation, maintaining their business on the basis specified in the option act.

Just how valuable the East Grand Forks distributing depots are to the breweries is indicated in the statement of one brewery agent, who says shipments in a single month from one depot have aggregated as high as $50,000. These shipments were made into the "dry" state of North Dakota. There are 12 such depots in the city, all doing a big business.

Polk county "drys" are making plans for the holding of a jubilee to celebrate their victory.

SEEKS STATE PRESIDENCY

Eighth District Resident Is Candidate for Head of Minnesota Federation of Women's Clubs.

Chisholm.—The Eighth district of the Minnesota Federation of Women's Clubs will try to win the presidency of the state federation at the annual meeting in Duluth next fall.

Mrs. P. L. Devoist of Duluth is being announced as a candidate for the office. No other candidate for the presidency has been announced.

The Eighth district will take action on Mrs. Devoist's nomination.

The practice of bringing eastern men to Minnesota to tell what is wrong with the schools, and to start social and civic community centers, was scored by Superintendent R. E. Denfeld of the Duluth public schools.

"I am bitterly opposed to strangers being paid to come here from New York to tell us we are ignorant," said Mr. Denfeld. "We do not need any outsider to come to organize social or civic community centers for us."

Confesses to Murder in Winona.

Winona.—Declaring that a prisoner in his custody has confessed to a murder in Winona five years ago, Marshal H. C. Lurton of Gillette, Wyo., has written Sheriff W. E. Parr of Winona. If the crime was actually committed here there is no record of it in the police or sheriff departments.

Lurton urges the authorities in Winona to lose no time in wiring if they desire to bring back the prisoner. He says the man gives his name as H. T. Gorman and residence in Pennsylvania.

Hastings Switching Case Heard.

Hastings.—Another hearing was held before Judge W. L. Converse concerning the St. Paul road's appeal from an order of the State Railroad and Warehouse commission requiring the switching of cars from the Burlington line at St. Croix crossing over the railroad bridge to the Hastings station. Superintendent W. J. Thiele of the river division, and C. A. Leahey of Chicago, assistant freight traffic manager, testified, and the hearing was adjourned to June 4.

TIES DYNAMITE TO DOG'S TAIL; LOSES FRONT PORCH

Hibbing.—Because he placed some dynamite in a can and tied the can to his dog's tail in an effort to give the canine a sudden and painless death, Nick Stanich, a miner, is minus a front porch.

Stanich led the dog a long way from home for the massacre. Instead of running in another direction the dog followed Stanich, who was too familiar with the eccentricities of dynamite to enjoy its propinquity.

Stanich ran for the house, the dog at his heels. He leaped inside and slammed the door. The can caught in the porch. There was a loud report.

Trembling from the shock, Stanich peered out.

The dog, wagging its tail, greeted Stanich with a glad bark.

BREWERY AGENCIES QUIT

Eight Moorhead Companies Dispose of Stock as Result of Recent "Dry" Victory.

Moorhead.—As the first fruit of the "dry" victory in the recent county option election eight Moorhead brewery agencies closed their doors.

For two days the local branches had been getting rid of stock on hand. Thousands of cases of bottled beer and nearly as much keg beer were hauled from the distributing depots to the local saloons and will be part of the supply until the saloons quit on June 30.

The "wets" in this city have changed their tune in regard to the effect on Moorhead of a "dry" regime. A prominent liquor dealer, who was one of the hardest fighters during the campaign said: "It won't hurt the town in the least; in a few years we will be better off. The recent election shows that the majority of he people of Clay county were not in favor of the saloon, and it will do us no good to hold any hard feelings over the outcome of the election."

BANKS TO LOAN MONEY FOR SILOS WITHOUT INTEREST.

Thief River Falls.—C. L. Hansen, president of the First National bank of this city, announces that a sum of money has been set aside by the bank which will be loaned without interest to farmers of this section for use in the construction of silos.

The fund amounts to $15,000, and is estimated that $300 will construct a silo. This will give 50 farmers a chance to improve their facilities for caring for stock in the winter and will have a tendency to increase the size of the herds. It is estimated one year will be sufficient time on the notes, as a silo will pay for itself in that time.

In case the farmers co-operate heartily the bank will increase the appropriation so that it will accommodate 100 instead of 50 applicants.

State Planting Forest Trees.

Ely.—The Minnesota forest service is planting 160,000 Norway and 40,000 white pine trees in the Burntside state forest. The trees are three years old and come from the exprimental station at Cloquet. With 21 men, the number now employed, the work will require aboue one month.

The trees are being set out six and a half or seven feet apart, each way, so that an average of 1,200 are required for an acre.

The area planted has a growth of poplar, birch and jack pine, which protects the young trees and promotes height growth. This method is used extensively in Germany and has proved successful. Last year the service planted 175,000 pine in the vicinity of Clark lake, and they have done very well.

Supervisor L. M. Brownell, with a crew of men, is setting out 50,000 Norways in the Birch lake part of the reserve.

Run Over By Disc Harrow.

Warren.—Walter Gerouski is at a hospital here as the result of an accident which happened while he was driving a disc near Stephen. Six discs were being worked in a row when the fourth team became frightened and ran into the team ahead, which, in turn, ran into the one in front.

Gerouski, who was driving the leading team, was thrown off and two discs passed over him. His condition is critical.

Cedar, Minn., Man Robbed.

Minneapolis, Minn.—Two women aided by a man, drugged and robbed Frank Moore of Cedar, Minn., of $422, according to a story he told the police after he was found wandering about the streets in a dazed condition.

May Organize Naval Militia.

Bemidji.—Bemidji's naval militia company may be organized soon. Guy A. Eaton, commander of the Minnesota naval militia, will meet the young men at the city hall and explain the work.

Transient Robbed On Train.

Glenwood.—A transient on Soo eastbound train No. 112 was robbed of a purse containing $60 while about one-half mile out of Brooten. Three men surrounded him in a car vestibule and robbed him of his money before the train had gathered its full speed. Then they jumped from the train, returned to Brooten and bought tickets for Glenwood, coming up on train No. 111.

A jewelry store was visited in Glenwood, but the three holdup artists secured nothing of value. They boarded the evening train for Morris.

EXCELLENT FARMING CONDITIONS IN CANADA

Letters from Settlers Indicating Growing Prosperity.

The present year will add another proof that farming in Western Canada, when carried on with the same energy and system devoted to other lines of business, will bring about results fully as satisfactory.

Mixed farming as a tocsin has been sounded for a number of years, and today it is being adopted pretty generally throughout the Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. There are those who have made no greater success of it than they did when they pursued grain growing alone, but where one has failed to accomplish what he had hoped to do, dozens have scored success.

From Sedgewick, Alberta, we hear of E. L. Deputy, for past twelve years manager for Frye & Sons, packers, Seattle, who during 1914 were the largest buyers of hogs on Alberta markets. He is taking up active work on his 1,200-acre farm near Sedgewick. Although he was one of the highest paid salaried officials on the Pacific Coast, his frequent visits and personal knowledge of farming conditions in Western Canada convinced him there are greater opportunities in farming Alberta land than in commercial life, with greater assurance of ultimate independence and prospects of home-making under the most desirable conditions.

Thomas McKay, a farmer near Hardisty, Alberta, has this to say about the country:

"I came to Hardisty from Osage City, Kansas, nine years ago and took up a homestead here. This is a good district for the farmer who wishes to raise grain exclusively, and as a mixed farming country it cannot be beaten anywhere in the world to my knowledge.

"I had ten cattle, which ranged outside all last winter, and this spring they were fat enough for the market, this without being fed but one night during the entire winter; they were fine fat cattle and looked beautiful. I raised some winter wheat here which weighed sixty-seven and a half pounds to the bushel, government weight, and which I shipped to Calgary. The miller who bought it said that it was the best wheat that had ever gone into Calgary. Wheat in this district yields as high as forty bushels to the acre, oats average sixty bushels. Alfalfa does well here.

"All in all I think the farmers are very well satisfied with the country, and the farmer who farms his land intelligently is sure to make a success. The climate here is the best I have ever lived in, the summers are delightful and the winters are mild. There has never been a blizzard during the nine years I have lived here nor any cyclones or wind storms."

A settler in the neighborhood of Gleichen, Alberta, spent $2,000 in improving his quarter section, has 125 acres ready for crop, keeps 70 head of stock, believes in mixed farming, keeps two hired men, one all year, the other in summer only. He milks 12 to 18 cows, and receives an average monthly cream cheque of $110. Last June he sold $1,200 worth of hogs and in November two more carloads, besides supplying his own requirements, and is not only making money but building up a good home amid desirable surroundings. This is an example of the possibilities open to the industrious in the Gleichen district.

It is stated in the last three months $38,000,000 of American capital has been invested in Canada, showing that United States financial men are satisfied of the solidity of Canadian institutions. Western Canada has been a heavy borrower and Western Canada's great resource is agriculture. U. S. financiers must be convinced that agriculture in Western Canada is sure and profitable or they would not be ready to invest so many millions in the country.—Advertisement.

County Option election June 14.

Don't pretend to be better than you really are—the world is watching you with critical eyes.

The man that does'nt put much into the world don't get much out of it, ditto the business man that don't advertise.

Now is the time to be a patriot, but keep cool and stand by President Wilson. He will keep this country out of war if it is possible to do so.

Now that the weather is getting warm the preachers will begin to plan vacations. The devil will keep right on doing business at the same old stand.

If the European war continues much longer there is danger of a shortage of good horses in this country which will be felt not only by the farmer but other classes.

There is no place any where to make investments in real estate to better advantage than in and around the busy little town of Holt, Marshall County Minnesota.

The township officials seem to be doing their best to get all the roads dragged that is possible. This is a good work and one that should be kept up as good roads are a big factor in the development of a community.

County option election in both Marshall and Pennington counties will be held on Monday June 14th. The more progressive communities are riddling themselves of the dram shop as fast as possible and it is confidently expected that these counties will want to keep up with the procession.

Dreams.

It is a common saying that one dreams of that which one has been thinking most about. This is the exception and not the rule. The dream may be of something that one thought of at some time, but possibly not for years, that would not be recalled in waking hours, which had lain dormant in the mind, to be prosaically rehearsed through some operation of physical functions, such as impeded respiration, feverish conditions, some posture of the body, a late supper, possibly ended with a dessert of mince pie, stomachic distress, clogging of the circulation or some bodily pain.

AT CLOSE OF WAR

Officer Tells of His Interesting Experience.

Rode Into Confederate Lines With Officer Who Brought Flag of Truce From General Lee on Appomattox Field.

AMONG the most interesting stories told of the surrender of the Confederate armies at Appomattox court house, fifty years ago—April 9, 1865—are the eyewitness accounts of Gen. Edward W. Whitaker, who was the chief of staff to General Custer at that time, and who has been a resident of Washington since 1872. Brigadier general by brevet, he was at that time a lieutenant colonel, and the first Union officer to enter the Confederate lines before hostilities were suspended.

That was April 9, 1865, and General Whitaker is the man who accompanied Captain Sims, the Confederate officer who brought out the flag of truce to the point at which were located General Longstreet and General Gordon, who were in active command after the departure of General Lee. General Whitaker was sent with Captain Sims to ascertain if the flag of truce meant "unconditional surrender." General Custer sent word by his chief of staff that unless the flag did mean unconditional surrender he would be unable to stop a charge that was about to be made, as he was not in sole command.

Having received favorable assurances from the Confederate generals, General Whitaker took the flag of truce and at their request rode out to stop the charge of the infantry line of battle, thereby braving the fire of his own side, waiting for the word to engage the enemy.

Resented Yankee's Presence.

"I recall hearing a soldier shout, 'What is the Yankee doing here with his arms on?' General Whitaker said, discussing those historic days with a reporter for the Washington Star. "The flag of truce," he said, "was a fringed honeycomb towel. It is now on exhibition at the New National museum."

"Lee had gone to the rear to seek Grant," the general continued. "The flag was sent out from the Confederate lines, in charge of Captain Sims, by direction of Lee, the object of the flag being to enable General Longstreet and General Gordon to secure a cessation of hostilities pending negotiations between the commanders regarding the terms upon which Lee would surrender.

"The sloping open fields of Appomattox, glittering for miles with the arms of forces composed of the flower of two of the finest armies that were ever marshaled on earth, seemed designed by nature for the stage upon which should be enacted the last scene in the great drama of the Civil war.

"It was there that the most stirring incident in the bitter struggle occurred, culminating in the announcement to a torn and bleeding nation that peace again was restored.

"It was there that Grant and Lee agreed upon terms for the surrender of the Army of Northern Virginia that showed the former to be as magnanimous as a conqueror as he had been relentless as a foe.

"And it was there that the death knell of slavery in the United States of America was sounded and the foundation of a new nation laid whereon should arise the substantial structure of the government of today, contributed to equally by the North and the South.

Last Charge on Enemy.

"Our division was composed of three divisions of cavalry, with a battery of light artillery to each brigade. We pressed down upon the enemy and received the fire from battery after battery of artillery without stopping to return it. General Custer, riding at the head of the column, was looking for a favorable opening for a charge. Our movement along the flank of the enemy was slow at first, but the fire of their batteries had nettled our horses into a half trot, when suddenly an officer rode out from the Confederate line waving a large towel in his hand. He said he was Captain Sims of Longstreet's staff, and came by direction of General Lee, who asked a suspension of hostilities.

"In an instant General Custer said to me: 'Whitaker, take this towel, go with this officer to General Lee, with my compliments, and say I cannot stop this charge, as I am not in sole command on this field, unless he announces an unconditional surrender.' I took the towel and asked Sims to show me the shortest cut to where he had left Lee. I remember vigorously swinging the old towel and the relief I felt on entering the Confederate lines without being fired on.

"At the point we entered, only a short distance from where we had left Custer, a battery of artillery was posted, and as we passed the guns I noticed a pile of shells on the ground in the rear of each gun, and every gunner in position ready to give us a warm reception at the command, 'Fire.' On reaching the road, columns of Confederate infantry were moving in perfect order, and I recall hearing a soldier shout, 'What is that Yankee doing here with his arms on?' I had folded the towel out of sight as soon as I reached the Confederate line.

Lee Had Gone to Find Grant.

"When we arrived at the place where Sims had left General Lee we found only Generals Gordon and Longstreet, who explained that General Lee had galloped off to the rear to find General Grant immediately after Sims had started out with the flag of truce, and had left them in command. I stated to them the message from Custer to Lee and told them that I must have an immediate reply. They said there was no doubt of surrender, as we had cut off their line of retreat the night before, and that they were personally satisfied of the uselessness of further resistance. I expressed regret that so many good men had been killed the night before and that morning, whereupon they said that General Lee would not believe that the Union infantry was across the Lynchburg pike until the repulse of Gordon's charge, which had been made that morning by his orders.

"While we were talking firing was heard to the east of where I had left Custer, and at my suggestion an officer was sent with orders to stop it. I noticed that the guns that were moving past us as we talked had smoke coming from their mouth, indicating that they were the same that had been used so vigorously on our column a short time before. I protested against the moving of these guns, and was assured that the object was to water the horses in a small creek near by. At this moment General Ord's [illegible] line of battle was seen closing in on us from the west, and I was [illegible] to announce the surrender of the army to that line.

First Notice of Surrender.

"I saw that there was no time to lose, so I pulled out the old towel again and rode out to the Union infantry line and said to General Chamberlain of Maine that Lee's army had surrendered. The line halted at once and a shout went up from right to left, followed by a scene that words fail to describe. I then galloped back across the field to General Custer to make the same announcement. It was in this way that the infantry historians claim that the surrender was first made to them.

"In conclusion, let me say that of all the battlefields of the Civil war—and I had the honor of being in eighty-one battles—Appomattox was the most magnificent."

Worthy of All Respect.

The survivors of the great war formed an element inextricably interwoven with all that was best in the last two generations of Americans. They were the leading citizens, the pillars of society in every hamlet from Maine to California. Respect for their uniforms and tattered battle flags was taught to our youth by precept and example.

MEMORIAL DAY
1915

Unbroken nor disturbed is the rest
Of our brave soldier dead. Their grass-grown graves
Lie thick, so thick, in this fair land where waves
The flag they served, the symbol of the best
High bond that ever gave a nation zest
In war or peace, one blessed cord that saves
The darkest hour when valiant man behaves
As 'fore his God, and thus fulfills his quest.
There let them sleep, those bodies in the dust,
While their free souls from some far wondrous height
Perchance look down on this their martyr day
And then plead on before the God we trust.
"That war shall cease." For this more glorious fight
I see their mighty cohorts in array.
—John Grixston Currier in the Living Church.

I Bought The Tractor So My Boys Could Farm
The New Way
"I expect there will be as much change in a few years as there was from the old reapers to the binders."
That's what one Avery Tractor owner writes us. And within the last two years thousands of others have shown that they believe the same thing by buying Avery Tractors and Plows and changing from horse or mule farming to Tractor Farming.
Tractor Farming is coming fast. And the reasons are simple: It costs less to farm with tractors than with horses or mules. You can raise bigger crops by plowing deep and doing all your work at the right time. And it is much easier work to farm with a Tractor than with horses or mules. Turn a switch at noon or night and you are through. Avery Tractors a success on any size farm

THE GROWTH OF WESTERN CANADA

Increase in Railway Mileage, School Attendance and Population.

Some idea of the extent of railway construction in Western Canada can be derived from the fact that the railway mileage in the Province of Alberta has been doubled in three years. The present mileage is 4,097. In all of the settled districts there is ample railway privileges. The rates are governed by a Dominion Railway Commission, and in the exercise of their powers they not only control the rates, giving fair equality to both railway and shipper, but form a court to hear complaints of any who may desire to lodge the same.

In the matter of education no better instance of the advancement that is taking place can be given than that found in the information to hand that attendance at the University of Alberta has increased 1,000 per cent in five years, and is now thoroughly representative of all settled portions of the Province. The students in attendance are from sixty-one distinct districts.

Then as to the prosperity which follows residence in Western Canada, J. E. Edward of Blackie, Alta., gives splendid testimony. He writes, "In the spring of 1907 I first came to this locality from the State of Iowa, Cass County, and located on a quarter section of land near Blackie. Since coming here I have been engaged in mixed farming, which I have found to be more profitable than where I formerly lived. On coming here my worldly holdings were small besides having a family to care for. I now own three quarter sections, sixty head of cattle, twenty head of horses and forty head of hogs, without encumbrance.

"During the seven years I have not had a crop fail. My best crop of oats averaged ninety bushels per acre, with a general yield of thirty-five bushels and upward. My best wheat crop averaged forty-three bushels per acre. When I have had smaller yields per acre I have found that it has been due to improper cultivation. The winters here, although at times the weather is cold, I find as a whole are very agreeable. The summers are warm, but not sultry. The summer nights are cool and one is always assured of a good night's rest. My health has been much better, as I do not suffer from catarrh since coming here. I have no land for sale, and am not wishing to make any change, but would be pleased to answer any enquiries concerning this locality."—Advertisement.

She Was Willing.

He walked timidly in and looked around in a hesitating manner. His wife—a large portly woman—towered over him. A lady from the desk came forward. The man spoke.

"This, I presume, madam, is suffrage headquarters?"

"It is."

"I came in to offer my services as a speaker for your cause. Are you looking for talent?"

"Yes, sir; we are. Every little helps. Thank you. So you are friends of the cause?"

The man's wife now spoke.

"Not exactly," she whispered. "I'm an anti—even if he isn't. But I approve, ma'am; I approve. If my dear little hubby here wants to speak in favor of suffrage, and you are willing, so much the better. As you say, every little helps—the antis."—Life.

FEDERAL RESERVE BANK OPTIMISTIC

BULLETINS REPORT BUSINESS CONDITIONS OVER NORTHWEST ARE FAVORABLE.

STATE NEWS OF MINNESOTA

Interesting and Important Happenings of the Past Few Days Selected and Arranged for the Convenience of Busy Readers.

Minneapolis.—The Federal Reserve bank of Minneapolis, summarizing business conditions, has issued June bulletins and the analysis sets forth optimism regarding the future.

The bank, within the lines of the ninth reserve district, finds underlying business conditions sound and all influences upon the general result either as favorable or more favorable than a month ago.

Mercantile Situation Favorable.

The country mercantile situation is favorably spoken of in the federal bank report. This report the bank makes monthly to the Federal Reserve board at Washington. Only in the iron mining districts of northern Michigan and Minnesota is there anything approaching business depression, the Federal Reserve bank's bulletin says.

It notes an increase in development work in northern Minnesota, the constructive activity of the United States Steel corporation at Duluth, activity in the stock business in western North and South Dakota and Montana and heavy export buying of horses for Europe as factors affecting the northwest favorably.

Lake City Pioneer Dies, Aged 102.

Lake City.—Michael Calnan, aged 102 years, a resident of Wabasha county since 1857, died at his home in this county. Mr. Calnan was born in the parish of Kilmurry, Ireland, September 13, 1813.

He came to America in 1846, and settled in Boston, where he remained until 1856. He was in possession of all his faculties until recently, when he was stricken with paralysis.

Mr. Calnan was married in Boston in 1854 and his wife died on the homestead farm in the town of Lake, this county, which had been their home for 50 years. Four children, two sons and two daughters, survive him.

Nurses Graduate at Albert Lea.

Albert Lea.—Seven nurses of the Naeve hospital, the first class to be graduated from this institution, held their graduation exercises at the Broadway theater. Those who completed the course were: Ruby Davis, Helen Kerkow, Selma Anderson, Anna Sorenson, Gertrude Hagerson, Chloe Jones and Laura McAllister.

Threatens to Dynamite Saloon.

Duluth.—Joseph Hitztaler of Ely, Minn., is held in the St. Louis county jail here by the federal authorities, charged with sending a letter through the mails, threatening to blow up the saloon of Joseph Seliskar of Ely unless the latter discharged one of his employes within twenty-four hours.

73,300 Licensed Autos in State.

St. Paul.—Minnesota contained 73,300 licensed automobiles June 1, according to a report issued by Secretary of State Schmahl. He believes that the total will be close to the 100,000 mark before the year ends.

Pope County "Drys" Confident.

Glenwood.—June 14 is the day set by the county auditor for the county option election in Pope county. The petitions were signed by nearly 1,000 persons, 300 more than necessary. It is confidently predicted the "drys" will carry the day by a two to one vote. Pope county has sent county option representatives to the legislature the last 10 years and the prohibition vote is strong in the county. Three villages and cities will be affected, Glenwood, Lowry and Sedan, with a total of five saloons.

COUNSELS CLASS ON SUCCESS

Governor Hammond at Winona Normal Defines Functions—Rise in World Should Be Pleasurable.

Winona.—Winfield Scott Hammond, governor of Minnesota, told the members of the 1915 graduating class of the Winona normal school that to gain undeserving success is an empty achievement. He defined success function as "doing the greatest amount of good in the world with the opportunities and the ability available."

"Industry, self-control, patience and courage should form the foundation for the career of a successful person, Mr. Hammond said. But in his opinion there would still be only the shell if honesty—"on the square honesty," as he termed it—unselfishness, kindness and gentleness were lacking.

"The evil-disposed have all of the main points I enumerated — industry, self-control, patience and courage—and thus to be successful a person must have more," the governor continued. "Satan himself, I take it, has them all. He is courageous, he is patient, with plenty of self-control, and is industrious.

"When success is real one ought to get pleasure out of it. His conscience must permit him to take satisfaction in what he has accomplished, and he should have the confidence that he deserves this pleasure."

TOO VALUABLE TO BE TARGETS

Men Are Worth More Living Than Dying for Country, Says Woman Peace Delegate.

Minneapolis, Minn.—Three hundred Minneapolis school teachers were told how the women of the world and particularly those from the neutral countries might play the leading part in bringing about peace in Europe, by Miss Grace DeGraff of Portland, who is returning from the International Congress of Women.

"Men are too valuable to be targets," Miss De Graff said. "If they are not, the ideas of humanity are wrong and we should make men worth more by teaching them to live for instead of dying for their country.

"The conference was only the beginning of the annual international congresses of women to discuss the rights of women throughout the world. It proved the solidity of womanhood as women attended from belligerent and neutral nations. It proved a new conscience for women."

PEANUT CAUSES PNEUMONIA.

Bemidji.—A peanut lodged in the lungs of Borhold, the 17-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lars Larson of Blackduck, developed pneumonia, which caused the death of the child.

The peanut became lodged in the child's lungs about a month ago.

The peanut was removed successfully from the child's lungs four days ago, but pneumonia had gained such headway that recovery was impossible.

SUSPECT SAFE CONTAINS LIQUOR; IS TAKEN TO JAIL

Bemidji.—Indian Officers Brandt and Thompson raided the J. E. Maloy place on Third street, formerly a saloon. Mr. Maloy refused to open his big iron safe and the agents dragged the safe from the building out into the street, pushing it up the street to the Northern National bank, and from there a horse pulled it to the courthouse, where it was placed in the county jail until a safe expert can be found to open it. The Indian agents suspect that the safe may contain liquor. Reports are being spread that the government men have gone into baggage cars and ransacked personal belongings of passengers. A Walker woman says her grip was opened and candy taken from it.

College Enters Closing Week.

St. Peter.—The twenty-fifth anniversary of the graduation of the first college class will be celebrated in connection with this year's commencement festivities at Gustavus Adolphus. The classes of '90, '95, '00, '05 and '10 will hold their quinquennial reunions. Among those who are expected to answer the roll call of the class of '95 are former Governor A. O. Eberhardt, Professor A. A. Stromberg and Thomas Johnson of Winnipeg, recently appointed a member of the cabinet of the Dominion of Canada with the portfolio of minister of public works.

Farmers Fight Forest Fires.

Aurora, Minn. — Forest fires in the vicinity of Palo and 10 miles south of here diminished in intensity after hours of furious fighting by 200 farmers, whose property was in the path of the flames.

Dr. Ed Darrow, deputy coroner here, motored to the scene of the fire and later he said that the flames now apparently are under control, although much dense smoke prevents an accurate survey of conditions.

Carries Dead Baby 250 Miles.

Minneapolis, June 4.—With the dead body of her baby daughter clutched tightly to her breast, Mrs. Carlton C. Harris of Hurdsfield, N. D., rode from Enderlin, N. D., to Minneapolis on a Soo Line passenger train.

The baby died in her mother's arms just as the train left Enderlin and too frightened to get off the train at a strange wayside station where no friends or relatives awaited her coming, the mother wrapped the tiny body in its blankets and continued her trip to this city.

DESTROY ZEPPELIN MILE ABOVE EARTH

BRITISH AVIATORS DROP BOMBS FROM HEIGHT OF 6,000 FEET —OFFICIAL REPORT.

THREE GERMAN SHIPS SUNK

Petrograd Statement Asserts Teuton Vessels Sunk or Damaged and Russian Transport Torpedoed Off Gulf of Riga.

London, June 8.—British aviators attacked and destroyed a German Zeppelin in Belgium between Ghent and Bruges.

"British airmen dropped six bombs on the Zeppelin from a height of 6,000 feet," said the official announcement. "The Zeppelin exploded and fell."

The destruction of the Zeppelin followed one of the most thrilling air battles the world has ever known. The British airmen shot upward to a height of 6,000 feet and hurled six bombs at the great dirigible, which zigzagged in flight to escape attack.

Explosion Rends Airship.

Scarcely a second after the last bomb went shooting down, a terrific explosion rent the airship. It crumpled in the center and darted toward earth. The force of the explosion caused the British biplane to turn completely over.

For nearly a minute the aviator struggled desperately while his machine slid rapidly toward the earth. By an almost superhuman effort he regained control of his levers and righted the biplane less than 200 feet from the ground.

The rapidity of the descent, however, carried the biplane to earth with a rough jar. The landing place was behind the German lines. The mechanician sprang out, "cranked" the propellors and the biplane was off before the astonished Germans in a neighboring field could get the range with their guns.

Aviators Return Safely.

The aviators who bombarded the Zeppelin shed north of Brussels returned safely, the admiralty announced.

A German Zeppelin raided the east coast of England, dropping incendiary and explosive bombs. Five persons were killed and forty injured, the admiralty announced. Two fires were started.

A Berlin report stated that a German submarine torpedoed and sank the Russian second-class cruiser Amur in the Baltic. The admiralty list shows no Russian cruiser of that name and it is believed the ship sunk was the Yenissee, the loss of which Petrograd has admitted.

German Vessels Sunk.

The Petrograd statement asserts that three German vessels were sunk or damaged and the Russian transport Yenisee torpedoed and sunk in a series of engagements off the Gulf of Riga.

"Enemy torpedo boats, escorting large vessels, appeared at the entrance to the Gulf of Riga on Thursday," the statement said. "Later hydro-aeroplanes from the German ships attempted to bombard our warships. In the engagement the Russian transport Yenisee was submarined and sunk. Thirty-two of her crew were saved."

$20,000,000 Fraud Alleged.

Washington, June 8.—By admission at the treasury department that search is being made by the secret service for Knox Booth, division revenue agent for Tennessee and Alabama, with headquarters at Nashville, light was let into what is declared to be a $20,000,000 revenue scandal, extending through three administrations.

Booth has been missing two weeks, his disappearance being coincident, it is said, with the arrest of John L. Caspar at Fort Smith, Ark., on a charge of conspiring to defraud the government. Caspar is head of a big distillery that is said to have evaded payment of a large part of its taxes through alleged conspiracy with revenue officers.

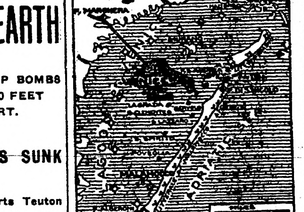
REPORT LEMBERG MAY FALL.

London, June 8.—Telegrams from Vienna say that Lemberg, capital of the Austrian crown land of Galicia, now in the hands of the Russians, may be taken at any moment by the Austro-German forces, according to a dispatch from Copenhagen to the Exchange Telegraph company. One message says that the Austrians are 25 miles from the town, and other advices estimate the distance at only 10 miles.

Allies Capture Turk Trenches.

London, June 8.—British and French troops operating at the Dardanelles have captured two lines of Turkish trenches along a three-mile front, it is officially announced. Before the general attack in the southern area of the Gallipoli peninsula was ordered by Sir Jan Hamilton, the Turkish lines were subjected to a heavy bombardment, in which battleships, destroyers and cruisers, joined. "At a given signal," the official statement says. "the troops rushed forward with the bayonet."

VENICE AND ITS LAGOONS



Map of Venice and the surrounding lagoons, which, though defended by many forts, is in danger of attacks from the Austro-German aviators.

READY TO PAY FOR GULFLIGHT

GERMANY REGRETS THE "UNFORTUNATE ACCIDENT."

Will Furnish Recompense for Damage Sustained by Americans—Cushing Case Not Cleared Up.

Washington, June 7.—Germany, in a note cabled to the state department by Ambassador Gerard at Berlin, expressed regrets that through "an unfortunate accident" a German submarine had torpedoed the American steamship Gulflight and declared itself "ready to furnish full recompense for the damage thereby sustained by American citizens."

Cushing Case Not Cleared Up.

In the same communication the German foreign office said it had not yet been possible to clear up fully the case of the American steamer Cushing, reported attacked by a German aeroplane, and asked that the United States communicate the information in its possession concerning this incident.

Blame for the attack on the Gulflight was placed by the foreign office upon the proximity of two British patrol boats and the absence from the steamer's freeboard of the distinctive markings usually carried by neutral ships in the war zone.

Saw Flag When They Fired.

"That the attacked steamer carried the American flag," the note added, "was first observed at the moment of firing the shot."

The Gulflight was torpedoed in the English channel five weeks ago, while bound from Port Arthur, Texas, for Rouen, France, with oil. She was towed to Crows Sound and beached for repairs. Two seamen were drowned when the crew took to the boats immediately after the attack and the captain died of heart trouble the next day.

The expression of regrets and offer of reparation in the note follows the principle outlined in the circular recently sent to neutral nations by Germany, disclaiming any intention of attacking neutral vessels carrying non-contraband cargoes.

Long Hike On $500 Wager.

Red Wing, Minn., June 7.—Hiking across country from Columbus, Ohio, to San Francisco, on a $500 wager, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Thomas arrived in this city after an all-night walk from Wabasha. They left Columbus March 30, and average about 20 miles a day. A little terrier dog is following them.

"We have until November to reach San Francisco," said Mrs. Thomas, "and in order to win the $500 wager offered by the Riley Shoe company of Columbus we must realize an equal amount from the sale of postcards.

Auto Hits Dog; 2 Persons Killed.

Sacred Heart, Minn., June 7.—Two persons were killed and three injured in an auto accident here. A car belonging to L. F. Reddicliffe, and bearing seven passengers, struck a dog on the highway and was overturned. Roy Reddicliffe, the driver, died in a few hours of his injuries. His 3-year-old brother, Lloyd, was killed outright. Mrs. Reddicliffe, mother of the boys, was badly injured, but will recover. Agnes Overby sustained a fractured right arm and Olga Lundberg a dislocated clavicle.

Fishing Steamer Sunk.

Kirkwall, June 7.—The crew of the Chrysophrasus has been landed here. The boat, a fishing steamer, was sent to the bottom about 45 miles off Stronsay, one of the Orkney islands.

It is alleged that the submarine shelled the boats as they were being launched.

Greek King Reported Worse.

Athens, June 7.—Announcement was made that King Constantine of Greece, has had a change for the worse, and that another operation will have to be performed.

Graft Witness Gets Death Sign.

Chicago, June 7.—The old frontier court where men were "frisked" for their guns when they entered the courtroom, had nothing on Justice Devers' court here. Scores of detectives in plain clothes were scattered through the crowd that swarmed into the courtroom to hear the police graft trial. The officers had orders to arrest every known crook and gunman and to search suspicious looking characters for guns. The "death" sign already has been given Isidore Wexler, chief witness for the state.

WOMAN COULD HARDLY STAND
Because of Terrible Backache. Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
Philadelphia, Pa.—"I suffered from displacement and inflammation, and had such pains in my sides, and terrible backache so that I could hardly stand. I took six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I can do any amount of work, sleep good, eat good, and don't have a bit of trouble. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to every suffering woman."—Mrs. HARRY FISHER, 1625 Dounton St., Nicetown, Pa.
Another Woman's Case.
Providence, R. I.—"I cannot speak too highly of your Vegetable Compound as it has done wonders for me and I would not be without it. I had a displacement, bearing down, and backache, until I could hardly stand and was thoroughly run down when I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helped me and I am in the best of health at present. I work in a factory all day long besides doing my housework so you can see what it has done for me. I give you permission to publish my name and I speak of your Vegetable Compound to many of my friends."—Mrs. ABEL LAWSON, 126 Lippitt St., Providence, R.I.
Danger Signals to Women
are what one physician called backache, headache, nervousness, and the blues. In many cases they are symptoms of some female derangement or an inflammatory, ulcerative condition, which may be overcome by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Thousands of American women willingly testify to its virtue.

GOT CHANCE SHE WANTED

Woman Proved Herself a Strategist in Dealing With Man at the Ticket Window.

"Here," she said, rushing back to the ticket window, "this dollar you gave me in change is counterfeit."

"Pardon me, but I didn't give you a dollar in change."

"Yes you did. I bought a ticket here not two minutes ago and you changed a five-dollar bill for me. If was all the money I had, so I couldn't have got this bad dollar anywhere else."

"You should have examined your change when it was handed to you. I can't make any correction now."

"I shan't budge from this window till you give me a good dollar for the bad one you tried to foist upon me."

"Let me see it."

"There."

"Why, this is a perfectly good bill. Here is another. I'm not afraid of it."

"No, I won't take this bill. It's torn. Give me a new one."

"I'm sorry, but if you don't want that bill I'll have to give you your change in nickels."

"Thank you," she said, after counting the pieces of coin, "I wanted a dollar's worth of nickels, but I knew you wouldn't have that many if I asked for them in the first place."—Chicago Herald.

Getting Even.

"I suppose you'll soon be closing your theater for the summer."

"Not on your life," said the manager. "I'm going to turn it into a moving picture house and try to get back some of the money I lost last winter."

Experience.

"Any sort of sites around about your suburban place?"

"Yes, lots of parasites."

GET POWER
The Supply Comes From Food.
If we get power from food, why not strive to get all the power we can. That is only possible by selecting food that exactly fits the requirements of the body.
"Not knowing how to select the right food to fit my needs, I suffered grievously for a long time from stomach trouble," writes a lady from a little Western town.
"It seemed as if I would never be able to find out the sort of food that was best for me. Hardly anything that I could eat would stay on my stomach. Every attempt gave me heart-burn and filled my stomach with gas. I got thinner and thinner until I literally became a living skeleton and in time was compelled to keep to my bed.
"A few months ago I was persuaded to try Grape-Nuts food, and it had such good effect from the very beginning that I kept up its use. I was surprised at the ease with which I digested it. It proved to be just what I needed.
"All my unpleasant symptoms, the heart-burn, the inflated feeling which gave me so much pain, disappeared. My weight gradually increased from 98 to 116 lbs., my figure rounded out, my strength came back, and I am now able to do my housework and enjoy it. Grape-Nuts did it."
A ten days trial will show anyone some facts about food.

Men.

"The women most successful and most popular with men are not the beautiful ones, but the wise ones."

The speaker was Francis Wilson. He added:

"Wise women are those who know that men are only babies with beards."

Economical.

"You always seem to have money, Jack. How do you manage it?"

"Well," said Jack, jingling the loose coins in his pocket, "I live at home with the old man f. o. b."

"What do you mean by f. o. b?"

"Doesn't that stand for free on board?"

Celluloid Watch Crystals.

At the outbreak of the war American watchmakers were much concerned regarding the watch crystal situation, the German source of supply being shut off, and previous attempts to make them in this country having failed.

Watch crystals of glass are now being made here successfully, and an American inventor has helped the matter along by devising a celluloid watch crystal, which has the beveled edge and general appearance of a glass crystal and possesses the additional advantage of being unbreakable.

Unlucky Henry.

A New Englander was complaining to a friend of the hard luck encountered by his son Henry.

"Now, take the last case," he said. "Just as soon as he went to Boston to work, Henry fell in love with a girl. She lived in one of the suburbs, and as soon as Henry made up his mind he liked her, he up and bought a fifty-trip ticket to her place, and—"

"And—"

"Got turned down at the second call! The ticket was left on his hands! If that ain't hard luck what is?"

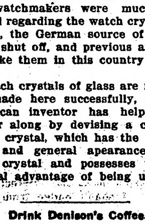
DOES YOUR SKIN ITCH AND BURN?
If your skin itches and burns with eczema or any such tormenting, unsightly skin disease, simply wash the sore places with resinol soap and hot water, dry, and apply a little resinol ointment. The itching stops INSTANTLY, you no longer have to dig and scratch, sleep becomes possible, and healing begins at once. That is because the soothing, antiseptic resinol medication strikes right into the surface, arrests the action of the disease, and almost always restores the tortured, inflamed skin to perfect health—quickly, easily and at little cost. Prescribed by doctors for twenty years, and sold by all druggists.—Adv.

Wicked.

"I stole three bases today, pop," said the young hopeful proudly.

"Willie," interrupted his mother, before the boy's father could express his appreciation of the feat, "you go and put them right back where you got them. I'll not have it said that any boy of mine is a thief."

And she doesn't understand to this day what made the male members of the family laugh.



Cut the Cost of Living!

With K C, the double acting baking powder, good results are doubly certain. There's economy too, in the cost of K C.

Holt Publishing Company

Published every Friday at Holt, Marshall County, Minnesota.

Subscription Price: $1.00 per year, strictly in advance.

Entered as second-class matter Sept. 22, 1911, at the post office at Holt, Minnesota, under the act of March 3, 1879.

Fred Johnson was here between trains last week Thursday on business.

Several young people went to T. R. Falls Tuesday to attend the camp meetings.

Martin Bjerk and family of St. Hilaire visited at the Andrew Bjerk home Friday.

Sam Mickelson and Ernest Kuehne went to Warren Monday near which place they will put up some buildings on a farm.

It did'nt rain Friday night as some say—it just poured, the clouds opened and the water fell out. There was more rain Monday night and no telling when there will be a let up.

The editor went to Middle River Monday on business, and while there found time to make Bro. Carr of The Pioneer a fraternal call. We found him nicely located on main street, his office well equipped and while he is enjoying a fair share of prosperity, we are sorry to say that some of the busness men have not learned the true value of printers ink. Middle River is a pretty little town, it is growing and has evidence of prosperity and all that is lacking to make a bigger and better town is a "pull together spirit" and an awakening to the value of advertising.

Strayed or Stolen!

A light red yearling steer, left my place 3 weeks ago. Please notify C. L. Anderson, Holt, Minn.

Some much needed work on the N. W. telephone line is being done this week.

Several men have been here a few days doing some surveying along the G. N. tracks.

Albert Knutson, Rinehart and Selmer Reierson visited at the Otto Johnson home Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. H. VonWold of Mud Lake went to T. R. Falls Saturday to visit at P. A. VonWold.

Another bank will be started in Grygla, sometime in August. There must be lots of money in that place, if they need three banks to keep it in.

I have two good grade Percheron stallions which I will stand at the hotel barn in Holt every Friday commencing June 18th. Terms: To insure standing colt $12.00.

2 H. S. Williams, T. R. Falls.

Dr. Walters of Middle River was here Monday to make the medical examination for Messrs Docken and Davenport's life insurance company. On the way home the doctor had a break down on his auto and he had to get Ole Backlund to take himself and the machine home.

Oh late-remembered, much-forgotten, braggart duty, seldom paid in any other coin than punishment and wrath, when will mankind begin to know thee?—Dickens.

HOT WEATHER DISHES.

A cool, refreshing, nicely served salad is especially appetizing and grateful on a hot day. The following are old standbys:

Normandy Salad.—Cut in cubes three cucumbers, three hard-cooked eggs, add a cupful of of chopped olives and three-fourths of a cupful of nut meats. Serve in tomato cups or on lettuce leaves with mayonnaise dressing.

Sweetbread Salad.—Parboil and remove all fiber from a pair of sweetbreads. Cut in small cubes, add equal parts of celery and cucumber and serve with boiled dressing to which a little Worcestershire sauce has been added.

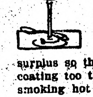
Chicken Salad.—Take a cupful of the breast of chicken, cut in cubes, one cupful of walnut meats or any nut preferred, two cupfuls of celery, mix with a good boiled dressing; a mayonnaise is just right for this salad, as the white meat lacks fat.

Cheese Salad.—Take one or two bricks of cream cheese, add thick sweet cream to soften, add chopped chives and green peppers with nuts. Make in small balls or heap on lettuce leaves. Serve with or without dressing.

Danish Custard.—Put two-thirds of a cupful of sugar into a saucepan and place in a hot place on the range to melt. When a light brown in color, set the dish into a large pan of cold water to stop the cooking, turn the dish so that the sides will become coated with the caramel. Beat five eggs, add a fourth of a cupful of sugar, half a teaspoonful of salt and one teaspoonful of vanilla, then one quart of milk. Strain into the dish with the caramel, set into a pan of hot water and bake until firm. Chill and turn on to a cold plate to serve. Whipped cream may be served with this or it may be served alone. Do not allow the caramel to become too brown or the custard will have a burned taste.

A simple dessert well liked, is any kind of canned fruit with a spoonful of whipped cream as a garnish.

CROQUETTES AND FRITTERS.



Croquettes and fritters never go out of style, and when well-seasoned and well-made, are most delicious. The important things to remember after the croquettes are made is to give them a good coating of sifted crumbs, then dip in egg and another coating of crumbs, shaking off any surplus so that it does not make the coating too thick. The fat should be smoking hot and then tested with a small cube of bread; if it browns in 40 seconds it is hot enough for all uncooked mixtures, a 60-second test of the same will be right for all cooked mixtures. When fat bubbles and boils, too much moisture is in the mixture and a few less should be added to the fat. Five or six croquettes or cakes are sufficient to cook at one time. After removing from the hot fat the food should be drained on paper. When fat needs clarifying, add a few slices of raw potato and cook until brown, then strain the fat through double cheese cloth to remove all settlings.

Cheese Croquettes.—To three tablespoonfuls of melted butter add a third of a cupful of flour and stir until well blended, then pour gradually one cupful of milk. Bring to the boiling point and add the yolks of two eggs, slightly beaten and diluted with two tablespoonfuls of cream and two cupfuls of milk cheese, cut in cubes. Season with three-fourths of a teaspoonful of salt and a few dashes of pepper. Spread on a plate to cool. Shape, dip in crumbs, eggs, and fry in deep fat.

Raisin Creme Fritters.—Scald two cupfuls of milk in a double boiler with an inch stick of cinnamon. Mix thoroughly one-fourth of a cupful of cornstarch, three tablespoonfuls of flour and dilute with a fourth of a cupful of cold milk. Beat the yolks of three eggs slightly, add a half cupful of sugar and a half teaspoonful of salt. Combine the dry and egg mixtures and pour the milk on; cook 15 minutes; add a tablespoonful of butter, one-third of a cupful of raisins, steamed until plump. Turn into a pan having the mixture three-fourths of an inch thick. Dip in crumbs after cutting in oblongs and fry as usual.

If you have only to swab a plank, you should swab it as if Davy Jones were after you.—Bleak House.

GOOD THINGS WITH DATES.

When buying dates, as other things, get all you can for your money, but have them good. The dates with the small stones are the most economical, as the large heavy stone in the larger date weighs much more.

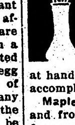
A most delicious little spice cake with dates is this and besides being good, they keep moist a long time. Use a cupful of sour milk, a quarter of a teaspoonful of soda, two cupfuls of flour and a teaspoonful of baking powder mixed with it, spices to taste, a half cupful of chopped dates, two well beaten eggs, two tablespoonfuls of melted shortening, salt to taste. Mix well and bake in gem pans.

Date Bread Pudding.—Take two cupfuls of chopped dates, two cupfuls of fresh bread crumbs, four cupfuls of milk, three eggs, a tablespoonful of butter and a quarter of a cupful of sugar. Mix the dates and crumbs together and put them into a baking dish which has been well buttered. Add the eggs, slightly beaten, to the milk and sugar reserving one white to go over the top as a meringue when the pudding is nearly done. When a little pie crust is left make a few date turnovers. Chop the dates, add orange juice, a few bread crumbs, a little butter; fill the small crusts and turn over, fluting the edges. Bake in a hot oven.

Date Salad.—Save orange cups or those of grapefruit to serve the salad in. Take a cupful of stoned, washed dates, add two cupfuls of orange pulp, a half cupful each of celery and cocoanut and cream salad dressing. Mix lightly and fill the cups. Place on lettuce leaves when serving. Other nuts may be used in place of cocoanut.

Marmalade.—Dates and rhubarb are a good combination. Take two cupfuls of dates to three cupfuls of rhubarb, and a half cupful of sugar. Put all together and slowly cook, well covered. Simmer one hour, then put in glasses.

WARM WEATHER DISHES.



As the warm weather approaches the housewife is able to prepare and serve well chilled many dishes which are especially grateful to the appetite. Desserts and salads of many kinds may be prepared before they are needed. There is no dessert that is so popular as the frozen one and the countless combinations which are at hand make variety and are easy of accomplishment.

Maple Parfait.—This may be packed and frozen in a mold or stirred and frozen as one does ice cream. The difference in the texture depends upon the method of freezing. Beat two eggs well and add to a cupful of hot maple sirup, cook just long enough to set the egg. Chill and add a pint of rich milk or thin cream and freeze. If to be packed as a parfait, separate the whites from the yolks and do not cook them, but fold into the mixture beaten stiff, just before packing in the mold.

Sunday Night Salad. — Cut cold boiled potatoes in half inch pieces, then cut the slices in cubes; there should be one and a half cupfuls. Add three hard cooked eggs, finely chopped, one-fourth of a finely chopped onion and one canned pimento, drained and dried on a towel and cut in thin strips. Moisten with salad dressing and serve in nests of crisp lettuce leaves.

Company Dish.—Soak a tablespoonful of gelatin in a fourth of a cupful of water and dissolve it in one cupful of boiling water; then add a fourth of a cupful of sugar, the same amount of vinegar, two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, and a teaspoonful of salt. Strain and cool and when the mixture begins to thicken add a half cupful of shredded cabbage, the same amount of cooked peas, and cucumber cubes and a few cubes of cooked beets. Put into a ring mold and when ready to serve fill the center with a good firm salad dressing and garnish the platter with neat slices of cold roast of lamb and crisp sprigs of water cress, or mint will be appropriate with lamb.

Save good coffee from breakfast, add cream and sugar and chill. Serve in tall glasses with a spoonful of vanilla ice cream to each glass.

Oxygen Stored Without Pressure.

By the use of some of the commercial preparations of fused sodium peroxide, oxygen can now be stored without pressure. This substance has the property of holding oxygen in chemical bonds, from which it is released by the action of water. A pound of the peroxide will hold 2.2 cubic feet of gas, or enough to supply the breathing requirements of a man for 30 minutes. The application of this discovery to diving and life saving appliances is said to be entirely practical, since the sodium peroxide, while hard, is not brittle, and can be cast into any convenient shape. When charged with oxygen it may be stored without danger of deterioration if protected from moisture.—Popular Mechanics.

BLAMES CARRANZA FOR CIVIL WARFARE

VILLA ASSERTS PRESIDENT IS CAUSE OF MEXICO'S INTERNAL STRIFE.

WARNING TO UNITED STATES

Reply Denies State of Anarchy And Starvation Alleged In President Wilson's Note—Carranza Makes Bid For Recognition.

Washington, June 14.—General Carranza's reply to President Wilson's Mexican declaration has just reached the State department.

It was in the form of a proclamation issued by Carranza at Vera Cruz. It makes a bid for recognition by the United States, asserts that the Constitutionals practically control Mexico and contains assurance that Carranza will call a regular election and turn over his authority to the president chosen.

The document is of about 3,000 words.

El Paso, Texas, June 14.—Warning the United States government not to interfere in Mexico's internal affairs, denying the anarchy and starvation alleged in President Wilson's note to Mexico, General Francisco Villa's reply just made public here blamed General Carranza for the civil warfare.

The reply was to be presented to the President at Washington at once by Enrique C. Lorrente, personal representative of Villa.

Proposal to Carranza.

In addition to his reply to President Wilson, General Villa made public through his local agents a copy of the proposal to Carranza that they arrange a peaceful settlement of Mexico's internal difficulties. Either the reactionaries will gain the upper hand if revolutionists fight between themselves or the United States will intervene, Villa urged upon Carranza.

The chief of the Conventionalist faction states that "false ideas of mercenary purposes diffused by those who sought to retain power indefinitely without laws, without courts and without discipline of any kind," resulted in the split of Carranza and Villa.

"Do not judge us all as selfishly and stupidly ambitious and false to the principles for which we took up arms," Villa told the President.

"We are still fighting to affirm the same principles (of the Madero revolution), and for the welfare of the people."

Declaring the reports of misery in Mexico were exaggerated Villa said:

"It is not true that misery is the universal portion of the people, that the fields are not cultivated, that crops have been destroyed and that famine confronts the nation."

TELLS $100,000 GRAFT STORY

Canadian Provincial Architect Outlines Raising of Big Fund for Conservative Party.

Minneapolis, June 14.—The raising of a big fund for the great Conservative party in Manitoba by means of adding $100,000 to the amount certain contractors were to receive in the erection of the parliament buildings, was the story told to the Royal Commission, sitting at the Hotel Radisson, by Victor W. Horwood, provincial architect. The man brought in the names of Sir Rodman Roblin, the premier, two members of his cabinet, the minister of education and the minister of public works, and Dr. R. M. Simpson, president of the Conservative Party association. His testimony was to the effect that those men knew of the alleged graft and that they urged him to "stand pat."

The story told by Horwood, the man who is testifying between surgical operations, was a sordid one. The leaders of political parties in the United States have been charged with many things, including the soliciting of graft money. It is hard to find many instances, however, of charges similar to those made against the Conservative party in Winnipeg. Horwood's story was to the effect that the leaders of that party actually permitted the payment of vast sums of money to certain contractors in order that the party funds might be swelled by the contributions said contractors were expected to make in return.

Italian Reservists Reach Rome.

Rome, via Paris, June 14.—Several thousand Italians who have been recalled to the colors or who plan to volunteer for army service, arrived from America and Canada and were received with outbursts of enthusiasm from the crowds. Some of the newcomers wore badges on which the Italian and the American colors were entwined and this gave rise to cries of "Viva America" mingled with "Viva Italia."

Wilson First Citizen of World.

London, June 14.—In a two column tribute to President Wilson, Alfred G. Gardiner, editor of the Daily News, says: 'No man in the democratic world is so entirely governed by principle and moral sanctions. President Wilson is not merely the first citizen of the United States, but the first citizen of the world. He makes mistakes, no doubt, but they never are the mistakes of a weak man; they never are the mistakes of a political gambler or one touched by sordid motives of ambition.

PLANS FOR ENFORCING PEACE

NATIONAL PROVISIONAL COMMITTEE COMPLETES PROGRAM.

Former President Taft to Preside at Meeting—Powers to Prevent Hostilities by Military Force.

Philadelphia, June 15.—Announcement has been made by the National Provisional committee of 113, which is in charge of the League of Peace conference to be held here next Thursday, of the completion of its program. On the night preceding the conference former President Taft will deliver an address and is expected to outline what he regards as a practical plan for an alliance of all the great powers, with a view to enforcing peace. Other speakers at the dinner will be Hamilton Holt, editor of the Independent, former Judge George Gray of Delaware and Oscar S. Straus.

Taft Will Preside.

Professor Taft will preside at the conference, which will be held in Independence hall. The general discussion of proposals will be preceded by formal addresses by Theodore Marburg of Baltimore, former United States minister to Belgium; John Grier Hibben, president of Princeton university; John Bassett Moore, John Bates Clark, James M. Beck and Edward Filene, representing the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

A statement regarding the scope of the conference was given out by the provisional committee. It follows:

To Start New Movement.

"The step taken by former President Taft, President Lowell of Harvard, Theodore Marburg and others, in calling this convention, was not for the purpose of merely discussing various phases of the peace question, but to start a new movement along thoroughly practical lines, by which a new alliance of the great powers may be brought about, the United States to make the initial move.

"In the various gatherings in which the plan as it finally took form was discussed, all Utopian ideas were cast aside, and only well established principles of international procedure, such as underlie historic agreements between nations, were considered.

Forces to Prevent Hostilities.

"It was for this reason that President Lowell proposed what has been regarded as the main feature of the plan that the signatory powers shall jointly use their military forces to prevent any one of their number beginning hostilities, pending the negotiations looking toward a judicial or arbitral settlement of the questions at issue.

The proposals to go before the conference were the work of the former president.

They provide for:

"First, an international court to try all justiciable questions.

"Second, a council of conciliation for the consideration of non-justiciable questions.

"Third, the use of joint military force against a signatory beginning hostilities contrary to the terms of the alliance.

"Fourth, the formulation and adoption of a code of international law."

Drown in Skunk River.

Mount Pleasant, Iowa, June 15.—W. E. Faulkner, a painter, and Joseph Schaffner, a high school graduate, were drowned while trying to shoot the Oakland dam, belonging to the Iowa Power company, on the Skunk river, near here, in a motor boat.

Thomas McMillan, another occupant of the boat, was saved.

The bodies have not been recovered. Schaffner was a nephew of Schaffner of the Chicago clothing firm of Hart, Schaffner & Marx.

WITNESS HAD NO STANDING

Defendant's Unqualified Condemnation of Man Prepared to Testify Against Him.

A correspondent of the New York Sun recalls the case of the "Rev. James Johnson" of New Jersey, who was indicted years ago as the chief of a band of chicken thieves that had plundered the farmers near New Brunswick. The testimony was something like this:

"Now, Mr. Johnson, these chickens, as evidence shows, were found in your possession. Did you steal them?"

"No, sah. I got 'em from one of mah fr'en's."

"Did you know where he got the chickens?"

"I didn't ask him, sah."

"Did you believe them to be lawfully his to give?"

"I didn't ask no questions, sah, I jus' tuck 'em."

"What did you do with them?"

"I sold 'em to the market man."

"What did you do with the money?"

"I kept some and divided the rest with mah fr'en's."

"Now, Mr. Johnson, be truthful. Did you, or did you not, believe these chickens to be honestly yours?"

"Sure I knowed they wasn't mine. I jes' tuck 'em."

"And you used them to benefit yourself, by passing them on to other people?"

"Yes, sah. They was very good chickens."

"Now, Mr. Johnson, here is a witness who says these chickens belong to him, and proves that they were stolen from his farm, at night, by men in your employ. What have you to say to that?"

Witness (pointing)—Is that the man over there?

"Yes."

"Dunno him at all. He don' belong to our conference! He's an onregenerate sinner, an' he ought to go to hell!"

Dealing In Futures.

The boys were mapping out their future careers.

"I'm going to own the biggest candy store in the world," said one.

"I'm going to build a great big factory and make a million gallons of ice cream every day," said another.

"Well, I'll tell you what I'll do, fellers," said the third. "If you two will give me half your ice cream and candy, I'll give you each a season pass to see my champion team play baseball."

Literary Note.

"I see," said Dobbleigh, "that in a recent volume of essays Henry James says that Zola lacked taste."

"Lacked taste!" echoed Bilkins. "Well, I like that. Why, I read one of Zola's books some years ago and I haven't got rid of the taste of it yet."

Old Bill Shiftless Has His Counterpart in Many Localities Throughout the Country.

"Old Bill Shiftless dropped into town last Saturday," the Osborne Farmer reports. "Bill went into one of the stores and asked for some crepe tissue paper. His wife had asked him to get some so she could make a few little ornaments to improve the looks of the front room. She wanted two colors and Bill found that he would have to take two rolls, as the merchant would not cut it. They cost 10 cents a roll. Bill refused to take it, saying it was too darn much money to pay for such useless stuff. He then bought a dollar's worth of chewing tobacco and a half-dollar's worth of cigars and went out to see what the chances were for 'chipping in' on a consignment of Kansas City jug house booze. Bill wants to go to the San Francisco exposition. His trip to St. Louis did him so much good that he thinks he owes it to his health to take this trip. Mrs. Shiftless would like to go, but Bill says he can't see how she can get away, as there would be no one at home to look after the stock."—Kansas City Star.

Tail Wild, at Least.

A timid little girl stood looking out of the nursery window and called to her mother: "Mother, mother! Here is a wild dog."

Her mother went to the window.

"Oh, no, that dog is not wild; he belongs to the man who works across the street, and is a nice dog," she said.

After a moment's thought the child, unaccustomed to dogs, replied: "Well, his head may not be wild, but his tail is awfully wild."—Woman's Home Companion.

Better Than None.

One day, while Willie and Henry were playing in a field they disturbed a bumblebees' nest, and began running with the bees after them.

When they had run for a few yards, Harry breathlessly panted: "Willie, we ought to pray while we are running!"

To which Willie replied: "I know it; but I can't think of but one prayer."

And Willie, thus admonished, called out between gasps: "Oh Lord, for what we are about to receive, make us truly thankful!"—Natural Monthly.

Noble Dissatisfaction.

It is said that Tennyson was 17 years in writing "In Memoriam." He wrote the little song, "Come Into the Garden, Maud," 50 times before he published it. The wife of a distinguished painter said: "I never saw my husband satisfied with one of his productions." Self-dissatisfaction lies at the root of our noble achievements. What is true generally is particularly true as a condition of growth in the divine life. Even if we have been kept from outward and disgraceful sin, how we came short of the glory of God! Never yield to discouragement, never admit that failure is a necessary part of your life, never abandon your quest for the highest! Remember that Christ is just in front! The Facts in the Case.

"Who struck Billy Patterson?" asked the law examiner.

"An arrest was made following the assault," wrote one student, "and the magistrate held the accused for the grand jury. An indictment followed, and when the case came up for trial the accused was convicted. An appeal was taken and the argument will be heard next fall. In the meantime the accused has been released on habeas corpus and has established an alibi. Billy's chances of getting damages are just 1 to 193,427."

The examiner predicts that the man who wrote this will be one of the shining lights in his profession.

Country Life.

There was a sound as of sundry lumber-jacks at work with their axes.

"Is that Joel chopping up kindling, Maria?" asked Jimpson, looking up from his paper.

"No, my dear," replied Mrs. Jimpson, "that is Sereny chopping up that steak for hash for breakfast tomorrow."

SHE QUIT

But It Was a Hard Pull.

It is hard to believe that coffee will put a person in such a condition as it did an Ohio woman. She tells her own story:

"I did not believe coffee caused my trouble, and frequently said I liked it so well I would not, and could not, quit drinking it, but I was a miserable sufferer from heart trouble and nervous prostration for four years.

"I was scarcely able to be around, had no energy and did not care for anything. Was emaciated and had a constant pain around my heart until I thought I could not endure it.

"Frequently I had nervous chills and the least excitement would drive sleep away, and any little noise would upset me terribly. I was gradually getting worse until finally I asked myself what's the use of being sick all the time and buying medicine so that I could indulge myself in coffee?

"So I got some Postum to help me quit. I made it strictly according to directions and I want to tell you that change was the greatest step in my life. It was easy to quit coffee because I now like Postum better than the coffee.

"One by one the old troubles left until now I am in splendid health, nerves steady, heart all right and the pain all gone. Never have any more nervous chills, don't take any medicine, can do all my house work and have done a great deal besides."

SMOKE PREVENTION SCHOOL

Only Institution of its Kind in United States Planned for Minneapolis—Two in Europe.

Minneapolis.—Minneapolis will shortly open the first school for the study of smoke prevention in the United States, and one of three existing in the entire world, if a plan put up to director C. E. Prosser of the William Hood Dunwoody Industrial Institute by Chairman Walter Thorp of the smoke prevention committee of the Civic and Commerce association, is adopted. Mr. Prosser received enthusiastically the suggestion that such a school be established in the Dunwoody institute. Upon the return from the east of William H. Bovey, chairman of the directorate of the institute, action looking to the establishment of courses of instruction will be taken, it is expected.

Glasgow, Scotland and Hamburg, Germany, are the only two cities in the world, so far as is known, that have taken up smoke prevention and fuel economy as parts of the study course of industrial institutes. Assistant Secretary Clarence Tolg of the Civic and Commerce association said that reports of what these institutes have accomplished are expected shortly and will be used in planning the Minneapolis study courses.

The formal proposal was prepared by the committee for Mr. Prosser to put before the Dunwoody institute directors, following a conference between Mr. Prosser and the smoke prevention committee.

SEVEN MAY BE DEAD IN WRECK

Three or Four Tramps on Milwaukee Train, Derailed at Lake City, Probably Perished.

Lake City, Minn.—That seven or eight men were killed in the wreck of Milwaukee passenger train No. 5 near Lake City Saturday night, was the belief expressed when it was reported that three or four tramps were on the train. A man named Campbell, who worked for a nursery company, is known to have "ridden the blind" out of Lake City. Railroad men think three or four others were on the train. Roy Fitzsimmons, the extra fireman, who was rescued from Lake Pepin, said he heard cries of men struggling in the water.

Divers continued to search for the bodies of Wilbur P. Taber, 2621 Bloomington avenue, Minneapolis, and Roy F. Robert, 250 St. Anthony avenue, St. Paul, engineer and fireman on the train. The body of Taber was located, but it was pinned in the cab and could not be taken out.

A temporary bridge is being erected. To wrecking crews have been at work since shortly after the wreck. All traffic on the river division is being routed over the Burlington road. The wrecked engine will be raised at once.

Minneapolis, Minn.—By unanimous vote of the ten members present, the Board of Regents of the University adopted the report of a subcommittee for the establishment of graduate medical instruction at Rochester, Minn., in connection with the Mayo Foundation for Medical Education and Research. This is the final action by the board. Officers of the board were authorized to enter into legal agreement with the Foundation governing the relationship.

Senator Clapp Speaks to Boys.

Faribault.—Moses E. Clapp, United States senator from Minnesota, accepted an invitation to speak at the commencement exercises at St. James school, sometimes known as "Lower Shattuck," although a separate institution. St. James school, exclusively for young boys, was established in 1901 by Dr. Dobbin, the man who built Shattuck. The program was as follows: March, James Horton Bishop; prayer, Rev. Elmer E. Lofstrom; "The Summer Sea," school; address, Senator Clapp; "With Song and Ringing Laughter," school; presentation of certificates by the headmaster; "Holiday March," school; "America"; benediction; drill on the campus, conducted by First Lieutenant George Grunert, U. S. A.

Bankers Meet at Mankato

Mankato, Minn., June 11.—Bankers began to arrive on the afternoon trains from various southwestern Minnesota points, to attend the thirteenth annual meeting of the Second District Group of the Minnesota Bankers' association, which is meeting in this city. The bankers seem full of confidence in the continued prosperity of Southern Minnesota. All brought reports of magnificent crop prospects for all small grains, and only warm weather needed to make a big corn crop.

CLUB GIRLS' COUNCIL TO MEET

Two Hundred Girls and Secretaries of Y. W. C. A. to Be Guests of Albert Lea June 29 to July 9.

Albert Lea.—Two hundred girls and secretaries of the Young Women's Christian Association will be the guests of Albert Lea when the Albert Lea college opens its doors to the Club Girls' council June 29 to July 9.

Girls representing the large industrial establishments in Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Iowa and Nebraska, will be present. Four national secretaries, three with headquarters in Minneapolis and one in New York will be speakers.

Mrs. Charles P. Noyes, chairman of the field committee, will give one of the opening talks. Rev. W. E. J. Gratz, St. Paul, will make two addresses. Dr. Raymond V. Phelan, professor of social economics, University of Minnesota, will conduct a course of six lectures. One of the special features will be a Japanese rose party.

Three pageants are to be staged on the college campus on Independence day. "The Unity of Industries," given by the girls of Minnesota and North Dakota. "The Spirit of Sisterhood," presented by those from Iowa and Nebraska, and a national pageant, "The Spirit of America," by the entire council.

Campfires will be held on the college campus in the evening. Elaborate plans have been made for the recreation hours, the special being boating and swimming.

WOMAN PULLS WRONG LEVER

Browns Valley Motorist Becomes Perturbed and Loses Control of Car—Two Are Injured.

Brown's Valley.—When Mrs. E. Roupp, who lives on the Bailey farm, entered the crowded streets of Brown's Valley she became perturbed over the problem of stopping amid pedestrians and vehicles hurrying about, and she pressed the wrong lever of her auto, a light car of popular make.

Skittishly as a frolicsome horse who feels that a strange hand has crossed the lines, the car leaped to the sidewalk and before it could be restrained struck and knocked down Mrs. A. Baugle, formerly Miss Bessie Feely, of St. Paul, and Mrs. L. Ashbaugh. The wheels of the auto passed over one of the women and partly over the other, pinioning the latter under one wheel against the curb.

Neither woman was severely hurt, and the car also escaped irreparable damage.

Endowment for Retired Ministers.

Park Rapids.—Speaking here in behalf of a retiring annuity or pension for the aged ministers of the Methodist Episcopal church, Rev. John T. Brabmer Smith, editor of the Veteran Preacher and publicity agent of the denomination, with headquarters in Chicago, told the pastors of the Fergus Falls district of the Northern Minnesota conference that two things are being sought. First, to establish a retiring annuity or pension, based on the years of service given by the minister, and second, the providing of such an additional amount as may be necessary in cases where the conditions require more than the pension affords.

"These two things are being sought for in all the churches," he said, "and at the present time the emphasis is being placed on the pensions for service; but there never can come a time when the minister can be adequately provided for unless the exceptional case—the very aged and infirm—is cared for.

Bishop Speaks Under "Devil's Chair."

Taylor's Falls. — Bishop William Quayle of St. Paul, addressing a meeting of Twin City Methodists here, held in conjunction with the annual outdoor meeting of the people of that denomination from all the St. Croix valley, presented the unusual picture of a minister talking at the mouth of the historic "Devil's kitchen," and directly below the "Devil's chair," both rock fountains that have made the Dalles of the St. Croix interstate park famous the world over.

"Liquor and all it represents has long fallen from the 'stay' class," said Bishop Quayle, "and the present prohibition movement is but the outgrowth of dislike long standing at last made evident. Minnesota has shown progress in adopting county option and prohibition is going to be a reality all over the United States in a remarkably short time."

St. Paul Pioneer Dies in Grand Forks.

Grand Forks.—August Thulin, formerly of St. Paul, died here, aged 93 years.

Mr. Thulin made his home in St. Paul from 1856 to 1903, and during most of that period he was engaged in the contracting business. He was very well known during St. Paul's pioneer days.

Upon the death of his wife 12 years ago, Thulin came to Grand Forks, making his home here with his daughter, Mrs. C. H. Opsahl.

Alumni Endorse Mayo Plan.

Minneapolis, June 11. Appreciation of Drs. W. J. and C. H. Mayo for their offer to the University and of the course taken by the University regents in connection with it, was voted by the University Academic Alumni association. A motion to postpone such appreciation was lost. Members of the association criticized the action of the board of directors of the General Alumni association in having declared it represented the alumni body in its opposition to the Mayo project.

MEAN TRICK ON FRIEND WIFE

Citizen Used Dishonorable Methods to Prevent the Putting Up of Strawberries.

"I want you to do me a favor," said a citizen as he entered a crockery store the other morning with an anxious look on his face.

"Anything within reason, of course," was the reply.

"It is rather a family affair," said the first.

"Oh, I can keep a secret."

"It isn't much of a secret, but the strawberry season will soon begin."

"Yes, I know."

"You keep fruit jars, of course?"

"Thousands, of course."

"My wife was telling me this morning that she proposed to do up at least three bushels of strawberries this summer, and she'll be around here to ask the price of fruit jars. I want you to tell her that, owing to the war, they have gone up to $15 a dozen."

"Oh, my!" gasped the crockery man.

"I have got a dealer to lie to her about the price of berries by the bushel, and a grocer to tell her that sugar has gone up 400 per cent, and if you only will do your part not a darned old strawberry will be laid away for winter."—Providence Journal.

WHAT TO DO FOR YOUR ITCHING SKIN

Eczema, ringworm and other itching, burning skin eruptions are so easily made worse by improper treatment that one has to be very careful. There is one method, however, that you need not hesitate to use, even on a baby's tender skin—that is the resinol treatment. Resinol is the prescription of a Baltimore doctor, put up in the form of resinol ointment and resinol soap. This proved so remarkably successful that thousands of other physicians have been prescribing it constantly for 20 years.

Resinol stops itching instantly, and almost always heals the eruption quickly and at little cost. Resinol ointment and resinol soap can be bought at any druggist's and are not at all expensive. Great for sunburn.—Adv.

Humane Warfare.

Uncle (to nephew playing a war game with a chum)—If you take the fortress within a quarter of an hour, I'll give you a quarter.

Youngster (a minute later)—Uncle, the fortress is taken; now let me have the quarter.

Uncle—How did you manage it so quickly?

Youngster—I offered the besieged ten cents, and they capitulated.—Christian Register.

HOW WOMEN AVOID OPERATIONS

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Cleveland, Ohio—"My left side pained me so for several years that I expected to have to undergo an operation, but the first bottle I took of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound relieved me of the pains in my side and I continued its use until I became regular and free from pains. I had asked several doctors if there was anything I could take to help me and they said there was nothing that they knew of. I am thankful for such a good medicine and will always give it the highest praise."—Mrs. C. H. Griffith, 1568 Constant St., Cleveland, Ohio.

Hanover, Pa.—"I suffered from female trouble and the pains were so bad at times that I could not sit down. The doctor advised a severe operation but my husband got me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I experienced great relief in a short time. Now I feel like a new person and can do a hard day's work and not mind it. What joy and happiness it is to be well once more. I am always ready and willing to speak a good word for the Compound."—Mrs. Ada Wilt, 303 Walnut St., Hanover, Pa.

If there are any complications you do not understand write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Not Prepared.

I Bought The Tractor So My Boys Could Farm
The New Way

I expect there will be as much change in a few years as there was from the old reapers to the binders.

That's what one Avery Tractor owner writes us. And within the last two years thousands of others have shown that they believe the same thing by buying Avery Tractors and Plows and changing from horse or mule farming to Tractor Farming.

Tractor Farming is coming fast. And the reasons are simple: It costs less to farm with tractors than with horses or mules. You can raise bigger crops by plowing deep and doing all your work at the right time. And it is much easier work to farm with a Tractor than with horses or mules. Turn a switch at noon or night and you are through. Avery Tractors a success on any size farm

WHY IS WOMAN RESTLESS?

DESTINY OF NATIONS DEPENDS UPON CONTENTED HOMES.

By W. D. Lewis.
President Texas Farmers' Union.

Why is woman dissatisfied? Why does she grow restless under the crown of womanhood? Why is she weary of the God-given jewel of motherhood? Is it not a sufficient political achievement for woman that future rulers nurse at her breast, laugh in her arms and kneel at her feet? Can ambition leap to more glorious heights than to sing lullabies to the world's greatest genuises, chant melodies to master minds and rock the cradle of human destiny?

God pity our country when the handshake of the politician is more gratifying to woman's heart than the patter of children's feet.

Woman is Ruler Over All.

Why does woman chafe under restraint of sex? Why revile the hand of nature? Why discard the skirts that civilization has clung to since the beginning of time? Why lay aside this hallowed garment that has wiped the tears of sorrow from the face of childhood? In its sacred embrace every generation has hidden its face in shame; clinging to its motherly folds, tottering children have learned to play hide and seek and from it youth learned to reverence and respect womanhood. Can man think of his mother without this consecrated garment?

Why this inordinate thirst for power? Is not woman all powerful? Man cannot enter this world without her consent, he cannot remain in peace without her blessing and unless she sheds tears of regret over his departure, he has lived in vain. Why this longing for civic power when God has made her ruler over all? Why crave authority when man bows down and worships her? Man has given woman his heart, his name and his money. What more does she want?

Can man find it in his heart to look with pride upon the statement that his honorable mother-in-law was one of the most powerful political bosses in the country, that his distinguished grandmother was one of the ablest filibusters in the Senate, or that his mother was a noted warrior and her name a terror to the enemy? Whither are we drifting, and where will we land?

God Save Us From a Hen-Pecked Nation.

I follow the plow for a living and my views may have in them the smell of the soil; my hair is turning white under the frost of many winters and perhaps I am a little old-fashioned, but I believe there is more moral influence in the dress of woman than in all the statute books of the land. As an agency for morality, I wouldn't give my good old mother's homemade gowns for all the suffragette's constitutions and by-laws in the world.

As a power for purifying society, I wouldn't give one prayer of my saintly mother for all the women's votes in Christendom. As an agency for good government, I wouldn't give the plea of a mother's heart for righteousness for all the oaths of office in the land.

There is more power in the smile of woman than in an act of congress. There are greater possibilities for good government in her family of laughing children than in the cabinet of the president of the United States.

The destiny of this nation lies in the home and not in the legislative halls. The hearthstone and the family Bible will ever remain the source of our inspiration and the Acts of the Apostles will ever shine brighter than the acts of Congress.

This country is law-mad. Why add to a statute book, already groaning under its own weight, the hysterical cry of woman? If we never had a chance to vote again in a lifetime and did not pass another law in twenty-five years, we could survive the ordeal, but without home, civilization would wither and die.

God save these United States from becoming a hen-pecked nation; help us keep sissies out of Congress and forbid that women become stepfathers to government, is the prayer of the farmers of this country.

A DIVINE COVENANT.

God Almighty gave Eve to Adam with the pledge that she would be his helpmeet and with this order of companionship, civilization has towered to its greatest heights. In this relationship, God has blessed woman and man has honored her and after four thousand years of progress, she now proposes to provoke God to decoy man by asking for suffrage, thereby by amending an agreement to which she was not a party.

Woman, remember that the Israelite scorned a divine covenant, and as a result wandered forty years in the wilderness without God. Likewise man should remember that it is a dangerous thing to debase woman by law. Rome tried lowering woman's standard and an outraged civilization tore the clothes off the backs of the human race and turned them out to roam in the world naked and unashamed.

Bakke-Halverson Wedding

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Bakke in Thief River Falls Wednesday June 30th at 5 o'clock P. M. occurred the wedding of their daughter Dagny Nathalia, to Albert Leonard Halverson, of Thief River Falls.

The bride was prettily dressed in white chiffon over net and carried a boquet of beautiful roses and peonies. Little Eleanor Hoglin acted as flower girl. The house was very prettily decorated. The bride will be remembered as one of the teachers in the Holt schools, the past year, the groom is one of the popular young men of Thief River Falls and is engaged in the furniture business with his brother.

The happy couple departed the same evening for a short wedding trip and visit with the groom's parents at Battle Lake, also at other points. We join their many friends in wishing them happiness and success.

Dr. Turley will be here Monday to do dental work.

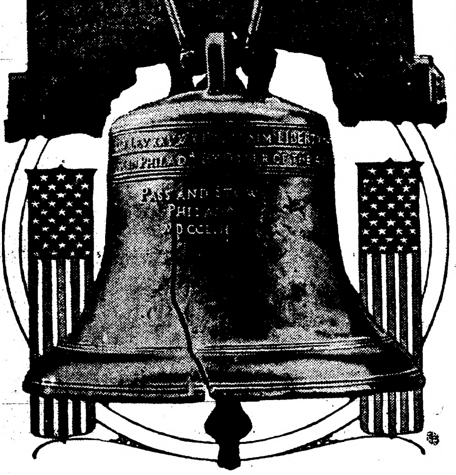
FAMOUS OLD LIBERTY BELL



FINAL TONE OF LIBERTY BELL?

What Is Believed to Be Its Last Ringing Is Said to Have Recently Taken Place at Philadelphia.

What may prove to be the last ringing of the historic Liberty bell took place in Independence hall at Philadelphia recently.

It was decided to transmit the tones of the bell across the country to San Francisco over the recently completed transcontinental telephone line, partly fulfilling in a literal sense the prophetic words cast on the bell, "Proclaim liberty throughout all the land, unto all the inhabitants thereof." The bell was struck three times with mallets at intervals of five seconds. By an arrangement of three very sensitive transmitters, which were suspended beneath it on rubber bands, so as to exclude all foreign vibration, the tones were caught and clearly heard over the telephone wires on the Pacific coast. At the same time a phonographic record was made of the notes so as to preserve them for posterity.

This is the first time that the great bell has been sounded since it was cracked in 1835 while tolling the death of John Marshall, the first chief justice of the United States Supreme court. The reason that it may never again be rung is that a new crack, more serious than the old one, has developed in it.

It has been found that the bell is afflicted with the "disease of metal." This is partly responsible for the appearance of the latest fissure and has made it necessary to support its weight on padded props in order to relieve the stress which has gradually been pulling it apart.

The new crack is now plainly visible, while only a short time ago it was microscopic. It begins at the upper part of the original fracture, extending from the letter "P" in the "Philadelphia," diagonally a quarter of the way around the circumference, to the letter "y" in "Liberty," near the top. It is believed that the new crack might not have occurred had the bell been allowed to remain at rest after it was first broken. It has, however, been shipped on different occasions to New Orleans, Chicago, Atlanta, Charleston, Boston and St. Louis. That it is actually suffering from a malady known as the "disease of metal," is the description of its ailment in the technical phraseology of the metallurgist, and is not a popular figure of speech. The reason for this distemper is to be found in the history of the bell's casting.

It was originally made by Thomas Lester at London, in 1752, and shipped to Philadelphia. When it was hung to try the sound it was cracked by the clapper. At first it was intended to return it to England, but subsequently two workmen, Pass and Stow, neither of whom was experienced in the art, undertook the recasting in Philadelphia. Obviously the bronze was too brittle, and in order to toughen it, they added approximately ten per cent of copper to the original metal. When the bell was later rehung it was found that too much copper had been used, and, to the chagrin of everyone, the tone was destroyed. The same men again undertook the work, and this time are supposed to have added tin to restore the tone. The third bell was accepted, but too much tin had been used, and the tones were so highly resonant that it was seldom rung.—Popular Mechanics.

It is very hard to convince a writer who is paid by the word that brevity is the soul of wit.

EVADED CAPTURE BY BRITISH

Quick Wit of American Patriot Saved Himself and Family When in Dire Peril.

There is an incident in the life of George Read worthy of mention in connection with these men who were martyrs to the Declaration. Fortunately Read suffered no real privation at the hands of the British, a fact due, however, solely to his presence of mind. When President McKinley, presiding officer of Delaware commonwealth, was made a prisoner, soon after the battle of Brandywine, it was necessary for George Read to take charge, he then being vice-president of that colony. He was in Philadelphia at the time of the president's capture and to return home entailed considerable danger.

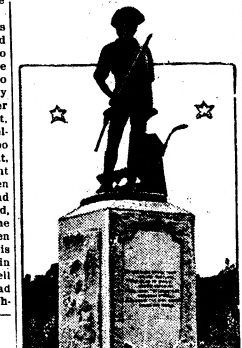
The enemy occupied the west bank of the Delaware river and Mr. Read had to take the New Jersey shore, run the risk of crossing the river and elude, if possible, the vigilance of the enemy's ships, which were strung along the whole distance. The 13th of October, 1777, Mr. Read reached Salem, N. J., where he obtained a boat for the purpose of conveying himself and family across the river.

At the place where he undertook the crossing, the river was about five miles wide. Almost in view of the British ships he had about reached the Delaware coast when he was discovered, for his boat had grounded just too far from shore to make it practicable to land his family. Unable to go on or leave the boat they were forced to wait while a ship's boat came up to them. Mr. Read's wits had not been idle, however, and he devised a plan which he and his wife immediately put into practice. They destroyed all traces of identification of their baggage, a feat made possible by the time required for the other boat's approach.

When the boat came alongside he politely informed them of his plight, and added that he was a country gentleman returning home from a pleasure excursion he had made with his family. The presence of his mother, wife and children added weight to this story. The commander of the English boat was only a coxswain, his companions common sailors. There was nothing suspicious about the party.

So, taking pity upon a family thus stranded but a short distance from their destination, the English boat's crew obligingly assisted them to land, helped to get the baggage on shore and, after receiving thanks for their kind assistance, returned to their ship. Mr. Read continued his journey, the end of which was the colony's governmental headquarters, where he assumed the role of chief executive until the release of the president was secured.

STATUE OF MINUTEMAN



FACE DEATH TO GET DEVIL FISH

Virginian Tells of Fight to Land Specimen for New York Museum.

FISH IS 18 FEET WIDE

In Its Struggles to Escape the Monster Nearly Wrecked a Two-Ton Launch—Lifts Craft Out of the Water.

New York.—The king of devil fishermen arrived here the other day, says the New York Times. He is Russell J. Coles of Danville, Va. Down home they always call him "Doctor," and the title has clung to him, although he says he has no right to it, because, while he studied medicine in his youth, he decided to let his possible victims live and declined to take his degree. In private life Mr. Coles is a leaf tobacco dealer. But for three or four months every year he gets away from business, goes to Florida or the coast of North Carolina, runs up to Newfoundland, elsewhere, and pursues big fish; he slays them if they won't bite; he measures them, weighs them, studies them, indexes a lot of scientific data out of them, and sends the specimens to various scientific museums.

Doctor Coles' New Devil Fish.

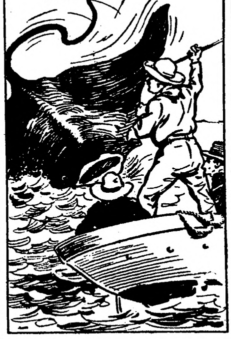
Doctor Coles was brought to New York this time by a devil fish. Speaking literally, he sent the fish on to the Museum of Natural History, and the authorities of the museum were so grateful not only for getting the devil fish, the first of its kind they have possessed and the biggest known to have been taken, but for some of its most valuable piscatorial treasures, that they made him a life member of the institution, a rare honor.

The devil fish is not an octopus. Fishermen or fish hunters consider them the hardest creatures in the world to kill. Though not plentiful, they exist in tropical waters, and, although they will never attack if unmolested, they become dangerous if attacked.

"I used a small two-ton launch and where I landed the big fish was over one hundred miles south of Tampa, Fla., in the Gulf of Mexico," he said. "You can see devil fish as they swim along, for their big fins extend above the surface. On the 6th of April I got two, after bad fights, but one measured only thirteen and the other fourteen feet across, and they were not as big as I wanted.

Monster Rushed for Boat.

"It was not until April 11 that I found the school of devil fish that netted me the big specimen. I had as captain of the boat Capt. Charlie Willes, whom I had brought from Moorehead City, N. C., and the handling of the craft was in charge of Capt. Jack McCann of Punta Gorda, Fla., one of the best known fishermen on the west coast. The devil fish had no fear of the boat. There were six of them in the school. I had constructed special apparatus for the expedition, one thing being a drogue, mistakenly called 'drag,' about three times as big as is used in catching whales.



"Each Time I Got a Chance I Used the Lance."

"The only thing to do was to steer the boat after the fish and try to get upon it. As we neared it I launched a spade lance. The big fish rushed under the boat, breaking off the handle of the lance. I had no other weapon of the kind, so I was forced to use an ordinary whale lance.

"One blow from one of those gigantic fins—the fish measured eighteen feet across—would have wrecked our craft. There was nothing to do but keep running the boat up on the back of the fish. More than a dozen times, as it came to the surface, it would lift the boat on its broad back out of the water. Each time I got a chance I used the lance, and I drove it into the region of the brain and heart twenty-three times before I finally killed it.

"You can get some idea of the size of the creature from the fact that it took two launches ten and one-half hours to tow it twelve miles to my camp near Captiva inlet."

REPORT GERMANS CROSS DNIESTER

BERLIN MILITARY OFFICIALS CLAIM SUCCESS ALONG ENTIRE RIVER FRONT.

TEUTONIC ALLIES VICTORS

Austro-German Claims Substantiated By Russian Admissions of Retirement South of Lemberg—Italians Report Repulse of Austrians.

Berlin, June 29.—The town of Halicz in Galicia, on the Dniester river, has been occupied by German troops, according to the announcement given out by German military headquarters.

Besides the occupation of Halicz, the official statement announces that the river Dniester has been crossed by the Germans along the entire front.

London, June 29.—The tide of battle is again flowing with the Teutonic Allies in Galicia. German and Austrian claims of victory are substantiated by Russia admissions of retirement south of Lemberg. Simultaneously comes news of a Russian council of war at the front, presided over by the emperor and participated in by the Russian commander-in-chief, the Grand Duke Nicholas, leading military men and several cabinet ministers. While in Petrograd the recent retirement of the minister of war is to be followed by other ministerial changes, according to current report.

Begin March on Warsaw.

Following recent indications that the Germans were resuming activity with the possible intention of beginning another march on Warsaw down from near the East Prussian border, come reports of a strong offensive movement by the Teutonic forces in the southern part of Russian Poland. The latest Russian official report mentions this with the declaration that the new offensive had met with no success.

News from other sections from the far-spread war front includes an Italian official report of an unsuccessful attempt by the Austrians to retake the heights of Zeillenkofel.

MOTIVE FOR MURDER SOUGHT

Investigation Into Death of Wife of Warden Allen at Joliet Prison May Be Reopened.

Joliet, Ill., June 29.—Edmund Allen, warden of the penitentiary, whose wife was found burned in a fire there a week ago, again has taken up the routine at the prison.

The investigation into the manner in which Mrs. Allen met her death will be conducted under the direction of Robert W. Martin, state's attorney, who conferred with William D. Heise, former state's attorney and close friend of Allen.

Heise said the evidence was convincing against Joe Campbell, the negro convict who was charged with the murder. "It is not a question now of who killed her, but how and with what motive," he said.

Coroner Wunderlich intimated that he might reopen his investigation into the cause of Mrs. Allen's death because of criticisms that the inquest had not been regularly conducted. He will aid Martin, he said.

Chicago, June 29.—A street car employe supporting a wife and three children, cannot live on less than $1,200 a year, according to figures just submitted to arbitrators selected to settle the differences between 14,000 street car employes and the companies.

The figures were prepared by W. D. Mahon, international president of the unions of street car men, after an exhaustive inquiry. The figures are to be the basis of the men's plea for a wage increase.

GERMANS ANNOUNCE VIOLENT OFFENSIVE MOVEMENT—REPORT CAPTURE OF OGLENDA.

BULGARIANS ARE SUMMONED

Ordered to Hold Themselves In Readiness to Join Colors, Says Correspondent—Left Bank of Dniester Cleared of Teutons.

Berlin, via wireless to London, June 28.—The war office announced late today that German troops have launched a violent attack against the Russians north of Warsaw. Wurtemberg troops have stormed and captured a Russian position at Oglenda, north of Przasnysz.

Oglenda lies 25 miles north of Warsaw, near the right bank of the Orzec river.

Bulgarians in Italy Called.

Rome, June 28.—All Bulgarians in Italy were ordered to hold themselves in readiness to join the colors at a moment's notice. "Bulgaria's participation in the war is now considered inevitable," wired the Saloniki correspondent of the Tribuna. "All Bulgarians in Saloniki and Kavalva have been called to the colors."

Teutons Driven Back.

London, June 28.—The left bank of the river Dniester has been entirely cleared of the Teutonic troops, who forcd their way across at two points early this week, according to the latest Russian official statements, but the Austro-German forces are making desperate efforts to effect a passage elsewhere.

Bridging operations were begun by the Germans and Austrians south of Bukaszowice on the very night the remnants of the detachments which had previously crossed on the Kozany district and in the region of Martynoffstany were being driven back in the former and captured in the latter region. The Russians reported the battle is still raging at the new point of contact.

RACERS SHATTER RECORDS

Cars Average Over Hundred Miles an Hour in International Automobile Derby at Chicago.

At 260 miles leaders were:
Resta, 2:40.01.
Porporato, 2:41.16.
Grant, 2:42.04.
Attendance was said to be 80,000.

Speedway Park, Maywood, Ill., June 28.—With Dario Resta on the rail in his Peugeot, 21 of the world's most famous drivers got away to a flying start at 10:31 in the first Chicago international 500-mile automobile derby.

Resta had a 50-yard lead on the Stutz team as they rounded the bowl for the first lap.

For four laps Resta led, averaging 107 miles an hour.

At the start of the fifth Wilcox crept up on equal terms.

In a stiff brush between Resta and Wilcox that lasted a lap about the 70th mile, Wilcox, with a great burst of speed, passed the judges' stand a car length ahead of the foreigner. The two cars were averaging more than 107 miles an hour. At this time the general average of the leaders was about 102 miles an hour.

Porporato was leading on the 40th lap.

TORNADO SWEEPS ALBERTA.

Calgary, Alta., June 28.—Two persons killed, 23 injured, and property loss of $1,000,000 at Redcliff and Grassy Lake, near Medicine Hat, Alta., sums up the heavy toll taken by a tornado, similar to that famous Regina storm that swept through the district east of Calgary.

The tornado struck Grassy Lake, a small town on the Medicine Hat-Lethbridge line of the C. P. R., about 7 p. m., tearing the roof off a hotel, wiping out two lumber yards, wrecking stores and blowing a whole freight train off the track.

South Dakota Girl Drowned.

Aberdeen, S. D., June 28.—Frances Stablein, 14 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Stablein, of this city, was drowned at Lake Minnesho, Wylie Park, just north of this city. She, together with an older sister and two other girls were wading about in the lake pushing a plank ahead of them when all four went into a hole.

200,000 Idle in Chicago Shut-down.

Chicago, June 28.—A general shutdown of Chicago's building industry, which, it was said, will throw out of employment more than 200,000 workers, went into effect today. The shutdown is regarded as the beginning of one of the greatest labor wars in recent years. The action was taken at a meeting of representatives of the allied building and material interests as an answer to the referendum vote of 16,000 striking carpenters, who overwhelmingly defeated the proposal to arbitrate all questions.

How Mrs. Hurley Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Eldon, Mo.—"I was troubled with displacement, inflammation and female weakness. For two years I could not stand on my feet long at a time and I could not walk two blocks without enduring cutting and drawing pains down my right side which increased every month. I have been at that time purple in the face and would walk the floor. I could not lie down or sit still sometimes for a day and a night at a time. I was nervous, and had very little appetite, no ambition, melancholy, and often felt as though I had not a friend in the world. After I had tried most every female remedy without success, my mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and gained in strength every day. I have now no trouble in any way and highly praise your medicine. It advertises itself."—Mrs. S. T. Hurley, Eldon, Missouri.

BOUNTIFUL PROMISE FROM WESTERN CANADA

Average Increase of Acreage in Wheat Over 22 Per Cent.

Province.	Wheat Acreage Increase.
Saskatchewan	25 per cent
Alberta	32½ per cent
Manitoba	15 per cent
Average for prairies	22½ per cent

Saskatchewan.

The growth of the crop during the past week was very satisfactory. Rain fell in many places during the early part of the week, followed by warmer weather, which has been most beneficial to the grain. Breaking and summer-fallowing were well under way, and conditions generally were most promising.

The following reports have been received by the department from the various centers: Denholm—A little rain needed in the northern part to start late grain; remainder of district plenty of moisture. Davidson—Ideal growing weather; a few farmers harrowing grain to conserve moisture by breaking crust formed since last rain. North Battleford to Prince Albert—Good growing weather; crops looking well. Slight damage near North Battleford from cutworms; recent rains beneficial. Kindersley—Crops looking fine and prospects good; plenty of moisture, with prospects of more rain. Every slough in this country is full. Prince Albert—Crops in fair condition, though cutworms and light frosts have done damage in some sections. Have had moderate quantity of rain.

Owing to prompt marketing of the harvest of 1914, the farmers were enabled to devote more time than usual to cultivation in the autumn, under conditions which were decidedly favorable, and that, combined with the opportunities for soil preparation presented by an early spring this year, has resulted in the seeding of a wheat area estimated at twenty-five per cent greater than last year. Areas sown to oats and flax may be less than last year, because of the concentration upon the cereal in greater demand for export. Wheat seeding was completed eight days earlier than the average, under almost ideal conditions.

Alberta.

"Prospects excellent. Abundant moisture throughout the province, following rain. Area thirty to thirty-five per cent greater. Crop generally two weeks earlier."

Attention is drawn to the fact that the land has not been in such fine condition to work for years; neither has there been as much moisture as there was last autumn. This was protected during the winter by a little more than the average snowfall, which remained on the land, not being removed by the warm chinook winds, as is usually the case. There never has been a more optimistic feeling than exists today, judging by the information received from various parts of the province. We feel justified in saying that the crop never went in under more favorable circumstances; weather splendid and land particularly well worked.

While it is true that the acreage will be greatly increased, it is pleasing to learn that, despite the high price of feed, the receipts of milk and cream at the dairies continue to keep up, and that the output of the creameries has increased in quantity.

One of the most encouraging things in last year's work was the increase of practically thirty per cent in the output of cream and butter south of Calgary.

Manitoba.

Owing to the exceptionally early harvest last year and favorable fall weather, a much larger acreage of land was prepared than usual, and partly for the same reason and the prospects of high prices for all kinds of grain, farmers took more pains in the preparation of land, so that the spring opened up with 1,235,000 acres of fully prepared land above the previous year. Seeding was general by the 7th of April, some days in advance of the average. Since that time the weather has been exceptionally favorable for the sowing of wheat, and the farmers have taken full advantage of it. Much of the crop is now above the surface. There has been a very general and liberal rainfall; this will hasten the germination of the recently sown wheat, and will prevent the soil from drifting off the later sown crop. The area sown in wheat is fully 15 per cent greater than last year.

To sum up the agricultural situation generally, the Department of Agriculture says: "The area is larger than usual, the land has been well prepared, and the wheat has been sown at the right time; not so early as to run the risk of being killed off by frost, but sufficiently early to insure its ripening in the fall."—Advertisement.

Cyclone Was Playful.

The great atmospheric freak that has hit California for many months struck the walnut grove on the Phillips ranch west of Pomona. It took the form of a small cycone and played a remarkable prank.

In one spot eight English walnut trees were uprooted. The eight formed almost a perfect circle and the ninth tree, which stood directly in the center, was left standing, although the ground around it shows that the roots were torn loose from the earth.

Forty-three mature walnut trees were uprooted in the Phillips grove by the same storm. The twister also lifted the cap from the manhole on top of the Phillips ranch house, and a few miles farther west it passed through a big walnut groove, uprooting every tree in one row and not turning a leaf on any of the others.—New York Sun.

WONDERFUL HOW RESINOL STOPS SKIN TORMENTS

The soothing, healing medication in resinol ointment and resinol soap penetrates the tiny pores of the skin, clears them of impurities, and stops itching instantly. Resinol positively and speedily heals eczema, heat-rash, ringworm, and similar eruptions, and clears away disfiguring pimples and blackheads, when other treatments have been almost useless.

Resinol is not an experiment. It is a doctor's prescription which proved so wonderfully successful for skin troubles that it has been used by other doctors all over the country for twenty years. Every druggist sells resinol ointment and resinol soap.—Adv.

MAY REVIVE WOOL GROWING IN STATE

OLD CO-OPERATIVE SOCIETY IS REORGANIZED—WOULD REMOVE DRAWBACKS.

STATE NEWS OF MINNESOTA

Interesting and Important Happenings of the Past Few Days Selected and Arranged for the Convenience of Busy Readers.

St. Paul.—The removal of the chief drawbacks to profitable and widespread wool growing in Minnesota is the object of the reorganized Minnesota Wool Growers' Co-operative association. The low and unstable price received by Minnesota farmers selling their wool through the regular channels of marketing has prompted the rehabilitation of the old wool growers' association.

It will be identified with the American Society of Equity in the wool growing department, which handles the product of sheep raisers from Montana to Kentucky.

Magnus Brown of Minneapolis is secretary-treasurer of the wool growers' department. A. L. Sayers of Lakeville is a director of the organization.

The Minnesota branch has taken over the modern fire-proof wool warehouse at Farmington.

Minnesota Climate Favorable.

"Minnesota is located ideally for sheep raising," Secretary Brown said. "Climatic conditions favor the raising of the best medium grade wool in the world. Sheep husbandry has experienced a relative decline on Minnesota farms because the price of mutton and wool has been low and uncertain. Our rehabilitated organization recently marketed a large consignment of wool for its members at 30¼ cents a pound, while non-members were receiving for their produce only 19 to 21 cents. We expect to make an average saving of approximately 3 cents a pound."

T. G. Paterson, assistant professor of animal husbandry and sheep specialist at the college, and other sheep authorities at the Minnesota College of Agriculture, are strong advocates of the establishment and extension of sheep husbandry on Minnesota farms.

OLD BOYS MEET AT ST. JOHN'S

Alumni Return to Collegeville Institution for Twenty-third Annual Homecoming—400 Present.

St. Cloud.—Nearly 400 alumni of St. John's university have gathered at the Collegeville institution for the 23rd annual homecoming of the "Old Boys."

Minneapolis, St. Paul, Duluth and St. Cloud are represented by the largest delegations, but scores of other cities have sent from half a dozen to a score of men who were at one time enrolled as students in the Catholic university. Many of the graduates are accompanied by their sons, who, too, have been graduated from the institution attended by their fathers a score or more of years before.

The festivities commenced when special coaches attached to trains brought the twin city and Duluth delegations, numbering more than 200. A motor party, consisting of 40 local graduates, had previously driven to Collegeville, and their machines and the huge college trucks conveyed the "old grads" from the little Collegeville station to the big halls on the hill. A dutch lunch was served upon the arrival of the delegates and the evening was given over to a renewal of college acquaintances and a revival of college day experiences.

MUSIC TEACHERS CONVENE

Minnesota Association Holds Meeting at Albert Lea — Interesting Concerts and Lectures, Features.

Albert Lea.—Several hundred delegates arrived here for the sessions of the Minnesota Music Teachers association. Many Twin Cities delegates motored to the convention.

President McPhail presided and appointed several committees. G. H. Fairclough of St. Paul heads the nominating committee.

President McPhail reported 139 candidates for the licentiate degree in the past three years.

Mary A. Mallory of St. Theresa school, Winona, upheld the need of a wide scholarship. James Lang urged respect for modern composers.

An interesting concert was given by Ruth Anderson, violinist; Lora Luisdorf, contralto; Jessie Weiskopf, pianist; Ethel Alexander and Wilma Anderson Gillman, accompanists.

Mrs. Edward McDowell, the composer's widow, explained and played her husband's compositions at the First Presbyterian church.

NORTHERN MINNESOTA SOLONS TO TOUR SOUTH

St. Paul.—Before the next session of the Minnesota legislature, lawmakers from the northern part of the state will tour southern Minnesota.

Legislators from the southern part of the state have just ended a 10-day tour through northern Minnesota. Many of them had never seen northern Minnesota. It was the most unusual journey in the history of the state. They went on a tour of inspection and they paid their own expenses.

OPPOSE INCREASE IN RATES

MINNEAPOLIS MEN OBJECT TO FREIGHT ADVANCE.

Appear Before Interstate Commerce Commission — Western Railroads Ask 20 Per Cent Raise.

Washington, D. C.—Minneapolis men held the stage in the hearing before the Interstate Commerce Commission to determine whether or not the Western railroads will be allowed to advance their freight rates.

The sweeping effect this proposed increase in rates will have generally, if allowed, was indicated by the objections registered from Minneapolis, on account of the effect it would have upon local industries. The case for Minneapolis was presented by T. A. McGrath, counsel for the commerce association.

Increase of $10,000,000.

Statements contrary to those made by the combination of Western railroads were brought forward. A. A. Helm, representing the Kansas City Commercial Club, estimated that the increase on grain and grain products alone would amount to $10,000,000 to the railroads. The railroad contention is that the proposed increase on all products would amount to $10,000,000.

In stating the effect the proposed increase would have upon the city of Minneapolis, Mr. McGrath said that 25 mills and 52 elevators would be directly affected.

BIG YIELD OF SMALL GRAIN

Northeast Farmers Expect Long Summer—Corn Still Has Excellent Chance to Recover.

Winona.—Soil conditions could not be improved; all small grains are hard and hold great promise, and corn, while it is backward, has an excellent chance to recover, especially if the summer season is prolonged. This is the finding of H. J. Wagen, general agent for the Minnesota and Dakota territory of the North-Western road, who has just returned from a tour of the territory tributary to the line stretching west from here. He brought back the views of hundreds of farmers and grain men.

Many students of climatic conditions predict an unusually long summer with excellent growing weather. If their predictions are borne out, corn yields will not be reduced materially.

"The soil conditions never have been better," Mr. Wagen said. "The rainfall and the cool weather have not been detrimental to small grains. There has been a splendid root development which promises much for the 1915 crop in this territory."

Mr. Wagen, accompanied by C. T. Dike, general superintendent of the Minnesota and Dakota territory, and H. E. Dickinson, superintendent of the Dakota division, traveled over scores of the fields.

The pledges of signatures to be obtained next Monday, first day for circulation of the petitions asking for the option election, were made mostly by ministers who joined in with business men in the option campaign. Other pledges were made, however, by leaders of various organizations.

Minneapolis, Minn.—Fire of unknown origin swept the F. A. Martoccio marcaroni factory at 147 Cedar Lake road, with an estimated loss of $10,000. Tons of packed macaroni and marcaroni hung in dry rooms were burned or damaged by water. Twenty-four persons were temporarily thrown out of employment.

F. A. Martoccio, manager, estimated the loss to products at $8,000 and $2,000 to the building. The building was of frame construction.

"Yes, sir."

"Very well, I want a boy with a vocabulary. My customers are well-bred, educated people, and I must have a boy who can answer them with something more intelligent than 'Uh-huh,' 'Yep' and 'I guess so.'"

He put several question to the boy, and received satisfactory replies.

"You will do," he said. "You may go to work now."

"I beg your pardon," said the amazing boy, "but there is one example of my vocabulary that you have not heard."

"Well, what is it?"

"I am sorry, sir, but I could not think of using this kind of language for three dollars a week. It is worth five dollars."

The employer concluded that it was, and paid it.

SATISFIED THE BIBULOUS ONE

Reporter's Shorthand Notes Probably as Good as Anything Just at That Precise Time.

A litigant by default, whose wife had obtained a divorce, was somewhat in his cups when he called at the office of William M. McKay, court stenographer, and asked to be shown a transcript of his wife's testimony.

"I haven't time to read it to you now," said McKay. "I'm very busy."

"Well, I wanna have that divorsh an (hic) nulled," he said. "Lemme she the book; I can (hic) read it."

So McKay passed him the tablet containing his shorthand notes, and pointed out the case to him. The litigant by default focused his attention on the pothooks, dips, spurs and angles, and carried the book to the window to get a better light, scowling in an unwonted mental effort. Finally he brought the book back to McKay.

"Ish that how it (hic) is?" he asked.

"That's exactly how it is," said McKay.

And then the litigant by default left the room, evidently greatly impressed, if not enlightened.—St. Joseph News Press.

"Why," his grandniece replied, "there was no such thing as a feminist movement when you were a young man!"

"There wa'n't, eh? That's all you know about it. The greatest feminist movement in the world is a good, sensible woman darnin' a sock and rockin' a cradle with her foot."—Judge.

I Bought The Tractor So My Boys Could Farm
The New Way

I expect there will be as much change in a few years as there was from the old reapers to the binders.

That's what one Avery Tractor owner writes us. And within the last two years thousands of others have shown that they believe the same thing by buying Avery Tractors and Plows and changing from horse or mule farming to Tractor Farming.

Tractor Farming is coming fast. And the reasons are simple: It costs less to farm with tractors than with horses or mules. You can raise bigger crops by plowing deep and doing all your work at the right time. And it is much easier work to farm with a Tractor than with horses or mules. Turn a switch at noon or night and you are through. Avery Tractors a success on any size farm

WITH THE SACRED FLAG SHE LOVES

Float ever, droop never, forever, old flag!
Though the armed world assail you, what coward would lag
To rise in defense of our beautiful flag?
By a thousand campfires have the vows of our sires
Ever been that the flag should still reign;
And they battled and bled till the rivers ran red,
But the flag floated free from all stain.
Let us keep it unfurled to enlighten the world—
Right's emblem as ages go by.
Ever glad to the sight is that banner so bright
As it ripples in glory on high.

FIRST TROOPS TO ENTER RICHMOND

Thirteenth Regiment of New Hampshire Volunteers Lays Claim to the Honor.

FOR many years there was discussion of the claims of several bodies of Union troops for the honor of having been first into Richmond, the capital of the Confederacy, on April 3, 1865, a few hours, or possibly only an hour, after the last men of the gray had filed out of the city.

The chief claimants for the honor have been the Thirteenth regiment of New Hampshire volunteers, of which John M. Woods, former mayor of Somerville and now department commander of the Massachusetts G. A. R., was a member, and the body of colored cavalry, the Fifth Massachusetts, and that day led by Charles Francis Adams, son of the then minister to England.

There has been much said, and there was much to say, on both sides. The actual priority would seem to belong to the New Hampshire regiment, and some of the facts of the story of that great day are summarized here.

Informal Surrender.

The mayor of Richmond with some of the citizens met General Weitzel a little before seven that morning a little outside the limits of the city. To that point there had advanced a detachment of Union pickets, perhaps 60 to 70 men. Here an informal surrender took place.

Then General Weitzel and his staff proceeded into the city, followed by Lieutenant Prescott and his force of pickets, and preceded by a squad of the general's orderlies from the Fourth Massachusetts cavalry, commanded by Major A. H. Stevens. The general established his headquarters, as is well known, in the house which Jefferson Davis had made the White House of the southern states. James Ford Rhodes says that the evacuation was completed by seven in the morning, and Nicolay and Hay say that Lieutenant Prescott reached capitol square soon after that hour.

General Weitzel soon sent back an aide with orders to get the first brigade he could find and bring it in to act as a provost guard. At the same time he sent word for all the rest of the troops to remain outside the city and take possession of the inner line of Confederate defenses.

Marched Into City.

The first brigade met by the aide proved to be Gen. E. H. Ripley's brigade of Gen. Charles Devens' division of the Twenty-fourth army corps. This brigade was headed by Devens with the New Hampshire regiment to which John M. Woods belonged. They marched into the city with colors flying and bands playing and reached the capitol some time between eight and nine, on a glorious spring morning.

Meantime the second order had been sent and carried about, but somehow it failed to reach the regiment of colored cavalry which had then for several weeks been in the command of Colonel Adams. They were posted on the extreme right of the Union line, and they obeyed an earlier request from General Devens, and it was the only order of which they knew anything, that they advance into the city, and thus this colored regiment, headed by the grandson of one president and the great-grandson of another, earned for itself a share of the glory of that morning.

General Weitzel, himself in his report says:

"At daybreak I started various divisions towards Richmond. General Devens' division came up the New Market road and the cavalry, under Charles Francis Adams, Jr., came up the Darbytown and Charles City roads. I directed them all to halt at the outskirts of the city until further orders. I then rode ahead of the troops, along the Osborne Pike, and entered the city hall, where I received the surrender of the city at 8:15 a. m.

Troops Placed in Position.

"Majors Stevens and Graves had entered a little after 7 a. m. . . . I ordered in immediately after my arrival a brigade of Devens' division under General Ripley as provost guard, and ordered all the rest of the troops into position along the inner line of redoubts about the city. . . .

"The first troops to reach the city were the companies—E and H—of the Fourth Massachusetts cavalry, who were the escorts to Majors Stevens and Graves, and their guidons were the first national colors displayed over the city. Next came the pickets of the Twenty-fourth corps. After that, as I was in the city and not on the outskirts, I do not know what came, and it is a matter of dispute, both divisions claiming the credit."

Wherever the credit goes it will fall somewhere in New England, and probably upon New Hampshire for priority, and Massachusetts will have a full share.

Fooled Enlisting Officers.

They tell a tale of an amusing incident that occurred at a recruiting headquarters in Indiana, where an old man with flowing gray beard and white hair offered himself as a soldier. Of course, he was rejected. He said nothing, but, hastening to a barber shop, had his hair dyed and a clean shave. Then he came back, and, declaring his age as "rising thirty-five," was unrecognized and promptly enlisted.

Illinois Woman a Major.

Governor Yates of Illinois made the wife of Lieutenant Reynolds (Seventeenth Illinois volunteers) a major. She accompanied her husband through a long campaign, and was present at the battle of Pittsburg Landing. However, she did no fighting, and her commission was a reward for the important service she did in taking care of the wounded.

I Bought The Tractor So My Boys Could Farm
The New Way

I expect there will be as much change in a few years as there was from the old reapers to the binders.

That's what one Avery Tractor owner writes us. And within the last two years thousands of others have shown that they believe the same thing by buying Avery Tractors and Plows and changing from horse or mule farming to Tractor Farming.

Tractor Farming is coming fast. And the reasons are simple: It costs less to farm with tractors than with horses or mules. You can raise bigger crops by plowing deep and doing all your work at the right time. And it is much easier work to farm with a Tractor than with horses or mules. Turn a switch at noon or night and you are through. Avery Tractors a success on any size farm

RIOTING UNCHECKED IN MEXICAN CAPITAL

DESPERATE CONDITIONS ARE DESCRIBED IN DISPATCHES TO WASHINGTON.

REPORTS ARE SENT TO WILSON

Situation Will Be Laid Before Secretary Lansing at Once—Zapatistas Fight Desperately for Capital, Though Poorly Equipped.

Washington, July 2.—Villa headquarters issued a statement clamiing a victory of the first importance by Villa over General Obregon at Lagos, south of Agas Calientes.

El Paso, Tex., July 2.—The case against Victoriano Huerta, Pascual Orozco and four others, charged with conspiracy to violate the United States neutrality laws, was postponed to July 12. The defendants were continued under the same bonds.

Washington, July 2.—Officers of the Zapata forces in Mexico City, disregarding orders of the convention government, nominally in control there, are charged with inciting the masses to violence in dispatches carried from the Mexican capital June 25 to Vera Cruz by courier and cabled to the state department. Insubordination of "some Zapata officers" is said to be rendering the situation more acute.

Conditions in Mexico City are described as growing more chaotic.

Washington, July 2.—Desperate conditions in Mexico City, with unchecked mobs rioting and looting, are described in dispatches cabled to the United States government from Vera Cruz by a courier who left the Mexican capital a few days ago.

When the courier started, practically the entire garrison had been withdrawn to join the Zapata army on the outskirts of the city opposing the attacking Carranza forces under General Pablo Gonzales. Gonzales had been driven back with considerable loss and was waiting for re-enforcements from Vera Cruz before renewing the assault.

No mention was made of attacks on foreigners, so officials assumed they were safe. Many stores had been looted, the dispatches said, and great mobs were rioting and seizing food wherever it was to be found.

Dispatches Sent to Wilson.

The dispatches were forwarded immediately to President Wilson at Cornish, N. H., and the situation will be laid before Secretary Lansing when he returns from Amherst.

The Mexican capital has been cut off from communication with the outside world by wire and rail for 12 days.

The last previous word from there had come Monday night in dispatches from the British charge, sent by a courier who left the city June 23, two days before the departure of the messenger who brought the reports. At that time conditions were only less serious than the latest dispatches describe them.

The Zapatistas are said to have nearly 25,000 man and although poorly equipped for battle against the forces of Gonzales, which are well armed and plentifully supplied with ammunition, are preparing to fight desperately for the capital.

Other government advices stated that General Villa has removed Col. Borboa from command of the San Luis Potosi district because he threatened foreigners with a forced loan and a confiscation of mining property. The threats were reported to the state department June 23, and representations to Villa brought the reply that Borboa's removal had been ordered.

OFFER OF "EXPENSE MONEY"

Alleged Attempt to Bribe Representative Tollefson With $200 Will Be Investigated.

St. Paul, July 2.—Representative Thomas Tollefson of West Concord has conferred with C. J. Buell of St. Paul relative to an investigation by the Ramsey county grand jury of the alleged attempt to bribe Tollefson with $200 to vote for H. H. Flowers of Cleveland for speaker of the house of representatives at the last session.

After the conference it was announced Buell would place the matter within several days before Richard D. O'Brien, county attorney of Ramsey county, and a thorough injuiry would be demanded.

Tollefson declared he thought the public was entitled to know details of the offer of "expense money" offered him, he says, if he would cease supporting Sam Y. Gordon and vote for Flowers in the speakership fight. Tollefson and Buell were in consultation 45 minutes at the Buell residence. Tollefson came to Minneapolis and St. Paul to show he was willing to tell his story publicly.

Mrs. Jones Eggs Valuable To Paper

Los Anegles, July 2.—Humble mention of "Mrs. Jones bringing eggs to town" is of more value to a country newspaper than the publication of an editorial page, Herbert Cavaness, editor of the Chanute, Kan., Tribune, told delegates to the National Editorial association convention here. "If long lists of subscribers, and fat advertising contracts are the chief ends of the newspaper game," Mr. Cavaness said, no feature of a paper is of as little importance as the editorial page."

REPLY IN HANDS OF EMPEROR

GERMANY'S ANSWER LIKELY TO REACH GERARD JULY 5 OR 6.

High Officials Endeavor to Bring About Friendly Settlement of Questions With America.

Berlin, via London, July 3.—As the result of this week's conferences on drafts of the German reply to the American note it is now in the hands of Emperor William at army headquarters. The emperor's decision is expected in time so that the note can be presented to James W. Gerard, the American ambassador, probably on July 5 or 6.

High officials are endeavoring to bring about a friendly settlement of the questions with America and there is every reason to believe that they are anxious to make the proposals as conciliatory and acceptable as possible.

Reckon With Public Opinion.

These officials, however, have to reckon with the force of strong public opinion which undoubtedly will oppose anything savoring of complete acquiescence in the American proposal. This public opinion is being skilfully exploited by those who are opposed to all concessions. Friends of of a settlement are working under these circumstances with considerable difficulty and the note probably will represent a compromise not in accordance with their desires.

State Holds Thaw Insane.

New York, July 3.—The state in the Harry K. Thaw sanity trial centered its efforts on proving that Thaw was mentally unbalanced when he was deported from Canada in 1914. Two Canadian witnesses gave testimony damaging to the prisoner and left the stand with their stories unshaken after a rigid cross-examination by Thaw's chief counsel, John B. Stanchfield.

Police Inspector Harry Grioux of Ottawa declared Thaw's actions on the morning he was deported were those of a man mentally unbalanced.

London Believes Warsaw Aim.

London, July 3.—Evidently bent upon a decisive victory against the Russians, the Germans are not yet sending troops to the western front, but, assisted by their Austrian allies, are making every effort to capture the Russian Poland capital, Warsaw. Berlin claims further advances by the great Austro-German armies in Galicia, while Field Marshal von Mackensen is pushing steadily ahead between the Vistula and Bug rivers.

Artillery activity continues unabated in the Arras region of France.

HUBBY HAD NOT FORGOTTEN

Was Right There With Wedding Anniversary Present, and Yet Wifie Was Not Pleased.

It was late afternoon and time to get her husband's supper, but the woman sitting moodily by the fire never moved.

Her heart was breaking.

It was her birthday. She had been married only four years, but he—her husband—had forgotten her birthday already. That morning he had given her no present; not even an extra kiss before rushing off to town.

Presently there was the sound of a key turning in the lock. Into the room came her husband. Still she never moved.

He bent over her and whispered as he dropped a tiny parcel into her lap:

"Many happy returns, darling!"

Her heart was mended. She sprang to her feet and seized him in a frantic grasp as she realized that, after all, he still loved her. Then she opened the parcel.

"Pipe cleaners!" she gasped, as she displayed a little bundle of feathers.

"Yes, sweetheart," said the man. "I knew that they'd please you, as you object to my using your hairpins!"

Expression Misunderstood.

There is a certain young man who used to be notoriously egotistic. Some of his acquaintances were one day speaking of him before an old lady who was not "up" in the slang expressions of the day.

The next time she met him she put out a congratulatory hand.

"Oh, Mr. Smith," she cried, "I am so glad you are better! I heard last week that you had a swelled head."

O liberty, what a lot of divorces hide under thy cloak.

VICTIM OF CRUEL DECEPTION

Fair Seaside Visitor Satisfied She Had Seen Remarkable "Government Salting Apparatus."

They were passing the holiday at Onset and during the course of the sunny afternoon took a stroll on the beach. At one point they came upon an improved breakwater, where some resident had filled bags with sand and piled them in breastworks fashion to prevent the sea from encroaching upon his land during the stormy season.

One of the young ladies was curious immediately. She would know what the bags were for.

"Why, it's very simple," explained her companion with due gravity. "The water in Onset bay originally was fresh, a peculiarity of nature which has puzzled scientists. It seemed too bad to deprive the place of seashore advantages, so the government took the matter in hand, filled the bags with salt and thereby has imparted the proper flavor to Onset water."

Far from rebuking him for being "fresh," she is now telling her friends of having seen the "government salting apparatus" down there.

CATHOLICS HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

MORE THAN 1,000 FOREMOST EDUCATORS ATTEND INITIAL SESSION IN ST. PAUL.

STATE NEWS OF MINNESOTA

Interesting and Important Happenings of the Past Few Days Selected and Arranged for the Convenience of Busy Readers.

St. Paul.—With one of the most up-to-date and complete Catholic school buildings in the country as its meeting place, the Catholic Educational association opened its twelfth annual convention at the new Cathedral school.

More than 1,000 educators attended the initial session. The list includes the foremost Catholic educators of the country.

In his opening address, Bishop T. J. Shahan of Washington, D. C., president general of the association, reviewed the work of the association during the year. He said the educational work had the co-operation not only of the clergy but the Catholic people as well and as a result the year had been a successful one.

Finances Satisfactory.

Cheers greeted the reading of a letter from the apostolic delegate commending the work of the Catholic educators of the country. The treasurer general's report shows the finances of the association in a satisfactory condition.

Early day efforts of the Catholics to conduct their own schools as part of the state educational system were described by Rev. Francis T. Moran of Cleveland, Ohio. He mentioned two instances, one in Detroit, Mich., and the other in Lowell, Mass., which made a good start, he said, but later met opposition and became church schools exclusively. Father Moran reviewed the history of Catholic education in this country, declaring that the church was the pioneer in educational work in many sections.

In discussing Father Moran's paper, Brother John Waldron of Chaminade college, Clayton, Mo., explained that the Catholic Educational association is based on the co-operative good will and efforts of the different elements that enter into its composition. Its three departments of seminaries, colleges and schools serve one another, he said. The immediate education of the pastor, said Brother Waldron, is in the parochial school.

The opening session was held in the auditorium of the Cathedral school, which was crowded by clergy, sisters and laymen. Archbishop Ireland was present and followed the program with interest.

The halls and anterooms of the buildings were given over to school supply houses, which had exhibits of books and school utensils. Lunch was served in the basement by Catholic women.

Sectional meetings were held with addresses and discussions by prominent Catholic educators.

CLUB GIRLS AT ALBERT LEA

Industrial Council Opens Meeting—150 Young Ladies Representing Five States Are Assembled.

Albert Lea.—At the opening meeting of the Industrial council for club girls at Albert Lea college, 150 girls representing Minnesota, Iowa, North and South Dakota and Nebraska were assembled when Miss Clara T. Taylor of Minneapolis, field industrial secretary, called the meeting to order.

Mrs. Gertrude Kingsland, dean of Albert Lea college, made the address of welcome. All other leaders from the different states made addresses.

Five Bible classes will be conducted. The class for secretaries will be led by Mrs. Emma Byers, executive secretary of the North Central field and four classes for girls under the leadership of Miss Grace Richardson of St. Paul; Miss Dodd, Duluth; Miss Elizabeth Brainerd, Cedar Rapids, and Miss Frances M. Crittenden, city secretary for the North Central field.

Dr. W. E. J. Gratz of St. Paul will be one of the speakers at the vesper meeting each evening.

Destructive Fire at Elk River.

Elk River.—Fire destroyed the new Falk building and caused a loss of $12,000 to $15,000, fairly well covered with insurance. The fire started in the basement and a terrific explosion of gas which had formed blew off the roof and the whole building was soon in flames. The building was erected on the site of one burned last fall and was just ready for occupancy. The fire department did good work in saving adjoining buildings.

Farmers and Taxpayers Meet.

Winona.—A special meeting of the Winona County Farmers' and Taxpayers' association was held here. It had been intended at the meeting to put the association on record as favoring a change in judges from Judge Albert Johnson to Judge George W. Granger in the trial of the action of W. J. Landon, relator, against County Auditor C. W. Anding, to mandamus him to let the contracts for 100 miles of improved state highways in Winona county.

MINNESOTA BANKERS MEET

State Association Opens Annual Convention in St. Paul—Gathering on Great Lakes Next Year Proposed.

St. Paul.—The twenty-sixth annual meeting of the Minnesota Bankers' association opened in St. Paul.

A novel proposition will be submitted by George H. Richards of Minneapolis, secretary of the association, who will propose that the next annual meeting be held on board ship while the delegates are cruising the Great Lakes. Duluth had the meeting in 1913 and Minneapolis had it last year. Mr. Richards' aim is to keep this year's convention free from strife between the three cities. His suggestion is meeting favor.

A large number of delegates registered and it was expected that 800 would be mustered at the first session. A meeting of the executive council was held, at which President W. A. Willard of Mankato read his annual report. It is expected that O. W. Lundstrom of Hutchinson, will be elected president, as he is now vice-president, and that Henry Von der Weyer, of the Merchants National Bank of St. Paul will succeed to the vice-presidency.

INDUSTRY SHOWS INCREASE

Legislators in Recent Tour of Northern Minnesota Find Lumbering Second Only to Farming.

St. Paul.—Minnesota senators, representatives and state officials who recently toured Northern Minnesota, were brought face to face with the fact that the lumber industry in the state is increasing, not decreasing, as is generally supposed, and that it ranks in productiveness second only to agriculture.

While it is true that the big pineries have been quite generally cut over in the north central section, there are still great tracts of virgin pine remaining. With few exceptions this is in the interior and away from the main lines of travel.

But pine does not and never has constituted the bulk of Minnesota's forests, contrary to the general impression, and the legislators came to realize that spruce, cedar, tamarack, poplar, birch and balsam still remain in great abundance and are proving the bulwark of the lumber industry today.

Danger of Forest Fires Over.

St. Paul.—Danger of forest fires in northern Minnesota is now over until fall, according to Grover M. Conzet, inspector in the state forestry service, who was at the state capital after a visit to the districts about Northome, Kellliher, Aurora and Ely, where fires were raging until put out by the recent rains.

"An average of 3½ inches of rain has fallen in that region in two weeks, with rains almost every day," said Mr. Conzet, "and it has not only put out all the fires, but filled the swamps and drowned out peat fires.

"The swamps will stay filled through the summer and there is no danger from peat fires. All danger of forest fires is now over until fall, when the underbrush dries out."

Legislative Bribery Probe Likely.

St. Paul, Minn.—C. J. Buell of St. Paul, county option advocate, following the denouncement by him in speeches Sunday and Monday of what he declared was the nefarious influence of the liquor interests in legislative matters, has announced that he will confer with C. D. O'Brien, county attorney of Ramsey county, relative to a grand jury investigation of the attempt he says was made to bribe Representative Thomas Tollefson of Dodge county.

Mr. Tollefson over the long distance telephone announced his willingness to testify before a grand jury that $200 was offered him if he would vote for H. H. Flowers for speaker.

Seek Reversal of Indian Ruling.

Detroit.—Business men of Detroit and vicinity who are vitally interested in the government suits to invalidate the 1,300 land transfers made under the Clapp act by Chippewa Indians, will appeal from the decision of George R. O'Reilly, master in chancery, who in St. Paul sustained the government's contention in the first of the suits.

Weds Girl; Leaves for Front.

Grand Forks, N. D., July 1.—When the bugle calls at Winnipeg again it will separate Lieutenant Charles J. Dancer from his bride of two days.

Dancer, who is an officer in the 3rd Canadian contingent, that leaves for the front shortly, was married in Grand Forks to Miss Elsie D. Ward of Minneapolis. They left for Winnipeg.

Charged With Swindle Attempt.

Minneapolis, Minn.—Charged with attempting to swindle William Beyers, a Minnesota Lake farmer, of $5,000 on a fake horse race, John L. Lano and William Sherman, arrested in Chicago, will be brought here to answer trial. One other man and one woman are being sought.

Alleged Swindlers Jump Bail

Minneapolis, Minn.—Fire which de and William Sherman, alias Maxwell, wanted in Minneapolis on a charge of attempting to swindle William Beyers, a Minnesota Lake farmer, out of $5,000 or more in a fake horse race game, have jumped their bail in Chicago. This information reached the Minneapolis police department just as two detectives, armed with requisition papers, were ready to leave on the night train to bring the men back to Minneapolis.

HADN'T THOUGHT ABOUT THAT

Of Course Young Mother Could Only Reason That the Fault Must Be With the Scales.

The story is told of a young mother who, after her first baby had been born, hurried to a hardware store to purchase a pair of scales, that she might be able to keep tab on the remarkable growth of her first born.

When she got the scales home and weighed the baby for the first time the little bunch of humanity did not quite measure up to her expectations and she promptly carried them back, stating that they were not satisfactory. Asked by the storekeeper what the difficulty was, she replied:

"I think the scales are not right. My baby did not weigh as much as I think she ought to."

"Did it ever occur to you," asked the hard-hearted seller of hardware, "that the fault might be with the baby and not the scales?"

She saw the point and kept the scales.—Brockton Enterprise.

"You say in your paper," said the man who had asked to see the editor, "that Mr. and Mrs Henry Peck are enjoying a visit from Mrs. Peck's mother."

"Isn't that statement correct?" asked the editor.

Canadian Wheat to Feed the World
160 ACRE FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE
The war's fearful devastation of European crops has caused an unusual demand for grain from the American Continent. The people of the world must be fed and there is an unusual demand for Canadian wheat. Canada's invitation to every industrious American is therefore especially attractive. She wants farmers to make money and happy, prosperous homes for themselves while helping her to raise immense wheat crops.
You can get a Homestead of 160 acres FREE and other lands can be bought at remarkably low prices. Think of the money you can make with wheat at its present high prices, where for some time it is liable to continue. During many years Canadian wheat fields have averaged 20 bushels to the acre—many yields as high as 45 bushels to the acre. Wonderful crops also of Oats, Barley and Flax.
Mixed farming is fully as profitable an industry as grain raising. The excellent grasses, full of nutrition, are the only food required either for beef or dairy purposes. Good schools, markets convenient, climate excellent.
Military service is not compulsory in Canada. There is no conscription and no war tax on lands.

Taking Papa Along.

The baggage master halted the family party and politely explained that under the new law the value of the contents of each trunk must be given.

After a brief consultation with her daughter, mamma pointed to her own trunk and said: "Please put this one down as containing one thousand dollars' worth of personal belongings. This one," indicating her daughter's trunk, "you may put down for eight hundred."

"How about this little one?" asked the baggage master, resting his heel on its top.

"Oh, that!" replied the lady contemptuously. "Ten or twelve dollars will cover that one."

"I see," returned the official. "Father's going along too."

Willing.

"Did you punch the time clock as you came in?" asked the foreman.

"I did not," replied the burly workman that dares to dock me for bein' ten minutes late."

Has the creamery that paid 25 cents done poorly? It all depends on the amount of business done for the year, no matter how well it may be managed the expenses will be in proportion to the make of butter. The creameries that did a business of $30000 or less yearly, paid less that 30 cents for butterfat. Those that had a business of $50000 or more paid 30 cents and up. A hundred farmers with an average of 10 cows each, can do a business of $50 000 a year, easily, at present prices. But they must test their cows and keep only the best and sell a good grade of cream to the home creamery. Don't ship your cream away from home and have it spoil before it gets to the big creamery which is known as a centralizer. They never make better butter than seconds and thirds and by comparing the prices in any of the markets, you can easily see the home creamery can pay more for butterfat.

The centralizer has never made the dairy farmer rich and never will because they take any kind of cream no matter how old or rotten,

THE PENALTY OF CARELESSNESS

By S. W. Inglish,
Fire Prevention Expert.

Every time you hear the cry of "Fire!" you can be almost absolutely safe in thinking that someone has been careless. Fires don't happen. They are the inevitable result of combinations of preventable things. When analyzed to the last equation it will be found that carelessness is the root whence spring nearly all fires.

What a penalty industry pays to carelessness! Fire is the great destroyer. The wealth of a generation can be wiped out in but a brief hour.

Why not fight fires before they start? Why not so conduct your habits and so keep your premises that when the fire demon wants to offer your savings as a sacrifice he will pass you by, just as those of Egypt of old were passed over when the sign they had been told to place over their doors, were seen?

Too often when those who are responsible from fire cry out they are the victims of bad luck, they are but paying the natural penalty for their own carelessness.

If you want to keep down your fire insurance rates, wage eternal warfare against those things that ever breed fires

RURAL SCHOOL TERM SHOULD BE EXTENDED

By P. P. Claxton,
U. S. Commissioner of Education.

In most States school days for country children are fewer than for city children. The average length of school term in cities of the United States is one hundred and eighty-five days; in rural communities one hundred and thirty-eight days, a difference of forty-seven days. In some States the difference is much greater than this average. In many counties the average length of the rural school term is less than one hundred days, and in some districts it is less. On the other hand, in the States of California, New York and Connecticut, the country schools are in session one hundred and eighty days in a year, and in several other States almost as long. The country schools of Rhode Island are in session one hundred and ninety days in a year.

If all children are to have an equal opportunity for education we must even up the school terms of the country and give to all country children at least as many days as are now given to city children. One hundred and eighty-five days of schooling a year for all children will not be too much. There are countries in which the schools, both for city and country, are in session from two hundred and twenty to two hundred and fifty days or more in the year. American children need as much education as those of any other country, and this applies to the rural as well as urban districts.

AN AGRICULTURAL COUNCIL

By T. N. Carver,
Professor of Economics, Harvard University.

Every city has its chamber of commerce or its Board of Trade. The purpose of such an organization is to study economic and business opportunities of the city and promote enterprises which will help to build the city. Does any one know of a good and sufficient reason why every rural neighborhood ought not have a similar organization?

In Germany they already have such organizations They are generally called the "landwirthschaftsrath" or agricultural council. Some students ot the problem of rural organization are strongly of the opinion that such an agricultural council is necessary before much can be done for the bettering of rural credit or the marketing of farm produce. There is no object, for example, in having more capital in a farming neighborhood unless the farmers know without any guess-work just how to use that capital so as to increase the production and the profit of their farms. If all the leading farmers of a neighborhood would lay their heads together and talk over the situation and study the opportunities for new investment, they would be less likely to make mistakes than if they work secretly, as separate individuals.

CIVILIZATION'S GREATEST TRAGEDY.

Extract from article by W. D. Lewis, president Texas Farmers' Union, opposing woman's suffrage:

"We are willing to join in every effort to elevate woman but will assist in none to drag her down. The descent of womanhood is the most awful tragedy in civilization. As she sinks she may, like the setting sun, tint the horizon wtih the rays of her departing glory. She may tenderly kiss the mountain tops of her achievement farewell; she may, like the sinking sun, allure the populace with her beauty as she disappears for the night but when she steps downward, the earth is as certain to tremble and plunge into darkness as death is to follow life.

A Terrible Tragedy

The sad news reached here Monday night that Miss Alma Gutterud had been murdered on a farm near Park River N. D. where she had been working for some time. We learn from The Grand Forks Herald the facts as briefly stated below: T. G. Moi aged 48 of Bemidji Minn. who was employed on the same farm killed the girl Sunday afternoon in a fit of insane jealously. The girl had been struck twice on the head with a blunt instrument, fracturing the skull and then was shot in the left temple. Moi then shot himself in the temple and the bodies were found by another farm hand who reached home about five o'clock the same afternoon.

The remains were brot back for burial, and the funeral was held Wednesday afternoon at the home church, Rev. Bjorson conducting the services. This young and beautiful girl so suddenly and tragically severed from this life, shocked the whole community, and fills the hearts of the people with sorrow. Heart felt sympathy is extended to the bereaved mother and family.

The annual school meeting for district No. 35 will be held in the new school house at 7 o'clock Saturday evening July 17th for the election of a treasurer to succeed Chris Saastad whose term will expire, to fix the treasurers salary and transact a lot of other business.

The ladies of the town met in a body at the restaurant Monday evening and marched to the D. Payne residence with well filled lunch baskets where they gave the good lady of the house the surprise of her life. The party was in honor of Mrs. Paynes birthday and the ladies gave her a nice present as a reminder of the occasion.

Several from Holt went out to the Ole Hall school house Sunday afternoon to listen to the program given by Mr. Strom's Norwegian schools. The Sunday School from here attended in a body and gave two or three selections on the program. We were enabled to attend thru the kindness of P. L. Anderson, and enjoyed a pleasant afternoon. The ladies aid of that vicinity served a fine picnic lunch and cold lemonade to the good sized crowd in attendance, which was greatly enjoyed by all. These same ladies also provided the funds for conducting the school and we are sure their work is greatly appreciated, as it should be.

I Bought The Tractor So My Boys Could Farm
The New Way

I expect there will be as much change in a few years as there was from the old reapers to the binders.

That's what one Avery Tractor owner writes us. And within the last two years thousands of others have shown that they believe the same thing by buying Avery Tractors and Plows and changing from horse or mule farming to Tractor Farming.

Tractor Farming is coming fast. And the reasons are simple: It costs less to farm with tractors than with horses or mules. You can raise bigger crops by plowing deep and doing all your work at the right time. And it is much easier work to farm with a Tractor than with horses or mules. Turn a switch at noon or night and you are through. Avery Tractors a success on any size farm

BIG INCREASE OF FARM PRODUCTS

Province of Alberta Shows Increase of Over 20 Millions.

Figures just compiled by the publicity branch of the provincial department show that last year, notwithstanding that quite a third of the province was affected by the drought to a very serious extent, the total value of agricultural products actually produced in the province showed an increase of over twenty million dollars over that of the previous year. Although southern Alberta had a bad year agriculturally, the province as a whole experienced a period of great prosperity, due principally to mixed farming, which is becoming more general with each succeeding year.

The value of mixed farming, in fact, was never better illustrated than last year as the value of the animals slaughtered and sold alone equaled the value of the spring wheat crop, without taking into consideration the value of the butter, milk, cheese, poultry, vegetables, and other by-products of the farm.

Oats was the banner grain crop, 1,147,382 acres being seeded, and producing 34,397,117 bushels, or 30.15 to the acre. Sold at an average of 50c per bushel, these yielded a revenue of $17,198,558. Comparatively little winter wheat was produced, the yield being a little short of one million bushels, but the spring wheat crop amounted to 15,102,083 bushels, the yield per acre being 15.26. At an average of $1.35 per bushel, the value of the spring wheat crop was therefore $20,387,812. The total production of barley was 7,847,640 bushels, which, at 55c per bushel, yielded a revenue of $4,316,202.

Other productions were as follows: Flax, 207,115 bushels, $310,672.00; rye, 261,843 bushels, $196,392.00; speltz, 42,707 bushels, $32,030.00; hay, 200,000 tons, $2,500,000; potatoes, four million bushels. $3,000,000; turnips, three million bushels, $750,000; carrots, 360,000 bushels, $180,000; mangolds, 640,000 bushels, $320,000; animals slaughtered and sold $20,000,000; butter and cheese, $1,500,000; milk, $3,000,000; wool clip, 1,300,000 pounds, $100,000; fish, $195,000; game and furs, $600,000; horticultural products, $150,000; poultry and products, $2,650,000.

The total of the agricultural products is given as $78,516,891, as compared with $58,098,084 in 1913.

The statistics also show that the value of the live stock in the province at the end of the year was $110,044,630, this being an increase of $7,762,845 over the previous year. There were 609,125 horses, 750,789 swine, 501,188 sheep, 192,905 dairy cows, 165,035 other cows, 190,923 beef cattle and 533,020 other cattle.—Advertisement.

GERMAN ADVANCE ON LUBLIN HALTED

PETROGRAD REPORTS GRAND DUKE'S ARMIES CHECK TEUTONS' DRIVE.

SLAVS ASSUME OFFENSIVE

Force Mackensen's Troops Back on Wide Front—Reported Turkish Delegates En Route to Switzerland to Propose Peace With Allies.

Sofia, July 12.—The newspaper Mir asserts that two Turkish delegates are en route to Switzerland to attempt to reach terms for peace with the Allies.

Petrograd, July 12.—The grand duke's armies not only have halted the Austro-German advance on Lublin, but have taken the offensive and are driving Mackensen back on a wide front extending from the mouth of the River Podlip to south of Bykhawa, the war office has just announced.

"In the fighting around the village of Wilkokazorn alone we have taken 15,000 prisoners," it was announced. "The enemy continues to retreat, resisting obstinately the pressure of our advance guards.

Enemy Attacks Fail.

"The enemy attacked fruitlessly our positions at the village of Kouptche, on the Bug river, leaving 500 dead and wounded before our trenches. Elsewhere along the Bug and along the Zlota river our patrols reconnoitering along this front have captured hundreds in Galicia. The enemy has ceased his attacks."

The official dispatches brought word of fighting on several fronts in Poland west and north of Warsaw.

"Below the fortress of Ossowetz," said the official statement, "the Germans attempted to bridge the Bobri river. Our artillery destroyed the enemy's pontoons and forced the Germans to withdraw. In the direction of Bolimow, particularly near the village of Goumine, the enemy gas attacks failed along the entire front. In the Pisa valley we captured a German aeroplane."

BANDITS HOLD UP TRAIN SECURE $200,000 IN LOOT.

Louisville, Ky., July 12.—That the quartet of bandits who held up the Louisville & Nashville road's New York-New Orleans passen train near Greenville, Ala., frightening Conductor Phil McRae to death, obtained a package of currency consigned to a bank at Houston, Texas; bound the mail clerk and tossed him into the weeds beside the roadbed, and rifled the mail, was the gist of the report to the general manager of the road. The package of currency is said to have been consigned via express.

Reports to the general manager's office said the bandits devoted most of their attention to the mail compartment, as many pieces of mail were found scattered about the car and on the ground nearby. The postal loss has not been estimated.

There was no means of confirming here stories of passengers that the train carried $200,000 in currency, but efforts are being made to learn the exact amount.

Members of the train crew confirmed that McRae, who was old in the service of the road, died of an apoplectic stroke induced by the shock of the raid.

Usual Mid-Year Lull Absent.

New York, July 12.—Dun's has the following to say:

"Uniform progress is not to be expected at this period, when inventorying and the advance of the vacation season tend to produce quietness in various mercantile lines. It is significant of the economic changes resulting from the war, however, that industrial conditions do not reflect the usual mid-year lull, and all indications point to fully sustained activity throughout the summer months."

GERMANY'S NOTE FAILS TO SATISFY; TO CONTINUE SUBMARINE METHODS

Gives No Disavowal of Acts of Which America Complained Immediately After Destruction of Lusitania--Keen Disappointment Felt at Washington Over Press Dispatches.

Washington, July 10.—While the German reply to the United States government against submarine warfare upon merchant vessels bearing noncombatants has not been received by the state department, the text of the note, as contained in press dispatches is before administration officials. No attempt is made to conceal the intense disappointment felt over the failure of Germany to comply with the demands of President Wilson immediately after the destruction of the Lusitania by a German submarine. These demands were:

1—Disavowal of the acts of which the government of the U. S. complained.

2—Reparation so far as reparation is possible for "injuries which are without measure."

3—Immediate steps to prevent the recurrence of anything so obviously subversive of the principles of warfare.

Germany has given no disavowal and has offered no reparation. Instead of taking immediate steps to cease the submarine methods to which this government emphatically objected, she has made counter proposals which it is said cannot possibly be accepted by the American government.

Intends to Continue Submarine Warfare.

The big fact stands out from the German response that the Kaiser's government intends to continue submarine warfare irrespective of the protests of the United States. Thus the country is again, it is feared, facing the issue of broken relations with the German empire.

Unaware of the attitude which the President will adopt officials in Washington are not in a position to throw light upon the character of the reply he will make to the German note.

Text of German Note.

Berlin, via London, July 10.—The text of the German note follows:

"Berlin, July 8.—The undersigned has the honor to make the following reply to his excellency, Ambassador Gerard, to the note of the 10th ultimo, re the impairment of American interests by the German submarine war. The imperial government learned with satisfaction from the note how earnestly the government of the United States is concerned in seeing the principles of humanity realized in the present war. Also this appeal finds ready echo in Germany and the imperial government is quite willing to permit its statements and decisions in the present case to be governed by the principles of humanity just as it has done always.

Recalls Principles of Humanity.

"The imperial government welcomed with gratitude when the American government, in the note of May 15, itself recalled that Germany had always permitted itself to be governed by the principles of progress and humanity in dealing with the law of maritime war. Since the time when Frederick the Great negotiated with John Adams, Benjamin Franklin and Thomas Jefferson the treaty of friendship and commerce of September 9, 1785, between Prussia and the republic of the west, German and American statesmen have, in fact, always stood together in the struggle for the freedom of the seas and for the protection of peaceable trade. In the international proceedings which since have been conducted for the regulation of the laws of maritime war, Germany and America have jointly advocated progressive principles, especially the abolishment of the right to capture at sea and the protection of the interests of neutrals.

Would Spare Enemy Civilians.

"Even at the beginning of the present war, the German government immediately declared its willingness, in response to proposals of the American government, to ratify the Declaration of London and thereby subject itself in the use of its naval forces to all the restrictions provided therein in favor of neutrals. Germany likewise has been always tenacious of the principle that war should be conducted against the armed and organized forces of an enemy country, but that the enemy civilian population must be spared as far as possible from the measures of war. The imperial government cherishes the definite hope that some way will be found, when peace is concluded, or perhaps earlier, to regulate the law of maritime war in a manner guaranteeing the freedom of the seas, and will welcome it with gratitude and satisfaction if it can work hand in hand with the American government on that occasion.

Germany Disclaims Guilt.

"If in the present war the principles which should be the ideal of the future, have been traversed more and more, the longer its duration, the German government has no guilt therein. It is known to the American government how Germany's adversaries, by completely paralyzing peaceful traffic between Germany and neutral countries, have aimed from the very beginning and with increasing lack of consideration at its destruction, not so much of the armed forces as the life of the German nation, repudiating in doing so all the rules of international law and disregarding the rights of neutrals.

Puts Blame On England.

"On November 3, 1914, England declared the North sea a war area and by planting poorly anchored mines and by the stoppage and capture of vessels made passage extremely dangerous and difficult for neutral shipping, so (by?) that actually blockading neutral coasts and ports contrary to all international law. Long before the beginning of submarine war, England practically completely intercepted legitimate neutral navigation to Germany also. Thus Germany was driven to a submarine war on trade.

Prevents Food Reaching Germany.

"On November 14, 1914, the English premier declared in the house of commons that it was one of England's principal tasks to prevent food for the German population from reaching Germany via neutral ports. Since March 1st England has been taking from neutral ships, without further formality, all merchandise proceeding to Germany as well as all merchandise coming from Germany, even when neutral property. Just as it was also with the Boers, the German people is now to be given the choice of perishing from starvation with its women and children or of relinquishing its independence.

EMPEROR WILLIAM

Calls Submarine Warfare Necessary.

"While our enemies thus loudly and openly proclaimed war without mercy until our utter destruction, we were conducting a war in self-defense for our national existence and for the sake of peace of an assured permanency. We have been obliged to adopt a submarine warfare to meet the declared intentions of our enemies and the method of warfare adopted by them in contravention of international law.

Recognizes Neutrals May Suffer.

"With all its efforts in principle to protect neutral life and property from damage as much as possible, the German government recognizes unreservedly in its memorandum of February 4 that the interests of neutrals might suffer from the submarine warfare. However, the American government will also understand and appreciate that in the fight for existence which has been forced upon Germany by its adversaries and announced by them, it is the sacred duty of the imperial government to do all within its power to protect and save the lives of German subjects. If the imperial government were derelict in these, its duties, it would be guilty before God and history of the violation of those principles of highest humanity which are the foundation of every national existence.

Lusitania Tragedy England's Fault?

"The case of the Lusitania shows with horrible clearness to what jeopardizing of human lives the manner of conducting war employed by our adversaries leads. In the most direct contradiction of international law, all distinctions between merchantmen and war vessels have been obliterated by the order to British merchantmen to arm themselves and to ram submarines, and the promise of rewards therefor, and neutrals who use merchantmen as travelers thereby have been exposed in an increasing degree to all the dangers of war.

Might Have Destroyed Submarine.

"If the commander of the German submarine which destroyed the Lusitania had caused the crew and passengers to take to the boats before firing the torpedo, this would have meant the sure destruction of his own vessel. After the experience in sinking much smaller and less seaworthy vessels, it was to be expected that a mighty ship like the Lusitania would remain above water long enough even after the torpedoing to permit passengers to enter the ship's boats. Circumstances of a very peculiar kind, especially the presence on board of large quantities of highly explosive materials, defeated this expectation. In addition, it may be pointed out that if the Lusitania had been spared, thousands of cases of munitions would have been sent to Germany's enemies and thereby thousands of German mothers and children robbed of bread winners.

Americans in Neutral Ships Safe.

"In the spirt of friendship wherewith the German nation has been imbued toward the Union and its inhabitants since the earliest days of its existence, the imperial government will always be ready to do all it can during the present war also to prevent the jeopardizing of lives of American citizens. The imperial government, therefore, repeats the assurance that American ships will not be hindered in the prosecution of legitimate shipping and the lives of American citizens in neutral vessels shall not be placed in jeopardy.

Special Markings for Steamers.

"In order to exclude any unforeseen dangers to American passenger steamers, made possible in view of the conduct of maritime war by Germany's adversaries, German submarines will be instructed to permit the free and safe passage of such passenger steamers when made recognizable by special markings and notified a reasonable time in advance. The imperial government, however, confidently hopes that the American government will assume to guarantee that these vessels have no contraband on board, details of arrangement for the unhampered passage of these vessels to be agreed upon by the naval authorities on both sides.

"In order to furnish adequate facilities for travel across the Atlantic for American citizens, the German government submits for consideration a proposal to increase the number of available steamers by installing in passenger service a reasonable number of neutral steamers under the American flag, the exact number to be agreed upon under the same condition as the above mentioned American steamers.

Adequate Facilities Promised.

"The imperial government believes it can assume that in this manner adequate facilities for travel across the Atlantic can be afforded American citizens. There would, therefore, appear to be no compelling necessity for American citizens to travel in Europe in time of war on ships carrying an enemy flag. In particular, the imperial government is unable to admit that American citizens can protect an enemy ship through the mere fact of their presence on board.

"Germany merely followed England's example when she declared part of the high seas an area of war. Consequently, accidents suffered by neutrals on enemy ships in this area of war cannot well be judged differently from accidents to which neutrals are at all times exposed at the seat of war on land when they betake themselves into dangerous localities in spite of previous warnings. If, however, it should not be possible for the American government to require an adequate number of neutral passenger steamers, the imperial government is prepared to interpose no objections to the placing under the American flag by the American government of four enemy passenger steamers for passenger traffic between North America and England. Assurances of 'free and safe' passage for American passenger steamers would extend to apply under the identical pro-conditions to these formerly hostile passenger steamers.

Hopes for Understanding.

"The President of the United States has declared his readiness, in a way deserving of thanks, to communicate and suggest proposals to the government of Great Britain with particular reference to the alteration of maritime war. The imperial government will always be glad to make use of the good offices of the President and hopes that his efforts in the present case, as well as in the direction of the lofty ideal of the freedom of the seas, will lead to an understanding.

"The undersigned requests the ambassador to bring the above to the knowledge of the American government and avails himself of the opportunity to renew to his excellency the assurance of his most distinguished consideration.

(Signed) "VON JAGOW."

COULD NOT STAND ON FEET

Mrs. Baker So Weak—Could Not Do Her Work—Found Relief In Novel Way.

Adrian, Mich.—"I suffered terribly with female weakness and backache and got so weak that I could hardly do my work. When I washed my dishes I had to sit down and when I would sweep the floor I would get so weak that I would have to get a drink every few minutes, and before I did my dusting I would have to lie down. I got so poorly that my folks thought I was going into consumption. One day I found a piece of paper blowing around the yard and I picked it up and read it. It said 'Saved from the Grave,' and told what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for women. I showed it to my husband and he said, 'Why don't you try it?' So I did, and after I had taken two bottles I felt better and I said to my husband, 'I don't need any more,' and he said 'You had better take it a little longer anyway.' So I took it for three months and got well and strong."—Mrs. ALONZO E. BAKER, 9 Tecumseh St., Adrian, Mich.

The Effects of Opiates.

THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotic, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the cells which are likely to become permanent, causing imbecility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying powers are a result of dosing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then if unavoidable.

The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrups and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly decried, and the druggist should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to dose them willfully with narcotics.

Castoria contains no narcotics if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

His Own Fault.

There had been an accident on the worst railroad in the United States. You know the name of the road as well as I do, so what's the use of risking a libel suit by mentioning it?"

The sole survivor of the wreck was sitting up in his hospital cot swathed in bandages. "I suppose you're going to sue the company for damages," said the friend at his bedside.

"No," said the damaged one, "I shall do nothing of the kind."

"Why not? You've certainly got a clear case against them."

"Clear case, nothing! Any intelligent jury in the world would bring in a verdict of contributory negligence. I ought to have known better than to travel on the blamed line."

The Real Thing.

The furniture man drove up to the door, and the new extension diningroom table was carried in.

Little Willie stood watching as his father and mother, one at each end, pulled the table apart. His eyes grew big as his father put one board after another in place until the table was double its original length.

"Gee!" said Willie at last. "I always thought addition tables was only something in the arithmetic book."

"How you mean, all guesswork? Ain't he seen wat's goin' on?"

"Sure he seen what's goin' on, but dat don't make it right. Here's de way it oughta be done, Hen. De umpire oughta hab a photograph man wid him, to make a picture of every play, and when he wasn't sure if de player wuz out or not, postpone his decision till he saw de photograph."

Delicate Ground.

"What is to be the subject of your graduating essay, Clarice?"

"'Beyond the Alps Lies Italy.' Do you think I could venture to use that?"

"Why not? It has been used before with a modicum of success."

"I know, but things are so tangled just now. Would it seem to indicate a disregard of the requirements of strict neutrality, think you?"—Puck.

Would Waste Nothing.

A woman was engaging a cook, and, having almost brought the interview to a successful termination, said:

"There is one thing, Mary; I do hope you are not wasteful."

"Wasteful, mum! Why, Lor' bless you, I'd eat till I busted rather than waste anything."

Corn on the Cob —the Roasting Ear

Is not more delicious than the

New Post Toasties

In the growth of corn there is a period when the kernels are plumped out with a vegetable milk, most nutritious (roasting ears). As it slowly ripens this hardens and finally becomes almost flinty.

This nutritious part of the corn is cooked, seasoned, rolled thin, and toasted by a new process which enhances the true corn flavour.

Different from ordinary corn flakes, the New Post Toasties have a distinctive form and flavour; and they keep their appetizing crispness, even after cream or milk is added.

These Superior Corn Flakes come oven-fresh in tight wax-sealed packages; and they cost no more than ordinary "corn flakes." Insist upon having

PLAN TO RECLAIM MINNESOTA LANDS

STATE MAY SPEND $250,000 FOR IMPROVEMENTS—COMMITTEE TO ADVANCE AMENDMENT.

STATE NEWS OF MINNESOTA

Interesting and Important Happenings of the Past Few Days Selected and Arranged for the Convenience of Busy Readers.

St. Paul.—Minnesota will approve a plan to spend $250,000 for improving and reclaiming state lands if the proper advertising is given the plan. This is the belief of the committee appointed by Charles T. Kelly, president of the Northern Minnesota Development association, to promote the passage at the 1916 election of the revolving fund amendment.

The committee members held their first session at The Saint Paul. They are Senator Patrick H. McGarry, Walker; Senator Leonard H. Nord, International Falls; State Auditor Preus, St. Paul; A. A. D. Rahn, Minneapolis lumberman; L. B. Arnold, Duluth, land commissioner D., M. & N. railroad, and former Senator John Moonan, Waseca.

Would Be Perpetual Grant.

Under this amendment, which provides for the setting aside of a fund of $250,000 from the money derived from the sale of state lands, certain tracts would be cleared and drained each year and suitable roads built. Then when the property is sold the cost of these improvements would be added to the purchase price and turned back into the fund, which thus would be a perpetual grant.

Secretary of State Schmahl has promised to give the amendment first place on the amendment ballot. Last year, although not advertised, a similar amendment came within 12,000 votes of obtaining the required majority of all ballots cast at the general election.

The committee hopes to raise a substantial fund for a campaign of education.

Northfield Has Building Boom.

Northfield.—Work has been started here this summer on buildings that will cost more than $250,000. Carleton college is erecting two new buildings, a men's dormitory, costing $110,000, and the Skinner memorial chapel, costing $110,000. An armory for Company D, Second regiment, M. N. G., will be completed in October, costing $17,000. St. Olaf college is building an addition to Hoyme chapel to cost $5,000. New residences are going up, including two homes which will cost $10,000 each.

Wolves Chase Automobile.

St. Paul.—A. J. Krank, chairman of the local division of the Association of Commerce, says that while returning in his automobile from Shakopee he was chased by twelve large timber wolves.

Mr. Krank declares the wolves tried to jump into the tonneau of the car, occupied by his wife and children, and pursued the automobile for several miles.

Farmer Commits Suicide.

Arlington.—Gunder Torgeson, a farmer living in Sibley township, committed suicide by shooting himself through the heart with a shotgun. His body was found in a pasture. Sickness and worry are ascribed as the cause of the suicide. He was married, was about 40 years of age, and was the owner of a fine home.

New Record for Murder Trial.

Winona.—A new record was established in this judicial district for a murder trial when in six hours all of the evidence had been submitted in the trial of Madeline Wermerskirsch, Plainview girl, charged with the murder of her infant daughter January 23 last. The trial was held at Wabasha before Judge Albert Johnson, Red Wing.

Faribault.—When four drunken men were put off of a Dan Patch train running from Mankato to Faribault, one of them threw a stone through the car window. The missile struck George Hoerger of this city, a passenger, and made a severe wound on the side of his head. The men escaped.

Window Falls; Child's Neck Broken.

Arlington.—The 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ortloff, living about three miles south of Glencoe, tried to enter a chicken house through an open window. The window, not being securely fastened, fell and struck him with such force as to break his neck.

Three Hurt; One May Die.

Minneapolis, Minn. One man is expected to die, two others were seriously injured and a dozen persons experienced narrow escapes in a series of automobile accidents on Minneapolis' official Fourth of July.

Adolph Galiop, a resident of Minnitrista township, is at the point of death in the hospital at Watertown Carver county, suffering from injuries received when he was run over by the automobile of Edward Swanson, a liveryman of that place.

MILL CITY WANTS SHRINERS

Minneapolis Will Be Chosen as 1916 Meeting Place of Imperial Council, is Belief.

Minneapolis, Minn.—Although no active campaign will be made, it is believed Minneapolis will be chosen as the 1916 meeting place of the Imperial Council of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine at the convention in Seattle next week.

Many of the nobles who will attend the Seattle council have passed through Minneapolis on their way to Seattle and many of them have been entertained here by the Zuhrah temple. All of them, it is said, have offered to lend their support towards making this city the next convention city. According to members of the entertainment committee of Zuhrah nearly all of the nobles here for the first time have been more than favorably impressed with the city and would like to come here next year. The central location is said to be another thing in the favor of Minneapolis. Last year the meet was in Atlanta, Ga.

The Imperial Council of the Shrine brings about 100,000 persons to the city. To care for this large number would be more than the Minneapolis temple could handle alone, but the Civic & Commerce association has offered to assist.

HAMMOND INCREASES STAFF

Adds Eight New Members Who Will Accompany Him On Western Trip July 14.

St. Paul, Minn.—When Governor Hammond leaves July 14 on his western trip, which will include a visit to Glacier park and the Panama exposition, he will be guarded by the largest staff ever commanded by a governor of Minnesota. If they all go he will be convoyed by more than 25 goldlaced officers and orderlies.

Governor Hammond has added eight new members to his staff, making fully a dozen new officers so far. They are:

Aides-de-camp, Major Myron W. Hingeley, Floodwood; Major John L. Loy, Red Wing; Colonel V. E. Stolbrand, Faribault; Colonel J. G. Thaung, St. Paul; Colonel William H. Egan, St. Paul; Major John F. Murphy, St. Paul; Col. John J. Windrum, Minneapolis.

Assistant quartermaster general, Major Harry E. Boyle, Lake Benton.

U. S. Sues "14 Quarts and Auto."

Fergus Falls.—That men who take liquor into the Indian country by automobile are likely to lose both the liquor and their automobiles was demonstrated when a suit entitled "The United States of America vs. Fourteen Quarts of Whiskey and One Automobile" was begun here in federal court.

The complaint alleges that on June 26, 14 quarts of whiskey were brought from Moorhead to Waubun, which is in the Indian country, in a one-seated automobile, the license number of which was 74,061, and that the car was owned by W. J. Vsetch; that both whiskey and machine were seized by Special Government Agent Edward Belland and turned over to Deputy Marshal L. W. Carson at Detroit.

United States District Attorney Jacques asks that the court issue an order for the sale of the automobile and the whiskey, as provided by law. It is understood also that one-half the proceeds of such sales goes to the persons giving the information.

St. Louis Park Wins 2-Year Fight.

St. Louis Park.—Residents of St. Louis Park won a two-year fight against the City Quarantine hospital when the council committee on health and hospitals decided to transfer the building and land to the Board of Correction, together with the amount allowed for the balance of this year for maintaining the institution.

Mayor Nye, who is a member of both bodies, said he expected the offer would be accepted by the Board of Charities and Correction at its meeting and hereafter smallpox patients would be under supervision of this board instead of the health department.

St. Paul Publisher Dies.

St. Paul.—After an illness of six weeks, Edward A. Webb, president of the Webb Publishing company, died at his home. Never possessed of rugged health, Mr. Webb was able to attend to his business activities until about six weeks ago, when an oft-recurring disaffection of the heart compelled retirement.

Charge Evasion of New Law.

St. James.—The legality of the action of the St. James city council in canceling liquor licenses and issuing new ones just before the Watonwan county option election is being tested in injunction proceedings brought by the "drys" of St. James, which will be heard in Mankato. It is contended that this action, which has been taken in several other places, is an evasion of the terms of the county option law, which provides that no new licenses shall be issued after a county has voted "dry."

Girls' Camps.

The American girl, while she does not aspire to large muscles, or the athletic records of boys, is coming forward in these days to demand as her right physical training that will send her out into life with an endowment of health sufficient to meet its demands.

Dr. D. A. Sargent, director of the Harvard gymnasium, tell us that some twenty or thirty years ago he had occasion to make a physical examination of professional athletes. "Nearly every one of these men," he says, "who had become especially distinguished, attributed his ability to his mother's fine physique." Without comment upon this unanswerable argument for the health education of women, he adds another: "Although women constitute one-half of the human race and are largely responsible for its upbuilding, they have a right to a health education for their own sakes."

WHY FAMOUS PASTRY COOKS USE KC BAKING POWDER

The patrons of our first class hotels and restaurants are exacting—they demand the best. Women go where the pastry and cakes are noted for their excellence. Men are attracted by hot bread and biscuits—when fresh and moist and light.

The pastry cook with a reputation uses K C Baking Powder because he knows that results are certain; every time everything is as good as his best.

Then, too, with K C Baking Powder he can mix the various kinds of batter before the rush of the meal begins and bake as needed so that every order goes to the table fresh and hot, yet the last he bakes are just as good as the first.

The reasons behind these reasons is that K C is really a blend of two baking powders. One commences to give off leavening gas as soon as moistened. The other requires both moisture and heat to make it active. Dough or batter will remain in a partially leavened condition for hours, and when put in the oven, will come up as light as if mixed a moment before.

For cookies, pancakes, doughnuts and the like, which cannot all be baked at once, K C is indispensable. For all baking the double raise makes doubly certain.

Follow the example of the professional cook and your baking will be equal to his.

KNOW THY COUNTRY

I—Introductory

"Know America" is a slogan that should ring out from every school room, office, farm and shop in this nation. No man can aspire to a higher honor than to become a capable citizen, and no one can merit so distinguished a title until he is well informed of the resources, possibilities and achievements of our country.

This is a commercial age and civilization is bearing its most golden fruit in America. We are noted for our industrial achievements as Egypt was noted for her pyramids; Jerusalem for her religion; Greece for her art; Phoenicia for her fleets; Chaldea for her astronomy and Rome for her laws. Likewise we have men who will go down in the world's history as powerful products of their age. For, standing at the source of every gigantic movement that sways civilization is a great man. The greatest minds travel in the greatest direction and the commercial geniuses of this age would have been the sculptors, poets, philosophers, architects, and artists of earlier civilizations.

As Michael Angelo took a rock and with a chisel hewed it into the image of an angel that ever beckons mankind upward and onward, Hill took the desert of the Northwest and with bands of steel made it blossom like a rose, dotted the valleys with happy homes and built cities in waste places. As Guttenberg took blocks of wood and whittled them into an alphabet and made a printing press that flashed education across the continent like a ray of light upon a new born world, McCormick took a bar of iron and bent it into a reaper and with one sweep of his magic mind broke the shackles that enslaved labor of generations yet unborn, and gave mankind freedom from drudgery, and lifted the human race into a higher zone of life.

As Nelson organized the English navy and made England mistress of the sea, enabling the British Isles to plant her flag upon every continent washed by the ocean's waves, and to make footstools of the Islands of every water, Morgan organized a banking system that has made America master of the world's finances, brought Kings to our cashier's windows, the nations of the earth to our discount desks and placed under the industries of this nation a financial system as solid as the Rock of Gibraltar.

There is no study quite so interesting as progress; no sound so magic as the roar of industry and no sight so inspiring as civilization in action. A full realization of America's part in the great events of the world past, present and future will thrill every human heart with pride, patriotism and faith in Republican institutions.

Through the courtesy of the Agricultural and Commercial Press Service, the readers of this paper will be permitted to study America; her agricultural, manufacturing and mineral development, mercantile, banking and transportation systems which are the wonder of the world. The first article of the series will deal with transportation and will appear at an early date.

Has the creamery that paid 25 cents done poorly? It all depends on the amount of business done for the year, no matter how well it may be managed the expenses will be in proportion to the make of butter.

The creameries that did a business of $30000 or less yearly, paid less that 30 cents for butterfat. Those that had a business of $50000 or more paid 30 cents and up. A hundred farmers with an average of 10 cows each, can do a business of $50 000 a year, easily, at present prices. But they must test their cows and keep only the best and sell a good grade of cream to the home creamery. Don't ship yont cream away from home and have it spoil before it gets to the big creamery which is known as a centralizer. They never make better butter than seconds and thirds and by comparing the prices in any of the markets, you can easily see the home creamery can pay more for butterfat.

THE BATTLE OF THE TIRES

(Agricultural and Commercial Press Service)

It is interesting to watch the forces of civilization battling for supremacy. The struggle now going on between the rubber and the iron tire promises to be the liveliest contest of the Twentieth Century.

The struggle is a silent one and there are no war correspondents to write vivid descriptions of the conflict but the results are more far-reaching to present and future generations than the war of Europe.

The rubber tire has been maneuvering for point of attack for several years and has captured a few unimportant positions in traffic, but it has now pitched a decisive battle with its iron competitor by hurling a million "jitneys" at the street railways and the battle is raging from ocean to ocean. Upon the result of the struggle depends the future of the rubber tire. If it is compelled to retreat, its doom is sealed, but if it wins the battle it will revolutionize the transportation methods of this nation.

If the rubber tire conquers the street traffic its next struggle is with the railroads of the country, and then the greatest battle between economic forces ever fought out on the face of this earth is on, for iron is the undisputed master in transportation, and is fortified behind billions of dollars, and millions of men.

Stephenson applied the steel tire to an iron rail in 1814, but it was 1869 before the golden spike was driven at Promontory Point, which bound the country together with bands of steel. It took the iron tire fifty-five years to creep from ocean to ocean, but the rubber tire while warm from the creative mind of the inventive genius sped across the continent like an arrow shot from the bow of Ulysses. The roadbed was already prepared and therein lies the power of the rubber tire over that of iron, for government builds and maintains the public highway.

But iron is a stubborn metal and it has mastered every wheel that turns; has fought battles with every element above and beneath the earth and has never tasted the wormwood of defeat, and when rubber hurls its full force against this monarch of the Mineral Kingdom, it may rebound to the factory stunned beyond recovery.

The rubber tire first [illegible] its appearance on the bicycle, but it proved a frivolous servant and was dismissed for incompetency. It has always been too much inclined to revel in luxury to be taken seriously as a utility machine and its reputation is not one to inspire confidence in heavy traffic performance.

But to those who care to waft into dreamland, it is enchanting to note that there will be a marvelous difference between a rubber and an iron age. The rubber tire will scatter the cities throughout the valleys for with transportation at every man's door, why a city? It will traverse the continent with a net work of Macadam highways as beautiful as the boulevard built by Napoleon. It will paralyze the law making bodies of this nation for how could the legislatures run without the railroads to operate on?

FEDERAL INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION

By Peter Radford.

The recent investigation of the United States Commission of Industrial Relations brought together the extremes of society and has given the public an opportunity to view the representatives of distinct classes, side by side, and to study their views in parallel columns.

Capital and labor have always been glaring at each other over gulfs of misunderstanding and if the Federal Industrial Commission attempts to bridge the chasm, it will render the public a distinct service.

The farmer has been sitting on the fence watching capital and labor fight for many years and incidentally furnishing the sinews of war and it is quite gratifying to find them talking with, instead of about, each other. When honest men smile and look into each other's souls, it always makes the world better and far more satisfactory to the farmer, who in the end, bears the burden of conflict, than resolutions, speeches or pamphlets containing charges and countercharges.

The love for justice makes the whole world kin. Understanding is an arbiter far more powerful than the mandates of government, for there is no authority quite so commanding as an honest conscience; there is no decree quite so binding as that of the Supreme Court of Common Sense and no sheriff can keep the peace quite so perfect as Understanding.

We suppose the time will never come when capital and labor will not be occasionally blinded by the lightning flashes of avarice or frightened by the thunder peals of discontent, But Understanding is a Prince of Peace that ever holds out the olive branch to men who want to do right. A man's income is always a sacred thing for in it are the hope, ambition and opportunity of himself, and family, but there is nothing in a human

The slogan now is "See America First", and all the railroads are advertising to beat the band. They are taking advantage of the war in Europe and are offering inducements to tourists to view the scenery along their lines. This is their opportunity and they are alive to the fact, also of the possibilities of this business which they have had so little of heretofore.

Don't Lose Your Crop or Your Horses
Harvest Your Grain With an Avery Tractor
At harvest time it often gets to the place where it's either a case of risking the loss of your crop or the loss of your horses.
When your grain gets ripe it must be harvested at once or it will get too ripe and shell out or the rain will catch it and it will go down. You must rush your harvest and work long hours to save your crop.
But right during harvest is usually one of the hottest times in the year and if you push your horses or mules too hard in the hot sun or work them too long hours you run the risk of losing them.
Right here is one of the places where you need a tractor. Hot weather does'nt bother it, flies or dust don't worry it, and you can run just as long hours as you care to, or night and day if you are especially rushed.
Get All The Facts About Tractor Farming
Harvesting is not the only time when you use a tractor profitably. With it you can plow deeper and at just the right time and raise bigger crops. You can disc, harrow and drill. You can grade roads and do hauling. You can thresh, cut ensilage, shell and saw.
There are five sizes of Avery Tractors: 8-16, 12-25, 20-35, 20-50 and 40-80 H. P., also Avery "Self-Lift" Plows in sizes 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 or 10 gang. They make tractor farming a success on any size farm-large, medium or small. Ask for complete Avery Tractor Farming catalog and learn All the Facts.

GROUCHY PLAYED SLEUTH

Somewhat Mean Trick to Do, But He Found Out Which Boy Had Broken His Window.

Grouchy neighbor, cane in hand, confronted the Giant Juniors at first base, which happened to be a lamp post.

"Which of you young rascals batted the ball that broke my upstairs window?" he growled, thumping the pavement menacingly with his stick.

Each member of the team looked as innocent as a china doll. None spoke.

Then an idea came to the grouchy neighbor. He permitted a smile to drive away the look of anger on his face.

"Say, boys," he said merrily, "I was only joking about that window pane. I used to play baseball myself when I was a boy, and I have been much interested in watching you play. You have a fine team here, but it seems to me you are a little weak in batting. I doubt if there is one of you who could knock a ball over that corner house."

Eight pair of eyes turned toward Splinters, the wizard pitcher of the Giant Juniors, and Splinters himself, never unwilling to pose for the spotlight, stepped forward.

"Dat's where you're wrong, mister," he said. "If yer'd ben here five minutes ago you'd of seen me slam one dat went ten feet over de roof of dat house."

"Indeed!" exclaimed grouchy neighbor, grasping Splinters firmly by the collar. "That must have been the ball that broke my window. Now you come with me and we'll see whether your father will settle the bill. If he doesn't, I'll have to take you to the police station."

Too Much.

"Every dog has his day, you know?"

"Yes, but that mutt of yours wants the nights, too. He kept me awake until three o'clock this morning with his infernal howling."

Not His Business.

"Conductor, this man is stepping on my feet," said the lady passenger.

"I have nothing to do with the traffic regulations, madam," was the reply.

Poetic.

He—Dearest, don't you think we would make a good couplet?

She—Ah, I am not averse.

BUILT A MONUMENT

The Best Sort in the World.

"A monument built by and from Postum," is the way an Illinois man describes himself. He says:

"For years I was a coffee drinker until at last I became a terrible sufferer from dyspepsia, constipation, headaches and indigestion.

"The different kinds of medicine I tried did not cure me, and finally some one told me to leave off coffee and take up Postum. I was fortunate in having the Postum made strictly according to directions on the pkg., so that from the start I liked it.

"Gradually my condition changed. The old troubles disappeared and I began to feel well again. My appetite became good and I could digest food. Now I am restored to strength and health, can sleep sound all night and awake with a fresh and rested body.

"I am really a monument built by Postum, for I was a physical wreck, distressed in body and mind, and am now a strong, healthy man. I know exactly what made the change; it was leaving off coffee and using Postum."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Postum comes in two forms:

Postum Cereal—the original form—must be well boiled. 15c and 25c packages.

Instant Postum—a soluble powder—dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water, and with cream and sugar, makes a delicious beverage instantly. 30c and 50c tins.

Both kinds are equally delicious and cost about the same per cup.

"There's a Reason" for Postum.

TOOTHSOME COCOANUT DISHES.

When the fresh nut may be obtained there are so many delightful dishes which one may prepare for the family that the economical nut ought to be a common combination often served.

Curried Chicken or Rabbit.—Joint a well-dressed chicken or rabbit and fry a light brown in butter; remove from the pan and fry a sliced onion, then add three tablespoonfuls of grated cocoanut (the dry may be used if soaked in milk for an hour), a teaspoonful of curry powder, one teaspoonful of chutney, a half cupful of milk or stock, a teaspoonful of salt, then add the chicken and simmer 40 minutes. Add a tablespoonful of lemon juice and serve with plain boiled rice.

There are any number of confections that are delicious made with cocoanut, as well as cake fillings and puddings. A custard pie sprinkled with a generous handful of cocoanut is well liked.

Cocoanut added to a salmon salad is perhaps a little unusual, but is really most tasty.

Benares Salad.—Take two cupfuls of grated cocoanut, a pint of chopped apple, a tablespoonful of chopped red pepper, one of green and a teaspoonful of grated onion, seasoned well with salt and a dash of cayenne, if the red pepper is sweet, is a very good salad.

Cocoanut Cookies.—Take a cupful of cocoanut, a cupful of currants, two cupfuls of brown sugar, a half cupful of butter, one-half cupful of lard, one cupful of raisins, a teaspoonful of baking soda, a half teaspoonful of salt, two cupfuls of flour, two well beaten eggs and a half cupful of warm water, a teaspoonful of vanilla. Mix all together and let stand overnight. In the morning roll very thin, add more flour, if needed, but if well chilled they will roll and cut when very soft.

Cocoanut added to whipped cream as a filling for cake is most delicious. Grated cocoanut sprinkled over sugared slices of oranges is a pleasant dessert.

It's fun to dare in the face of despair when the last lone chance seems gone.
And to see hope rise in the angry skies like a promise of rosy dawn;
For victory's sweet when it crowns defeat, and you learn this much is true;
It's fun to fight when you know you're right, and your heart is in it too!

GOOD PEA COMBINATIONS.

Peas are one of our most nourishing vegetables, will take the place of meat and furnish a wholesome and filling dish.

Pea Soup. — Either canned or green or dried peas may be used for this dish. Take a pint of peas, add a teaspoonful of sugar, two cupfuls of cold water and cook slowly for twenty minutes. Drain, rub through a sieve, reheat and thicken with two tablespoonfuls of flour, cooked with two tablespoonfuls of butter, add a slice of onion to a pint of milk and, when scalding hot, remove the onion and add to the pea mixture, season with salt and pepper and cook until smooth. Peas that are too old and hard to serve as a vegetable make most satisfactory soups.

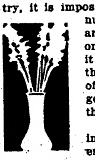
Green Pea Soup.—Take a pint of green peas, a quart of stock, six spring onions, a small bunch of mint, a bunch of parsley, a large handful of spinach, two tablespoonfuls of butter and salt. Wash the peas, parsley, mint and spinach. Add a teaspoonful of salt to the stock, in which boil the peas, mint, parsley and onions until soft; five minutes before they are done add the spinach. Put all through a sieve and boil again. Season with butter and salt. Serve hot.

Peas and Rice.—Put one cupful of rinsed rice and a fourth of a cupful of butter into a saucepan. Stir until the mixture is well browned. Then add a can of peas with the liquor, three cupfuls of boiling water, a little salt and sugar, if desired. Place in a baking dish and cook until the rice is tender.

Spanish Salad.—Cut up a cupful of chicken in small pieces, add a cupful of cucumber cut in cubes, a cupful of broken walnut meats and a cupful of cooked peas; mix with a boiled salad dressing and serve on lettuce.

Peas, peanuts and chopped onion is another combination which is good; serve this on lettuce with a French dressing.

IN THE SICKROOM.



Many times, especially in the country, it is impossible to get a trained nurse when the means are sufficient to warrant one if obtainable, so that it is quite important that mothers and heads of households be intelligent as to the care of the sick.

The proper food is as important as medicine, especially in convalescence, and nutritious and appetizing food must be so served that the sight of it will create a desire to eat. The arrangement of a tray and the removal of the same as soon as the meal is taken is most important.

A small amount of food well arranged will often appeal to the appetite when a tray carelessly set and overloaded would be refused.

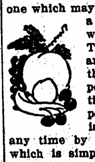
The home nurse should dress in a fresh, clean, washable dress, keeping as cheerful and good to look at as it is possible to be. Talk about cheerful things, don't discuss illness of others or allow the patient to talk of his symptoms too much. A cheerful, hopeful attitude of mind is most essential to recovery. The nurse who allows her patient to think he will not get well may as well get ready to make the funeral arrangements. Many nervous people die because they think it is expected of them.

If there was only one word to be used in describing a sickroom let it be one of cleanliness. Everything about the patient, the room and the nurse should be spotless.

Frequent bathing for cleanliness is necessary, as the pores of the skin have their important office to perform in the elimination of waste. When the patient has fever, frequent bathing keeps down the temperature. Rubbing with the hand wet with good alcohol is most refreshing after a cleansing bath. It cools the skin and rests the patient.

A rubber sheet or an oilcloth may be placed under the patient before bathing so that the bedding need not be dampened. Often the rubbing of the patient with a bathtowel, when the bath seems too fatiguing, will be found most helpful.

SOME DELICIOUS CAKES.



A fine cake is an achievement, but one which may not be performed once a month or less often with very good results. The good cake makers are those who make them often; they are perfected by much practice. An old-fashioned pound cake is one which is usually enjoyed at any time by anyone. It is a cake which is simple to make, yet is too often not good. The butter must be beyond reproach, the eggs fresh and good flavored to have a tasty, appetizing cake.

Cream a cupful of fresh, sweet butter until soft, add 1 2-3 cupfuls of fine granulated sugar very gradually, beating constantly, then add five eggs, one at a time, giving the batter a vigorous beating after each. When the mixture is foamy add two cupfuls of sifted pastry flour, folded in lightly. Bake in a slow oven an hour. The tin should be lined with buttered paper.

Spice Cake.—A third of a cupful of soft butter is added to 1 1-3 cupfuls of brown sugar, when well mixed add two eggs, a half cupful of milk, 1¾ cupfuls of flour, sifted with three teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one half teaspoonful of cinnamon, a quarter teaspoonful of cloves, a half pound of dates, seeded and cut in pieces, a half teaspoonful of nutmeg. Beat all together and bake in a moderate oven 45 minutes. The ingredients are all added together before mixing, making it a quick cake to prepare.

Orange Filling.—Mix a cupful and a half of sugar, with 2½ tablespoonfuls of flour, then add the grated rind and juice of an orange, a tablespoonful of lemon juice, one egg slightly beaten and a tablespoonful of butter. Cook until smooth and thick, stirring constantly. Cool and spread on the cake. Cover with a white icing.

Community Directed by Women.

One French community is directed by women, not by chance, but by custom and necessity. This is the rocky island of Ushant, dreaded by sailors, which breeds a hardy race of seamen engaged either in the French navy or mercantile marine or in fishing, the work on land being done by the women.

A maiden lady said to her little nephew: "Now, Johnny, you go to bed early and always do so, and you'll be rosy cheeked and handsome when you grow up." Johnny thought over this a few minutes and then he observed: "Well, aunty, you must have sat up a good deal when you were young."

FOOD REACHES MEXICO CITY

DISTRIBUTED AMONG NEEDY BY CARRANZA AUTHORITIES.

Trains Being Operated on Regular Schedule Between Vera Cruz and Capital.

Washington, July 20.—Trains are now being operated on regular schedule between Vera Cruz and Mexico City for both passenger and freight traffic, according to a dispatch received from Vera Cruz by the Carranza agency.

"In the capital," said the dispatch, "large quantities of food are being distributed among the needy by the Carranza authorities in co-operation with the international relief committee. Already the initial consignment of foodstuffs amounting to 7,000 tons, which was conveyed to the city just behind the triumphant army of General Gonzales has been placed through the several agencies of distribution at the disposal of the poor and 6,000 tons of additional food supplies arrived there. From depots of easy access distribution is being made to all sections of the city. Additional supplies from all directions are being hurried to Mexico City to relieve distress.

"More than 20,000 idle men have been put to work by the rejuvenated bureau of public works and thus given an opportunity to earn much needed wages which are being paid in the genuine currency of the Carranza government."

The message announced that agencies for the distribution of Carranza currency had been established.

DAUGHTER OF SHERMAN DIES

Mrs. A. M. Thackara Passes in Paris After Working Hard for Serbian Relief.

Paris, July 20. — Eleanor Sherman Thackara, wife of Alexander M. Thackara, American consul general at Paris, is dead. Mrs. Thackara was a daughter of General Sherman of Civil war fame.

Mrs. Thackara had been working hard, especially for Serbia relief for six months until she was taken suddenly ill three months ago. A letter of appreciation and thanks from the King of Serbia reached her after she fell ill, as also did a decoration from the Red Cross.

Mrs. Thackara has given much aid and sympathy to needy Americans in every place where her husband had been stationed, in Haver, Berlin and Paris.

Mr. Thackara and their two daughters, Elizabeth and Eleanor, were with Mrs. Thackara when she died. Of her sons, Sherman Thackara is in Buenos Ayres and Rex is in New York.

Heavy Fighting on Gallipoli.

London, July 20.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Athens says:

"Heavy fighting continues on the Gallipoli peninsula. The Allies are attacking vehemently along the whole front. Each attack is preceded by a bombardment from heavy French artillery and the guns of the warships. All the attacks are reported to have been unsuccessful, but there is no definite news concerning them."

Ploeger of Seymour, is suffering from a slight attack of smallpox.

TEUTONS DRIVE AT RUSSIAN SEAPORT

GERMAN FORCES ARE REPORTED WITHIN EIGHTY MILES OF RIGA, IN BALTIC.

NEW OFFENSIVE REVEALED

Mighty Effort to Destroy Slav Army Seen by Military Experts in Vast Enveloping Movement—Austro Hungarians Moving Northward.

Berlin, Wireless to Sayville, L. I., July 19.—French losses in the recent fighting around Arras total 78,300, according to official estimates made here.

London, July 19.—A new German offensive of huge proportions, with Rigo, a great Russian seaport and the seat of the governor general of the Baltic provinces as its objective, revealed in the latest official statements issued at Petrograd and Berlin.

Military experts here construe the offensive to be a vast envelopement movement in which the Germans are making a herculean effort to destroy the Russian army. Both the German and Russian communications agree that the German forces are at the Windau river near Goldingen, which is only 80 miles from Riga, the great strategetic commercial metropolis in the Gulf of Riga and on the upper Baltic.

Slavs Try to Hold Back Germans.

An official statement received from Petrograd adds details of sanguinary fighting all along the new line in efforts to hold back the German advance which now is being concentrated on Riga and on Warsaw while the Austrian-Hungarians are moving northward from the Dniester river.

Advices reaching London say that the Germans left a trail of destruction along the Baltic sea from Memel to Libau, where the villas, hotels and casinos are alleged to have been destroyed, about the only exception, it is said, being the palace of a Polish nobleman, whose cousin married an American woman. The palace now is being used as a military headquarters in which Prince Henry of Prussia and Field Marshal von Hindenburg recently conferred on the new offensive toward Riga.

Crown Prince's Drive Failure.

The Crown Prince Frederick William's drive in the Argonne forest now is reported as a small success, in gaining a few hundred yards of Terrain, but as a failure in attaining its real object—a decisive penetration of the French line.

Field Marshal von Mackensen's army that swept through Galicia is giving signs of renewed activity in pursuance of the assumed plan of the Teutonic forces to attack simultaneously all along the sweeping 800-mile front from the Baltic to Bessarabia. Unofficial reports through Geneva declare that the lower end of this line of Austrian troops who crossed the Dniester have been driven back to the other bank, where their retreat is being turned into a rout.

LIBERTY BELL NOW AT 'FRISCO

Ancient Relic Makes Seventh Trip for Ceremonial Purposes—Installed at Exposition.

San Francisco, July 19.—Tophatted reception committees, policemen, station porters and guards were swallowed up here in a tumultuous throng which gathered to greet the nation's Liberty Bell on its arrival here from Philadelphia. It will be installed in the Pennsylvania pavilion at the Panama-Pacific exposition.

Governor Hiram W. Johnson of California, U. S. Senator James D. Phelan, Mayor James Rolph, Jr., of San Francisco and representatives of the exposition management, accompanied on the last leg of the journey the delegation of 26 Philadelphia councilmen which escorted the bell.

This was the Liberty Bell's seventh trip for ceremonial purposes, St. Louis, Mo., being its previous farthest west. Exposition officials said it would remain here until the end of the exposition, Dec. 10, and would return to Philadelphia by way of Arizona and Texas. It left Philadelphia July 5.

1916 Corn Crop Threatened.

St. Paul, July 19.—Seed corn from last year's crop should be saved at once for next year's planting, in the opinion of C. P. Bull, crop specialist at University farm.

Professor Bull believes the outlook for corn this season, owing to unfavorable weather conditions of the past several weeks, is such as to threaten the value of the matured kernel for germination purposes. Therefore, he advises, safeguarding what is left of the 1914 crop for use in the spring.

THOUGHT SHE COULD NOT LIVE

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Unionville, Mo.—"I suffered from a female trouble and I got so weak that I could hardly walk across the floor without holding on to something. I had nervous spells and my fingers would cramp and my face would draw, and I could not speak, nor sleep to do any good, had no appetite, and everyone thought I would not live. Some one advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I had taken so much medicine and my doctor said he could do me no good so I told my husband he might get me a bottle and I would try it. By the time I had taken it I felt better. I continued its use, and now I am well and strong.

"I have always recommended your medicine ever since I was so wonderfully benefitted by it and I hope this letter will be the means of saving some other poor woman from suffering."—Mrs. MARTHA SEAVEY, Box 1144, Unionville, Missouri.

LITTLE TIME FOR SENTIMENT

Bird House Attendants All Too Busy to Bother About Legendary Stories or Myths.

The visitor approached one of the gayly uniformed attendants who spend their days in the bird house of the Bronx park zoological gardens. This privileged being must, she thought, have imbibed at least a touch of sentiment.

"Isn't there," she asked, "some story, some myth, connected with that pigeon which has on its breast the red splotch like blood from a bullet wound?"

"Story? Myth? Git off! 'Course there ain't no story about it. It's just a red feather or so—that's all. The bird was born that way. See?"

"But where do they come from? There must be a story, some—"

"I tell you there ain't nothin' about 'em. As to where they grow, I think it's the Philippines."

A slightly more affable attendant did disclose the name of the pigeon. It was called blood-breasted, and it did come from the Philippines. But if there was a story—and there must have been—none of the liveried information bureaus knew it. No sentiment for them! They only said, "Keep to the right!" when the inquirer became too persistent.—New York Evening Post.

MAN'S SHORT TERM OF LIFE

In Comparison With Other Animals He Does Not Nearly Live Out His Allotted Time.

A rule which holds fairly true among the higher animals is that an animal lives five times as long as it requires for his muscular system to reach its full strength. The dog is fully developed at between two and three years of age, and lives fifteen years; the horse reaches his prime not later than five, and if he escapes overwork and ill usage, lives to be twenty-five and even thirty. In fact, the rule seems to be an understatement of animal expectation of life, rather than an overstatement

The one conspicuous exception is man, who seldom reaches his full muscular strength before he is twenty-five and counts himself living on borrowed time if he passes the age of seventy. If man were as well circumstanced in this matter as the horse, dog or cat, his average term of life would vary from one hundred and ten to one hundred and twenty-five years.

Here's a Fine Idea.

"Please, ma'am," said the little girl from the next door, "mother wants to know if you will lend her your new mechanical tune player this afternoon."

"What an extraordinary idea! Is she going to give a dance?"

"No, ma'am. We're tired dancing to it. She wants to keep it quiet for a couple of hours so that the baby can sleep."

The difference between men and boys is that men are willing to wait until next year, while boys want it now.

STATE AS DUMPING PLACE FOR INSANE

BOARD OF CONTROL OFFICIAL ASSERTS HUMANE POLICY IS RESPONSIBLE.

St. Paul.—Minnesota is being made the dumping ground for insane people of other states, said Ralph W. Wheelock of the State Board of Control.

"Insane people are not being sent into Minnesota by state officials," said Mr. Wheelock, "but by individuals."

During the last fiscal year 100 non-resident insane persons were deported by the board. The board figures the deporting saved the state $1,000 on each case, so the total saving last year was $100,000.

Humane Policy Responsible.

"We simply are compelled to accept these people into our institutions until such time as we can determine if they really are non-residents," said Mr. Wheelock. "The policy in Minnesota is to be humane. This same policy has led to the state being taken advantage of by people who do not wish to harbor their insane charges or relations."

NAME EFFICIENCY MEMBERS

Governor, Lieutenant Governor and Speaker Choose Men to Prepare New Minnesota Laws.

St. Paul, Minn.—As authorized by the recent legislature Governor Hammond, Lieutenant Governor Burnquist and Speaker Flowers of the house of representatives met and named a committee on civil administration to consider an efficiency and economy program and prepare proposed legislation for consideration by the next legislature. The speaker named four members, the lieutenant governor a similar number and the governor, three.

Spooner, Morris and Representative Gunnar Bjornson, Minnesota; those by Speaker Flowers: Representative Thomas Girling, Robbinsdale; Representative T. J. McGrath, St. Paul; Representative Fred Bessette, C. H. Orr and C. H. Warner, Aitkin; those by Lieutenant Governor Burnquist: Senator F. A. Duxbury, Caledonia; Senator J. A. Carley, Plainsview; Senator J. A. Jackson, St. Paul, and Senator A. J. Rockne, Zumbrota.

The committee will consider a plan for reorganizing the state government either through consolidation or elimination of various state departments and the reduction of the hundred or more boards and commissions now in existence to five or six departments.

WIDOW REGAINS FORTUNE

Heirs of C. L. Ortmann of Detroit Are Given Possession of Mining Property on Mesaba Range.

Duluth.—With the filing of a judgment against the Mooswa Mining company and others in district court here, the final chapter was recorded in the story of how Marie A. Solms Ortmann, widow of Charles L. Ortmann of Detroit, Mich., regained a fortune of $500,000 that she had allowed to slip through her fingers.

The case was started in 1911 and has been fought through all the courts. Mrs. Ortmann and her son, in this suit, sought to recover title to 640 acres of valuable mineral land on the Mesaba range. The defendants were James Swan, a Detroit attorney, and others. It was contended that Swan, administrator for the estate, sold the property for $1 an acre to Dr. Frederick Steinbrecher, his family physician, who reconveyed it to the Mooswa Mining company, in which Swan held a large interest.

The court held that the land was sold for a "grossly inadequate price" and was worth many times the amount paid for it. The deeds of conveyance were ordered set aside and the Ortmann heirs restored to possession.

MORE ARRESTS IN OSSEO CASE

Bank Superintendent Trying to Get Other Men Responsible for Alleged Looting.

Minneapolis, July 16.—Charging that the banking laws of Minnesota had not only been violated by J. B. Thompson, cashier of the Osseo State bank, but by several others, A. H. Turritin, state superintendent of banks, announced that he had collected evidence which may cause the arrest of two and possibly three more men involved in the finances of the Osseo bank.

This evidence probably will be placed in the hands of John Rees, county attorney, at once. Mr. Turritin declared that his department is making rapid progress in the work at the Osseo bank and that he was digging to the bottom to get the men who, he charges, are responsible with Thompson for the alleged looting of the bank.

"The affairs at the bank are in very bad shape," said Mr. Turritin. "In a short period of time approximately $60,000 of the bank's money has passed into other hands and during the looting the work was cleverly covered up. There is no doubt that Thompson fell a prey to the wonderful word pictures drawn for him by clever men. His visions of great wealth allowed him to be worked to a frazzle."

NAVAL MILITIA AT CROSBY

New Division Is Mustered In — Ten Days' Cruise of Lake Superior to Start August 25.

Crosby.—Crosby's new division of the naval militia was mustered in at the Coliseum pavilion. It started with 65 members, but it is believed the number will grow when other young men in this and the surrounding villages see the opportunities for training and social enjoyment the organization affords.

The Coliseum pavilion was rented by the village council and will be used as a temporary armory. Captain Guy A. Eaton, Lieutenant Commander Clark W. Kelley and Sergeant F. J. Patton of the Minnesota naval militia examined the prospective members of the local division and the men were sworn into service.

The first taste of the sea life and service on board ship that the local division's members will get will be on August 25, when they will start on a 10-day cruise on Lake Superior. The fifth division of Bemidji, seventh division of Lindstrom and the eighth division of Duluth also will take this cruise. All of these are new divisions.

GARRISON DEFENDED BY LIND

Secretary of War Comes In for Criticism and Vigorous Defense at High Dam Meeting.

Minneapolis, July 16.—In the course of a luncheon meeting of the Civic & Commerce association held at the Radisson hotel the entire high dam situation, so far as the disposal of the power is concerned, received the most thorough airing it has yet been given in Minneapolis, the attitude of Secretary of War Garrison coming in for both criticism and vigorous defense.

John Lind, Governor Hammond and Fred C. Stevens, former St. Paul congressman, took occasion to score roundly, though in measured words, the recent statement of Congressman George R. Smith that the "water power trust" is all powerful at Washington, that Secretary Garrison has the power to grant a lease of the power to the Municipal Electric company if he so desires, and that the latter leans toward the idea that the people of this community do not really care whether they get the benefit of the power or not.

Crop damage from hail and the heavy wind occurred in the vicinity of Heron Lake and Mountain Lake.

WHY DINING CAR CHEFS PREFER
KC BAKING POWDER
Those who have had cakes ruined by jarring the stove, slamming the oven door or a heavy footstep, may have wondered how the dining car chef can turn out such marvelous biscuits, hot breads and pastry when his oven is being incessantly jarred and jolted and shaken by the motion of the train.
To get pastry to raise and stay raised under these conditions, a baking powder must be used that continues to give off its leavening gas—that sustains the raise—until the dough is baked through.
Dining Car Chefs have found a baking powder exactly suited to their needs in K C and you will find it just as well suited to your requirements. K C is really a blend of two baking powders, one active as soon as moistened, the other requiring both moisture and heat to start the generation of leavening gas. No matter how moist and rich you make your cake, K C Baking Powder will sustain the raise until a crust is formed and all danger of falling is past.
K C Baking Powder is pure and healthful. It is guaranteed under all pure food laws, and is guaranteed to please you. And it is sold at a reasonable price—no baking powder should sell for more.

Dreams.

It is a common saying that we dream of that which one has been thinking most about. This is the exception and not the rule. The dream may be of something that one thought of at some time, but possibly not for years, that would not be recalled in waking hours, which had lain dormant in the mind, to be prosaically rehearsed through some operation of physical functions, such as impeded respiration, feverish conditions, some posture of the body, a late supper, possibly ended with a dessert of mince pie, stomachic distress, clogging of the circulation or some bodily pain.

TAINTED POLITICS

By Peter Radford.

This country is suffering more from tainted politics than from any other malady at the present time. There is scarcely a campaign speech made, a platform demand written or a measure enacted into law that does not carry the taint of personal gain of some politician or political faction thereof.

There is more "blue sky" in campaign promises of many politicians running for office than was ever contained in the prospectuses of the boldest promoters of chimerical business schemes. There are more secret combinations formed by politicians in the name of "My Country" than were ever formed under any and all other aliases. There are more political rebates hidden in the phrase "Be it enacted" than were ever concealed under any and all other disguises.

The inordinate thirst for political power and unrestrained passion for mastery has caused more distress in this nation than the greed for gold, and it ought to be regulated by law. No business combination ever pursued their competitors as relentlessly or visited more heartless cruelty upon their customers than a political party that seeks to make junk of an industry, or cripple a business for party success, through tariff measures, political supervision and ofttimes destructive legislation. Many political platforms are as alluring to the voter as the story of the rainbow with its pot of gold and their consummation about as far-fetched. Self-gain is the first law in politics. There are many men in office today who, if they could not shake plums off the tree of American liberty or cut a melon taken from Uncle Sam's commissary, would have less desire to serve the public.

The country is surfeiting with patriots, who will bare their breast to bullets in defense of their country, but there are few men in public life who will bare their breast to voters or run the gauntlet of party disfavor in defense of agriculture or industry. No representative of the people, who will permit personal prejudice to dethrone justice, party success to disfranchise reason or the rancor of a political campaign to influence judgment can render capable service.

The preservation of our prosperity depends upon wisdom, courage and honesty in government, and the American voter should seek these attributes as implicitly as the Wise Men followed the Star of Bethlehem and they will often be found to rest over the stable; the plow or the staff of the Shepherd. The surest cure for tainted politics and machine rule is fresh air and sunshine and these important elements are most abundant upon the farm, and when farmers, bankers and merchants are elected to membership in legislative bodies, much of the trouble in government will disappear.

WATERED SECURITIES

By Peter Radford.

Much has been said and more written about the evils of watered stock in big business concerns and the farmers of this nation believe that every dollar written into the life of any business organization, should be able to say "I know that my Redeemer liveth," but farming is the biggest business on earth, and there is more water in its financial transaction than that of any other industry. There is as much water in a farmer's note drawing eight or ten per cent interest when other lines of industry secure money for four or five per cent per annum, as there is in a business paying a reasonable compensation upon the face value of securities representing an investment of only fifty cents on the dollar. The only difference is, the water is in the interest rate in one instance and in the securities in the other.

The promoter ofttimes takes chances and his success is contingent upon the development of the property involved but the usurer, as a rule, takes no chances and his success cripples the property involved. There may be industries that cry louder but none that suffer more severely from financial immorality in both law and custom than that of agriculture.

The farmers of America today are paying $200,000,000 per annum in usury on real estate and chattel loans, and this interest capitalized at five per cent, represents $4,000,000,000 of fictitious values which the farmer is paying interest on. This sum of money is almost equal to the annual value of crops produced in the United States.

The earning power of the farmer's note based upon his interest rate very nearly divides likes the earth's surface—three-fourths water, and one-fourth land. The largest body of water that floats upon the financial hemisphere now rests upon the farms and its waves are dashing and its billows are rolling against seven million homes threatening ruin and disaster to the prosperity of the nation. Will our public servants who understand how to drain the liquid off industrial properties turn the faucet and let the water off the farms?

It is an admitted economic fact that there can be no permanent prosperity without a permanent agriculture

Agriculture is recognized as the greatest of all industries and a prosperous, progressive and enlightened agricultural population is the surest safeguard of civilization.

FREE PORTS BUILDERS OF COMMERCE

CONGRESS SHOULD GIVE THEM PREFERENCE IN APPROPRIATIONS.

By Peter Radford.

This nation is now entering upon an era of marine development. The wreckage of European commerce has drifted to our shores and the world war is making unprecedented demands for the products of farm and factory. In transportation facilities on land we lead the world but our port facilities are inadequate, and our flag is seldom seen in foreign ports. If our government would only divert the energy we have displayed in conquering the railroads to mastering the commerce of the sea, a foreign bottom would be unknown on the ocean's highways.

This article will be confined to a discussion of our ports for the products of the farm must pass over our wharfs before reaching the water. We have in this nation 51 ports, of which 41 are on the Atlantic and 10 are on the Pacific Coast. The Sixty-second Congress appropriated over $51,000,000 for improving our Rivers and Harbors and private enterprise levies a toll of approximately $50,000,000 annually in wharfage and charges for which no tangible service is rendered. The latter item should be lifted off the backs of the farmer of this nation and this can be done by Congress directing its appropriations to ports that are free where vessels can tie up to a wharf and discharge her cargo free of any fee or charge.

A free port is progress. It takes out the unnecessary link in the chain of transactions in commerce which has for centuries laid a heavy hand upon commerce. No movement is so heavily laden with results or will more widely and equally distribute its benefits as that of a free port and none can be more easily and effectively secured.

THE VITAL PROBLEM OF AGRICULTURE

By Peter Radford.

There is no escaping the market problem and the highest development of agriculture will not be attained until it is solved, for a market is as necessary for the producer as land on which to grow his crop.

Governmental and educational institutions have spent $180,000,000 in the United States during the past ten years for improving soil production and improving seeds and plants, but very little attention and less money has been given to the marketing side of agriculture.

The problem is a monumental one and one which will never be solved until it gets within the grasp of a gigantic organization where master minds can concentrate the combined experience and wisdom of the age upon it. It is a problem which the farmers, merchants, bankers, editors and statesmen must unite in solving.

The Farmers' Union stands for all there is in farming from the most scientific methods of seed selection to the most systematic and profitable plans of marketing, but does not believe in promoting one to the neglect of the other. We consider the work of farm demonstrators valuable and we ask that governmental and commercial agencies seeking to help us, continue to give us their assistance and advice, but we believe that their influence should be extended to the marketing side of our farm problems also.

We cannot hope to develop manufacturing by over-production of the factory; we cannot build up mercantile enterprises by the merchants loading their shelves with surplus goods and no more can we develop agriculture by glutting the market with a surplus of products.

DARIUS

The neigh of a horse made Darius King of Persia, the six contending powers for the throne agreeing among themselves that the one whose horse should neigh first should possess the kingdom. This ancient method of settling disputes among politicians could be revived with profit today. If our partisan factions and petty politicians could only settle their disputes by the neigh of a horse, the bark of a dog or the bray of a donkey, it would be a great blessing and would give our citizens a better opportunity to pursue the vocations of industry free from political strife.

Let those who pick political plums by raising rows and who flash swords dripping in the blood of industry understand that they cannot turn the public forum into a political arena and by a clash of personal aspirations still the hammer and stop the plow and that their quarrels must be settled in the back alleys of civilization.

No More Overdrafts.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has recently published a ruling to the effect that all checks which create or increase an overdraft at the bank on which they are drawn are an acknowledgment of debt only and must be stamped accordingly, that is, at the rate of two cents for every $100.00 or fraction thereof.

A violation of this rule renders the person drawing the check liable to a fine of $200.00 for each and every offence, and the bank paying the check doubtless becomes a party to the fraud and is subject also to a fine of the same amount.

All bank depositors should, therefore, be notified that hereafter all checks which create or increase an overdraft will not be paid, unless properly stamped by the person issuing the check, before presentation.

Your attention is called to Chapter 362, Revised Laws of 1915, in regard to the reserve in state banks.

Don't Lose Your Crop or Your Horses
Harvest Your Grain With an Avery Tractor

At harvest time it often gets to the place where it's either a case of risking the loss of your crop or the loss of your horses.

When your grain gets ripe it must be harvested at once or it will get too ripe and shell out or the rain will catch it and it will go down. You must rush your harvest and work long hours to save your crop.

But right during harvest is usually one of the hottest times in the year and if you push your horses or mules too hard in the hot sun, or work them too long hours you run the risk of losing them.

Right here is one of the places where you need a tractor. Hot weather does'nt bother it, flies or dust don't worry it, and you can run just as long hours as you care to, or night and day if you are especially rushed.

Get All The Facts About Tractor Farming

Harvesting is not the only time when you use a tractor profitably. With it you can plow deeper and at just the right time and raise bigger crops. You can disc, harrow and drill. You can grade roads and do hauling. You can thresh, cut ensilage, shell and saw.

There are five sizes of Avery Tractors: 8-16, 12-25, 20-35, 20-50 and 40-80 H. P., also Avery "Self-Lift" Plows in sizes 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 or 10 gang. They make tractor farming a success on any size farm-large, medium or small. Ask for complete Avery Tractor Farming catalog and learn All the Facts.

SHOULD NOT HAVE MOVED

Story of a Man Who Was Making Good, but Roving Fever Got the Best of Him.

On May 4th, 1915, the St. Paul Farmer's Dispatch contained a very interesting account of the experiences of a man from Staples, Minn. Realizing that he was not making much headway, he decided to look up a homestead in Canada. With $250 he and his wife took up a homestead near Outlook, Saskatchewan. After recounting his experiences of a few years, in which they had undergone hardships which were likely to be unavoidable, with a small amount of capital, he continues the story by stating that in the fall after a fair summer's work on his 100 acres cropped, he cleaned up nearly all his debts, having now four good horses, a complete set of farm machinery including two wagons and a "Swell" top buggy and eleven head of cattle. He continues, "However, I was not satisfied. I had been reading of the splendid homesteads that were to be had in Montana. Wheat was cheap and I thought it would get cheaper, so I began to think that homesteading as a moneymaking proposition was better than farming.

I did not stop to consider that wheat was not the only thing; as a matter of fact I had sold pork for 14 cents a pound. Eggs and butter had kept us in groceries and more, we had now four milch cows, two heifers coming in and more growing up. We had a cream separator, and some hogs. We had a quarter section of land that could raise an abundance of small grain, roots and grass for feed, but I could not see all that; I had the 'moving' fever, and decided to sell.

I set the price on the land at $3,000 cash. I could not find anyone with that much money, however, so I came down until I finally sold for $1,400.

We had an auction and sold the personal property. On the sale we got just about enough cash to pay the auctioneer; the rest was all notes.

The horses brought about two-thirds what they were worth. The implements sold for hardly one-third of what they had cost. The cattle brought a good price.

Must Make Another Start.

We now have a homestead in Montana, but we find that after moving here and getting settled, what money we had did not go far. We have three horses, about all the implements we need, and a little better buildings than we had on our former place. We have no cattle, though we had to build much fence to keep ranch stock out of our fields. We have about $500 worth of honest debts.

True, we have a half section in place of a quarter, but that is no good to us, as long as we have not the capital with which to work it.

In summarizing it all up I see where I made my mistake. It will take fully five years to get into as good circumstances as we were before we made the change. It is five years lost.

My advice to anyone contemplating a change of location is to think twice before you act, and if your present circumstances are not too bad, 'stay by your bush till you pick it clean.'"—Advertisement.

NEW AMERICAN NOTE WARNS GERMANY AGAINST ANY REPETITION OF OFFENSES

Document Reiterates the United States' Insistence Upon Rights of Neutrals Upon the Seas---Future Violations, Such as Sinking of Lusitania, to be Regarded as "Deliberately Unfriendly."

Washington, July 26. — Without backing down, and withdrawing not one whit from his position originally taken, President Wilson has placed upon Germany the responsibility of continuing or breaking the friendly relations between the two countries.

In the American note addressed to the imperial German government and just made public, Germany is flatly warned that a repetition of the offenses of which this country complains will be regarded as "deliberately unfriendly."

The words "deliberately unfriendly," as used in diplomacy, constitute a polite and suave method of warning, which amounts to an ultimatum. While the interpretation of the words rests with the President, there seems little doubt but that the executive has substituted them for the words "strict accountability," and as he has withdrawn from consideration of these words, it seems hardly possible he can ignore the plain intention of the ones used in this last note.

Must Not Repeat Offense.

The document is by far the strongest expression that has come from this government in the course of the correspondence between America and the German government. The language is forceful, courteous, convincing and almost tart in places.

If Germany should repeat the offense it will constitute an "unfriendly act" and in diplomatic language this means the breaking off of diplomatic relations and possibly war.

With such a declaration of the American position, this country will sit back and wait for Germany to speak, but more specifically to act.

The President apparently feels there is nothing more for this government to do and has returned to his summer home in Cornish.

Text of Third American Note.

Washington, July 26.—Following is the official text of the latest American note to Germany regarding submarine warfare, which was delivered to the foreign office at Berlin by Ambassador Gerard:

THE SECRETARY OF STATE TO AMBASSADOR GERARD, DEPARTMENT OF STATE,

You are instructed to deliver texually the following note to the minister of foreign affairs:

The note of the imperial German government dated the 8th of July, 1915, has received the careful consideration of the government of the United States, and it regrets to be obliged to say that it has found it very unsatisfactory, because it fails to meet the real difference between the two governments and indicates no way in which the accepted principles of law and humanity may be applied in the grave matter in controversy, but proposes, on the contrary, arrangements for a partial suspension of those principles, which virtually set them aside.

High Seas Are Free.

The government of the United States notes with satisfaction that the imperial German government recognizes without reservation the validity of the principles insisted upon in the several communications which this government has addressed the imperial German government with regard to its announcement of a war zone and the use of submarines against merchantmen on the high seas—the principle that the high seas are free, that the character and cargo of a merchantman must first be ascertained before she can lawfully be seized or destroyed, and that the lives of non-combatants may in no case be put in jeopardy unless the vessel resists or seeks to escape after being summoned to submit to examination; for a belligerent act of retaliation is per se an act beyond the law, and the defense of an act as retaliatory is an admission that it is illegal.

United States Keenly Disappointed.

The government of the United States is, however, keenly disappointed to find that the imperial German government regards itself as in large degree exempt from the obligation to observe these principles, even where neutral vessels are concerned, by what it believes the policy and practice of the government of Great Britain to be in the present war with regard to neutral commerce. The imperial German government will readily understand that the government of the United States cannot discuss the policy of the government of Great Britain with regard to neutral trade except with the government itself, and that it must regard the conduct of other belligerent governments as irrelevant to any discussion with the imperial German government of what this government regards as grave and unjustifiable violations of the rights of American citizens by German naval commanders.

Inhuman Acts Indefensible.

Illegal and inhuman acts, however justifiable they may be thought to be against an enemy who is believed to have acted in contravention of law and humanity, are manifestly indefensible when they deprive neutrals of their acknowledged rights, particularly when they violate the right to life itself. If a belligerent cannot retaliate against an enemy without injuring the lives of neutrals, as well as their property, humanity, as well as justice and a due regard for the dignity of neutral powers, should dictate that the practice be discontinued. If persisted in it would in such circumstances constitute an unpardonable offense against the sovereignty of the neutral nation affected.

Unusual Aspects of War No Excuse.

The government of the United States is not unmindful of the extraordinary conditions created by this war or of the radical alterations of circumstance and method of attack produced by the use of instrumentalities of naval warfare which the nations of the world cannot have had in view when the existing rules of international law were formulated, and it is ready to make every reasonable allowance for these novel and unexpected aspects of war at sea; but it cannot consent to abate any essential fundamental right of its people because of a mere alteration of circumstance. The rights of neutrals in time of war are based upon principle, not upon expediency, and the principles are immutable. It is the duty and obligation of belligerents to find a way to adapt the new circumstances to them.

Causes of Offense Can Be Removed.

The events of the past two months have clearly indicated that it is possible and practicable to conduct such submarine operations as have characterized the activity of the imperial German navy within the so-called war zone in substantial accord with the accepted practices of regulated warfare. The whole world has looked with interest and increasing satisfaction at the demonstration of that possibility by German naval commanders. It is manifestly possible, therefore, to lift the whole practice of submarine attack above the criticism which it has aroused and remove the chief causes of offense.

Germany Admits Illegal Acts.

In view of the admission of illegality made by the imperial German government when it pleaded the right of retaliation in defense of its acts and in view of the manifest possibility of conforming to the established rules of naval warfare, the government of the United States cannot believe that the imperial German government will longer refrain from disavowing the wanton act of its naval commander in sinking the Lusitania or from offering reparation for the American lives lost, so far as reparation can be made for a needless destruction of human life by an illegal act.

U. S. Cannot Accept Suggestion.

The government of the United States, while not indifferent to the friendly spirit in which it is made, cannot accept the suggestion of the imperial German government that certain vessels be designated and agreed upon which shall be free on the seas now illegally proscribed. The very agreement would, by implication, subject other vessels to illegal attack and would be a curtailment, and therefore an abandonment, of the principles for which this government contends, and which in calmer counsels every nation would concede as of course.

Contends for Freedom at Any Cost.

The government of the United States and the imperial German government are contending for the same great object; have long stood together in urging the very principles upon which the government of the United States now so solemnly insists. They are both contending for the freedom of the seas. The government of the United States will continue to contend for that freedom, from whatever quarter violated, without compromise and at any cost. It invites the practical co-operation of the imperial German government at this time when co-operation may accomplish most and this great common object be most strikingly and effectively achieved.

Object Can Be Attained.

The imperial German government expresses the hope that this object may be in some measure accomplished even before the present war ends. It can be. The government of the United States not only feels obliged to insist upon it, by whomsoever violated or ignored, in the protection of its own citizens, but is also deeply interested in seeing it made practicable between the belligerents themselves and holds itself ready at any time to act as the common friend who may be privileged to suggest a way.

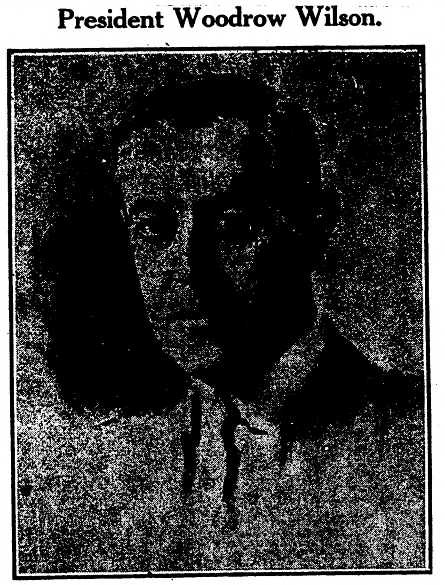
As "Deliberately Unfriendly" Act.

In the meantime the very value which this government sets upon the long and unbroken friendship between the people and government of the United States and the people and government of the German nation impels it to press very solemnly upon the imperial German government the necessity for a scrupulous observance of neutral rights in this critical matter.

Friendship itself prompts it to say to the imperial German government that repetition by the commanders of German naval vessels of acts in contravention of those rights must be regarded by the government of the United States, when they affect American citizens, as deliberately unfriendly.

LANSING.

President Woodrow Wilson.



President Wilson, in the third American note protesting against the Lusitania tragedy, places upon Germany the responsibility of continuing or breaking friendly relations between the two countries.

PICNIC STEAMER LISTS AT CHICAGO; 1,000 MEET DEATH

VESSEL TURNS OVER IN RIVER AS IT LEAVES WHARF—MAJORITY OF VICTIMS WOMEN AND CHILDREN.

500 BODIES RECOVERED; INVESTIGATION ORDERED

Rescuers Cut Holes in Hull and Continue Removing Bodies from Boat—Feared List of Dead May Reach 1,500—Tragedy Over in Less Than Five Minutes.

Chicago, July 26.—Deputy Coroner David Jones and Sheriff John E. Traeger of Cook county, who are directing the work of removing bodies from the hull of the Eastland, declare that from reports of the bodies still within the hull they fear the list of dead will reach 1,200 and may reach 1,500.

Chicago, July 26.—Hundreds, perhaps 1,500 persons were drowned or crushed to death when the steamer Eastland, crowded with 2,500 employees of the Western Electric company, capsized in the Chicago river. Hours after the accident rescuers were still taking bodies from the boat through holes chopped in its hull, and estimates of the death list ran from 1,000 to 1,500.

At 2 p. m. more than 500 dead had been found.

The crowding of passengers to one side of the boat is supposed to have caused the tragedy, but the authorities, not satisfied with this explanation, ordered the arrest of the officers of the boat, and Captain Harry Pedersen and Dell Fisher, first mate, were taken to police headquarters.

Panic of the worst kind struck the passengers when the boat began to turn over. Best accounts of witnesses said the steamer rolled slightly twice, then turned further, and that hundreds of screaming, struggling men, women and children slid across the sloping decks, fought for room on the companionways and clutched at deck chairs or any other object that came to hand.

Evidence of Desparation.

Women and children by the hundreds were caught below decks and the scratched faces, torn clothing and bruised bodies of the dead bore mute evidence of the desperation with which they had fought for a chance for life.

The whole tragedy occupied less than five minutes. Members of the crew shouted warnings as the steamer first tilted and Captain Pedersen ordered lower deck ports opened and all passengers shore. There was, however, no chance of such a measure to succeed.

Five Steamers Chartered.

Some 7,000 tickets had been distributed for the excursion and five steamers chartered by the company. The Eastland was first to receive its quota, and when its chartered capacity was reached federal inspectors ordered that no more be taken aboard. The boat was docked on the south side of the river and when the hundreds hurrying to the boat were turned back from it they streamed across the Clark street bridge to the steamer Theodore Roosevelt, which was to take the second boat load.

Screams of the Eastland victims halted this rush and the bridge was jammed with people until police, fearing that the structure would collapse, ordered it cleared.

City Turns to Rescue Work.

Every resource of the city was turned to the rescue work. Remembering the Iroquois theatre disaster, mercantile concerns in the vicinity hurried motor trucks to the scene laden with blankets to warm the living or cover the dead. Pulmoters by the score were sent to the dock, physicians, police, firemen, government life savers and nurses were summoned and all hospitals and morgues notified to prepare for patients or corpses.

The steamer floated on its side into midstream and tugs, motor-boats and other river craft swarmed about it. Firemen climbed on the wreck, forced openings in the steel hull and through these searched the cabins for possible victims.

None of the officers or department heads of the Western Electric company were on the Eastland when it overturned, according to an announcement from the offices of the company.

Survivors Unable to Talk.

Many survivors were too hysterical to relate their experiences. As soon as those received at the hospitals were in condition to leave they were taken to their homes, many owners of automobiles having offered their machines.

An undertaking establishment in North Clark street was surrounded by a crowd of curiosity seekers that threatened to get beyond the control of the police. A morbid crowd trailed through the rooms where there were twelve bodies stretched out on the floor.

Companions in Misfortune.

Two men sat at the same table in a restaurant of the cheaper sort in Berlin. They were strangers to each other, but not too proud to talk.

"Hard times," said one, putting down regretfully his empty beer glass.

"Very hard times," said the other as he speared with his fork the last morsel of sausage.

"I have seen better days."

"And I."

"Only a year ago, too."

"Just about that."

"I mean in my business."

"Precisely. My business is gone clean to the devil."

"The same with mine."

"And what is your business, may ask?"

"I am a dancing master—a professor of the fox trot and allied arts—and you?"

"I am a professor of international law."

RESINOL SURELY MAKES ITCHING ECZEMA VANISH

There is immediate relief for skins itching, burning and disfigured by eczema, heat-rash, or similar tormenting skin-trouble, in a warm bath with resinol soap and a simple application of resinol ointment. The soothing, healing resinol medication sinks right into the skin, stops itching instantly, and soon clears away all trace of eruption, even in severe and stubborn cases where other treatments have had no effect. After that, the regular use of resinol soap is usually enough to keep the skin clear and healthy. Every druggist sells resinol ointment and resinol soap.—Adv.

Borrowed Finery.

The wedding party was moving down the aisle, and as the bride passed a woman friend sitting with her husband whispered: "She's wearing a veil loaned by her grandmother. Isn't it a beauty?"

"It certainly is," replied her husband, "but just look at the white waistcoat the bridegroom is wearing. He borrowed that from me."

IN SUCH PAIN WOMAN CRIED

Suffered Everything Until Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Florence, So. Dakota.—"I used to be very sick every month with bearing down pains and backache, and had headache a good deal of the time and very little appetite. The pains were so bad that I used to sit right down on the floor and cry, because it hurt me so and I could not do any work at those times. An old woman advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I got a bottle. I felt better the next month so I took three more bottles of it and got well so I could work all the time. I hope every woman who suffers like I did will try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. P. W. LANSENG, Box 8, Allyn, Wash.

Why will women continue to suffer day in and day out or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

INDIAN LAND TITLE HINGES ON DIVORCE

HALF BREED SEEKS NEW TRIAL IN COURTS—JUDGE HOLDS TRIBAL LAWS GOVERN.

STATE NEWS OF MINNESOTA

Interesting and Important Happenings of the Past Few Days Selected and Arranged for the Convenience of Busy Readers.

Duluth. — David W. LaFramboise, Shakopee halfbreed, has filed notice in district court of a motion for a new trial of a case started by him three years ago to establish his right to the controlling interest in a 40-acre tract of mineral land on the Vermillion range. The case has just been decided against the plaintiff. LaFramboise's Indian name is Da-wee, and he is a grandnephew of John Otherday, or Chief An-pe-tu-tok-chu of the Med-in-han-kaw-an of Big Water tribe, who distinguished himself by showing heroic loyalty to the whites during the famous Sioux outbreak of 1862.

Tribal Laws Govern.

In his decision, Judge Cant declared that the tribal laws, and not the laws of the white man, governed when it came to questions of marriage and divorce.

The land in question is located about four miles east of Tower, in the mineral belt. It is considered valuable.

R. Noble Day purchased the property in 1901 from a squaw, who called herself Ellen Cekiya. She claimed to be the widow of Alexis LaFramboise, who died in 1876. The land was patented to the heirs of Alexis in return for script held by the Indians and in exchange for relinquishment of land held by them near Lake Pepin. David LaFramboise, the plaintiff in this case, claims that Ellen (Yubana) Cekiya, who sold the land, was never the wife of Alexis LaFramboise, and not his heir, but that one Emma (Quana) LaFramboise, David's mother, was the real wife. The whole case has turned on this question.

David's mother, now 85 years of age, was a witness. She testified that when she was 16 years old Alexis "bought her" from her father. Ellen, the second wife, was her cousin.

WILSON'S 1916 RUNNING MATE

Hammond Is Probable Choice in Next Campaign, Is Declaration at Portland, Ore., Luncheon.

Portland, Ore.—"Governor Winfield Scott Hammond of Minnesota, gentlemen, is the probable running mate of Wilson in the next campaign," announced Representative C. N. McArthur, Oregon Republican, in speaking of the gubernatorial visitor at a luncheon given in the governor's honor at the Chamber of Commerce here.

Governor Hammond did not deny the possibility of his selection for Democratic honors.

In his address to the members' council at the Chamber of Commerce, Governor Hammond dealt with problems he said that Oregon had in common with Minnesota. State aid for settlers on logged-off land was one cause advocated.

BOUNTIES FOR GOPHERS, WOODCHUCKS AND RATTLERS.

Winona.—Hunting gophers, woodchucks and rattlesnakes in this section of Minnesota pays big dividends.

That fact is emphasized by the warrants issued at the office of the county auditor to meet the bounties on these undesirable creatures. From all over the cuonty the returns have been heavy this spring and the "harvesting" season is only approaching.

The town boards now must issue the warrants for bounties and they are paid by the chairman of the boards through the auditor. Chairman William Drenckhahn of the town of Mount Vernon, near Minneiska, was paid $134.94 for a month's bounty in his section. Sixty seven dollars were for rattlesnakes, $31.99 for gophers and $31.95 for woodchucks.

William S. Nettleton of Minnesota City also was paid $3 as rattlesnake bounty.

Colonization in Crow Wing.

Brainerd.—One of the biggest moves for the colonization of Crow Wing county is the placing on the market of 8,000 acres owned by the Northern Pacific railway and the selling of the same to actual settlers at reasonable prices.

Prospect of Prison Life Kills.

Brainerd, Minn., July 24.—Ole Berg, an old man who stole a suit of clothes from a clothing store and whose plea of guilty caused him to be given an indeterminate sentence to Stillwater, died of a broken heart in his cell. He had lived the hard but free life of the lumber camp and the spectacle of a prison waiting to receive him prostrated him. The commitment papers were in the hands of Sheriff C. A. Theorin when that official found the prisoner dying.

THOMPSON TO PLEAD GUILTY

ASKS ATTORNEY TO FILE FORMAL CHARGES.

Former Cashier of Osseo Bank to Offer No Defense—Superintendent Declares Shortage $67,058.

Minneapolis, July 24.—At practically the same hour that A. H. Turrittin, state superintendent of banks, made public an official statement declaring the shortage at the Osseo State bank to be $67,058.26, Joseph B. Thompson, former cashier, asked County Attorney John M. Rees to file formal charges against him, allow him to plead guilty and begin sentence at once. It was predicted at the courthouse that Thompson would be on his way to the state penitentiary in 24 hours.

The charges were to be filed immediately after the county attorney had received a copy of Mr. Turrittin's report.

The superintendent's report declared that 17 forged notes, aggregating more than $20,000, had been found by his examiners and that funds were missing from practically every department of the bank's business, including the savings accounts. Despite this, Mr. Turrittin said, the bank probably would be reopened.

Thompson to "Face Music."

Thompson's determination to "face the music" was made during a conference in the county jail, at which his wife and attorney were with him for more than an hour. Attorney Manley Fosseen, who represents the former cashier, said no defense will be interposed.

"Thompson has made no pretense of innocence from the day he was taken into custody," said Mr. Fosseen. "He said he is anxious to begin serving his sentence. He realizes fully that delay is only making the parting with his wife and family the harder. Mrs. Thompson is standing the strain, but it daily grows harder to bear."

RURAL LIFE CONFERENCE

Meeting at University Farm Promises to Be Largely Attended—Inquiries Received from Over State

The rural life conference, which begins this week at Universty Farm, St. Paul, promises to be largely attended and of greater interest than the conference of last year even. Inquiries are being received from rural clergymen, educators, bankers, farmers' club presidents, and others. As a result of such varied attendance the discussions are likely to bring out points of unusual value.

"These conferences," says Dean A. F. Woods, of the Minnesota College of Agriculture, "are big with possibilities and should exercise a large influence on the development of rural life in Minnesota. As their value becomes better known, they should bring together annually all classes of men and women holding positions of leadership in town and country. Such a getting-together should be of inestimable value."

The program for the first day of the conference includes some interesting features. Among these will be an address of welcome by Dean Woods, who will review the stuation in the state; a round-table on rural education, led by Rev. C. O. Bemies, of McClellandtown, Pa.; a conference on the rural church, led by Rev. E. C. Hickman, of Byron, Minn.; a discussion of rural recreation by D. D. Mayne, principal of the Minnesota School of Agriculture, and an address on "How One Community Found Itself," by Mr. Bemies.

Auto Injuries Fatal.

Virginia, Minn.—William A. Whitney, wealthy superior contractor and banker, while motoring home from the auto races at Hibbing, broke a wheel a mile west of this city. The car turned completely over, pinning Whitney underneath. His collarbone and several ribs were broken and he suffered other injuries from which he cannot recover.

Billion Dollar Committee.

Minneapolis, Minn.—After a [illegible] of 13,150 miles examining and inspecting reclamation projects in the West the house committee on appropriations, known as the billion dollar committee, headed by its chairman, Congressman John J. Fitzgerald of Brooklyn, spent the day in Minneapolis on the last lap of the trip.

Hits Danger Lantern; Killed.

Minneapolis, Minn. — Falling into a street excavation while playing, Gerald, two-year-old son of John L. Brown, 4315 Tenth avenue south, overturned a danger lantern and was fatally burned. His clothing, wet with kerosene, was burned from his body. He died in the City hospital several hours later.

"Last Man's Club" Meets.

Minneapolis, Minn.—Eight of the "Last Man's Club," the thin remnant of its original roster, which in turn was the remnant of those in Company B, First Minnesota regiment, which made the famous charge at Gettysburg, stood round a long white covered table at which 22 vacant chairs were draped in black, bowed their covered heads in silent tribute to the dead and then drank a toast to deathless memory.

CZARINA ESCAPED THE CROWD

Unwelcome Popularity Forced Wife of Monarch to Climb Ladder When Recognized.

The czarina's popularity in Russia has been enormously increased since the war on account of the work that she has been doing for the Russian Red Cross.

It is interesting to recall that her majesty once had an extraordinary experience for a royal personage while on a visit to Germany. She was out shopping one day, attended only by one lady companion, and she had hoped to remain unrecognized by the people. While she was making some purchases in a jeweler's shop, however, the news of her identity got abroad, and in a very few moments there was a large crowd outside the premises.

Exit through the front door was out of the question, so the czarina asked the jeweler to let herself and her companion out of the back of the shop.

The jeweler replied that that was impossible, as the back yard was inclosed by a very high boarding which would effectually cut off their retreat.

"That does not matter," said the empress. "Get a ladder and we will climb over it."

A ladder was brought and the czarina and her companion rushed up it, climbed over the boarding, jumped into a quiet street, and made their escape as quickly as they could.

A minute later the jeweler's shop window was smashed to atoms by the surging and excitable crowd.—Rehoboth Sunday Herald.

A Busy Day.

"There's a delivery wagon driving up to our door," said hubby. "Been shopping again?"

"Well, I didn't have anything to do," replied wifey, "so I went down to Wanacooper's and listened to the concert in their auditorium. It was just splendid, too. After that I went up in the grocery department and tried some new cereal they're demonstrating. I managed to get three helpings so I didn't need to spend any money for luncheon. Then I looked at the fashion parade and spent the rest of the afternoon in the art gallery. After that I didn't feel as if I ought to leave the store without buying anything, so I had them send me up a spool of thread."

One They Appreciated.

"That last thing you sent in was good," said the editor: "we all enjoyed reading it very much."

"Well, in that case," said the youthful poet, "I take back what I said in the letter I wrote to you yesterday about my determination never to send you any of my work again."

The editor slowly shook his head. "Don't do that," he murmured; "why, that letter is what I referred to!"—Stray Stories.

BAKING POWDER

As sure to rise as the Sun

You can't always make everything "just so." Sometimes you will get in more shortening than usual; or make the batter a little thin; or it may not be convenient to put a cake in the oven the moment it is mixed; or your oven may not bake evenly and it is necessary to turn the pan around—none of these little uncertainties make the slightest difference in results if you use

KC BAKING POWDER

This modern, double-raise baking powder has unusual strength and is absolutely certain to raise your biscuits, cakes and pastry light and feathery. It generates an abundance of leavening gas both in the mixing bowl and in the oven. The raising is sustained until the dough is cooked through.

Housewives who use K C never have "bad luck" with their baking. Try K C at our risk. Your grocer will refund your money if you are not pleased in every way. 67

BROUGHT HOME TROPHIES

Aunt Mary Had Gathered Many "Curiosities" During Her Morning Stroll on Golf Links.

It was at St. Andrews in Scotland, the home of golf, where the links stretch along over the moors by the sea, and dear, quiet Aunt Mary had gone up from London to visit a golfing family of nephews and nieces. At tea the first afternoon someone managed to stop talking golf long enough to ask, "Well, Aunt Mary, how did you pass the morning?"

"Oh, I enjoyed myself immensely, my dear. I went for a walk on the moor.

"A good many people seemed to be about, and some of them called out to me in a most energetic manner. But I didn't take any notice of them. And, oh, my dear, I found such a number of curious little round things. I brought them home to ask you what they are."

Hereupon Aunt Mary opened her work bag and produced 24 golf balls. —Youth's Companion.

Considerate.

"I see you're teaching your wife to play golf. Is she an apt pupil?"

"Oh, she doesn't care for the game at all. I'm merely teaching her the rudiments, so I can discuss the game with her when I come home from the links."

Should Sport a Sign.

A man born with a harelip is of few days and full of trouble. In a central Missouri town lives a man who possesses a harelip and a motor car. He had been much interested in the spread of the jitney idea, and the other day, when starting out to the county seat of his county, he saw a number of his fellow citizens waiting at the railroad station for a train to the same place, and decided to do a little jitneying himself. Driving up to the station he called out what his friends took to be a cordial invitation to joy ride to the county capital, and they accepted promptly. On arriving at the courthouse they were surprised—and grieved—by a demand for 50 cents apiece.

"Pay nothin'!" exclaimed one. "You never said a word about pay. You just drove up and hollered: "Git in the car!"

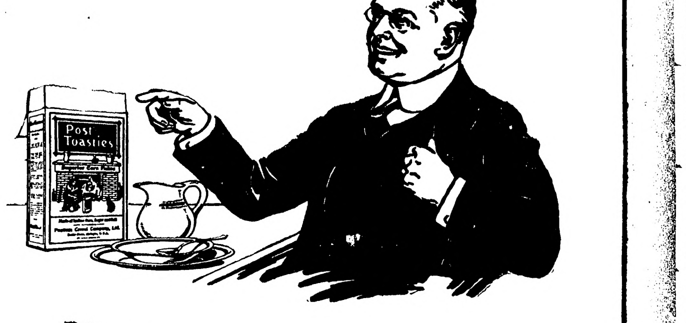
"I didn't either say yit in the car," wailed the harelipped man. "I said yitney car."

Harmony.

"I'm going to select new uniforms for my baseball team," said the manager. "Can you suggest anything?"

"How about caps of green billiard cloth to match their ivory domes?" said the disgusted rooter.

About the only way the average person can attract wide attention is by being a fool.



These New

Post Toasties

Are the first and only corn flakes that are "good to eat" without milk, cream or sugar

Try some fresh from the package, and at once you get a wonderful true corn flavour—vastly different from that of the ordinary "corn flakes" you may have had.

Notice the little pearl-like "puffs" on each flake—a characteristic that is distinctive; also that when cream or milk is added they don't mush down, but keep their body and appetizing crispness.

There's a Royal Treat in every package of

P. O. Ditmanson

It could hardly be expected that a large crowd would turn out to anything at this season of the year, but they did for the lecture given Monday evening by Messrs. Ditmanson and Kolden, two of the 30 "College Volunteers" of this state. Their topic was liquor's relation to our physicial, mental, social and financial well-being, and was made very interesting to all.

Cream shippers would get about 20c, if we had no creamery here. Has the creamery that paid 25 cents done poorly? It all depends on the amount of business done for the year, no matter how well it may be managed the expenses will be in proportion to the make of butter.

The creameries that did a business of $30000 or less yearly, paid less that 30 cents for butterfat. Those that had a business of $50000 or more paid 30 cents and up. A hundred farmers with an average of 10 cows each, can do a business of $50 000 a year, easily, at present prices. But they must test their cows and keep only the best and sell a good grade of cream to the home creamery. Don't ship your cream away from home and have it spoil before it gets to the big creamery which is known as a centralizer. They never make better butter than seconds and thirds and by comparing the prices in any of the markets, you can easily see the home creamery can pay more for butterfat.

Horse Chestnut Tree in Bottle.
Horse chestnuts can be grown in a bottle of water. Use a bottle with a neck wide enough to hold the chestnut, adding water to just touch the nut and stand it in a window. Roots will form, followed by a stem and leaves. If the water is constantly supplied the tree can grow for years in the bottle.

Good and Evil.
We often try in vain to cut up our errors by the roots, to fight evil hand to hand on its own ground, where it has us at a disadvantage, whereas our most sure way to victory is by developing and fortifying the good that is in us. We have but a certain measure of strength and activity; as much of this as is added to the good is taken from the evil.—Mme. Swetchine.

Enlarged Tonsils and Adenoids.
Before operating to remove adenoids and tonsils the health of the child should always be built up. If there is an existing cold this must be treated and cured. If the teeth are decayed they must be filled. Treating the teeth and the practicing of deep breathing exercises will be all that is needed to cure tonsil disease if it is strictly local, and not the expression of a systematic condition or some recent infection.

UNDOUBTEDLY THIS POTATO will take no prize. It will not be the only potato entered at the Minnesota State Fair, Sept. 6 to 11. Its owner, however, recognizes the value of State Fair advertising, and will continue to enter potatoes until he does take a prize. Furthermore he wants to look over the million dollar livestock show and buy a boar to head his herd. As he is also thinking of buying a manure spreader and a silo he wants to look over the suitable types at the 70-acre machinery show and decide what to do. His wife is to show a lemon pie, and his oldest boy is to exhibit some corn. They sent to Secretary John C. Simpson, Hamline, Minn., for a premium list, looked it over, and decided to get into the game. Then they all want to see Aviator Art Smith, ten weeks at the Frisco Exposition, the auto polo, horse racing, the fire works, auto racing, music, and other great features. Say, LET'S GO TOO!

KNOW THY COUNTRY

II—Railroads

In discussing the commercial achievements of this great age, we shall approach the subject as the historian chronicling events. This series will endeavor to record in writing the supremacy of American men and industries in the world's affairs and perpetuate an appreciation of our marvelous industrial achievements by presenting simple facts, figures and comparisons that are overpowering in their convictions.

America holds her proud place among the nations of the earth today on account of her supremacy in transportation facilities. The mighty minds of the age are engaged in the problems of transportation, and the greatest men in the history of the world's commerce are at the head of the transportation systems of the United States.

In the discussion of transportation, let us consider separately our Railways, Telegraph and Telephones, Express, Public Highways, Steamships, Street Railways, Interurban and other forms of transportation, and this article will deal with railways.

The United States has the largest mileage, the best service, the cheapest rates, pays labor the highest wages, and we have the most efficiently managed of the railways of the world. They stand as a monument to the native genius of our marvelous builders, and most of the railroads in foreign countries have been built under American orders.

The railroads represent a larger investment of capital than any other branch of human activity. The mileage in the United States exceeds the accepted distance from the earth to the moon. We had in 1911, the last year in which figures for all countries are available, on the earth's surface, 639,981 miles of railway divided as follows: United States 241,199, Europe 207,432 and other countries 191,350. The United States has 38 per cent of the world's mileage, seven per cent of the estimated population and about five per cent of the area. The total capital invested in the railways of the world is $50,000,000,000, divided as follows: United States $13,000,000,000 Europe $25,650,000,000 and other countries $11,350,000,000. Reduced to a mileage basis the capitalization is as follows: The world $78,000, United States $54,000, Europe $124,000, and other countries $59,000.

A comparison of rates is equally as interesting and the United States takes the lead in economy and service. The average rate per ton per hundred mile haul is as follows: United States 76c, Great Britain $2.53, France $1.44, Germany $1.14, Russia 92c, Austria-Hungary $1.30, Italy $2.30 and Switzerland $2.82.

The average yearly pay of all railroad employes in the principal countries is as follows: United States $757, Germany $392, Italy $345, Austria $322, Great Britain $270, France $260 and Russia $204.

About 30 per cent, or 188,000 miles, of the railways of the world are government owned. About half the railway mileage of Europe is government owned.

A comparison of the economy, in time and money and the convenience in travel, will be made in a later article.

Potatoes

The shades of night were falling fast
As thru the village of Holt there passed,
A youth who bore mid snow and ice
A banner with this strange device,
"Potatoes"

In happy hours he saw a light
Of household fires warm and bright,
He knew what placed those comforts there,
And cried out in the evening air,
"Potatoes"

Plant thou the seeds, P. A. Riesberg said
It will bring riches upon thy head.
The soil is deep and the land is wide,
To him at once the youth replied,
"Potatoes"

Oh stay a maiden cried and rest,
Tis time to build our own home nest,
A smile was in his bright blue eye,
I'll stay at once was his glad cry,
"Potatoes"

A fortune there quite soon he found,
Potatoes grow for miles around,
While still he plants and still there grows,
Thru summers' heat or winters snows,
"Potatoes"

Still in Business

To my friends and business patrons throughout the country:

I have just recently found out that some of my business neighbors here in town have been circulating a report to the effect that I was going out of business, in fact that I have already closed my lunch counter and confectionery. Any such statement is a malicious and deliberate falsehood, as I am still doing business at the old stand and giving all my patrons the very best value for their money in anything I can serve them with.

Very truly yours,

WITH BARNS FULL OF STOCK

Didn't Look Much Like Hard Times in Western Canada.

A. Meyer, who left one of the best Counties in Minnesota, probably because he got a good price for his excellent farm, and left for the Canadian West, writes to his local paper, the Bagley Independent. His story is well worth repeating. He says:

"To say I was greatly surprised when I reached Saskatchewan and Alberta would be expressing it mildly. In a country where so much suffering was reported, I found everyone in good circumstances; and especially all our friends who have left Clearwater and Polk counties. They all have good homes and those who were reported to have sold their stock through lack of feed, I found with their barns full of stock, and it did not look very much like hard times. They have from 160 acres to two sections of the finest land that can be found.

Those that left here two or three years ago have from 100 to 400 acres in crops this year.

Prospects for a bumper crop are splendid. It is a little cold now, but nothing is frosted, either in gardens or fields. Land can be bought quite reasonably here from those who volunteered their services in the European war. Here are certainly the best opportunities for securing a good home with a farm and independence for life in a short time. Before I started I heard that prices were so high. Flour was reported at $12 per hundred it is $4.25 here. In the west all the groceries can be purchased for nearly the same as in Minn. The only article that I found higher was kerosene at 35 cts per gallon. When I saw the land I wondered why people do not live where they produce enough from the soil to make a comfortable living. We visited T. T. Sater, John Dahls, W. J. and R. D. Holt's, Martin Halmen, Ole Halvorson, Wm. Walker and Geo. Colby, all from Bagley. We found well and prosperous farmers who wished to be remembered to all their Bagley friends."

(Sgd.) A. MEYER.—Advertisement.

The Proper Term.
"I'm going to celebrate my wouldn't wedding tomorrow," said the sandy drummer.
"You mean your wooden wedding, don't you?" queried the grocer.
"No, I mean just what I said," answered the s. d., "It will be five years ago tomorrow since I asked a girl to marry me, and fortunately she said she wouldn't."

Beauty and the Beast.
"A deucedly pretty girl!"
"Stunning."
"And a hideous bulldog."
"True. She ought to have a man along to lessen the contrast between herself and the dog."

Changed His Mind.
Wife (during the spat)—During our courtship you said you would gladly die for me.
Husband—Well?
Wife—Well, why don't you?

Domestic Warfare.
Little Lemuel—Why are there so many divorces, paw?
Paw—Possibly, my son, because the sea of matrimony is infested with floating mines.

Not Definite.
"My husband," remarked Mrs. Harker, "is a peculiar man. I have to handle him with gloves."
"Boxing or rubber?" queried her friend Mrs. Barker.

Only Vegetables for Him.
"So you're an applicant for the position of gardener?"
"Yes, sir."
"Had experience with vegetables?"
"Oh, yes, sir; ten years."
"I have a horse and cow you will have to take care of."
"Oh, I couldn't do that, sir. You see, I'm a strict vegetarian."

Hubby Will Economize.
"But your fiance has such a small salary; how are you going to live?"

LUBLIN OCCUPIED; RUSSIANS IN PERIL

VIENNA STATEMENT REPORTS PARTIAL SUCCESS—CHELM-LUBLIN RAILWAY TAKEN.

SLAVS ARE APPLYING TORCH

Dispatches to London Report Country Left to Invaders Devastated—Warsaw Denuded of Everything of Military Value.

CAVALRY ENTERS LUBLIN.

London, August 2.—Austro-German cavalry have entered Lublin. Official announcement to this effect from Vienna, supplementing German claims that the Russian grip along this southern front had been broken, indicates that the important Lublin-Chelm railway now is strongly held by the invaders, cutting off one line of retreat for the Russian forces in southern Poland.

London, Aug. 2.—The Russians now are facing the problem of evacuating Warsaw and the surrounding country without losing their armies, while the Austro-German forces are making a supreme effort to get across their line of retreat. The Teutons are said to have met with partial success in this attempt, a Berlin official report stating that Field Marshal von Mackensen, resuming the offensive, had reached the Chelm-Lublin railway, about midway between those two cities, and that southeast of this as far as the Bug river, the Russian front had been "shaken."

The success of General von Mackensen in getting across this railway, after having been virtually stopped by the Russian counter attack, denies at least one line of retreat to the Russians who might still be between him and Warsaw, and also places the Germans in a position to move against the Bug river front should this be decided upon.

British military critics, however, refuse to believe that Grand Duke Nicholas, commander-in-chief of the Russian forces, has not provided for all contingencies or that he was not fairly sure of the safety of his troops before indicating to the world that he had decided to take up a new line.

Indeed, the news contained in the Berlin official statement that the Germans have crossed the Vistula river southeast of Warsaw, between the Pilica river and Kosienice, leads the military writers to the belief that the Russians already have fallen back in this region and that perhaps even the fortress of Ivangorod has been left to its fate.

Russians Applying Torch.

There is no news of the situation on the Narew river or of General von Buelow's wider outflanking movement in Kovno province. However, the opinion is expressed here that as the German plans contemplate a series of attacks rather than a simultaneous one, it is probable they are waiting for Von Mackensen to reach some previously arranged position before they resume their attacks.

According to dispatches received here, the country around Warsaw which the Russians are leaving to the invaders has been put to the torch, while the city itself has been denuded of everything that might be of use to the Germans if it falls into their hands.

Richest Girl Is Married.

Harbor Point, Mich., August 2.—Miss Catherine Barker, an orphan, said to be the richest 19-year-old girl in the world, was married here to Howard Spalding, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard H. Spaulding, of Chicago. Five years ago when Miss Barker's father, organizer of the Haskell-Barker freight car factories, and head of a dozen other great industrial concerns, died, she came into a fortune of over $30,000,000. Her income is said to be approximately $2,000,000 a year.

Joffre Favors Waiting Game.

Paris, Aug. 2.—France is fully prepared for a winter campaign. It is understood General Joffre is unwilling to force a decisive battle on the ground that Germany must give way under long drawn out pressure and by such tactics he can save France thousands of men. He is said to be an exponent of defeating Germany by attrition, no matter how long it takes, France and her allies being in a better position to play a waiting game than the central European powers.

New British Note Expected.

Washington, Aug. 2.—The supplemental British note regarding the rights of neutrals at sea and within blockaded lines, will be delivered to the embassy at London within a day or two, Ambassador Page advised the state department.

Receive Black Hand Threats.

Santa Monica, Cal., Aug. 2.—Cutouts representing black hands and pasted upon the windows of the residences of Delphin M. Delmas, the attorney; Robert Farquihar, an architect and a son-in-law of the late United States Senator John P. Jones of Nevada, and a prominent banker whose name was withheld, started a police search for men believed to be engaged in a plot against the three men.

Threatening letters were said to have been received by Delmas and the other men.

Germany Requests That American Vessels Have National Colors Painted On Sides—Dispatch Causes no Comment.

Washington, Aug. 3.—Silence from the German governement and voluminous representations from Great Britain marked the international situation here.

It now appears that if Germany shall continue to respect the rights of the United States, interest in the immediate future will center in the controversy this governement is having with the British foreign office.

The supplemental note from London dealing with the detention of American cargoes consigned to neutral ports in Europe has reached the state department. This is the communication that was promised a week ago when Sir Edward Grey asked Secretary of State Robert Lansing to withhold from publication a note that had just been received dealing at great length with the treatment Great Britain has accorded United States shipping.

Secretary of State Lansing announced that this supplemental note, together with the note that came in a week ago and also a third note dealing with the Neches case, will be made public in this country Wednesday. The supplemental note that has just come in is to a large extent, it was said, a revision of the note that was written before the last communication of the United States to Germany went forward. Whether the new note bears evidence that the British foreign office changed its views in any respect after it had read the note to Germany is not disclosed by the state department.

Only One Section Received.

The only word from Berlin came in the form of a note dealing with the Frye case. It is in answer to the communication of the United States sent some weeks ago objecting to the case going to a prize court. Only one section of this note had been received but the balance of its is expected at once, and it will be made public, Secretary of State Lansing said, within a few days.

The German admiralty has requested that American ships have American flags painted on their sides in proportions large enough to be recognized by submarine commanders. Many American ships have been painting the national colors on their sides, but it is said they were painted too small. Ambassador Gerard transmitted the request in a message, a paraphrase of which, given out by the state department, follows:

"The American ambassador at Berlin has been informed by the German admiralty that merchant vessels wishing to indicate their neutral nationality by painting their national colors on the ship's sides often commit the mistake of painting these signs too small, so that they cannot be recognized at some distance. The foreign office requests American steamship companies be accordingly informed."

The dispatch brought out no comment in official quarters.

Teutons Lose 105,000 Men.

Geneva, Switzerland, Aug. 3.—The Tribune prints the following dispatch from its Innsbruck correspondent.

The capture of Lublin cost General Woyisch 70,000 men in killed, wounded and prisoners. Four miles north of Lublin the Russians are fighting fiercely, disputing every foot of gronud while covering their retreat.

In an advance of seven miles with seven army corps, Field Marshal von Mackensen lost 35,000 men.

The army massed from Lowicz to Ostrowiec has begun an advance upon Ivangorod and Novo Alexandria, the evacuation of which was commenced by the Russians Friday night, according to the Germans.

Quicksand Submerges Plant.

Hudson, N. Y., Aug. 3.—Four men were killed and four others injured, one of whom will die, when the power plant of the Knickerbocker Cement company submerged in quicksand here. The entire building disappeared. All of the dead men were laborers.

Wounded Soldiers Burned.

Athens, Greece, Aug. 3 (via London).—Arrivals here from Constantinople report that 3,000 buildings, including the German hospital filled with wounded soldiers, have been destroyed by fire.

Warships at Golden Gate.

San Francisco, Aug. 3.—The battleships Missouri, Ohio and Wisconsin steamed into San Francisco bay and dropped anchor off the Panama-Pacific exposition grounds. The squadron, which entered Pacific waters via the Panama canal, brought 860 midshipmen on an annual practice cruise. The Ohio, which broke a propellor blade coming up the coast will proceed to the Mare Island navy yard for repairs. Numerous entertainments will be held in honor of the visiting middies and officers.

GET LEADING MAN OF HOLDUP GANG

Told Police He Held Up So Many He Could Not Remember All.

CAUGHT WHILE ASLEEP

Mysterious Telephone Message Leads to Arrest of Robber—Has Large Assortment of Plunder—Tells of His Deeds.

Kansas City.—In the capture of A. W. Brown the police got the "leading man" of a holdup gang that has been operating here since last September. Brown made a statement in which he confessed that he had committed so many holdups here that he could not remember all of them.

A telephone message from a source not learned, which was sent to the Westport police station, was the cause of Brown's arrest. Patrolmen Michael Halligan and Edward Wilson went to Brown's home. Mrs. Brown and her two-year-old child were in the back yard when the officers arrived and entered the house to search for Brown. They found him asleep in bed. From beneath his pillow they took an automatic revolver and a flashlight, and on a stand near by they found another revolver.

After taking possession of the weapons the officers awakened Brown, who jumped from his bed and reached under the pillow for his revolver. When he found it was gone he held up his hands.

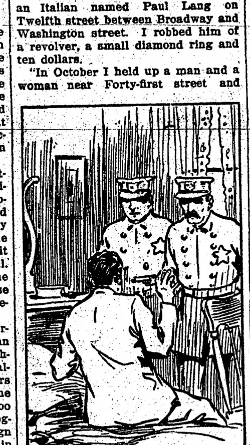
The patrolmen searched Brown's home and found many watches, rings and clothes that did not belong to any members of the Brown family. These were taken along when the policemen took Brown to the Westport police station, where Brown made a statement.

Tells of Holdups.

"The first robbery I committed in Kansas City was some time in September, 1914," Brown said, according to the police.

"A short time after that I held up an Italian named Paul Lang on Twelfth street between Broadway and Washington street. I robbed him of a revolver, a small diamond ring and ten dollars.

"In October I held up a man and a woman near Forty-first street and Warwick boulevard in front of their home. From them I took seven dollars, a diamond ring and a wedding ring. I sold the diamond to a jewelry company and received one hundred and seventy dollars for it. I sold the wedding ring to a pawnshop for one dollar and seventy-five cents."



Held Up His Hands.

He gave a long list of names of people he held up, also their addresses. When Brown came to Kansas City last summer he was unable to find work, he said, and resorted to highway robbery to get funds with which to keep his family. About two hundred dollars' worth of jewelry that Brown had taken from persons he had robbed has been recovered, and in most instances he remembers to whom they belong.

Brown told the police that he came here from Texas. He refused to name the town, but said he had been the city marshal there. He claims he did not commit any robberies outside of Kansas City.

Prisoners on Kansas City Municipal Farm May Spend Sunday at Home.

Kansas City, Mo.—Prisoners who have families and who are confined at the municipal farm at Leeds are to be allowed to go home to spend Sundays with their families, provided they can be trusted.

The Sunday paroles will be granted by J. O. Stutsman, superintendent at the farm. The men who will be paroled will go home after finishing their work on Saturday and will return in time to begin on Monday morning.

The paroles will depend entirely on a merit system. If the plan works successfully it may be extended to trustworthy men who are not married.

MADE HIM CHANGE HIS SIGN

Bachelor Found That Persistent Salesmen Had Some Other Way of Getting Business.

An old bachelor, in order to prevent men annoying him by knocking at his door to dispose of their wares, affixed thereto a label to this effect: "Hawkers, take notice! The inhabitants of this house never buy anything at the door." Shortly afterward he was aroused by a loud knocking at his parlor window, and looking out he saw two fellows with clothes-props, mats, and pegs for sale. Throwing up the sash, he bawled: "Can you read?"

"Yes, master," answered one.

"Then don't you see a notice affixed to my knocker that I never buy anything at the door?"

"To be sure we do. That's the reason why we thought we would make bold and try to do a little business at the window."

The bachelor was pacified, and made a purchase. Immediately afterwards, however, he sent for a painter, and had the addition made to his announcement. "Nor at the window either."

COUNTED PROFIT AND LOSS

Country Storekeeper Well Advised in Discontinuing Business for That Day, at Least.

The present generation is scarcely aware that at one time our one-dollar and two-dollar bills were marked with Roman instead of Arabic numerals. Therefore, when the youth left temporarily in charge of the general store in a small country town was appreached by a stranger and asked for change for an eleven-dollar bill, he looked curiously at the greenback, but courteously acceded to the request. The owner of the store sauntered in some time later.

"Well, Sam, any business?"

"Nothin' 'cept changin' a 'leven-dollar bill fer a drummer," the boy answered unconcernedly.

The storekeeper started for the cash drawer, looked long and sorrowfully at the old two-dollar bill, then said sadly:

"Put up the shutters, Sam. We've done enough business for one day!"—Collier's Weekly.

on trial beside a package of any other corn flakes on the market. The jury will bring in a verdict of "guilty" —guilty of being the finest corn flakes ever made.
The New Post Toasties are crisp and appetizing, with a true corn flavour; and they don't mush down when milk or cream is added.
But here's the real test. Take a handful, fresh from the package, and eat them without cream or milk. Mighty good, aren't they?
Notice the little "puffs" on each flake—a distinguishing characteristic—resulting from the new method of cooking and toasting, which also brings out and enhances the wonderful, true corn flavour.

HOLDS VOTING LAW IN STATE ILLEGAL

SUPREME COURT KILLS PREFERENTIAL SYSTEM—OUSTS DULUTH JUDGE.

STATE NEWS OF MINNESOTA

Interesting and Important Happenings of the Past Few Days Selected and Arranged for the Convenience of Busy Readers.

Duluth.—According to the decision just handed down by the state supreme court, holding the preferential voting clause of the city charter unconstitutional, Duluth has been governed by illegally elected commissioners and her municipal justice administered by illegally elected judges for two years. The charter came into effect in 1913 and the first election under it, April 1, 1913, established the commission form of government and chose the new commissioners under the preferential system of voting.

Judge William L. Windom resumed charge of the municipal court and is trying cases.

Laws Unconstitutional.

The second choice features of election laws in Minnesota are unconstitutional, according to an opinion of the supreme court.

The court holds that an elector is entitled to one vote, and has no right to influence the election of another candidate by expressing an additional choice. The decision does not affect the general election laws of the state, as the second choice feature was repealed by the 1915 legislature, but it does affect those cities with home rule charters which have the second choice feature.

Holds "Vote" Means Choice.

The case came up from an election for municipal judge in Duluth, April, 1915. W. H. Smallwood was a candidate. He was declared elected by the city council. John Brown, Jr., an elector, contested the election. At the hearing it was decided Smallwood was properly elected. Brown appealed the case.

The court holds the word "vote" in the constitution means a choice for a candidate by one constitutionally qualified to exercise a choice.

"It was never meant that the ballot of one elector, cast for one candidate, could be of greater or less effect than the ballot of another elector cast for another candidate," said the opinion. "It was to be of the same effect. If the elector votes for his choice once, his power to help him is exhausted. If he votes for other candidates he may harm his choice, but cannot help him."

CANDIDATES FOR SCHOOLS

Over 240 Persons Take Examinations for Minnesota Rural Teaching Staff of College.

St. Paul.—Minnesota's rural school and high school teaching staff will be between 240 and 270 persons stronger if all those who began taking examinations for certificates at the Minnesota College of Agriculture in St. Paul and at the University of Minnesota are successful.

At the university forty candidates went to work under the supervision of H. C. Hess, superintendent of schools at New Ulm, Minn., to pass the requirements for a professional certificate to teach in a high school.

The number taking examinations for such certificates is expected to reach seventy when all those taking examinations in single subjects to complete their requirements for certificates appear during the week.

More than 200 prospective school ma'ams wrote for rural school certificates at the agricultural school.

Poll Tax Again, if Saloons Go.

Minneapolis, Minn.—The old and long-forgotten poll tax may be revived and used again in Minneapolis if the county optionists are successful in making the city dry at the coming election. Alderman Chase and other members of the City Board of Equalization said they saw no other way of making up the loss in revenue.

The board also considered the advisability of licensing business concerns who operate in Minneapolis and keep their stock of goods outside.

Fall in Bathtub Proves Fatal.

Mankato.—William W. Frost, instructor in English literature at the Mankato normal school for the past six years, was killed accidentally by a fall while taking a bath at his residence. He stepped into the bathtub, where he received a shock from an electric heater, and fell, striking the right side of his jaw against the faucet. Mr. Frost leaves a widow and two children.

U. S. Dollar Commands Premium.

Minneapolis, July 29.—The United States dollar is at a premium throughout the world and is the only monetary unit of any nation at the present time which is not depreciated, according to Theodore Wold, governor of the Minneapolis Federal Reserve bank. "The pound sterling, the franc, the mark, the ruble, the yen and all other standards are below par," said Mr. Wold. "The dollar alone is worth 100 cents or more." The local reserve bank is increasing the amount of foreign acceptances on hand.

Obituary.

Torger T. Sollom was born at Hallingdal Norway, Dec. 24th 1856. When four years old, he came to this country together with his mother, two sisters and three brothers, his father having died only a short time previous. They settled in Houston County, Minn., living there for 17 years, when they moved to Grand Forks County, N. D. Five years later, he was united in marriage with Miss Turi Myhrum. He was one of the pioneer settlers of Marshall Co., coming here in 1884 and residing on a farm 3 1-2 miles north, west of Holt. About two years ago he came to this place and took possession of the Evergreen Hotel in which business he was engaged at the time of his death. He leaves a wife, thirteen children, two sisters and three brothers to mourn the loss of a loving and devoted husband, father, and brother.

The funeral was held last Sunday afternoon from the Free Mission church, of which the deceased was a faithful member. Rev. Hill of Alvardo preached in both languages and was ably assisted by Rev. M. T. Strom of this place. Interment was made in the local cemetery, between 500 and 600 people following the remains to their last resting place. The many beautiful floral designs for the casket and the lovely decorations of the church but mutely expressed the love and esteem in which he was held by his many friends. The relatives from a distance in attendance at the funeral were: Ole Sollom of Reynolds, N. D. a brother of the deceased, Mrs. Lufkin, Talfred Rierson, Erick Gullingsrud all of Thief River Falls and Mrs. Poppenhagen of Goodridge.

THE NEWS joins the many friends in and around Holt, in extending sincere sympathy to the bereaved family.

WHAT AN ENORMOUS COW! Such an animal, you say, never existed. You are absolutely right. However if all the cattle to be shown at the Minnesota State Fair, Sept. 6 to 11, were reduced to one cow she would be as big. She would furnish enough meat to fill a sandwich for every person in Minnesota, and enough milk at one milking to wash it down. If all the sheep, horses, and swine were handled in the same way what big animals they would form! Everything at the Minnesota State Fair is conducted on the same enormous scale. There are to be forty county exhibits, 70 acres of machinery, immense amounts of butter, cheese, and fruit, corn and farm products. Art Smith, the aviator, is the leading amusement attraction in America today. Auto polo, music by a dozen bands and orchestras, a big automobile racing program, the fire works, a $21,500 horse racing program, all these and other features will thrill the visitor. LET'S GO!

APPEAL TO MEXICAN CHIEFS TO END WAR MADE PUBLIC

Pan-American Conferees Now Ready to Extend Their Aid to Arrange for Proposed Peace Congress--Replies Are Asked for Within Ten Days.

Washington, Aug. 16.—The Pan-American appeal to Mexico, now being delivered to the chiefs of factions and governors of states, was made public here by the state department.

The appeal, although addressed to the political and military leaders, takes on the form of an announcement to the Mexican people themselves. As made public by the state department, the document is prefaced by this announcement:

"The Mexican people are informed that the following communication has been sent to many prominent persons in Mexico who possess authority or military power within the republic."

Copies to Carranza and Villa.

The appeal went forward to General Carranza and Villa and to more than a score of other military and political leaders throughout Mexico, being transmitted by cable, telegraph, and wireless, whichever method was required to reach the desired destination.

As replies are asked for within ten days after the appeal is received, although the time may be extended for cause, no further meeting of the Pan-American conference is planned until they have been received or it may be apparent that some of the Mexicans addressed do not propose to reply.

The conferees confidently expect within a reasonable time enough favorable replies to warrant them in extending their aid to arrange for the proposed peace congress.

Text of Peace Appeal.

Washington.—"The undersigned, the Secretary of State of the United States; the ambassadors extraordinary and plenipotentiary of Brazil, Chile and Argentina and the envoys extraordinary and ministers plenipotentiary of Bolivia, Uruguay and Guatemala, accredited to the government of the United States of America, acting severally and independently unanimously send to you the following communication.

"Inspired by the most sincere spirit of American fraternity and convinced that they rightly interpret the earnest wish of the entire continent they have met informally at the suggestion of the Secretary of State of the United States to consider the Mexican situation to ascertain whether their friendly and disinterested help could be successfully employed to re-establish peace and constitutional order in our sister republic.

Lose Sight of Effects of War.

"In the heat of the frightful struggle which for so long has steeped in blood the Mexican soil, doubtless all may well have lost sight of the dissolving effects of the strife upon the most vital conditions of the national existence, not only on the life and liberty of the inhabitants but on the prestige and security of the country. We cannot, however—no one can doubt—that in the presence of a sympathetic appeal from their brothers of America, recalling to them these disastrous effects, asking them to save their motherland from an abyss—no one can doubt, we repeat—that the patriotism of the men who lead, or aid in any way the bloody strife, will not remain unmoved; no one will doubt that each and every one of them, measuring in his own conscience his share in the responsibilities of past misfortune and looking forward to his share in the glory of the pacification and reconstruction of the country, will respond, nobly and resolutely, to this friendly appeal and give their best efforts to opening the way to some saving action.

Urge Meeting at Neutral Spot.

"We, the undersigned, believe that if the men directing the armed movements in Mexico, whether political or military chiefs, should agree to meet, either in person or by delegates, far from the sound of cannon, and with no other inspiration save the thought of their afflicted land, there to exchange ideas and to determine the fate of the country—from such action would undoubtedly result the strong and unyielding agreement requisite to the creation of a provisional government, which should adopt the first steps necessary to the national reconstruction of the country—and to issue the first and most essential of them all, the immediate call to general elections.

"An adequate place within the Mexican frontiers, which for the purpose might be neutralized, should serve as the seat of the conference, and in order to bring about a conference of this nature the undersigned, or any of them, will willingly, upon invitation, act as intermediaries to arrange the time, place and other details of such conference if this action can in any way aid the Mexican people.

Expect Reply in Ten Days.

"The undersigned expect a reply to this communication within a reasonable time and consider that such a time would be ten days after the communication is delivered, subject to progation for cause."

U. S. Soldiers in Riot.

Nogales, Ariz., Aug. 16.—Scores of American soldiers were participants in a riot in Nogales as a result, it is said, of a rumor that Mexicans had threatened to take their guns away. Ten Mexicans were attacked before the officers got control of the men. One American is reported to have been slain in Nogales, Mex., just across the border from here by infuriated Mexicans. The soldiers that engaged in the rioting were members of the Twelfth infantry.

Mexican States for Peace.

El Paso, Aug. 16.—Five states and one territory of Mexico are authoritatively announced to have declared through their military governers that the revolution is at an end so far as they are concerned, and that Carranza and Villa and other forces in arms would be met by resistance should they attempt to enter these precincts of Mexico. The governors who thus declared for armed neutrality are of various shades of political affiliation.

"CALL TO ARMS" AT LAREDO

Carranza Paper Prints Fiery Editorial in Texas Town—Appeals to Mexican Element.

Laredo, Texas, Aug. 16.—A Carranza newspaper of this city prints a fiery editorial which is regarded among the susceptible element of Mexicans here as "a call to arms." Translations of the editorial have been forwarded to Washington and to Major General Funston. The editorial in part says:

"If you are Mexicans read article 31 of the constitution, which says: 'It is the obligation of every Mexican to defend the independence, the honor and the rights and interests of the fatherland'; and read article 35 of the constitution, which says, 'It is the prerogative of every Mexican citizen to take up arms for the defense of the republic or its institutions.' That is to say, it is not only the obligation to defend the republic when its sovereignty is attacked, but it is their prerogative, right and honor to do so."

BANKERS FAVOR BIG CREDIT

MAY ARRANGE $500,000,000 TO MEET SITUATION.

Heavy European Purchases Cause Extraordinary Decline in Rates of Foreign Exchange.

New York, Aug. 16.—International bankers who have been handling financial affairs for Great Britian, France and Russia in this country, contemplated the possibility of arranging a credit reaching $500,000,000 to meet the situation arising from heavy European purchases of war munition and the consequent extraordinary decline in rates of foreign exchange. Discussions of methods for advancing these sums were in progress.

One of the chief questions up for consideraion was the nature of securities to be required for the advances of American funds. It was suggested that the credit may be secured by the deposit here of American bonds held in Europe. An effort to collect such bonds for a similar purpose in Great Britian recently did not meet with an encouraging response. To facilitate this operation it was said that it may be necessary for the British government to impose a special tax on American bonds unless they are deposited with the Bank of England.

It is also proposed that British and Canadian bonds to the proportion of 25 per cent of the total be advanced as collateral.

Suggestion had been made recently that $100,000,000 in credits, chiefly for Great Britian, be established here, but bankers have now taken the stand that when the bulk of American war supplies in process of manufacture is sent forward the final payment then due will be so large that $100,000,000 will be ineffectual in stemming the decline in exchange rates.

Death-ship Eastland Raised.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—The doomship Eastland, which three weeks ago toppled over in the canal like Chicago river with 2,500 men, women and children on board, has been drawn near upright by wrecking tugs. There was growing belief among the wreckers and officials that the estimate of bodies, placed as high as 500, still held in the charnel ship, would be found to have been grossly exaggerated. With 843 bodies recovered, it was believed the death list might not go over 1,000 at the outside.

Whitman Sides With Barnes.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 16.—A split among republican leaders that may have an important bearing on national politics has developed in the work of framing a new state constitution here, and the chance of healing the breach appeared slight.

William Barnes, state boss, has broken with Elihu Root, president of the convention, and Governor Whitman has taken sides with Barnes.

Note on "Frye" Received.

Berlin via London, Aug. 16.—The American note concerning the sinking of the American ship William P. Frye by a German commerce destroyer has been received by the American ambassador and has been presented to the German foreign office.

Pile of Papers Faces Wilson.

Washington, Aug. 16.—President Wilson faced a pile of papers more than a foot high awaiting his signature when he went to the executive office for the first time since his return from Cornish. The president worked in his shirt sleeves. Pardons restoring former convicts to citizenship, commissions of federal appointees, findings of several naval courts, and many other matters accumulated during Mr. Wilson's absence and not sufficiently important to be sent to him, were among the documents signed.

AIRMEN FLY OVER CONSTANTINOPLE

FRENCH AND BRITISH SHELL GALATA, SUBURB OF TURK CAPITAL.

TO GET MUNITIONS TO TURKS

Next Austro-German Offensive Will Be Directed Against Serbia to Allow War Supplies to Reach Ottomans, Is Belief.

London, Aug. 16.—A dispatch to the Daily News from Athens says:

"French and British aeroplanes have flown over Constantinople. They threw bombs on Galata, causing heavy casualties."

Galata, on the north side of the Golden Horn near Seragli Point, is Constantinople's largest suburb and the custom house of the capital. The inhabitants before the war were mainly European Christians.

London, Aug. 17.—The only evidence of activity outside of Poland and the Baltic provinces is on the Serbian frontier, where a bombardment of Belgrade by the Austrians and a counter bombardment of Semlin and Panscova by the Serbians has been resumed. According to Nish, Austrian attempts to cross the Danube near the Serbian and Roumanian borders have been repulsed, but it is believed by the military experts here that this region will be the scene of the next Austro-German offensive. There is some speculation in military circles as to whether Roumania, as well as Serbia, will be attacked, because of Roumania's refusal to allow munitions of war to pass through to Turkey, which is being pressed both on her Caucasus and Dardanelles fronts.

Turks Claim Advantage.

The Turks claim the advantage in the battling on the Gallipoli peninsula and in Asiatic Turkey against the allies, but the Russians assert that in the latter zone the Ottoman forces have been defeated. On the Austro-Italian front no decided gains for either side are chronicled.

Artois, the forest of the Argonne and the Vosges mountains continue to be the scenes of activity on the western front, but no serious battles are in progress in any of these regions.

RUSSIANS AGAIN RETREATING

After Making Stand Along the Bug, Slavs Retire Before Austro-Germans.

Vienna, via London, Aug. 16.—After making a stand on the entire front of the Bug, the Russian forces are again retreating before the Austro-Germans all along that line, according to an official statement issued at the Austrian war office.

The text of the communication follows:

"In the Russian theater: Our adversary again made a halt on the whole front west of the Bug in prepared positions, but the allied armies attacked and cleared their way through the hostile lines at several points. Since early morning the Russians everywhere are again in retreat.

"In the Italian theater: On the southwestern front generally there has been greater activity. In the region of Gorzia our artillery fired some bombs on St. Canzian. A hostile attack near Radipuglia collapsed before our fire. The bridge head at Gorizia was held by the Italians under moderate [illegible] fire."

AUSTRIAN SUBMARINE SUNK

U-3 Destroyed in Adriatic by Italian Warships—Second Submersible Lost in Week.

Rome, Aug. 16.—The Austrian submarine U-3 has been sunk in the lower Adriatic by Italian warships it is officially announced.

The U-3 is the second American submarine sunk by the Italians this week, sinking of the U-12 having been announced a few days ago.

The U-3 was built in 1908, was 142 feet long and displaced 293 tons below surface. Normally she carried 17 men.

Whitman Sides With Barnes.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 16.—A split among republican leaders that may have an important bearing on national politics has developed in the work of framing a new state constitution here, and the chance of healing the breach appeared slight.

William Barnes, state boss, has broken with Elihu Root, president of the convention, and Governor Whitman has taken sides with Barnes.

Say Villa Shot U. S. Airman.

New York, Aug. 16.—Mickey McGuire, the young American aviator with General Francisco Villa's army in Mexico, who was reported killed when his machine fell 5,000 feet near Chihuahua, was not killed by accident but was murdered by General Villa, according to McGuire's partner, William J. Mattery, in a signed story in the New York Tribune. Mattery asserts that two days previously Villa sent out a report that he (Mattery) had been killed and then sentenced him to be shot.

Why We Eat Eggs.

"I am a firm believer in advertising," said a great advertising expert. "I impute a great part of my success to it."

Here the expert's sunburnt and healthy face was illuminated by one of his rare and charming smiles.

"When a duck lays an egg," he said, "she waddles back to the duck pond in indifferent silence. But when a hen lays an egg her frantic cackles make it known.

"The hen advertises.

"And that, my dear friends, is why the world eats hens' eggs instead of ducks' eggs."

Sacrifice for Art.

One cold, wet and windy night he came upon a negro, shivering in the doorway of an Atlanta store. Wondering what the darky could be doing standing on a cold, wet night in such a place, the proprietor of the shop said:

"Jim, what are you doing here?"

"'Scuse me, sah," said Jom, "but I'm gwine to sing bass tomorrow mornin' at church, an' I am trying to ketch a cold."

One of the Other.

"Do I make myself perfectly plain?" asked Miss Forsythe, who is intellectual, concluding her argument.

"More so than anybody I ever saw before in my life!" answered J. Fuller Gloom. "Er—er—well, either that or you were born so."—Kansas City Star.

ORDER HAD HIM "IN THE AIR"

Boatswain's Mate Considerably Muddled by Command That Was Entirely New to Him.

In all the naval services tradition is strong. As Chief Boatswain McCarthy, U. S. N., has shown in an article in "The Proceedings of the United States Naval Institute," the adherence to custom extends to the manner in which the boatswain's calls are varied for different occasions, and even, in the old navy, at least, it extended to the way in which the officers gave their orders.

The language used in passing words was the vernacular of the sailor rather than academic English, and the officer who did not know that usually got poor results from the boatswain's mate, who had his own ideas about passing the word, and got muddled in interpreting any unusual order.

On one occasion, the officer of the morning watch gave this order: "Boatswain's mate, scrub down with rapidity." This was a new one, and after causing the officer to repeat the order three times, the boatswain's mate became desperate. He grabbed a deck bucket, and forced it into the hand of the nearest apprentice, whom he started on his way with a push that sent the youngster reeling, and followed him with this shout:

"Go to the captain of the hold and ask him for a bucketful of it! I never heard of anything to scrub a deck with but sand and lime, and I don't know anything about these new 'soogy-moodgies,' anyway."—Youth's Companion.

GOOD THINGS FOR DINNER.

For the busy housewife who has but one pair of hands to prepare all the meals it is necessary that she should eliminate all nonessentials and save as much time and strength as possible. Better a tidy table attractively laid with bread and butter for the meal, than an untidy, unattractively and overloaded table.

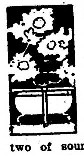
Dinner Rolls.—Mix a cake of compressed yeast with a fourth of a cupful of scalded and cooled milk, add one cupful of scalded, and cooled milk, a half teaspoonful of salt, a tablespoonful of sugar and one and a half cupful of bread flour, cover and let stand until it becomes light, then add a fourth of a cupful of shortening, and flour for a soft dough. Knead until smooth and elastic. Cover and let stand to become light; shape, and when light bake twenty-five minutes. Brush over with a beaten egg white and return to the oven for a moment to glaze.

Creamed Onions With Parsley.—Cook even sized onions in boiling water, adding salt when they are nearly cooked. Melt three tablespoonfuls of butter, add the same amount of flour for a half dozen onions, a half teaspoonful of salt and a little less of paprika, stir until well blended, then add a cupful of rich milk and half a cupful of the liquor that the onions have been cooked in, turn this over the onions after it is cooked smooth and sprinkle with chopped parsley.

Lamb Stew With Peas.—Buy a stew cut from the shoulder, cover with boiling water and cook until tender, thicken with flour stirred with some of the meat liquor, add a pint of green peas and cook until the peas are tender. Season well and serve the meat on a platter surrounded with the peas and thickened sauce.

Economics change man's activities. As you change a man's activities you change his way of living, as you change his environment, you change his state of mind. Precept and injunction do not perceptibly affect men; but food, water, air, clothing, shelter, pictures, books, music, will and do affect them.

SUMMER DISHES.



During the hot weather even a pie occasionally is appreciated. Berry pies are most appetizing when well made.

Blueberry Pie.—Line a deep tin with plain pastry, brush with white of egg, diluted with water. Fill the crust with floured blueberries, add sugar, a tablespoonful of butter, salt and a dash of vinegar or a piece or two of sour apple, or lemon juice. Cover with a rich crust and bake. To keep the juice from overflowing, put a paper cone into the opening. The cone serves as a chimney for the juice to boil up in, and thus does not overflow.

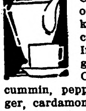
Scouffled Squash.—Take a medium sized Hubbard squash, remove the seeds and stringy portion and pare. Place in a steamer and cook over boiling water for thirty minutes. Mash and season with butter, salt and pepper to taste. To two cupfuls of mashed squash, add gradually one cupful of cream, and when blended the yolks of two well beaten eggs and finally fold in the beaten whites. Pour into a buttered dish and bake in a moderate oven until firm. Serve at once.

French Pancakes.—Warm four tablespoonfuls of butter, then add four tablespoonfuls of sugar, two eggs, a half cupful of flour, a half tablespoonful of lemon extract and one cupful of milk. Mix well and bake on a hot griddle. Put together with butter and jam and serve cut in wedges like pie. Sprinkle with powdered sugar and serve hot.

Viennese Chicken.—Clean and cut a fat fowl into pieces as for frying. Simmer gently with a bay leaf, parsley, lemon juice and seasoning. Let cool in the stock. Drain well, egg and crumb each piece and fry in deep fat. Serve with sauce made from thickened stock, chopped mushrooms and parsley; season with kitchen bouquet and lemon juice.

He who makes war on business removes roofs from homes, takes the bread from mouths, leaves human bodies naked to the storm—replaces confidence with fear, hope with dread, love with hate—and robs men of their right to work.

SOMETHING ABOUT CURRIES.



Translated into our tongue curry means palatable. In the Orient there are forty or more ways of preparing curry powder, and in America our spice houses are adding others. Curry is like mince meat or pickles; we like the kind we have been accustomed to use. In India the following ingredients are used: Coriander seed, tumeric, cummin, pepper, mustard seed, ginger, cardamon, chillies, mace, cloves, poppy seed, cinnamon, nutmeg, saffron, mangoes, lime juice, garlic, nuts, cayenne pepper, cocoanut, milk and oil, as well as many of the native fruits. Rice and chutney are an invariable accompaniment to curry. One of the most important things to remember in using the prepared curry is to cook it with the ingredients, or the dish will be flat and tasteless.

Curried Lamb.—Remove the bones from two pounds of the neck of lamb and divide into neat squares about an inch; fry them brown in hot fat, take out the meat and add two chopped onions, one chopped apple, one and a half tablespoonfuls of curry powder, three tablespoonfuls of chopped cocoanut, one teaspoonful of sugar, a quarter of a cupful of milk, and the same of good stock, and the pieces of lamb. Cook slowly for an hour, remove the fat, add a teaspoonful of salt and a tablespoonful of lemon juice. Serve in the center of a platter with the sauce poured around it, and garnish with boiled rice.

Chicken Curry.—Cut up a plump young broiler and fry brown in hot olive oil. Remove from the frying pan and place in the oven. Mix together two tablespoonfuls each of flour and curry powder, then add gradually a cupful of good stock. Fry two sliced onions in the hot fat, add the prepared stock, cook for five minutes, then turn in the chicken. Cover and allow to simmer fifteen minutes. Serve hot with boiled rice. If the sauce seems too thick, add a little more stock. The dish should be thick and hot when served. Curry sauce is good with cold meats and makes an agreeable change in serving them.

A FEW HOT WEATHER DRINKS.

There is nothing so refreshing as a good cool drink when tired, warm and thirsty. The following will prove valuable during the hot dog-day weather.

Milk Shake.—Put four tablespoonfuls of finely crushed ice in a glass, add to this two and a half tablespoonfuls of rich sirup, one egg and a cupful of milk. Shake thoroughly and turn into a serving glass. Nutmeg and cinnamon may be added if desired.

Pinard.—Mix one cupful of sugar and a cupful of water together, add the juice of three lemons and one can of pineapple (grated). Strain and pour over a quart of chopped ice.

Cherry Punch.—Boil together five minutes two cupfuls of sugar and four cupfuls of water. Then add one cupful of lemon juice, three cupfuls of orange juice and three cupfuls of cherry juice. Chill and serve with ice.

Grape Nectar.—Put a cupful of sugar and a quart of water over to boil. Cook ten minutes, then add, when cool, the juice of three lemons, two oranges, one-half can of pineapple and a pint of grape juice. Let it stand about three hours, then add one nice orange sliced thin. Serve with ice.

Raspberry Mint.—To a quart of good lemonade add a half cupful of red raspberry juice and a dozen bruised mint leaves. Let the mixture chill for two hours, then remove the mint, fill glasses and garnish each glass with a sprig of mint.

Ginger Ale.—Remove the skins from six large lemons and slice them into a large earthen bowl. Add to them six ounces of bruised ginger root, six cupfuls of sugar and four gallons of boiling water. When the liquid is lukewarm, put in a fourth of a yeast cake dissolved in a little water. Cover the bowl with a thin cloth and let stand a day. Bottle and keep in a cool place.

Nellie Maxwell

"Father of Modern Screw."

Jesse Ramsden, an English inventor, is credited with being the father of the modern screw. He began in 1775 to pay especial attention to the making of screws by machinery, and his invention may be regarded as the first example of the modern form of screw-cutting lathe, although 50 years before there had been made in France a machine for cutting the thread on the fusees of watches, and 200 years before Jacobi Bessoni had designed a [illegible] lathe for cutting wooden screws.

Someone is quoted as having said that of all the letters in the alphabet "E" is the most unfortunate, "because it is always out of cash, always in debt, never out of danger, and in hell all the time." It is also the most frequently used letter in the alphabet.

STATE NEWS

Resume of Important Happenings of Past Few Days.

RECITE MANY GRIEVANCES

Chippewa Indians at Leach Lake Declare Dissatisfaction With Treatment by Government.

Walker. — Indians of the Pillager band of Chippewas at Leech Lake are not at all timid about declaring their dissatisfaction with governmental treatment. Congressman B. M. Chipperfield of Illinois, who is spending his vacation at Senator McGarry's resort on Leech Lake, has been picked by the Indians as the national lawmaker before whom they will personally lay their grievances, with the hope that he will become their advocate at Washington. Pilgrimages of the braves from all parts of the reservation to "Glengarry" to talk with the "tall congressman from Illinois" are therefore common these days.

Grievances recited were many, nearly all growing out of their claim that the so-called Rice treaty of 1889, whereby the Chippewas ceded and relinquished their lands to the federal government, has been violated by the United States and that a large sum of money due them under its provisions is wrongfully withheld.

THRESHING SEASON BEGINS

Reports of Bumper Crops Cause Rejoicing Among Farmers, Bankers and Railroad Men.

Winona.—A week of uninterrupted progress in the harvest fields of southern Minnesota has permitted the cutting of fully 80 per cent of the small grain, according to reports received here. With continued favorable weather the harvesting will have been completed by the end of the week. Threshing will be general early next week.

Threshing has started in scattered points and the reports received have made the grain men, bankers and railway men jubilant.

Barley is running from thirty to sixty bushels to the acre, oats sixty to reventy and wheat fifteen to thirty. All the grain is of the finest quality, save barley, which in some sections is slightly colored.

Corn has made tremendous strides and the discouraging reports have given way to optimistic statements that there will be a fair and possibly a bumper crop, especially if the fall season is late.

TO SEE MINNESOTA EXHIBITS

Fall Campaign of State Immigration Department Opens at Galesburg—Exhibits at Fairs.

St. Paul.—The fall campaign of the Minnesota immigration department to advertise the state at fairs will open at once at Galesburg, Ill. Exhibits at state and county fairs will continue until November 15.

The itinerary to date as arranged by Fred D. Sherman, immigration commissioner, follows:

Galesburg, Ill., district fair, August 14 to 21; Laporte, Ind., district fair, August 24 to 27; Indianapolis, Ind., state fair, September 6 to 10; Springfield, Ill., state fair, September 17 to 25; Waterloo, Iowa, live stock show, early in November.

The exhibits are being installed by W. C. King, state exhibit man, who is in Galesburg. Mr. Sherman estimates that between 50,000 to 75,000 people will see the Minnesota exhibits and receive pamphlets telling of the advantages in Minnesota.

EX-CONVICT IS LIEUTENANT

"Scott Hardee," Said to Have Been Most Unruly Prisoner at St. Cloud, Wounded.

St. Cloud.—"Scott Hardee," one of the most unruly prisoners ever confined in the St. Cloud reformatory, is now a lieutenant in the British navy and is just recovering from wounds received in an engagement at the Dardanelles, according to a letter received by A. M. Hulbert, an officer of the institution.

Hardee was sent to prison in 1908 and during his entire term he did not work. He feigned illness repeatedly, and at one time, according to the officers, ate soap to make the physicians believe he was suffering from tuberculosis.

He would not give his right name and even at the expiration of his five years' sentence refused to divulge any information.

Three Wrecks at One Spot

Owatonna, Minn.—An eastbound Rock Island freight train was wrecked at Hope five miles south of Owatonna on the identical spot at which two other wrecks have occurred in the last six months. The spreading of rails caused all three of them.

W. H. Johnson, Manley, Iowa a brakeman, was bruised and injured internally. A passenger train wreck six months ago resulted in the injury of six persons and last Saturday a passenger train left the track.

LIGHTS GO OUT IN [illegible]

Power Generator Bursts Leaving Minneapolis Without Electric Supply—Downtown District Stricken.

Minneapolis, Aug. 16.—Shortly before 2 p. m., electric lights in the Minneapolis downtown district began to darken. Elevators ran more slowly. Electric fans fluttered out. Electric clocks stopped. Motion picture films grew dim. Everything operated by electric power felt the loss of current. Something had happened at the works.

Within a few minutes many agencies which enter largely into modern city life had ceased to operate and the business district of Minneapolis went back to primitive conditions.

Caused by "Runaway."

The trouble was caused by a runaway—not an ordinary runaway that might cause a moment's flurry and excitement on the street, but insubordination and rebellion of a monster rotary converter or generator set in the plant of the Minneapolis General Electric company.

Of course it happened on Friday the 13th.

Neither of the two employes in the room at the time can tell just what happened. There was a noise as if a locomotive, full steam ahead, were plowing through the building. There was a shower of sparks, the sound of rending steel and then a great quiet. The "juice" was off.

BIG VICTORY FOR MINNESOTA

Decision of Interstate Commerce Commission Denying Railroad Rate Increases Affects Five States.

Minneapolis, Minn. — Minneapolis scores a victory of tremendous importance in the decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission, for the most part denying an increase in rates by railroads in the western classification.

Of farther reaching interest is the victory by five states acting together over the combined railroads.

The application of the western roads for an increase in rates followed the increase to the roads in the eastern classification. One of the important elements in the application for an increase was that applying specifically to rates on grain and grain products to and from Minneapolis.

State's Appropriation Reduced.

Washington. — Minnesota's federal appropriation for militia supplies and ammunition is reduced $2,000 this year, under a new basis of distribution. Instead of making the distribution for supplies and ammunition according to paper strength of the various state organizations, as was done last year, Secretary of War L. M. Garrison took into consideration actual strength at the annual inspection.

Every man in a field hospital and the ambulance companies was counted twice and every man in the other branches of the auxiliary services three times in order that these arms should receive adequate funds.

Northfield Votes Bonds.

Northfield.—By a five to one vote at a special election the voters of Northfield declared in favor of the issuance of $19,000 worth of bonds for public work. There were 407 votes for the bonds and 83 against. The $19,000 will be used to pay the city's share of paving Bridge square and four blocks of the main busines street; to buy for a public park an old mill property on the east bank of the Cannon river fronting Bridge square and for improving the mill property for park purposes. The paving and parking will connect with paving done two years ago.

Protest Arrests of Laborers.

Crookston.—A vigorous protest was wired to the department of labor at Washington by Representative Steenerson against the wholesale arrests of laborers in Kittson county on complaints of Canadian agents who assert the men are Austrian-Canadians and seek their deportation to Canada.

Numerous farmers in this county declare many of the laborers have worked for them every fall for twelve years.

Hallock jail is full and the farmers are aroused over the enforced scarcity of help to complete the harvest, which is just becoming general.

Can't Stop Mother-in-Law.

Minneapolis, Minn. — Mrs. Clara M. Douglas, 5232 Thirty-seventh avenue south, may visit the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank R. Anderson, 1217 Laurel avenue, as often and may stay as long as she pleases, as far as the courts are concerned.

Judge Waite in district court has dismissed the petition filed by Mr. Anderson asking a permanent injunction to restrain the mother-in-law from visiting his home. A temporary injunction had been granted by Judge Jelley pending a hearing on the petition.

Minneapolis, Minn. — Ten men were fined, with five suspended sentences, for violations of automobile and traffic ordinance by Judge Smith in municipal court here.

Complete Inter-Lake Highway.

Duluth. — Except for eight miles through the Portage Indian reservation, to Pigeon river, east of Grand Marais, Minn., the automobile highway connecting the American head of the lakes with the Canadian head of the lakes, is virtually completed.

For scenic attractions it will have few equals and it will make a continuous run from the twin cities to the big Canadian ports. The Ontario government is finishing the few stretches that remain incomplete on the Canadian side of the border.

Made a Difference.

At a dinner party the other evening, reference having been made to the good old days in the little brick schoolhouse, this story was recalled by James L. Rice, coach of the Columbia college crew:

The teacher in a public school was giving a demonstration in mental arithmetic, and after speaking at some length she turned to a bright-faced boy at the head of the class.

"Now, then, Willie," said she, "do you think that you can answer me a question in mental arithmetic?"

"Yes, ma'am," was the confident rejoinder of the beaming youngster.

"Well, then," resumed the teacher, "how old would a person be who was born in 1876?"

"That depends," quickly rejoined little Willie. "Was the person a man or a woman?"—Philadelphia Telegraph.

POLITICAL AGITATORS

POLITICIANS WHO CAPITALIZE STRIFE A MENACE TO GOVERNMENT.

Neglect of Agricultural and Industrial Opportunities a National Crime.

By Peter Radford.

There never was a time in the history of this nation when we needed statesmen more or agitators less than at the present moment. The opportunities now afforded us on land and sea demand the best there is in statecraft and the possibilities that are confronting us call for national issues that unite the people, build industry and expand trade. The agricultural and industrial development of this nation has suffered severely at the hands of agitators who have sent torpedoes crashing into the port side of business and whose neglect of the interests of the farmer makes them little less than political criminals. We want no more of these evil spirits to predominate in government. Too long their hysterical cry has sent a shiver down the spinal column of industry. Too long have the political agitators capitalized strife, pillaged progress and murdered opportunity. An industrial corpse is not a desirable thing, a crippled business an achievement or neglect an accomplishment about which any representative of the government has a right to boast.

Issues that Breed Agitators Should be Eliminated.

The political agitator must be eliminated from public life before thoughtful consideration can be given to a constructive program in government. The liquor question is the most prolific breeding ground for agitators and whether pro or anti, the hatch is equally as undesirable. This article is in no sense a discussion of the liquor question but deals solely and by way of illustration with the political products of that issue. Other subjects will be dealt with in the order of their importance.

In the history of our government the liquor issue has never produced a constructive statesman worth mentioning and it never will. It has sent more freaks to Congress, Lilliputians to the Senate and incompetents to office than any other political issue under the sun.

The recent experience of the English Parliament which lashed itself into a fury over the liquor question has a lesson that it is well for the farmers of this nation to observe; for the subject in some form or other is constantly before the public for solution and ofttimes to the exclusion of more important problems to the American plowmen.

Too Many Political Drunkards.

Lloyd-George, the Prohibition leader of Europe who led the prohibition fight in England, has declared that he will never again take a drink politically and there are many American politicians—pro and anti—who would render their country a service by climbing on the water wagon or signing a pledge of political temperance. Too often our legislative halls are turned into political bar-rooms and many of the members become intoxicated on liquor discussions. We have too many political drunkards—pro and anti—in our public affairs. No one who is a slave to the political liquor habit is quite so capable of dealing with the business affairs of government as the sober and industrious. We have few public men in this day who are strong enough to resist the temptation of strong drink politically and when the demon Rum once becomes firmly entrenched in the mind of a politician, he is less capable of meeting the demands for constructive statesmanship now confronting this nation.

We have in this country too many red-nosed politicians—both pro and anti. A candidate with political delirium tremens, a preacher with political snakes in his boots and an agitator drunk on the liquor question are the saddest sights in civilization and they should all be forced to take the political Keeley Cure.

It is far more important in government to make it easier for those who toil to eat than to make it more difficult for a few topers to drink. There is not one person in one hundred of our rural population that ever touches liquor but we all eat three times a day.

THE LAYMAN'S DUTY

There never was a time when preachers and politicians formed an unholy alliance that civilization did not shriek out and Christianity cry aloud. Since the beginning of government, politicians have sought to decoy the ministry into the meshes of politics and make them carry banners in political processions. They have taken the ministry to the mountain-top of power and offered to make them monarch of all they surveyed, and while most of them have said, "Get thee behind me Satan," a few have fallen with a crash that has shaken every pulpit in Christendom.

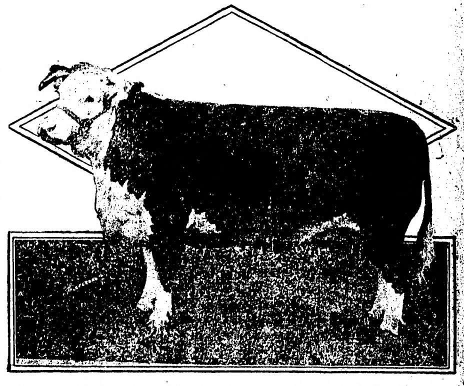
TO SELL THOUSANDS OF ANIMALS.



Farmers interested in the purchase of better live stock will have an excellent chance to buy pure-bred horses, cattle, sheep and swine at the great public live stock market which is to be held at the Minnesota State Fair, Sept 6 to 11. Most of the noted herds, stables and flocks in America will be represented.

There are indications of unusual interest in the cattle and horse shows, a large local entry in all breeds being promised. There have been times when the exhibit of dairy cattle has been better than that at any other show in the country. The fact that special emphasis is being placed on the value of the cattle show as a place for the sale and purchase of breeding animals would indicate that a big show will result.

Horses in Demand.

The European war has created such a demand for good horses throughout the country that it is probable that more horses will be raised in the near future than ever before. Especially is this true of the Northwest, where good brood mares are employed to such an extent in doing the farm work. Breeders of good horses all over America are being urged to attend the Minnesota State Fair this year, and not only compete for the $13,2[illegible] in cash prizes but interest the buying public in their sale animals.

Farmers are being urged to visit the Minnesota State Fair for the purpose of buying good pure-bred stallions and mares for breeding purposes. As practically all the leading stables doing business in this part of the country will be represented some excellent bargains may be obtained. Attention is being called to the excellent opportunity afforded of studying the best types so that it may be easier to pick a good stallion in the raising of colts. Horse and cattle entries close Aug. 12.

Swine and Sheep.

The public markets for swine and sheep will be emphasized as much as those for horses and cattle. There is known to be a need for more sheep in the Northwest. Last year 200 sheep were sold at private sale at the Minnesota State Fair, and it is probable that a much larger number will be disposed of this year.

The seventy three nominations for the Poland China futurity show insure one of the largest swine shows ever held at Hamline, despite the fact that each successive year has been a record-breaking one. As usual a large sale of surplus hogs will be made to farmers in search of breeding stock. Entries for sheep and swine close Aug. 26, giving ample chance to enter within ten days of the fair.

Persons interested in the livestock show will find the earlier part of fair week more interesting than the latter part, since all the judging is generally [illegible] by Thursday.

LINER ARABIC TORPEDOED; TWO AMERICANS DROWNED

GOES TO BOTTOM IN TEN MINUTES

THIRTY-TWO BELIEVED DROWNED; TWO AMONG MISSING ARE AMERICANS.

CLAIMS NO WARNING GIVEN

White Star Line Gives Out Statement Regarding Disaster Southeast of Fastnet—Survivors Picked Up and Taken to Queenstown.

London, Aug. 23.—At least five passengers, two of whom were Americans, and 40 members of the crew lost their lives when the White Star liner Arabic was sunk by a German submarine off Fastnet. Nine other passengers are missing and are believed to have perished. The two Americans, who went down with the ship, were Mrs. Josephine Brugeire of New York and Edmund T. Wood.

Mrs. Brugeire was thrown into the water and was kept afloat for some time by her son, Louis, who was forced to relinquish his hold when he was struck by a piece of wreckage. Nothing was seen of Wood after the steamer was struck.

Late reports from Queenstown add the name of W. E. Ramsdell to the list of missing Americans.

Most of the missing members of the crew belonged to the engineer's staff. They remained at their posts and went down with the ship.

Declare No Warning Given.

Captain Finsh and the other officers of the Arabic assert that the submarine gave them no warning. They declare the torpedo was fired as they were going to the rescue of the steamer Dunsley, which had just been torpedoed, presumably by the same submarine.

That the loss of life was not much heavier was due to the preparations made by the officers in view of the possibilities of an attack while passing through the "war zone," to the fine weather which prevailed and to the splendid discipline maintained by the crew. Life belts had been provided by the crew. Life boats had been placed on the decks and the life boats swung out. As soon as the ship was struck rafts were flung over the side. Many of the passengers and crew who were thrown into the water climbed on board these rafts or were dragged onto them by persons already upon them.

The torpedo that sank the Arabic struck her on the starboard side 100 feet from the stern. The vessel had left Liverpool Wednesday afternoon and taken a southerly course well off the Irish coast doubtless with a view of avoiding the submarines which frequent the waters nearer the shore.

When some 50 miles west of where the Lusitania was sunk in May, the German under-water boat rose to the surface and launched a torpedo. The marksmanship of the Germans, as in the case of the Lusitania, was deadly accurate and, like the Lusitania, the big liner quickly settled down and shortly disappeared.

BERLIN WITHHOLDS DETAILS

Foreign Office Fears Sinking of Arabic Will Lead to Serious Difficulties With Washington.

London, Aug. 23.—The Exchange Telegraph company has received the following dispatch, dated Berlin via Amsterdam:

"News of the sinking of the Arabic caused great nervousness, the foreign office fearing it would lead to serious difficulties with Washington.

"Details are withheld from the newspapers which are prohibited from making comment."

LANSING SEEKS AFFIDAVITS

Instructs London Embassy to Get Accounts from American Survivors of Arabic.

Washington, Aug. 23.—Secretary Lansing announced he had instructed the embassy at London, and the American consuls in the vicinity to gather affidavits from Americans on board the Arabic.

Arabic Not Convoyed, Belief

New York, Aug. 21.—P. A. S. Franklin, receiver of the International Mercantile Marine company, endeavored to learn by cable whether the Arabic was convoyed. The significance of an armed convoy, he said, was such that an entirely new aspect would be placed on the incident, should it be established that a British warship was convoying her a short time before the torpedo was fired. Mr. Franklin announced his belief that the steamer had not been convoyed.

DID LINER ATTEMPT TO RAM GERMAN SUBMARINE?

Washington, Aug. 23.—Tension increased in official quarters here when consular messages forwarding affidavits of American survivors of the British liner Arabic brought definite information that the vessel was torpedoed without warning and at least some Americans had been lost. It seemed that but one point remained to be cleared up—whether the Arabic attempted to ram the submarine or whether a change of the liner's course to assist the already sinking British steamer Dunsley nearby was misinterpreted by the German submarine commander as a hostile approach.

America in Receptive Mood.

The attitude of the American government for the moment is receptive, anxiously awaiting accurate details and reserving judgment as to whether the action was "deliberately unfriendly." The final decision rests with President Wilson. The president motored to Philadelphia to see an oculist. He had consulted Secretary Lansing before leaving and conferred with him again. No statement was forthcoming, as details from abroad were lacking, but everywhere in official quarters the grave aspects of the case were discussed. The general trend of comment was that the American government had reached the point where it must now decide whether it would sever diplomatic relations with Germany.

Word From Survivors Awaited.

In addition to awaiting information from the American survivors, the embassy in London and consuls, the officials expect word from Ambassador Gerard at Berlin to indicate whether the attack without warning on the Arabic had the sanction of the German government. Should Germany offer an explanation, stating there were qualifying circumstances, such as an attempt by the Arabic to escape or ram the submarine, the disposition on Germany's part to discuss the case would in all likelihood be construed here as a disvowal of any intention deliberately to violate the principles for which the United States has contended.

Officials here have found it difficult to reconcile the act with previous declarations from Germany that the purpose of the submarine warfare was to prevent the carriage of munitions of war to the Allies.

The Arabic was bound for an American port and carried therefore no contraband.

DECIDES UPON TWO STEPS

Wilson and Advisors Fix Tentatively Upon Course to Be Taken as to Germany.

Washington, Aug. 23.—Before the last note to Germany, which was designed to terminate the diplomatic interchange regarding the submarine issue was cabled to Berlin, the President and his advisors deemed it wise to fix tentatively upon the steps that would be taken if Germany disregarded the warning then given.

Although no intimation was given that the government had any suspicion that the German government would commit a breach of the principles stated by the United States, the fact was that the actual decision was reached at that time, so that the future relations of the United States with Germany were made to depend entirely upon the conduct of the latter nation.

Decide Upon Two Steps

According to the best information secured in the interval since the note was dispatched, two steps were decided upon tentatively. These are:

First—the severance of diplomatic relations—a step which the president may take upon his own constitutional authority.

Second—Congress to be called into session immediately to receive full information from the executive branch of the government as to the acts of Germany so that it may exercise its prerogative deciding what further steps if any shall be taken to maintain the honor of the country and protect the rights of its citizens.

National Defense Program.

It is believed that the first move the president would make after submitting the issue to congress would be to present his national defense program. Secretary of War Garrison now has practically formulated his plans for a comprehensive reorganization and the enlargement of the army.

Survivors Scantily Attired

Queenstown, Aug. 21.—The landing here of the survivors of the ill-fated White Star line steamer Arabic was a pitiable scene. All of them were scantily clothed and none of them had hat or head covering of any kind. A large number of the survivors were suffering from injuries to their heads and other wounds, or from shock and the effects of being forced to take to open boats scantily attired. Many of the women were in their berths when the liner was torpedoed.

ITALY DECLARES WAR ON TURKEY

DETENTION OF SUBJECTS IN ASIA MINOR GIVEN AS REASON FOR ACTION.

SHIPS SENT TO DARDANELLES

Rome's Ambassador to Constantinople Presents Declaration and Demands Passports—U. S. Embassy Cares for Italian Interests.

London, Aug. 23.—Italy has declared war against Turkey and the Italian ambassador has left Constantinople. This announcement is made in a Reuter telegram from Constantinople via Berlin and Amsterdam.

Marquis di Garroni, Italian ambassador to Turkey, handed to the Porte a note declaring Italy considered herself in a state of war with Turkey, and demanded his passports, according to a telegram received at Amsterdam and transmitted to the Central News.

The Grievance

The reasons given in the note for Italy's declaration of war were the support given by Turkey to the revolt in Libya and the prevention of the departure of Italian residents from Syria.

It is said that simultaneously with the declaration of war by Italy, about 150,000 men would be sent to aid the Franco-British forces in the fighting on the Gallipoli peninsula.

U. S. Embassy Protects Italians

A dispatch from Amsterdam says: "The Italian ambassador and the embassy staff have left Constantinople. The United States embassy has been entrusted with the task of protecting Italians in Turkey. One secretary and two dragomans remained at the Italian embassy.

Have Been at Peace

London, Aug. 23.—Although Italy decared war on Austria May 24, and hostilities between the two powers began immediately, there has never been any declaration of war between Italy and Germany, the ally of Austria, while until now, Italy and Turkey, the ally of the Central Powers, nominally have been at peace.

Friction Manifest Early

Friction between Turkey and Italy, however, has been in evidence since shortly after the latter's entrance into the war. Early in June, there were reports that Italian consuls were gradually leaving Turkey and that American officials were taking over the task of looking out for Italian interests.

Later charges were made that the Ottoman government was preventing these consuls from leaving and that similar coercion was being exerted over Italian civilians, who wished to quit Turkish soil.

Appealed to America

On July 20, advices came from Rome that the Italian government had addressed a note to the United States asking it to use its influence to protect Italian subjects in the Ottoman domains. The complaint that they were being prevented from leaving was reiterated.

It was announced Aug. 5 that Italy had asked for categorical explanations concerning Turkey's alleged refusal to withdraw her troops from the Cyrenaica district in Tripoli and it was charged that Turkey was pursuing what was described as her usual policy of procrastination. Shortly after this, it was reported that a declaration of war by Italy against Turkey would be made simultaneously with the sending of about 150,000 men to the aid of the Franco-British forces on the Gallipoli peninsula.

Rumania to Mobolize

Geneva, Aug. 23.—The Bucharest, Rumania, correspondent of the Tribune sends the following:

"Between Nish (Serbia) and Bucharest constant telegrams are passing. It is believed that Rumania will begin a general mobilization on August 25. Relations between Bulgaria, Rumania and Serbia at present are excellent.

Two Russ Gunboats Sunk

The Russian vessels, which are sunk were the gunboats Sivulch and Koreets and a torpedo boat. The German ships sunk or put out of commission were all torpedo boats. The damaged German boat was escorted to port.

Report From Admiralty

"Our Baltic naval forces penetrated the Gulf of Riga after mine sweepers had swept the mine field and net obstructions. In the outpost engagements which developed a Russian torpedo boat of the Emir Pucharskii class was destroyed and other torpedo boats, among them the Novik, and one large vessel, were severely damaged while retreating.

Forty of Crew Hurt

"On the evening of the 19th in Moon Sound the Russian gunboats Sivutch and Koreets were sunk by artillery fire and torpedo boats, after brave resistance. Forty members of the crews, including two officers, some severely wounded, were rescued by our torpedo boats."

"Three of our torpedo boats were damaged by mines. One sank, one was run aground and one was escorted to port.

"Our loss of life was small.

Cruisers in Readiness

It was announced on Aug. 19 that a strong squadron of fast Italian cruisers was being held in readiness to sail from Taranto, Italy, at a moment's notice. It was stated that it was expected the war ships would be sent against Turkey if the latter country declined to satisfy Italy's demands for the release of Italian subjects held in the Ottoman empire.

A meeting of the Italian cabinet was held Friday and at that time Baron Sonnino, Italian minister of foreign affairs presented an exhaustive report on the Turkish situation.

HIDDEN IMPURITY

"If American women knew how much of our Coffee lies on the ground for days, before the berries are finally swept up and harvested, greater care would be exercised in purchasing this food. For this Coffee is impure. But its moldy color is lost in the roasting, and the partial decay is concealed until it comes up harsh and bitter in the cup. This fact is not generally known to importers, for few of them have studied conditions existing prior to the arrival of their ships in port."

So writes F. C. Harwood. And Mr. Harwood knows. His long experience in the tropical coffee growing countries, his deep intimacy with plantation owners, his close study of their customs, their methods and the "Tricks of their Trade" has acquired for him a fund of knowledge which places him far in the leadership of coffee connoisseurs, both here and abroad.

Denison's Coffees are selected by F. C. Harwood, personally, and it is here that his power in the Coffee Industry manifests itself to the qualification of Denison's Brands. His wisdom and critical discrimination is appreciated by Coffee Growers the world over, and their respect gives him first choice of the world's finest crops. Thus, only pure, hand-picked berries find their way into Denison Coffees. His care is your safeguard against impurity.

Try Denison's and realize your ideal Coffee put up in Cans, Cartons or Bags. Ask your grocer or write Denison Coffee Co., Chicago, for the name of the nearest dealer.—Adv.

More Than a Stranger.

Manager Hughey Jennings of the Detroit Tigers makes it a rule to give a tryout to everyone claiming to be a ball player who comes seeking a place with him. One day at morning practice, as Jennings tells the story, a chap wandered in and asked for a chance.

"You're an experienced player?" questioned Jennings.

"Oh, yes," replied the candidate.

"Can you hit and field pretty good?"

"Oh, yes, indeed!"

"What do you usually play?"

"I'm a right fielder."

"Well, go out in right," instructed Jennings, "and we'll see what you can do."

Jennings instructed one of the pitchers to hit a few flies to the new man in right and turned to other affairs. He was back in a few moments and, greatly to his surprise, found the candidate still beside the plate.

"What are you doing here?" he asked. "I thought I sent you out in right field!"

"Yes, Mr. Jennings," was the reply. "You'll have to excuse me, but you see I'm a stranger here, and which is right field in this park?"—American Boy.

WORSHIP HEROES IN EFFIGY

Hindus at Native Fair Rear Monstrous Figures in Commemoration of Ancient Warriors.

In Kashmir, India, it was once my good fortune to visit a Hindu Dussrah, or native fair. The cantonment of my host was some distance away from the grounds, so we mounted two of his horses and rode through the village out on the road to the fair grounds, where we rode much of the way in the wake of an interminable procession on its way to the Dussrah.

Above the heads of the multitude three towering figures caught my eyes. They were fashioned after the form of man, but crudely and grotesquely, and they were 100 feet tall. I turned to my companion and asked him what they were. He told me that these monstrous effigies were reared to commemorate an ancient mythological war which, according to Hindu belief, took place in Ceylon in the long ago.

Whether the story is true or not, the figures were undoubtedly real, and became more monstrously real the closer we approached them. Later, when we strolled at their feet, I saw how they were made. Bamboo poles, bound together after the Indian fashion of piecing out scaffolding, formed the framework, and they were anchored to the ground by ropes hidden under the costumes that were made of coarse cloth. The heads of the figures, grotesque and unreal in their workmanship, were surmounted by fancy crowns of gold and colored paper.

The fair, indeed, was devoted entirely to the praise of these mythological warriors and the heroic deeds they are supposed to have done in the ancient Ceylon wars.

SKY MARAUDER IN AIRSHAFT

Birds Cling Fearfully to Fire Escape While Sparrow Hawk Hovers Near.

A servant maid in an apartment on the fourth floor of the Victoria, at Riverside drive and Ninety-seventh street, opened the kitchen window Monday morning and wondered why dozens of sparrows that were huddling on fire escape and window sill did not take fright and scurry away. Then she glanced outward and upward into the airshaft and discovered the reason.

A sparrow hawk, sun glinting on its wings, was wheeling rapidly high up in the airshaft, but below the roof level. Occasionally, when the marauder's keen eye glimpsed a sparrow which hadn't taken refuge it darted like a flash. Twice while the maid watched the hawk made a capture and soared out of the airshaft.

The air pirate worked for about two hours and disappeared shortly before noon, but it was at least half an hour later when the plump, brown sparrows recovered from the terror caused by the hawk's appearance.

To Protect State's Wards.

Insurance Commissioner Ekern of Wisconsin has sent a letter to each member of the legislature urging immediate action to protect life and property against the fire hazard in the state charitable and penal institutions. A bureau recommended the installation of sprinkler equipments, especially in the hospitals for the insane at Oshkosh and Mendota.

The commissioner said it was cheaper to make improvements than to pay fire losses and the families and friends of the helpless inmates had a right to ask that their lives be made safe from the dangers of fire.

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Daughter's Health.

Plover, Iowa.—"From a small child my 13 year old daughter had female weakness. I spoke to three doctors about it and they did not help her any. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had been of great benefit to me, so I decided to have her give it a trial. She has taken five bottles of the Vegetable Compound according to directions on the bottle and she is cured of this trouble. She was all run down when she started taking the Compound and her periods did not come right. She was so poorly and weak that I often had to help her dress herself, but now she is regular and is growing strong and healthy."—Mrs. MARTIN HELVIG, Plover, Iowa.

Hundreds of such letters expressing gratitude for the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished are constantly being received, proving the reliability of this grand old remedy.

OIL INSPECTION LAWS ARE UPHELD

DISTRICT JUDGE DECIDES FEES REQUIRED BY STATE ARE NOT EXCESSIVE.

STATE NEWS OF MINNESOTA

Interesting and Important Happenings of the Past Few Days Selected and Arranged for the Convenience of Busy Readers.

St. Paul.—Minnesota's oil inspection laws were upheld in a decision filed by District Judge Hanft in the case of the suit by the state against the Bartels Oil company, in which the fees were held not excessive.

The oil company, in addition to its claim that the fees were so excessive that they became a tax, contended that oils were subject to interstate commerce regulations. Judge Hanft waived the latter point in making his decision, but later wrote that the oils were not subject of interstate commerce at the time of inspection.

The state sued for $838.80, and Judge Hanft awarded $794.80, holding though the fees were in excess of the actual amount required to defray the expenses incident to inspection alone, that other departments have to employ extra men to attend to other phases of oil inspection and that therefore there is a corresponding additional cost.

Decision of Vital Importance.

Judge Hanft's decision is of vital importance to the state, for had he decided that the fees were so excessive that they automatically became a tax, the oil inspection department would thereby have been eliminated, as the power of the bureau does not extend to taxation.

"Taking the expenses of the work on oil inspection work devolving upon the state auditor's, the state treasurer's, the attorney general's, the public examiner's and the state chemist's departments, these fees are not excessive," wrote Judge Hanft.

DENTIST CONFESSES ARSON

Says He Wanted $2,000 Insurance and Offices in Modern Business Block.

Aurora.—One of the most ingenious arson plants revealed in the fire history of Minnesota was uncovered at Aurora, in rooms occupied by Dr. B. J. Stahlmann, a dentist of the little mining town, who will be sentenced Aug. 24, by Judge Martin Hughes at Virginia. When the plant was discovered after a premature blaze had been extinguished suspicion at once centered upon a clothing dealer who occupied a store under Dr. Stahlmann's office and the mayor asked Robert W. Hargadine, state fire marshal, to cause the man's arrest.

Careful investigation convinced the fire marshal that the merchant was innocent and that the plant had been designed and completed by the dentist. The latter eventually confessed, explaining that he wanted to collect his insurance of $2,000 and compel the owner to rebuild a modern business block within which he would have handsome offices.

"Dr. Stahlmann must have pondered long and carefully over his plan and exercised much patience as well as ingenuity, for this office has never been confronted with such an elaborate arrangement," said Mr. Hargadine. "It was only through the man's ignorance of the qualities of gasoline that his plan failed and his crime was disclosed.

Mutual Insurance Succeeds

Minneapolis, Aug. 20.—Samuel D. Works, Minnesota insurance commissioner, told the delegates to the convention of the National Association of Mutual Insurance companies at the West hotel that the mutual insurance companies in Minnesota had been a success and were a large factor in the reduction of insurance costs, also providing adequate farm protection.

Mr. Works was not scheduled to speak until later, but replaced Ira C. Peterson, deputy insurance commissioner, who was unable to attend.

Lid Is On in "Indian Zone"

Bemidji.—Saloons at Grand Rapids must close at once and there is no hope of other places in the "Indian zone" breaking through the lid as it is applied under the 1855 treaty, according to a decision handed down by Judge C. W. Stanton.

The decision is on injunction proceedings brought by twelve Grand Rapids' saloonkeepers, who sought to restrain the government from closing the saloons.

The government was represented by Alfred Jacques of Duluth.

SON IS SUED FOR PROPERTY

Fergus Falls Farmer Seeks to Recover Estate Which He Asserts Is Being Wrongfully Held.

Fergus Falls.—Adolph Biersdorf has began suit in the district court here against his son, Carl Biersdorf, to secure the return of his real estate, valued at $24,000 and $6,000 in personal property, which he asserts is being wrongfully held.

He alleges that in April, 1913, he was seriously ill, and while in that condition he was given a paper to sign, the nature of which he did not know; that he is not familiar with the English language and that it was represented to him that the signing of the paper was of no consequence; that after he recovered, he discovered that he had signed away his entire farm and live stock to his son, and that the latter now "treats him like a dog," compelling him to live in one room, handing him his meals on a platter on the floor, and locking him in when he leaves home.

The son replies that the father deeded him the property voluntarily with the understanding he was to support him and his mother during their lives, and that he has been doing as he agreed.

LIKELY TO ESCAPE CHOLERA

Minnesota Farmers Are Warned to Investigate Any Illness Among Hogs—Only Two Outbreaks.

Minneapolis.—"Minnesota seems likely to escape serious loss by hog cholera this year," H. Preston Hoskins, in charge of the hog cholera section at the Minnesota Experiment station, says.

"Only two outbreaks have occurred," he said, "one in Meeker county and the other in Polk county, between Crookston and Fertile.

"Demands for serum were met promptly by the state serum plant. This plant produced 573,210 cubic centimeters (almost 15,000 doses) during July. This brought the production for the first seven months of 1915 to about 3,000,000 cubic centimeters. Distribution is being made through local distributing agencies. There are three in Meeker county.

"The critical time of the year for the spread of cholera has just arrived and will continue through September. Farmers and others, therefore, should use the utmost precautions and see to it that any illness among their hogs is promptly investigated."

Ferry and Launch Burn at Crosby

Crosby.—The passenger ferry Twin City and the motorboat Deerwood, of the Ingalls motor ferry operating between Crosby and Deerwood, burned to the water's edge. The boats were tied together at the dock. Fire started, it is believed, by persons smoking cigarettes. The boats drifted causing danger to buildings along the shore. Crosby firemen towed the burning boats beyond range of danger. The loss is estimated at $8,000, partly covered by insurance.

Grows Alfalfa on Peat Land

Thief River Falls.—That peat land will grow alfalfa has been demonstrated by experiments made by Senator D. P. O'Neill, who owns or controls large tracts which have not been considered very valuable. Senator O'Neill has always maintained that once the peat lands are broken up, grassed and the peat "worked over" to aid decomposition, good crops can be raised. He is exhibiting some of the best growths of alfalfa seen in the country, taken from lands which are as yet unoccupied.

Germany's Potato Crop

The potato crop of Germany was one of the largest on record. The official statistics place the figures at 50,200,000 metric tons, as against 34,500,000 metric tons in 1912. Quite a high percentage of the potatoes were diseased and could not be kept over winter, and the crop being large the prices obtained were low.

NO DOUBT THAT RESINOL DOES STOP ITCHING

It is a fact that the moment resinol ointment touches itching skins, the itching stops and healing begins. With the aid of resinol soap, it almost always clears away all trace of eczema, summer rashes, pimples, or similar tormenting, unsightly eruption quickly, leaving the skin clear and healthy.

And the best of it is you need never hesitate to use resinol soap and resinol ointment. Resinol is a doctor's prescription which for twenty years has been used by careful physicians for many kinds of skin affections. They know that its soothing, healing action is brought about by medication so bland and gentle as to be suited to the most delicate or irritated skin. Resinol ointment and resinol soap are sold by all druggists.—Adv.

Much in Brief Dream.

It is written of one of the most eminent of Englishmen who was dictating to his amanuensis chapters of an important work, and while so engaged was overcome by sleep. He dreamed of matters of great moment, of diplomatic conferences, exhausting many days and weeks. Becoming awake he chided his secretary for permitting him to sleep, and was astounded to be told by the scrivener that he had not finished the last sentence that had been dictated. Volumes have been written crammed with such experiences in infinite variety.

WHY SHOULD WOMEN VOTE?

WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE FROM THE VIEWPOINT OF LEADING FARMERS.

Why should women vote? That is the question that is ringing from ocean to ocean and reverberating from the Canadian boundary to the Mexican border. It is the mission of a newpaper to give the news and the action of the Texas Farmers' Union in opposing woman's suffrage when that question was recently before the Texas legislature is significant as representing the attitude of the organized plowmen We reproduce in part the argument presented by Hon. W. D. Lewis, president of the Texas Farmers' Union, in opposing the bill:

"It is gratifying to note that it is not the farmer's wife who is clamoring for the ballot. She is too busy trying to make happier homes, molding the minds of future citizens and sharing with her husband the cares of life to indulge in political gossip. The ballot will give her no relief from drudgery, give no assistance in clothing the children or bring to the home additional comforts, conveniences or opportunities in life. It is, as a rule, the city woman promoted to idleness by prosperity, who is leading the suffragette movement.

"From many standpoints, perhaps a woman has as much right to vote as a man. So has she as much right to plow as a man; she has as much right to work in a factory as a man; she has as much right to shoulder a musket as a man, but we would rather she would not do so from choice and we regret that necessity ofttimes compels her to earn a living by engaging in gainful occupations. We do not consider misfortune a qualification for suffrage or a business accident a reason for granting franchise. We are opposed to woman at the ballot box the same as we are opposed to woman in the field, in the factory or in the army and for the self-same reasons. We had rather see her plant flowers than sow wheat; gather bouquets than pick cotton and rear children than raise political issues, although she may have as much right to do one as the other.

Opposed to Unsexing Humanity.

"Sex qualification for suffrage may have its apparent inconsistencies. No general rule adjusts itself perfectly to all conditions. It is a favorite argument advanced by the proponents of woman's suffrage that many cultivated and noble women are far more capable of intelligently exercising sovereignty than a worthless negro, but the South never was anxious for negro suffrage, and while culture and refinement, and even morality, are desirable virtues, they are not the only qualifications for franchise.

"The primary, inherent and inseparable fitness for suffrage is supporting a family. The plow handle, the forge and the struggle for bread afford experience necessary to properly mark the ballot. Government is a great big business and civilization from the very beginning assigned woman the home and man the business affairs of life

"There has been much freakish legislation enacted during the past decade that no doubt appeals to woman's love for the ridiculous, but to undertake to unsex the human race by law is the height of legislative folly and a tragedy to mankind.

"We are opposed to the equal rights of woman—we want her to ever remain our superior. We consider woman's desire to seek man's level the yellow peril of Twentieth Century civilization.

"Woman is the medium through which angels whisper their messages to mankind; it is her hand that plants thoughts in the intellectual vineyard; it is through her heart that hope, love and sympathy overflow and bless mankind. Christ—the liberator of womankind—was satisfied to teach the lessons of life and He was a man. He chose to rule over human h[illegible]s and refused worldly power and men followed after Him, women washed His feet, little children climbed upon His knees and the Ruler of the universe said that in Him He was well pleased. Can woman find a higher calling?"

THEMISTOCLES

When Themistocles was asked by his host at a dinner party to entertain the guests by playing the lute, he replied that he could not play the fiddle, but that he could make a small town a great city. We have in this nation many politicians who are good "fiddlers," but they cannot make a small town a great city. We are overrun with orators who can play upon the passions of the people [illegible] they can't put brick and mortar together. We need builders.

Let those who hunger and thirst for power understand that the highest glory of a statesman is to construct, and that it is better for a man that he should build a public highway than that he should become Governor of a state, and that he [illegible] a plow than that he become the author of a law. The true test of statesmanship is the plow and the hammer, so let those who would govern first build.

BANKERS URGED TO CO-OPERATE WITH FARMERS

SOUL MATERIAL HAS ENTERED THE BANK VAULTS OF THE NATION.

The Bank a Financial Power House to the Community.

By Peter Radford.

One of the greatest opportunities in the business life of the nation lies in practical co-operation of the country banks with the farmer in building agriculture and the adventure is laden with greater possibilities than any forward movement now before the American public.

A few bankers have loaned money to farmers at a low rate of interest, and ofttimes without compensation, to buy blooded livestock, build silos, fertilize the land, secure better seed, hold their products for a betetr market price, etc. The banker in contributing toward improving the grade of livestock; the quality of the seed and the fertility of the soil, plants in the agricultural life of the community a fountain of profit, that, like Tennyson's brook, runs on and on forever.

Community Progress a Bank Asset.

The time was when money loaned on such a basis would severely test the sanity of the banker; such transactions would pain the directors like a blow in the face. A cashier who would dare to cast bread upon waters that did not return buttered side up in time for annual dividends would have to give way to a more capable man. This does not necessarily mean that the bankers are getting any better or that the milk of human kindnesss is being imbibed more freely by our financiers. It indicates that the bankers are getting wiser, becoming more able financiers and the banking industry more competent. The vision of the builder is crowding out the spirit of the pawnbroker. A light has been turned on a new world of investment and no usurer ever received as large returns on the investment as these progressive bankers, who made loans to uplift industry. The bankers have always been liberal city builders, but they are now building agriculture.

A Dollar With a Soul.

It is refreshing in this strenuous commercial life to find so many dollars with souls. When a dollar is approached to perform a task that does not directly yield the highest rate of interest, we usually hear the rustle of the eagle's wings as it soars upward; when a dollar is requested to return at the option of the borrower, it usually appeals to the Goddess of Liberty for its contractural rights; when a dollar is asked to expand in volume to suit the requirements of industry, it usually talks solemnly of its redeemer, but soul material has entered into the vaults of our banks and rate, time and volume have a new basis of reckoning in so far as the ability of some of the bankers permit them to co-operate in promoting the business of farming.

God Almighty's Noblemen.

These bankers are God Almighty's noblemen. Heaven lent earth the spirit of these men and the angels will help them roll in place the cornerstones of empires. They are not philanthropists; they are wise bankers. The spirit of the builder has given them a new vision, and wisdom has visited upon them business foresight.

The cackle of the hen, the low of kine and the rustle of growing crops echo in every bank vault in the nation and the shrewd banker knows that he can more effectively increase his deposits by putting blue blood in the veins of livestock; quality in the yield of the soil and value into agricultural products, than by business handshakes, overdrafts and gaudy calendars.

Taking the community into partnership with the bank, opening up a ledger account with progress, making thrift and enterprise stockholders and the prosperity of the country an asset to the bank, put behind it stability far more desirable than a letterhead bearing the names of all the distinguished citizens of the community. The bank is the financial power house of the community and blessed is the locality that has an up-to-date banker.

POLITICAL PRAYER MEETINGS

It is a sad day for Christianity when the church bells call the communicants together for a political prayer meeting. Such gatherings mark the high tide of religious political fanaticism; put bitterness into the lives of men; fan the flames of class hatred and destroy Christian influence in the community. The spirit actuating such meetings is anarchistic, un-Christlike and dangerous to both church and state.

The success of the nation is in the hands of the farmer.

Work for the best and the best will rise up and reward you.

Tenant farming is just one thing after another without a pay day.

To the Fathers and Mothers of School District No. 35:

Fall is again coming and with it school days. Our school opens Tuesday Sept. 7th. As Principal of your school, I hope we may work together for a good school. You can help by sending your children regularly and by visiting the school to get acquainted with us and the work of the children.

You have a fine schoolhouse, well equiped, and should make good use of it by sending your children every day from the first. Your building equipment, and school term are equal to that of a city school and your children should get as much out of it. With hopes for your best co-operation. I am yours.

So many catalogs came to the postoffice here Wednesday that rural carrier Guy Anderson could not take all of them at one trip. We understand that it costs the mail order houses about a dollar for each catalog sent out. Would they keep it up if it dident pay? Holt merchants claim it don't pay to advertise. We wonder if they have had more experience than the big catalog houses.

SOME HINTS FOR BUILDERS

Great Care Should Be Taken in Selection of the Most Substantial Roofing Material.

If you were without preparation or plan, rudely placed in a wilderness, your first thought would be of food supply and your next of shelter, for these are the two most vital necessities of mankind. It is therefore natural that the best thought, and study are put upon these two essentials.

More forward steps have been taken in the building industry in the past fifteen years, as regards comfort, service and architectural beauty than in the fifty years previous.

Only in recent years has the handling of cement in building work been understood properly, and progress is still constantly being made with it. Modern hotels and office buildings are being equipped with sheet metal mouldings and steel veenered doors. Nearly every important change in building construction is away from the fire hazard of wood.

One of the most significant developments of recent years is the crushed slate surfaced asphalt shingle which is, on new construction and old, rapidly supplanting the wooden article. There are many reasons for this. The slate surfaced shingles add beauty to any building—in fact, there is really no comparison from an architectural standpoint. Crushed slate of pleasing tints of red or green, is employed as a surfacing. The shingles are uniformly eight inches wide and are exposed four inches to the weather. No painting is necessary as the red or green crushed slate is natural and therefore cannot fade.

The purchaser, however, should guard himself against buying a slate surfaced shingle that is not guaranteed by a reliable and responsible manufacturer. There are so many kinds of roofing and shingles on the market today each claiming to be the best that it becomes necessary for the buyer to get some satisfactory assurance that the roofing or shingles are represented honestly.

SOMETHING NEW IN SALADS.

There are a few suggestions that it is well to be reminded of in regard to the selection and care of salad materials. A good, resourceful cook will make an appetizing salad out of almost any sort of good materials. Care should be used in combining delicate flavors with highly seasoned dressings. Rich fish should not be served with a heavy mayonnaise. Lemon seems most appropriate to use in salad dressings when fruit is to be used.

Pepper Salad.—Select tender green peppers, wash and dry. Cut off the stem and remove the seeds and the white fiber. Shave into fine strips and add equal portions of chopped olives and celery. Cover with a rich mayonnaise and serve in tomato cups or on curled parsley or lettuce.

Russian Salad.—Cut cold roast beef into cubes, mince fried bacon, and mix. All shredded head lettuce, half a cupful of cold, cooked peas and dress with mayonnaise.

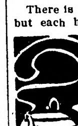
Meat Salad.—Cut chicken, beef or veal into fine pieces, discarding all fat or gristle. To each two cupfuls of meat add one cupful of celery and one onion, both minced fine. Just before serving mix with enough dressing to hold together, not enough to make it wet.

Benares Salad.—This is such a well-liked combination that it is becoming Americanized. Equal parts of tart apple, cocoanut, a little sugar, salt and chopped red pepper and parsley, with a tablespoonful of chopped onion. Serve with French dressing like the above.

Cabbage Salad.—Chop enough cabbage to make a pint. Shell peanuts or walnuts, a half cupful or less. Boil one-half cupful of sugar with a half cupful of vinegar; let cool. Beat a yolk of egg with a half cupful of cream. Mix all together lightly and serve on the cabbage.

Raisin Salad.—To a half cupful of raisins add one cupful of shredded cocoanut and three chopped apples, a bit of onion juice or green pepper chopped, and serve with French dressing.

USE OF SALAD DRESSINGS.



There is nothing new under the sun, but each housewife may in blending different seasonings create quite unusual effects. A salad dressing should be suited to the salad with which it is served. A hot mustard dressing is most inappropriate to a fruit salad as is a heavy mayonnaise dressing on rich meat or fish. The old stand-by French dressing, may, by the addition of different flavors seem quite like a new dressing. Mashed Roquefort cheese, added to French dressing, served on lettuce is one that is almost universally liked by men.

Chopped green pepper, Spanish onion, chives, cucumber, a piece or two of tomato, in fact almost any vegetable added to French dressing then used on lettuce is well liked.

To make a good French dressing it is necessary that the oil should be perfect and all the ingredients ice cold. The vinegar is another important item. Too acid vinegar makes a dressing too sharp. Good cider vinegar is the best and one part vinegar, (if at all strong, dilute it), to three parts of oil, makes a good combination. Then add such seasonings as seems advisable or such as you have.

Chili sauces, catchups of various kinds, chives, pimentoes and many bottled sauces may be used to give variety to a dressing.

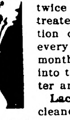
One of the most tasty of fruit salad dressings is made of fruit juice, pineapple is especially good, using oil and less of the vinegar.

Chili Dressing.—Make an ordinary French dressing, adding salt and pepper to taste, three tablespoonfuls of oil and one of vinegar, then a few drops of onion juice, a finely chopped green pepper, and enough chili sauce to make the dressing red. Serve this poured over head lettuce or chopped cabbage. Parsley may be used in place of the pepper if it is not liked.

Young onions sliced and served in sour cream with a dash of cayenne and salt is a most appetizing salad for those who know the value of onions in the diet.

No one is useless in this world who lightens the burden of it to anyone else.—Dickens.

NICE THINGS TO KNOW.



Rubber goods, such as hot water bottles, rubber gloves and such things which are expensive when bought will last twice as long if they are treated to a strong solution of soda and water every two or three months. Let them drop into the boiling soda water and stand until cool.

Lace yokes may be cleaned very satisfactorily by placing a large bath towel in the neck of the gown, cover the waist with another towel and wash with a small brush with soap, rinsing well with clean water. The yoke may then be pressed and it will be fresh looking again.

Before making up dainty colored cotton goods, soak in water overnight to which is added two tablespoonfuls of turpentine to eight or ten quarts of water.

To clean white shoes, make a paste of cold starch and water, rub in well and let dry. When dry, the soil will come out with the starch when brushed.

If your child is unfortunate enough to push a bean or other hard substance up her nose, put a bit of pepper on her lip so that she will sneeze it out, for poking and probing for it, is futile.

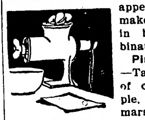
When the clothes line needs cleaning wrap it around the washboard and scrub it with a brush in soapsuds.

The cut side of a raisin laid next the gum of an aching tooth will relieve it! heated, this same raisin is good for the earache. A grain or two of red pepper will be more efficacious if the toothache is serious.

Wrap linen that is to lie unused in a towel well blued, this will keep the linen white and fresh.

Milk Frosting.—Take one and one-half cupfuls of sugar, one teaspoonful of butter, a half cupful of milk and a half teaspoonful of vanilla. Melt the butter in a saucepan, add sugar and milk, boil gently, without stirring, ten minutes; beat until stiff enough to spread, add flavoring and spread over the cake.

MORE ABOUT SALADS.



Salads are recognized as being of distinct food value in addition to the appeal which they make to the eye in beautiful combinations of color.

Pineapple Salad.—Take six slices of canned pineapple, two cupfuls of marshmallows, cut in cubes with the shears; one cupful of blanched almonds, shredded; three tablespoonfuls of chopped pimento, one cupful of whipped cream, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, one-eighth of a teaspoonful of mustard, one tablespoonful of lemon juice and a few dashes of salt. Some like a boiled dressing, using one part of the dressing to four or five parts of whipped cream, as the salad dressing.

Grapefruit in sections with strips of pimento between, served on lettuce, is another wholesome salad.

Sapsago Salad.—Grate a cake of sapsago cheese, add two tablespoonfuls of butter, a few drops of tabasco sauce and a teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce, one teaspoonful of lemon juice. Mold into a loaf and slice, placing a few slices on lettuce leaves, garnish with red pepper or pickled beets and serve with mayonnaise.

Nut Salad.—Blanch peanuts and place in a hot oven to brown with a bit of butter. Chop when cold and to each cupful of nuts add two cupfuls of finely chopped celery and an equal amount of apples. Mix well and serve with mayonnaise.

Toasted, buttered baking powder biscuit, cut in thin slices before toasting, make a nice accompaniment to any salad.

Cucumber and Potato Salad.—Dice cold boiled potatoes and crisp cucumbers, mix lightly with mayonnaise dressing which has been seasoned with chopped parsley and onion.

Any potato salad is improved by the addition of a few cooked peas or a little sweet corn cut from the cob.

Gelatin jellies mixed with fruit and served molded in small cups or forms and placed on lettuce leaves, served with any desired dressing, make a most pleasing salad.

Nellie Maxwell

Cheap Farm Truck.

Potato growers all over South Jersey are greatly concerned over the poor outlook for the season, and unless prices become higher, many farmers are likely to be heavy losers. The crop is about ready for digging, but the markets are so poor that growers are deferring the work as long as possible. There are hundreds of acres within a mile of Woodbury from which the owners cannot see at this time more than $1 per barrel.

For the past five years farmers in the lower counties have been making big profits from their pea crops. This year John Bradway, a Port Norris grower, shipped 37 hampers to Boston and received a check for 30 cents in settlement. Charles Tribbett of the same place, sent 51 hampers which sold for $1, 53 cents less than the freight charges.—New York Journal of Commerce.

BOMBARD TURKISH CAPITAL

SLAV AEROPLANES DROP BOMBS; 41 DEAD OR INJURED.

Two Allied Cruisers Penetrate Dardanelles—British Submarine Sinks Four Turkish Troop Ships.

London, Aug. 26.—Important successes both on land and sea have been gained by the allied forces at the Dardanelles while the Balkans are debating whether they shall join in the march against Constantinople.

British troops, supported by recent reinforcements, have rushed the Turks back on Gallipoli peninsula, capturing nearly half a mile of Turkish trenches. A French aviator has sunk a Turkish transport, it was officially reported at Paris and a British submarine is credited with sinking four enemy troop ships inside the Dardanelles.

Unofficial reports said that the Russian Black sea fleet has added to the fright in Constantinople by suddenly appearing off the Bosphorus, sending Turkish ships scurrying to the protection of the forts.

Slavs Bombard Constantinople.

Bombardment of the outskirts of Constantinople by a Russian aeroplane squadron, resulting in the death or injury of 41 persons, is announced in a dispatch from Athens.

According to these advices, the attack was made on Monday on the Asiatic suburbs of Constantinople. A number of bombs were dropped, throwing the people into panic. Thirty Turks, 8 Greeks and 3 Armenians were killed or wounded.

Two allied cruisers penetrated the Dardanelles and bombarded the Kastanea batteries with considerable effect.

Heavy fighting has been resumed at both Krithia and in the Ari Burnu region, Mytilene advices said. The Australians along Suvla bay captured a Turkish trench in a violent engagement.

Arrival of more British reinforcements in the Suvla bay region has been followed not only by infantry attacks, but a renewal of the bombardment of the Dardanelles forts.

Dispatches received here from Athens said the whole southern trip of Gallipoli peninsula was being rocked by the fire from big guns.

BALKANS WATCHING AMERICA

Germany Considers Effect of Possible Rupture With United States Upon Smaller European Nations.

Washington, Aug. 27.—In official speculation as to the real significance of the German note regarding the Arabic disaster, there was a large element of optimism. It was felt that Germany is convinced of the folly of risking actual trouble with the United States and that the disavowal regarded as necessary to prevent a rupture will be forthcoming. One big factor believed to have been considered by Germany in adopting her new policy toward the United States is the possible effect of a rupture with the United States upon the attitude of the Balkan states.

Many diplomats believe that the entrance of the United States into the line-up against Germany would be the only force necessary to throw the Balkan alliance on the side of the allies, thus completing the alliance of all of the principal civilized powers save China and the Scandinavian countries against Germany.

The Carranzistas are reported to have lost more heavily in this engagement than in any for several months. Over 1,000 were killed and the Monterey hospitals are filled to capacity with wounded, and private homes have been commandeered for the wounded.

West Orange, N. J., Aug. 27.—Thomas A. Edison, while at work in one of his laboratories at Silver Lake, near Newark, was painfully, though it is believed not seriously, burned about the eyes by the accidental splash of a potash solution.

GERMANY OFFERS TO MAKE AMENDS FOR LOSS OF LIFE

INTENDS TO GIVE FULL SATISFACTION TO UNITED STATES FOR SINKING OF ARABIC.

REPARATION FOR DEATHS DUE TO LUSITANIA LOSS

Teuton Ambassador Informs State Department That Berlin Is Ready to Renew Discussion of Incident —Report of U-Boat Captain Expected.

Washington, Aug. 30.—Germany's intention to offer full satisfaction to the United States for the sinking of the liner Arabic with a loss of two American lives has been communicated formally to the state department by Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador on instructions from the Berlin foreign office.

The ambassador read to Secretary Lansing a memorandum outlining the position of his government. It promised that if it was found that the Arabic was attacked without warning the Imperial government not only would promptly disavow the act, but would give the United States "full satisfaction." This, it is well known, would have to include reparation for the Americans lost and assurances that such tragedies would not be repeated.

In a Waiting Attitude.

No further developments in the situation are expected now until the submarine commander who sank the Arabic has reported to Berlin. In the meantime President Wilson and Secretary Lansing, though visibly encouraged and relieved by Count von Bernstorff's assurances and reports from Ambassador Gerard on his conferences with Foreign Minister von Jagow are in a waiting attitude.

Before the American government can speak, there must be forthcoming the German disavowal and explanation of what all evidence received has seemed to prove was an "unfriendly act."

For Lusitania Deaths.

It became known that the state department has been informed that Germany is ready to renew discussion of the Lusitania incident and to offer reparation for the American lives lost when that vessel was sent to the bottom without warning by a German submarine. There has been no response to the last American note on this subject, and it is known that the United States would not listen to reparation proposals with the situation created by the sinking of the Arabic still pending. With the attack on the Arabic disavowed, however, and guarantees given against repetition, a German communication explaining that the Lusitania was torpedoed as a reprisal against Great Britain under a misapprehension that she was armed, and that killing of Americans was regretted and not intended, and offering reparation, probably would pave the way for amicably closing the incident.

U-Boat Captain's Report.

In German quarters, confidence was felt that the submarine's report would soon reach Berlin.

German officials have made it plain that their government, as soon as it has relieved the strain upon its relations with the United States by limiting submarine activities, will ask the American government to demand that Great Britain and her allies cease interfering with legitimate neutral commerce and thus permit the importation of foodstuffs for the German civil population.

King of Sweden Hurt.

Stockholm, via London, Aug. 30.—King Gustav had a narrow escape from serious injury at Jema. As he was entering his car to proceed to Stockholm, the train started with a sudden jerk, throwing him down. His foot was jammed between the car and the platform and he fell heavily. He was picked up quickly, however, and assisted into his car. Except for a slight lameness he is little the worse for the accident.

Governors Endorse Suffrage.

Boston, Aug. 30.—Former Governor Alva Adams of Colorado, speaking at a suffrage mass meeting, characterized the preamble to the federal constitution as a "lie and a delusion," in those states which have not granted women suffrage. It would never be justified, he said, until women have the vote. Governor Arthur Capper of Kansas also spoke in favor of extending the suffrage to women.

Slavs Do Not Fear Petrograd Attack.

Petrograd, via London, Aug. 30.—Weighing the likelihood of a German advance on Petrograd, the Retch points out that the Russian retirement covers the approaches to the capital and that it is extremely doubtful whether the Germans, without undisputed possession of the Baltic sea and particularly of the Gulf of Riga, could undertake the risks attaching to operating against Petrograd this autumn. Moreover, on the whole front from the Dvina to the upper Bobr, it is noted the Germans have only two armies.

BOLT TEARS OFF EARRINGS

Woman After Regaining Consciousness, Finds Her Jewels Strewn About the Floor.

During the severe rainstorm here Miss Rose Bailey, at Foster's hotel, Bluff Point, was struck by a bolt of lightning, which tore the earrings from her ears and made her unconscious.

Miss Bailey and Mrs. Foster, wife of the proprietor, were standing at the open kitchen window, as was the chef, watching the approaching storm. Following a loud crash of thunder, the three were blinded by a flash of lightning which struck Miss Bailey on the left shoulder and Mrs. Foster on the right shoulder. The chef was knocked down, but unhurt. Miss Bailey's earrings were found on the floor, one of them a misshapen mass.

A few minutes later lightning knocked several chauffeurs to the ground. Neither the hotel nor the garage was damaged. The storm did considerable damage about this city.—Plattsburg (N. Y.) Dispatch New York Herald.

Retort Courteous.

E. Pluribus Jones reached the station platform just as the 5:15 was pulling out. A little burst of speed before the admiring onlookers netted him 50 feet in overcoming the train's handicap, but the best that his ample carcass could do thereafter was to run a losing race. He quit at the end of the freight yards and returned.

"Miss your train, sir?" inquired the porter cheerfully.

Jones flecked a speck of dust from his coatsleeve.

"No, my friend," he said earnestly, "oh, no. I was just chasing it out of the yard. You oughtn't to allow it around here. Don't you see the tracks it's left?"

The Exception.

"This war will be a great stimulus to American manufactures. Before it is over we shall be able to equal, if not to surpass, every country of Europe in any line of production."

"Excepting, of course, widows and orphans."

GAVE BEER TO AID CHURCH

But It Was Given Only With Dime Purchases of Pigs' Feet, Asserted Defendant.

Testifying in the Camden police court in the case of Emma Kane of 748 Sycamore street, who was charged with violating the excise law in giving away a bottle of lager beer with each sandwich or ten cents' worth of pigs' feet, Eleanor Williams, twenty-one years old, of 610 Cherry street, was asked if she had enjoyed the refreshments, and she replied:

"Yes, I did. I didn't mind drinking the beer, either, when I was told it was for the benefit of the church."

After other witnesses had testified to being served with beer at what they called a church party given to raise funds to build an annex to the Wesley African Methodist Episcopal church, Recorder Stackhouse fixed bail at $500, and Mrs. Kane was committed to jail in default.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Activities of Women.

One woman in every fifteen in the United States is in business.

Two babies are born in Germany for every one born in France.

Nellie Barker is Chicago's champion runaway girl, having deserted her parents once a week for the past year.

Miss Neysa McMein, the well-known illustrator of front covers for magazines, earns over $5,000 a year from her own work.

Miss Eva Ramstedt, a former pupil of Mme. Curie, the radium expert, has been appointed professor of radiology at the University of Stockholm.

Although she is past sixty-two years of age, Miss S. D. Wallace of near Indianapolis, Ind., has again secured an annual fishing and hunting license.

A deputation of Russian women have asked permission from the government to form a volunteer legion to serve as regular soldiers. These women assert that they are ready to assume all military duties except actual engagements in battle and are particularly desirous of being employed for patrol service.

STATE BREVITIES

Little Falls.—Adjudged insane on the same day, Philip Bolstrom and his wife, Anna Bolstrom, were taken to the asylum at Fergus Falls. They lived on a farm at Upsala.

Rochester.—Six young persons of Rochester had a miraculous escape from death when a seven-passenger car in which they were riding ran off Cascade bridge, dropped ten feet and turned over. Five of the occupants were pinned beneath the car in the water.

Hibbing.—Not to be outdone by the announcement of postal officials of the twin cities that a postoffice department will be in operation at the state fair, J. B. O'Connors, local postmaster, declares that a branch postoffice will be established at the St. Louis county fair here.

Faribault.—Two automobiles collided near the village of Medford. The machines are owned by C. C. Clausen of Kenyon and L. J. Kinsell of Owatonna. Mrs. Clausen was thrown through the windshield and badly cut by the glass. The drivers say they were blinded by the lights.

Duluth.—William R. Stone, one of Duluth's leading business men and a prominent figure in the early life of the city, died at Santa Barbara, Cal. He was 88 years old. He is survived by his widow and four nieces, two of whom, Mrs. T. L. Blood and Mrs. W. A. Hardenbergh, live in St. Paul.

Stillwater.—Petitions were filed with the county auditor by county option people, asking that a special election be called for some time in October. The county auditor will name the date in the immediate future. The first petition in favor of county option was received by mail from Afton and had four names.

Duluth.—Meyer Fonberg, age 73, dreading the approaching cold weather and coal bills, tried to end his life in Lake Superior, but was pulled out by the police. He declares he will try again, but next time will go far enough away from the center of business not to attract attention. He declares the cold winters and the additional expense ahead cause him untold dread.

Winona.—That his mother might be successfully operated upon at a Winona hospital, M. C. Shield submitted to an operation whereby blood was transfused from his body to that of his parent, Mrs. Emma S. Shield.

Mr. Shield is an employe of the appropriations committee of the house of representatives at Washington, D. C., and is visiting in this city.

Minneapolis.—A meeting was held in Minneapolis to extend the operations of the Minnesota Game and Fish Protective league to embrace the entire state. The league's activities have been confined to Minneapolis and Hennepin county.

It is the intention to organize a society which will be composed of sportsmen from all parts of the state. Invitations to the meeting have been sent to several hundred persons.

Brainerd.—In the presence of mining and business men from Duluth, Superior, Hibbing, Virginia, Barrows and Brainerd, the Rolly mine, of the Barrows Mining company at Barrows, was christened. Little Olivet Martell of New Duluth broke a bottle of spring water on the sides of the 29,000-pound steel "shoe." The Brainerd city band played and luncheon was served. Speeches were made by John J. Moe of Duluth, C. B. Rowley and John A. Hoffbauer of Brainerd.

Appleton.—When Joseph King of Ortonville attempted to demonstrate to Howard Lockwood that his car was capable of running 50 miles an hour he approached a sharp turn and the car turned a complete revolution in the air and landed upright on the opposite side of a ditch. King was picked up from the ditch unconscious. The men were brought to town, where it was found a few bad bruises was the extent of their injuries. The car was practically ruined.

St. Cloud.—Newton F. Spear of Sauk Center, who voluntarily went to the Fergus Falls insane asylum for treatment, has served the officials with the necessary three days' notice demanding his freedom. Mrs. Spear has now filed a formal complaint against her husband. An officer from this county will meet Spear at the door of the asylum when he is released, and will bring him here for a hearing. If he is found to be still insane he will be returned to the asylum.

St. Paul.—Between 8,000 and 10,000 men representing the thirty-eight union labor organizations of St. Paul will parade through the business section of the city Labor day, September 6.

This was decided at a meeting of the parade marshals at the Trades and Labor hall.

The parade will be in six divisions, each headed by a band. It will be made up of marchers from the unions and of floats representing the various industrial activities in which the union members are employed.

St. Cloud.—That even though the final decree of divorce did not provide for the support of the minor children the wife has the right later to sue her divorced husband for a share of the cost of supporting the children, was the decision made by Judge Roeser in the case of Riley against Riley.

Moorhead.—J. A. Karlstrom and two of his employes were arrested on a charge of violating the liquor laws of the state. This is the first arrest of any of the former saloonkeepers of the city on this charge though most of the establishments have been selling soft drinks and tobacco.

SPIRIT DESTROYS HIS HAPPY HOME

Wife Never Had Best of Temper, But Spiritualism Sends Her Amuck.

LEFT HIM 22 TIMES

Muttered at the Sink Because Water Didn't Run Fast Enough to Suit Her, Says Exasperated Husband.

Detroit, Mich.—Twenty-two times in the last fifteen years Mrs. Helen Ward has packed her clothes, the family pictures and china and quit her job as the wife of John F. Ward, a middle-aged druggist and violin maker.

Twenty-one times John Ward laid aside his pestle and mortar or a partly finished violin, as the case might have been, and sought out his wife to plead until she returned and put back into their places the china and family portraits.

A few days ago, in a dingy back room of his drug store, with a partly finished violin across his knees, he told the story of how his home, his business and seven years of his life had been wrecked. "It was seven years ago," he said slowly, "that a woman entered my home with this spiritualism tomfoolery. I tried to stop it, but I was too late.

"Mother took it up and wouldn't drop it.

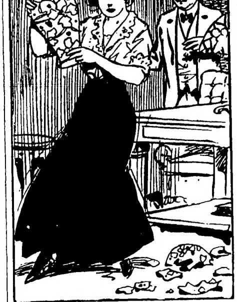
"She never had the best of a temper, but we got along fairly well until she was medium-stricken. After that—oh, well! temper is a weak word after all.

Spirits Bad-Tempered.

"The deeper mother got into spiritualism the uglier she became. She never seemed to get an amiable spirit. It wouldn't have been so bad if she had. I think it was either 'Black Hawk' or 'Red Eagle,' departed Indians, whose spirit possessed mother. I've seen her, when she had 'em, mutter at the sink because the water didn't run fast enough to suit her.

"When I protested she would fly into a rage, pack the china and family pictures and quit. Often it took two weeks to find her. When I did, sometimes she was sorry and ready to return. At other times she was ugly and I had to coax her.

"Once I thought she was nearly cured. A daughter by my first wife attended a seance. The next day she was possessed of the spirit of her departed mother. Her stepmother didn't like that a little bit and the powers she summoned from below or above made the other spirit retreat over the divide.



She Smashed Vases Valued at $150, While the Officer Looked On.

Smashed the Vases.

"Two or three years ago, when the tight skirt had its inning, mother made one. After she put it on she came downstairs, twisted herself before the mirror and said, 'How do you like it, John?'

"'It's all right, mother,' I answered, 'but put your foot on the chair.' She did, and then I said, 'You will make a display, mother, when you get on a street car.'

"That night when I went upstairs after closing the store, mother, her clothes, the pictures and the china were gone. I found out where she was, but she wouldn't return. She had placed the china and several hand-painted vases at a friend's, and I got a writ of replevin to get them back.

"When the officer went to serve the writ mother was there. What could he do with the spirit of Black Hawk backing mother that night?

"In addition to breaking up our home it has taken money to keep mother traveling with the spirits of redskins and doctors who died a hundred years ago.

"Mother has had to tip Caesar, Brutus and those other fellows who are conductors on the transcelestial trains, or maybe they're in the subways; I've forgotten, though mother told me once. I've paid the bills; I need money now, but—no, I don't believe that mother had a good time out of it."

The General Says:

Know-why and know-how are essential to any success. Every one of us has to acknowledge that the same sort of military preparedness that fits a nation for its defense is the most effective principle in making an industry of any kind serviceable and profitable both to manufacturer and consumer.

This Great Roofing Organization Is Trained Like an Army

Three enormous mills—officered and manned by the best trained force ever enlisted in an industrial army—three huge factories that are run like clockwork.

Military exactness in the securing and selection of raw material, and in every step from then on until the finished product is distributed and sold.

Constant readiness—being prepared every minute for the work to be done the next—Right there you have your finger on the great, essential reasons for the unfailing satisfaction every user finds in

Certain-teed

ROOFING

This roofing certainly has no superior. It is the best roofing that can possibly be made and it is manufactured in and guaranteed by the largest Roofing and Building Paper Mills in the World. 1-ply is guaranteed 5 years; 2-ply, 10 years, and 3-ply, 15 years, and this guarantee means the minimum life of the roofing. Thousands of Certain-teed Roofs all over the country are outliving the period of the guarantee.

When the General first entered the field the cost of roofing was two or three times more than it is today and the quality was not as high as Certain-teed is today. By reason of his enormous output the General has not only been able to bring down the cost and selling price of roofing, but he has also been able to raise the quality to its maximum. Today every fifth roll of roofing sold bears the Certain-teed label.

Slate Surfaced SHINGLES

These shingles are made of the same high-grade materials as are used in Certain-teed Roofing. This process recognizes the principle that roofing materials don't wear out—they dry out. Therefore, Certain-teed Roofing is made with a soft center asphalt and coated with a harder blend of asphalts, which keeps the soft saturation within—the life of the roofing—from drying out quickly. This produces a flexible shingle, a true sign of thorough saturation in the slowest drying asphalt mixtures that can be made for roofing purposes. A thick, stiff or heavy-bodied asphalt shingle is by no means a proof of durability on the roof.

We use only genuine crushed slate in natural green or red colors for surfacing the Certain-teed Shingle. No painting is necessary. We don't try to use old brick, common rock, or crushed tile from old tile roofs. The slate also increases the fire-resisting qualities, thereby minimizing fire dangers and lowering insurance rates.

Certain-teed roofing, shingles, wall boards, felts, building papers, etc., bearing the General's name, are sold by your local lumber or hardware dealer at very reasonable prices. Don't send your money away for these goods. Patronize your home dealer.

Marvel of Surgery.

Doctor Vannucci, the chief surgeon of the hospital at Pistoia (Italy), has accomplished a marvel of surgery, says the London Mail. He operated on a girl named Maria Tondini to remove a needle that had accidentally been run into her body near her heart, which in its action came into contact with the point of the needle. The surgeon was holding the girl's heart in his hand when its pulsation—violent at first—gradually ceased. "It is all over," he exclaimed, but, as a last hope he started massaging the heart. Little by little its activity was stimulated, and the operation was successfully finished.

The Master's Voice.

"We have come," said the chairman of the committee, "to ask you to take this nomination. The city needs a man like you—strong, brave, self-made, self-reliant, owning no master, fearing no man."

The great man was visibly touched.

"I'll not deny," said he, "that your kind words have shaken my resolution. I trust that, if elected, I may justify your confidence and prove that I am indeed strong, brave, self-reliant; that I own no master and fear no man. Suppose you wait a minute till I see if my wife will let me accept?"

He Had It.

In honor of a visit to his plant by the governor of the state an automobile manufacturer once had a complete car assembled in something like seven minutes. Some weeks later, after this feat was heralded in the daily papers, the phone rang vigorously. "Is it true that you assembled a car in seven minutes at your factory?" the voice asked. "Yes," came the reply. "Why?" "Oh, nothing," said the calm inquirer, "only I've got the car."

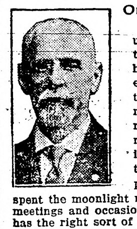
OUR PUBLIC FORUM

IX—Peter Radford

On "Back to the Soil With Wall Street"



When Wall Street wants good business men she usually goes back to the soil to get them. That financial thoroughfare is said to be honeycombed with men who have plowed barefooted, who have drunk branch water, eaten cornbread and molasses and slept on the floor in their early days. A man is more capable of holding the reins of business who knows how to drive a team of mules, shear a sheep or put a ring in a shoat's nose. A man is better equipped to meet the problems of life who in his youth has walked the log across the creek to get to school, courted the girls at husking bees and pitched horse shoes Saturday afternoon. A man who has spent the moonlight nights of his youth possum hunting, going to protracted meetings and occasionally turning down the community at a spelling match has the right sort of stuff in him to make a good business man. The active officials of most of the large business organizations of America it is said were, with a very few exceptions, raised on the farm, and could swim the creek, pitch hay, chop wood, milk the cows or slop the hogs as easily as they can run world-wide business institutions.

The farmers look to these capable and loyal sons of the soil to assist in the solution of the business problems of agriculture. Wall Street is reputed to be capable of financing everything from a Y. M. C. A. to a war, so why not finance agriculture? It is not sufficient to lend money to a correspondent to lend to a local banker, to lend to a broker to lend to a merchant, to lend to the landlord to lend to a farmer. Such a financial system sounds like the house that Jack built, and is just about as useful. Neither is assistance complete when money is furnished buyers to "move the crop." What the farmer wants is money to hold the crop. What better security is there than a warehouse receipt for a bale of cotton, a sack of wheat or a bushel of corn and why will such securities not travel by the side of government bonds?

The American farmer is a capable plowman. He always has filled and always will fill the nation's granary, larder and wardrobe, but he has nothing to say in fixing the price of his products. The problem confronting the farmers of this nation today is marketing and its solution depends first upon the farmer organizing for concert of action and the co-operation of the financial interests in marketing the crop. Agriculture is the biggest business in America and the only one that has not a financial system adapted to its use.

OUR PUBLIC FORUM

VIII.—C. E. Schaff

On Railway Investments

President Wilson, recently referring to our railroad problems, said in part: "They are indispensable to our whole economic life and railway securities are at the very heart of most investments, large and small, public and private, by individuals and by institutions. * * * There is no other interest so central to the business welfare of the country, as this. No doubt, in the light of the new day, with its new understandings, the problem of the railroads will also be met and dealt with in a spirit of candor and justice."

When the first citizen of the land stresses the importance of understanding and dealing justly with the railroads, certainly the American plowman can venture upon a careful study of the problem. C. E. Schaff, president of the M. K. & T. railway company, when asked to outline the relation of the public to railroads investments, said in part:

"It may be said that the railroad world is encumbered with a lot of phantoms which exist only in the popular fancy. For instance, because there have been a few so-called 'railroad magnates' whose names have figured prominently in finance, many people have come to believe that the railroads of the country are largely owned by a few rich men. As a matter of fact nothing could be farther from the truth. Out of the colossal sum of twenty billion dollars of American railroad securities, less than five per cent is now, or ever has been, in the hands of these men who have figured prominently in the newspaper headlines—while the other 95 per cent is in the hands of over two million investors, large and small, who in many instances have put the modest savings of a lifetime into these securities in order that they might lay away a competency for old age. When, therefore, the value of these securities is depressed or perchance destroyed, the hardship is a hundredfold greater upon thousands of every-day citizens, than upon the handful of millionaires, good or bad, who have figured prominently in railroad circles.

Hundreds of millions of dollars of the assets of our great life and fire insurance companies, savings banks, trust companies, educational and fiduciary institutions are invested in railroad bonds—and the moment, therefore, that the soundness of these bonds is called into question the financial solidity of these myriad institutions—directly affecting the welfare of millions of policyholders and bank depositors—is gravely menaced. During the last several years, many millions of dollars representing depreciated values, have been charged off the books of concerns like those enumerated above. American railroads have become a vital part of the very woof and fabric of the nation. Their continued efficiency is absolutely essential to the smallest community in the land.

In blindly striking at the railroads our blows fall not merely upon thousands who have committed no wrong, but, in the last analysis, upon ourselves. We should remember how interdependent we have come to be in this mighty republic of ours—that each is in truth become more and more his brother's keeper, and that we need to act and think circumspectly, lest in our mistaken zeal we destroy those who, like ourselves, need whatever of this world's goods the toil and sweat of years has bequeathed to them."

OUR PUBLIC FORUM

VII.—Hon. Elihu Root

On Woman's Sphere

The question of Woman Suffrage is an issue before the American people. Twelve states have adopted it, four more states vote upon it this fall and it is strongly urged that it become a platform demand of the national political parties. It is therefore the privilege and the duty of every voter to study carefully this subject. Hon. Elihu Root, in discussing this question before the Constitutional Convention of New York, recently said in part:

"I am opposed to the granting of suffrage to women, because I believe that it would be a loss to women, to all women and to every woman; and because I believe it would be an injury to the State, and to every man and every woman in the State. It would be useless to argue this if the right of suffrage were a natural right. If it were a natural right, then women should have it though the heavens fall. But if there be any one thing settled in the long discussion of this subject, it is that suffrage is not a natural right, but is simply a means of government, and the sole question to be discussed is whether government by the suffrage of men and women will be better government than by the suffrage of men alone.

Into my judgment, sir, there enters no element of the inferiority of woman. It is not that woman is inferior to man, but it is that woman is different from man; that in the distribution of powers, of capacities, of qualities, our Maker has created man adapted to the performance of certain functions in the economy of nature and society, and woman adapted to the performance of other functions.

Woman rules today by the sweet and noble influences of her character. Put woman into the arena of conflict and she abandons these great weapons which control the world, and she takes into her hands, feeble and nerveless for strife, weapons with which she is unfamiliar and which she is unable to wield. Woman in strife becomes hard, harsh, unlovable, repulsive; as far removed from that gentle creature to whom we all owe allegiance and to whom we confess submission, as the heaven is removed from the earth.

The whole science of government is the science of protecting life and liberty and the pursuit of happiness. In the divine distribution of powers, the duty and the right of protection rests with the male. It is so throughout nature. It is so with men, and I, for one, will never consent to part with the divine right of protecting my wife, my daughter, the women whom I love, and the women whom I respect, exercising the birthright of man, and place that high duty in the weak and nerveless hands of those designed by God to be protected rather than to engage in the stern warfare of government. In my judgment, this whole movement arises from a false conception of the duty and of the right of both men and women.

The time will never come when the line of demarcation between the functions of the two sexes will be broken down. I believe it to be false philosophy; I believe that it is an attempt to turn backward upon the line of social development, and that if the step ever be taken, we go centuries backward on the march towards a higher, a nobler and a purer civilization, which must be found not in the confusion, but in the higher differentiation of the sexes."

COOPER WINS BIG SPEEDWAY RACE

GIL ANDERSON FINISHES 500-MILE DRIVE ONLY HALF SECOND LATER.

RESTA AND DE PALMA DROP OUT

Burman Also Withdraws on Account of Engine Trouble—Rough Track at Minneapolis Oval Keeps Average Speed Low.

PRIZE WINNERS IN 500-MILE SPEEDWAY RACE

Name.	Car.	Cash.
Earl Cooper	Stutz	$20,000
Gil Anderson	Stutz	10,000
Ed. O'Donnell	Deusenberg	4,500
Tom Alley	Ogren	3,500
Halbe	Sebring ...	2,700
Haupt	Deusenberg	2,000
Chandler	Cooling ...	1,750
Oldfield	Delage	1,500

Minneapolis, Sept. 7.—Earl Cooper, driving a Stutz car, once more captured the first prize in a long distance race. Cooper carried off the high honors at the new speedway and pressing him hard for honors was Gil Anderson, his teammate, who shot across the finishing line less than a half second behind the winner. Resta, Burman and DePalma were forced out by engine trouble and the Stutz team had a walkaway.

Cooper's car averaged 86.35 miles an hour for 500 miles, and although the time was not fast, the high honors and $20,000 in cash go to the Californian. For his efforts and success Gil Anderson draws down $10,000. Eddie O'Donnell, who finished third, several laps behind the winning pair, took down $4,500, and Tom Alley took fourth money.

The time established by the winner was by no means pleasing to the promoters of the affair. Talk of 120 miles an hour had been heard while the enthusiasts were predicting 100 miles an hour for 500 miles over that course would be almost disappointing.

Resta Leads at Start.

The race started out with Resta shooting into the lead over the two Stutz cars and De Palma. Bob Burman, who had the pole position in the second row, displayed some rare track knowledge on the very first lap. He started in to overtake Resta and on the second whirl around the track the Italian was driving at his best, with Burman riding in the vacuum of his car. But when the two cars broke into the stretch off the bank near the main grandstand, Burman gave his car a full flow of juice and he slipped past the other Peugeot, Resta taking up his dust. Driving like Wild Bob of old, Burman continued to lead the field and lap after lap he shot past the judges' stand holding a lead that varied from 20 to 30 seconds over Resta. De Palma, in the meantime, was fighting hard in the attempt to overtake Resta. Cooper, in the meantime, stamped on his accelerator pedal with all his might and the Stutz soon passed Resta, but Burman was going too fast for the field. At 20 miles De Palma steamed into the pit row for repairs, and although he spent only about 45 seconds in the hands of his helpers, when he got under way he was far behind. Resta in the meantime found Gil Anderson pressing him and on the next turn the second Stutz had slipped ahead of the Peugeot driven by the famous Italian.

Burman Is Forced Out.

Averaging 93 miles an hour—a clip never touched after he broke down, Burman continued to lead through 30 miles. Then, on his 16th lap, Wild Bob applied the brakes, he opened the hood, looked over the machinery and without much ceremony climbed over the pit row and announced his retirement because of a broken connecting rod.

With Burman out of the race and De Palma losing ground because of engine trouble, Resta took a new grip on the grind and mile after mile was reeled off with Cooper leading, Resta second and Anderson third. This order held good until 56 miles had been covered, and then Resta showed signs of speeding up. Once he got his Peugeot [illegible]ring properly, he fairly danced past Cooper and then the line of racing order found Resta in the lead, Cooper second, Anderson third, Mulford fourth. Alley fifth, O'Donnell sixth, De Palma seventh, Chandler eighth, Henning ninth and Haupt tenth. Brown and Oldfield were in the rear.

Anderson Shoots Past Resta.

Resta continued to lead through the 30th lap—which is 60 miles—and Cooper was second. Resta's time at 60 miles was 99:48 and his average was 90.45. At 70 miles Resta's average was 90.88 and his elapsed time 46:13. Anderson, who had been content to hold down second or third place during the early stages of the race slipped his car into high at 78 miles and he shot past Resta like a cannon ball.

Anderson continued to lead and at the 100-mile mark Cooper was second and Resta third. Anderson's time for 100 miles was 67:09 and his average was 90.91.

At 110 miles Cooper was leading but De Palma was pressing him hard. The time made by the Stutz driver was 1:43:33 and the average 88:32. As the race progressed the average speed dropped and although an occasional spurt would be seen, it was manifest that no new marks would be established. Resta in the meantime stopped to locate his engine trouble and found that his oil pump had been broken. His car was backed into the shade of the judges stand and the favorite in the betting watched his co-workers whiz around the rough course.

Ralph Mulford, who was driving Harry J. Tremain's Deusenberg, had been making a creditable showing, but on his 60th lap, the winner of the Des Moines grind was given the white flag and upon pulling into the pit he was informed that his radiator hood was hanging loose.

De Palma in Second Place.

Cooper was leading at 120 miles with an average of 88.71. De Palma was second and Anderson third. De Palma lost more ground through engine trouble, and at 130 miles Anderson was second to Cooper. De Palma once more broke into the speed class and at 150 miles he was in second place, but engine trouble again brought him to the pits.

Two hundred miles of racing found Anderson still leading, with Cooper a close second. De Palma's engine continued to give him grief and finally the second Italian withdrew, complaining that oil had got into the curburetor. The withdrawal of De Palma left only the Stutz team to fight it out for first place as O'Donnell was miles behind. The race between the two white cars was interesting, but the spectators began to lose interest and as Anderson later gave way to a relief driver, the contest was not one between drivers so much as a race to shew the durability of the machines.

With no outside opposition, both Anderson and Cooper slowed down perceptably and, although both seemed to be dragging the best speed possible out of their cars, it is a safe assertion that better time would have been made had Resta or De Palma, or both, been in the race. At sundown Starter Wagner flagged Billy Chandler and Barney Oldfield and both were awarded prizes, although they did not finish the 500 miles. Brown in the Du Cheasneau was the last man to give up at the pits.

SUBMARINE SUNK BY TURKS

British Submersible Sent to Bottom by Coast Guard Ship Bahrsfid—Crew Is Lost.

Berlin, via wireless to Sayville, Sept. 7.—The Overseas News Agency made the following announcement:

"A headquarters report issued at Constantinople announced that the Turkish coast guard ship Bahrsfid had shelled and sunk an enemy submarine southwest of Armudli. It was impossible to save the crew."

Armudli is on the Asia Minor coast of the sea of Marmora. An Athens dispatch to the London Star Saturday stated that a British submarine, after passing through the Gulf of Ismid, landed a party at Gebize to dynamite the railroad bridge. After planting bombs, the landing party was said to have returned safely to the submarine.

Fifty Hurt in Wreck.

Sandusky, Ohio, Sept. 7.—From 40 to 50 persons were injured when two interurban trains collided on the Lake Shore Electric road. An eastbound limited crashed into a westbound local at Sage's Siding, near Huron. There were no fatalities.

Carranza Troops Take Icamole.

Laredo, Texas, Sept. 7.—Carranza troops have captured Icamole and Paredon, near Monterey and are concentrating for an attack on Torreon, it was said in official dispatches received by Carranza headquarters in England Pays for Cotton.

Washington, Sept. 4.—The British embassy remitted $323,000 to W. Gordon McCabe of Charleston, S. C., for American cotton taken from the steamships Carolina and Baltic by British authorities several months ago.

Dernburg Heads German League.

Amsterdam (via London), Sept. 4.—According to the Cologne Gazette a German economical league for South and Central America has been formed with Bernhard Dernburg as president.

Takes Haitien Customs Houses.

Washington, Sept. 3.—Rear Admiral Caperton reported to the navy department that five customs houses in Haiti now were in possession of American forces. The last one was taken over without disorder at Gonzaives upon the arrival there of the United States gunboat Castine and the collier Jason. Five customs houses still remain in possession of Haitien officials.

Haitien troops at Ounanminthe have declared in favor of President D'Artiguenave, according to the report.

COOPER IS WINNER IN BIG AUTO RACE

VICTOR IN NORTHWEST'S FIRST 500 MILE DERBY AT TWIN CITIES.

ANDERSON FINISHES SECOND

Is Only Few Feet Behind Winner When Race Is Ended—Both Take Lead Early in Long Race and Maintain Position to End.

WINNERS AND WHAT THEY WIN.

Earl Cooper, Stutz, $20,000, 5:47:29.
Gil Anderson, Stutz, $10,000, 5:47:30
Ed O'Donnell, Duesenberg, $4,500, 6:20:25:34.
Tom Alley, Ogren, $3,500, 6:24:44-45
C. F. Hiabe, Sebring, $2,700, 6:38:17
William Haupt, Duesenberg, $2,000, 6:45:18-53.
William Chandler, Cooling, $1,750.
Barney Oldfield, De Lage, $1,500.

THESE DID NOT FINISH.

Bob Burman, Peugeot, broken valve at 32 miles.
Otto Henning, Mercer, engine trouble, at 66 miles.
Dario Resta, Peugeot, broken oil pump, at 102 miles.
Ralph Mulford, Duesenberg, broken spring at 120 miles.
W. W. Brown, Du Chesneau, engine trouble, at 186 miles.
Ralph De Palma, oil flooded magneto, at 190 miles.

St. Paul, Sept. 6.—Two unassuming white motor cars came to a halt at dusk Saturday at the Snelling speedway. From them clambered gingerly two chauffers. They were Earl Cooper and Gil Anderson, and they had just driven Stutz cars to victory and second place in the Twin Cities' first 500-mile race, winning an aggregate of $30,000 and coming over the wire Stutz team when Cooper and Anderson finished, and it steadily kept in one-fifth of a second apart.

St. Paulu Car Third.

The Duesenberg, driven by O'Donnell, was thirty miles behind the third place to the end. Alley's Ogren, a car that went to the pit often, but came away each time seemingly with new life, spun easily into fourth place as the grand stands and parking places grew deserted. The crowd had come to see some one win, and it had no interest in drivers of lesser mettle, although the blue and yellow Ogren and the Sebring that Halbe drove to fifth place ran consistent races in the face of great odds.

The Sebring, like the Duesenberg driven by Pete Henderson and Willie Haupt, that finished sixth, stopped often at the pits, but careful driving kept them in the running and made them interesting factors in the contest. Billy Chandler's Cooling and the De Lage that Oldfield and Rickenbacher drove intermittently all the afternoon were seventh and eighth.

ANOTHER LINER TORPEDOED.

London, Sept. 6.—The Allan line steamship Hesperian was torpedoed off the south coast of Ireland. There were approximately 350 passengers aboard including one or two Americans. All were saved according to Allan Line advices which said the steamer did not sink but was proceeding to Queenstown, under convoy with two holds full of water.

Carried Mounted Gun.

Washington, Sept. 6.—A cablegram from American Consul Frost at Queenstown to the state department last night announcing the torpedoing of the Allan Line steamer Hesperian with the loss of probably eight or ten lives, said the liner carried mounted and visible on her stern a 4.7 inch rifle.

TEN MEXICANS SLAIN

Brownsville, Tex., Sept. 6.—With at least ten known Mexicans dead and probably as many more bodies lying in the dense brush, the battle between a number of Mexicans and eighty United States cavalrymen, aided by a force of Texas rangers and armed citizens, ended. One American trooper was wounded.

Mexicans Hide in Brush.

At 4 p. m. the Mexicans withdrew from the south bank of the Rio Grande and hid in the brush.

Thebattle was waged practically the entire day, the two forces firing at each other across the Rio Grande at a point four miles west of Old Hidalgo, Texas.

The participants were stretched out in the brush on a battle line two miles long.

Fired on Rancher.

The battle started early when a party of Mexicans, said to be Carranza soldiers, appeared at the river near Old Hidalgo and fired on an American ranchman named Drew. The Mexicans then fired a volley at a party of Texas rangers near the same place.

Cavalry Ordered to Scene.

As soon as these incidents were reported, all available cavalry was ordered from Mission to the river, where they were reinforced by numerous rangers and armed civilians.

Telegraph Wires Cut.

Brownsville, Texas, Sept. 6.—All except one wire in the telegraph lines between here and San Bernito were cut, crippling communication with the section affected by Mexican raids and fighting.

Carranza Troops Take Part.

It is not known positively that the Mexicans who engagede in the fight-Mexicans who engaged in the fightports indicated that the original forty who fired at the ranchman and the rangers had been strongly reinforced by the Mexican soldiers, evidently from the Carranza garrisons in the little towns along the river.

RUSSIAN DEFENSE STIFFENS

London, Sept. 6.—Although they continue their retirement in some sectors and are being driven back in others, the Russians, on the whole, have stiffened their opposition to the Austro-German advance.

HIS WELL-CHOSEN RESPONSE

Old Frenchman's Words, in Acknowledging Gift, Were Certainly Short and to the Point.

In a certain country town there lived an old Frenchman named Le Blanc. One night some of his friends gave him a surprise party and presented him with a watch chain. That week the local paper printed an account of the affair, saying that in acknowledgment of the gift Mr. Le Blanc responded in "a few well-chosen words."

Curious to know what the old Frenchman said, someone asked the reporter who was present what those "well-chosen words" were.

"Well, I'll tell you," he answered. "When Charlie finished his presentation speech and held out the chain, the old man—who had ben eyeing it greedily all the while—suddenly snatched it from his hand and exclaimed: 'Py chee, dat was a good one!'"—Youth's Companion.

Both Exposed to Danger.

"The man who makes a shell is just as much a hero as the man who fires it."

"I guess that's right. In these days of Zeppelins and aeroplanes, you never know when an aviator is going to drop bombs on an ammunition factory."

Not Too Cheap.

"Talk is cheap," said the man who is always quoting proverbs.

"Oh, sure," said the man who was waiting for an opening to make a touch. "Lend me five dollars so I can call my wife up on the phone. She's in Chicago."

Luck Opposed.

AGAIN TO BE FERTILE LAND

Building of Euphrates Dam Calculated to Restore the Prosperity of Old Mesopotamia.

With the completion of the Hindiyeh barrage, on the River Euphrates, the first step has been taken which will ultimately turn Mesopotamia into the fertile land it was in Biblical times.

For ages the waters of the Tigris and Euphrates have run to waste in the desert, or accumulated in unwholesome marshes, and devastation and the decay of centuries have set their mark upon enormous areas that once blossomed as the rose. In the great Babylonian plain tradition has placed the Garden of Eden, and the still visible ruins of old dams and canals show how important a part was played by irrigation in the economic prosperity of Chaldea and Babylon.

After lying dormant for ages as the result of devastating wars, Tartar inroads and Turkish apathy, fertility is about to be restored to those desolate regions as by the wave of a magician's wand.

The magician is the modern engineer, in the person of Sir William Willcocks, who in 1909 was commissioned by the Turkish government to prepare an irrigation scheme. In its entirety Sir William Willcock's plan entailed an expenditure of $75,000,000, and it is the first portion of the works which were inaugurated.

The Hindiyeh barrage, 47 miles south of Bagdad, has been built just above the town of Hindiyeh and to the east of the present riverbed, and it distributes the waters of the Euphrates through regulators down the old Hillah branch, past Babylon to Hillah. It is 800 feet long and consists of 35 arches fitted with sluice gates 16 feet wide. The arches are supported by piers 19 feet high and four feet thick, with key piers measuring 11 feet. This structure rests upon a foundation of three feet of concrete and six feet of brickwork. Adjoining the barrage is a lock with a 25-foot opening for the use of the river traffic.

Their Conversation.

In the days of Henry Clay a Kentucky farmer sent a servant to Lexington with a note for the president of a certain bank. When the man returned he said to his master:

"I met Marse Henry Clay in the bank and had a conversation with him."

"Indeed! and on what topic did you and Mr. Clay converse?" inquired the master with interest.

The darky removed his hat and made a sweeping bow. . . . "Says Mr. Clay to me." . . . And another very low bow. "And I the same to Mr. Clay."—Everybody's Magazine.

Backache is Discouraging

Nothing is more discouraging than a constant backache. Lame when you awaken, pains pierce you when you bend or lift. It's hard to work or to rest. Backache often indicates bad kidneys. If the urine is disordered, passages too frequent or scanty, there is further proof. Delay is dangerous. Prompt use of Doan's Kidney Pills now may spare you serious trouble later. Doan's is the world's best-recommended kidney remedy.

J. W. Harrison, blacksmith, 208 N. Wallace St., Bozeman, Mont., says: "I suffered terribly from weak kidneys and had a dull, nagging pain in the small of my back. The kidney secretions passed too freely, my head ached and I had spells of numbness. Doan's Kidney Pills helped me as soon as I used them and three boxes completely cured me."

In the Society Islands.

Pigs represent a kind of concrete idea of position among most of the natives of the Society Islands. These animals, in fact, are just as carefully nursed as children. Only male pigs are esteemed, however, and are tied all their lives to a pole under a little roof, while the sows run wild.

"The pigs are carefully fed," writes Doctor Speiser, "but this, their only pleasure, is spoiled by constant and terrific toothache, caused by cruel man, who has a horrible custom of knocking out the upper eyeteeth of the male. The lower teeth, finding nothing to rub against, grow to a surprising size, first upward, then down, until they again reach the jaw, grow on and on, through the cheek, through the jawbone, pushing out a few other teeth on the way. Then they come out of the jaw again and curve a second, sometimes a third, time, if the poor beast lives long enough.

A Benevolent Refusal.

"Senator, I wish you would give me a job as your private secretary."

"Oh, my boy," responded the oily senator, "don't get mixed up with the government service. Nothing to it. Ruins a young man. Besides, I have promised that position to my son."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Keen Disappointment.

"Congressman Blowster says he didn't think much of the San Francisco fair."

"I think I know the reason, why."

"Well?"

"He hoped to launch a presidential boom while out there, but it failed to materialize."

First Trial.

"Did you ever try a fountain pen, judge?" asked the lawyer.

"Yes," replied his honor, "and found it guilty."

It's a good thing our buried hopes don't need tombstones, or the supply of marble would run mighty short.

HOW TO HEAL STUBBORN TORMENTING SKIN DISEASES

A Baltimore doctor suggests this simple, but reliable and inexpensive, home treatment for people suffering with eczema, ringworm, rashes and similar itching, burning skin troubles.

At any reliable druggist's get a jar of resinol ointment and a cake of resinol soap. These will not cost a bit more than seventy-five cents. With the resinol soap and warm water bathe the affected parts thoroughly, until they are free from crusts and the skin is softened. Dry very gently, spread on a thin layer of the resinol ointment, and cover with a light bandage—if necessary to protect the clothing. This should be done twice a day. Usually the distressing itching and burning stop with the first treatment, and the skin soon becomes clear and healthy again.—Adv.

Electric Plant in Arctic Circle.

The "farthest north" electric plant is being constructed at Mount Hope, 100 miles north of the arctic circle. There are 400 persons at this place, and the plant is being built by one of the missions.

The darkness at Mount Hope is intense during the long arctic night, and the electric plant will supply power for both light and heat. Engineers at the University of Pennsylvania will design the equipment.

The electricity will be generated by wind power, as the wind at Mount Hope is steady and seldom falls below 20 miles an hour.

CONVICTS PROFIT BY TWINE SALES

LARGEST STATE-OWNED PLANT IN WORLD LOCATED AT STILLWATER.

STATE CAPITOL HAPPENINGS

Events of General Interest in Minnesota Condensed and Revised for The Greater Convenience of Busy Readers.

St. Paul.—The largest state-owned binding twine and farm machinery plant in the world is at the Stillwater penitentiary, one of the 16 institution charges of the state board of control. It is also the largest state profit sharing institution of its kind.

For the year ending Aug. 1 the two industries at the prison turned out 21,855,415 pounds of binding twine and $474,293.50 worth of farm machinery. The compiling of the figures covering the two industries has just been completed by the board.

For this tremendous output a total of $2,164,744.74 was realized with a net profit to the state of $350,851.30. The twine sales alone were $1,690,451.24.

Prisoners Share Profits.

The prisoners who made the twine and farm machinery output for the year also realized by their sale. From every dollar of gross earnings 75 cents a day for each convict is deducted and the other 25 cents is credited to their account. From the twine plant earnings $25,391.12 was paid direct to the inmates employed and $66,384.75 was credited to support. In the machinery division $26,323.65 was paid to inmates and $59,787.45 to support, or a grand total for both of $177,886.97.

In addition the board of control gave aid to prisoners' families to the amount of $7,895. The showing this year in the matter of earnings is one of the best in the history of the prison.

St. Paul.—A rehearing of the election contest to unseat Judge W. H. Smallwood of the municipal court of Duluth was denied by the state supreme court, which reaffirms its former position that the "second choice" provision in the Duluth charter is unconstitutional.

The court also takes occasion to calm the fears of the petitioners for a rehearing, who represented that chaos financial and political, would prevail in Duluth if the former decision were allowed to stand by holding that the time for further contest arising from the 1913 election has passed, that the acts of the officials elected and that the credit of the city and the legality of its obligations are in no wise affected.

"Contrary to Intent."

"We reached the conclusion," says the court on this point, "that a system of voting, giving the voter the right to vote for the candidate of his first choice, and against the first choice of another voter, and, in addition, by a manipulation of second and additional choice votes, vote for different candidates all against the first choice of such other voter to a number of times limited only by the number of candidates, was contrary to the intent of the constitution; and that it was none the less so because such other voter was permitted to engage in a like manipulation of second and additional choice votes.

"Our further examination confirms us in our view. The decision is sound; and we do right in upholding the right of the citizen to cast a vote for the candidate of his choice unimpaired by second or additional choice votes cast by other voters."

Operation of the county option law bids fair to place the entire support of the Willmar inebriate hospital on the revenue funds of the state. Since the end of 1914 the revenues from the 12 per cent tax on liquor licenses have decreased $10,081 according to figures prepared by J. A. O. Preus, state auditor. As county after county went dry the revenues to be expected from these counties have been obliterated.

To Produce 2,000,000 Tons of Ore.

State iron ore properties are expected to contribute 2,000,000 tons of ore to the world's supply this year. Weekly reports from the Iron Range received by State Auditor Preus indicate that the figure named will be reached. On Aug. 15 last the million ton mark had been reached and heavy shipments have been going forward ever since. While 2,000,000 tons is an increase over last season it does not equal the 1913 figures when a total of 2,875,982 tons of ore from state owned mines was recorded.

HAD TO HAVE MORE ROOM

Wobbly Man Needed Extra Accommodation Before He Could Really Enjoy Seeing Play.

During the run of a play in New York last winter a wobbly person teetered up to the box office one Saturday night when the place was packed and demanded a good seat.

"Nothing left except standing room," said the box-office man. "Sell you standing room for a dollar."

The wavering one produced a dollar and went inside. But so many general admissions were grouped at the rear that over the intervening hedge of heads he caught only vagrant glimpses of what was going on upon the stage.

He foggily considered the situation for a spell. Then he rocked his weaving way back to the box-office window and put a second dollar on the shelf.

"Gimme nozzir one of them standin' rooms," he ordered; "can't see the show at all if you only got one."—Saturday Evening Post.

GENERAL LOVE OF PRAISE

Common to All Mortals, and in Its Proper Form Is Not an Instinct of Evil.

Love of praise is one of the weaknesses of mortals. Some there be, who if not praised by others, don't hesitate to praise themselves. If praised by others, they parade, with no thought of the "delicacy of praise," what others say of them. Such deem it legitimate to solicit the praise for which they lust, knowing that there are men in the world who are as careless in attesting and magnifying the assumed virtues of others as many are in signing petitions, of the substance of which they take no thought.

This love of praise is confined to no class of men. It is an incentive to the poor man who works faithfully for his daily bread; the average man of wealth is not deaf to praise, even though it may come from one of his menials. This love of praise is not an instinct of evil, it may be just the opposite if it is born of a desire to be thought well of by one's fellowmen, or of a purpose to make oneself worthy of the confidence and esteem of others, by treating others as one would have them treat him.

Curious Gaelic Alphabet.

A very curious and distinguishing characteristic of the Gaelic alphabet is that nearly every letter thereof is represented by a tree. While the alphabet of ancient Gaelic comprised but 17 letters, that of modern Gaelic has 18. But with the new, as with the old, forms the letter is represented by a tree. The exceptions are "g," "t" and "u," which stand for "ivy," "furze" and "heather."

The alphabet now stands: Ailm, beite, coll, dur, eagh, fearn, gath, huath, iogh, luis, muin, oiv, peith, ruis, suil, teine, ur, all of which is equal to saying: Elm, birch, hazel, oak, aspen, alder, ivy, whitehorn, yew, rowan, or quicken, vine, ash, spindle tree, pine, elder, willow, furze, heath. In the old Gaelic alphabet the letter "h" (the huath or whitehorn) does not exist. The alphabet is called the beth-luis-nuin, because "b," "l," "n" and not "a," "b," "c" are the first three letters.

Making It Personal.

It is sad to see family relics sold at auction, but the most painful thing under the hammer is generally your thumbnail.

Slavery Originated in the East.

Absolute slavery seems to have appeared in the eastern colonies somewhat earlier than in the southern, for slavery existed in New York in 1626, in New Jersey in 1628, in Massachusetts in 1630, in Connecticut in 1631 and in Delaware in 1636. There was a statutory recognition of slavery in Massachusetts in 1641, which was considerably ahead of such recognition of slavery in Virginia of Maryland.

Nature Supreme.

Not all the product of artificial greeneries are so lovely as that of the fields, the country garden, the fence rows, the first roses, the daffodils, the arbutus—which hides under the [illegible] leaves, the first buds of the rhododendrons and the other forms [illegible] of the life blood drawn direct from the earth, while poor mankind has to take all second hand.

The Middle Pioneer has recently purchased a new dress for the paper. Congratulations to Bro. Carr.

A livery barn, garage, hall and a real estate building were burned in Red Lake Falls last week Wednesday night.

Davidson Bros. finished drilling Elef Sorter's well, Saturday, which is only 75 foot deep and has plenty of good water.

Emil Ostlund brot in his seperator Monday evening and left Tuesday evening with the complete rig ready for threshing.

Now is the time to buy land while it is cheap. Improved farms will increase fifty per cent in price within the next five years.

Hunters were more plentiful Tuesbay than were the chickens as the early rains and cold seems to have interfered with the hatching of the birds.

C. W. Latta has on exhibition in his office, several corn stocks that measure eleven feet high. This corn was raised in East Valley township by Andrew Engstrom.

The Karlstad Advocate tells of a farmer near there that threshed some wheat that yielded 43 bushels to the acre and oats that went 56 bushels to the acre and both on old fields.

Unsafe chimneys were the cause of about $160000.00 in fire losses last year in this state alone. See that your chimneys are in good condition before the weather becomes cold.

Emil Johnson had a small field of oats threshed last week and the machine measured 86 bushels to the acre, but on being weighed, the tract averaged 102 bushels, allowing 38 pounds to the bushel.—Strandquist Tribune.

IV.—F. A. Vanderlip

On The Business of Banking

The farmers of this nation to come into their own must study business. We must, as a class, understand the fundamental principles that underlie every industry, its functions to society and its relation to agriculture, for there can be no intelligent co-operation without understanding. Mr. F. A. Vanderlip, president of the National City Bank of New York, when asked, "What is a bank?" said in part:

"The first and most familiar function of a bank is that of gathering up the idle money of a community, small sums and large, and thus forming a pool or reservoir upon which responsible persons may draw as they have temporary use for money. It is evident that this makes large sums in the aggregate available for the employment of labor and the development of the community. But much more is accomplished than the use of the money actually deposited in the banks, for by the use of drafts, checks and bank notes the efficiency of money is multiplied several times over. A very large business, for example one of the great beef packers, may use very little actual money; on one side of its bank account will be entered the checks and drafts it is daily receiving from everywhere in payment for meats, while on the other side will be entered the checks it draws in payment for cattle, etc., its only use of money being for small payments, to labor and otherwise.

If there were but one bank in a community and everybody paid all bills by drawing checks on that bank, and everyone receiving a check immediately deposited it in the bank, the amount of money in the bank evidently would not change at all and the entire business of the community would be settled on the books of the bank. And the situation is but slightly changed when there are several banks, for they daily exchange among themselves all the checks they receive on each other, which practically offset themselves, although the small balances are paid in cash. This is called 'clearing' and in every large city there is a 'Clearing House' where representatives of the banks meet daily to settle their accounts with each other.

A bank is constantly receiving from its customers, particularly those that are shipping products to other localities, drafts and checks drawn on banks in other cities, which it usually sends for deposit to a few correspondent banks in the central cities with which it maintains permanent accounts. In this way these scattered credits are consolidated and the bank draws upon these accounts in supplying customers with the means of making payments away from home. As each local community sells and buys about the same amount abroad in the course of a year, these payments largely offset each other. It is evident that the banks are very intimately related to the trade and industry of a country. The banker is a dealer in credit much more than a dealer in money, and of course his own credit must be above question. He exchanges his credit for the credits acquired by the customers, and lends credit for their accommodation, but he must conduct the business with such judgment that he can always meet his own obligations with cash on demand. This is the essential thing about bank credit, that it shall always be the same as cash."

On Relations of Railroads and People

The industrial leaders of this nation are talking to the public face to face through the columns of this paper. The time was when if a corporation had anything to say to the people they sent a hired hand, whispered it through a lawyer or employed a lobbyist to explain it to the legislature, but the men who know and the men who do are now talking over the fence to the man who plows.

When the leading business men of this nation get "back to the soil" with their problems, strife and dissension will disappear, for when men look into each other's faces and smile there is a better day coming.

Mr. E. P. Ripley, president of the Santa Fe Railroad, when asked to give his views in reference to relations existing between the railroad and the public said in part:

"Frequently we hear statements to the effect that these relations are improving, that the era of railroad baiting has passed and that public sentiment now favors treating the railroads fairly. As yet this change in public sentiment, if any such there be, is not effective in results.

It is true that in the legislatures of the southwestern states during the past winter there were fewer unreasonable and unreasoning laws passed than usual, but a consideration of the hostile bills introduced shows that there is still reason for much disquiet even though they were defeated by more or less of a majority.

Moreover, the idea that the railroads have been harshly treated does not seem to prevail in the offices of the State Railroad Commissions which seem to cherish a notion that their business is not to act as an arbitrator between the railroads and the people, but which proceed on the theory that the railroads are able to take care of themselves and that their duty is to act as attorney for the people even though in so doing they deny justice to the railroads. It requires no argument to demonstrate that the railroads are entitled to justice equally with other citizens and taxpayers. That they have not received it and are not receiving it is perfectly susceptible of proof. That they have practically no recourse in the courts has also been determined.

The situation therefore is that the people, through their representatives, must elect whether the services of the railroads shall be adequately compensated or not; and it requires no fortune teller or soothsayer to predict that in the long run the service will take the class that is paid for and no better.

The natural competition between the railroads and the natural desire to perform first-class service has heretofore resulted in giving the public much more than it was willing to pay for. Continuation of this will be impossible and no laws, however drastic, can long accomplish the impossible."

On The Advantages of Free Ports

Mr. F. C. Howe, Federal Commissioner of Immigration, who is one of the best American authorities on marine commerce, in discussing the relation of free ports to the development of sea trade said in part:

"Ships will go hundreds of miles out of their way to avoid ports surrounded by a tariff wall. The only way, therefore, for a country with a tariff to compete in the shipping world with a free trade country is to establish free ports at strategical points along its coast line. Germany has done so, and in a comparatively short period has built up a carrying trade which before the war was seriously threatening England's supremacy. Hamburg, one of the three German free ports, now ranks as the second greatest seaport in the world, its total foreign commerce in 1913 being only $6,000,000 under that of New York.

The free port would offer great opportunity for financial operations, now made possible by the recent currency act. It would stimulate international banking, and would tend to shift the financial center of the world to this country. And America, by the logic of events, has become the natural center for the world's financing, just as London became that center several centuries ago, when it shifted from the cities of the Netherlands. But the financial center will only move to this country when it becomes a clearing house of goods as well as of money. For credit the world over is created by currently created wealth in transit or change so that even our financial expansion is dependent upon the opening up of American ports to the clearance of the wealth of the world. A port should not operate to yield a return on the investment, but to develop the prosperity of the country." In recapitulating the advantages, Mr. Howe brings out the importance of the free port in [illegible] our shipping, and linking us with South America, Asia and Africa, and [illegible] concludes:

"[illegible] most important gain is the direct gain to America. It will cheapen [illegible] by bringing great quantities of goods to our doors for importation [illegible] trade demand. It will stimulate the growth of exporting [illegible] for an indefinite period without the payment of [illegible] for disposal to meet [illegible] upbuild international credit, [illegible] and ultimately a predominant share in [illegible]

[illegible] natural country to be the counter of the world. [illegible] it is the greatest of all reservoirs [illegible] steel and standardized produc[illegible] with the world. Come! Come! Come!

A Lunch and Entertainment will be given at the home of Mr. & Mrs. Alfred Anderson, Sunday afternoon Oct. 3rd, 1915, for the purpose of raising a fund for China Mission. Mesdames Mickelson, Nohre, Anderson and Docken will be the hostesses. A cordial invitation is extended to one and all to attend. Come and help a good cause.

New Settler Arrives.

Mr. J. M. Swan, of near Willmar, has purchased the John Stensrud farm 1 mile east of town and will move on there in a few days. Mr. Swan arrived here on last Wednesday to do some repairing on the buildings and otherwise get things in shape for the winter. As soon as possible he will bring his family household goods and stock.

We are pleased to see new people coming in, as the farm homes could easily be doubled and yet there would be room for more. This section is admirably adapted to diversified farming and dairying and there is no portion of Northern Minnesota better drained, more fertile or capable of higher development than the country surrounding Holt.

The farmers are the busy people these days.

The Marshall Co. fair will be held the first three days of next week.

Jno. Johnson and Art Brotten went to Mud Lake Wednesday to build a granary for Axell Nelson.

Ernest Hollis, of Monica, Ill. who bought the Fred Johnson place last year, came here last Saturday to look after his farming interests.

Davidson Bros. have recently completed a 126 foot well on the H. B. Young farm, north of town. The boys struck a good vein and got a raise of about 100 feet.

Peter Haglund, north of Roseau got an average of 45 bushels of wheat from seven acres and his neighbor Peter Nystrom threshed 44 bushels to the acre.—Roseau County Times.

Mr. and Mrs. Sanberg of Thief River Falls were here Saturday looking for a house to rent. Mr. Sanberg has entered the employment of the Winton-Nichols Lumber Co., as their agent here.

Olaus Rodahl and Jno. Hagbeag put a cement floor in the basement of the school house in Dist. No. 61 last week and expect to commence building the bridge across Thief River in East Valley township, some day this week.

D. Payne has recently sold Chas. Schwartz a carload of lumber for a barn which the latter will build this fall. The barn will be 34 x 60 with 12 foot posts on a seven foot solid stone wall three foot thick. Mr. Schwartz is a No. 1, farmer and we are glad to note this evidence of prosperity on his part.

Arvid Carlson has moved his household goods to Newfolden this week and will soon be settled in their new home. Mr. Carlson has been in business in Holt for the past five years and have proven to be a hustler. His courteous and obliging ways have helped to win the large patronage the firm has enjoyed. Holt regrets loosing this esteemable family, but Holt's loss will be Newfolding's gain.

A. L. Carlson, who is [illegible] liked, will still run the store here in Holt. A. L. is a successful merchant and every customer will receive the same courteous and Square Deal they have heretofore enjoyed.

Thief River Falls Auto Tour.

The Thief River Falls Commercial Club arrived in our little burg on schedule time Tuesday morning.

There were 21 auto loads and as they swung around forming a line three abreast, it was indeed a pretty sight. Their band gave a fine selection and after handshaking and with a good feeling toward all, the Commercial Boosters, as each auto's number was called, started forward to meet the citizens of Middle River, Strathcona, Greenbush, Badger, Fox, Roseau, Karlstad and Newfolden.

Well may Thief River Falls be proud of their Club which solicits the co-oporation of each town in the work of developing and furthering the best interest of each locality.

Holt extends a willing hand to cooporate with the club to work for the common weal, and there will always be a standing invitation for the club to visit our progressive town again sometime in the future.

Kasota, Minn. — "I am glad to say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done more for me than anything else, and I had the best physician here. KNIFE IS THE BEST WEAPON

Training of Infantry on the Continent Hereafter Will Include Hand-to-Hand Fighting.

Today the defense stands pat on earthworks, wire and machine guns. The attack has tried gas, petrol, bayonets, siege artillery, field artillery, grenades and mines, and has come out, generally speaking, second best. Trench mortars have not developed the requisite accuracy nor the requisite destructive power. High-explosive shells in sufficient quantities have accomplished the best offensive work, and the infantry is depending more and more on a short, heavy knife, which is the best for work underground or in the dark. To sum up: killing the defenders of a position is accomplished by shells fired at least two miles away on the average; and, secondly, by what the French call body-to-body fighting, for which a knife is the best weapon. The training of infantry on the continent will, in the future, undoubtedly include the technique of hand-to-hand struggles—for which physical agility and strength must be developed.—New Republic.

Potash, sodium, lime and iron are some of the vital mineral salts necessary to proper nourishment of muscle, brain and nerves, but are not found in proper abundance in white bread and many other foods.

Grape-Nuts

—made from whole wheat and malted barley—richly supplies these needed mineral elements and is a delicious dish served with cream or rich milk.

Grape-Nuts food is splendid for brain workers, and ideal for school children. Being partially pre-digested, it is quickly absorbed by the system—going directly to the up-building of sinew, brain and nerves without overloading the stomach.

GREEK STEAMER IS DESTROYED AT SEA

ATHINIA, WHICH SAILED FROM NEW YORK, BURNED—ORIGIN OF FIRE UNKNOWN.

ONLY ONE PASSENGER LOST

Wireless Report Says 408 Rescued by Steamer Tuscania and 61 Others by Roumanian Prince—Vessel Owned by Company in Greece.

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 21.—The Greek steamer Athinai was destroyed by fire at sea with the loss of one life, according to a message received by the marine department. The steamer Tuscania rescued 408 passengers and members of the crew and the steamer Roumania Prince 61 others.

The message from the Tuscania was dated at 7 a. m. and was the first official word received from the liner since the wireless report that the Athinai was afire and the Tuscania had rescued the passengers. The origin of the fire was not stated in the message which read:

"Heard distress call at 8:30 a. m. Arrived on spot at noon and sent line across to help them. Transferred passengers about 4 p. m. Athinai was abandoned about 8:30 p. m. We rescued 408 passengers and crew and the Roumanian Prince rescued 61. There was only one life lost, that of a man who jumped overboard. We left the wreck burning fiercely in Nos. 1 and 2 holes at 10:30 p. m. Position, latitude 40.54 north, longitude 57.47 west."

The Athinai sailed from New York last Thursday. She carried 61 first, 47 second cabin and 213 steerage passengers. The others on board were members of the crew. The cargo consisted of considerable quantities of flour, coffee, cotton, rice and lubricating oil.

The Athinai was 6,742 tons gross and had an average speed of 16 knots. She was 430 feet long and 52 feet beam. The vessel was built in England in 1908 and was owned by the National Steam Navigation company of Greece.

Americans Arriving from London Tell of Air Raid by Giant Zeppelins—Place Dead at 38 to 50.

New York, Sept. 21.—Londoners sang "Tipperary" as they poured out of the theaters on the night of Sept. 8 to watch a giant Zeppelin, picked out against the sky by long white shafts from the searchlights, drop bombs on the heart of the metropolis of the world. Anger, not fear, was the dominating note in London that night.

This was the story brought here by Americans on three liners, the first ships to arrive since the German raiders bombarded the city.

The estimates of the passengers placed the dead at from 38 to 50, with damage of more than $10,000,000. The Zeppelins, they said, flew from 8,000 to 10,000 feet high above the very heart of the city.

The returning Americans brought with them one of the most graphic stories of the war.

An incendiary bomb destroyed by fire an entire block of warehouses within five minutes' walk of St. Paul's church, arrivals on the steamship Orduna said.

SLEEPER DERAILED; 5 HURT

Accident to Illinois Traction System Train Is Caused by Dropping of Break Beam.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 21.—Five persons were injured, one of them seriously, when the Peoria sleeper on an Illinois traction system train from St. Louis to Peoria turned over at Woodside, five miles south of this city. The injured are:

Benjamin F. Goldstein, Peoria, abrasion side of heads; W. K. Young, St. Louis, right ankle injured; G. M. Mueller, St. Louis, abrasion on left knee; C. D. Robinson, bruised; Carl Parkes, St. Louis, three ribs broken and internal injuries.

The accident was caused by the dropping of a break beam which threw the car over on its side. The sleeper was the last car on the train. The first two cars remained on the track.

Big Italian Volcanoes Active.

Paris, Sept. 21.—Multiple eruptions of the Italian volcanoes are now occurring, says a dispatch from Rome. Vesuvius, Etna and Stromboli are all active, a singular phenomena never before recorded. None of the eruptions, however, is of a character to cause alarm.

Ireland May Be Cardinal.

Rome, Sept. 20.—Because of the difficulties that foreign cardinals would encounter in coming to Rome, the pope has intended not to hold another consistory until the war is over, but owing to vacancies in the Sacred college, the idea of a consistory is again rumored in Vatican circles. It is being suggested the pope will not create cardinals belonging to the belligerent countries, but appoint only those living in Rome or neutral countries. In this case, it said Archbishop Ireland of America may be included.

RUSSIANS SINK TURK FLEET

DESTROY VESSELS LADEN WITH MUNITIONS OF WAR.

Dvinsk and Vilna Are Threatened by German Armies, According to Petrograd Dispatch.

Seabastopol, Russia, Sept. 20.—(via London.)—Official announcement was made here that Russian torpedo boats had sunk an entire fleet of sailing vessels laden with munitions of war near Sinope, a seaport of Asia Minor on the Black sea. The crews of the vessels were taken prisoners.

London, Sept. 18.—A Reuter dispatch from Petrograd says:

"The fate of Vilna hangs in the balance. The latest letters received from there state that cannonading is heard without interruption day and night. Bomb dropping aeroplanes are constant visitors. Three of them have been brought down recently.

"The evacuation of government institutions has been completed and factories are being removed. Thousands of workmen already have left. The supply of sugar has been exhausted and the price of various commodities has doubled. Newspapers have suspended publication."

Field Marshal von Hindenburg's army now is well astride the Dvinsk-Vilna railway, his advance guards having reached and occupied the town of Vidzy, which is a good 20 miles east of the line. This wedge, which the German commander has driven into Russia's defense, seriously endangers both Dvinsk and Vilna.

DENIES BLAME FOR FIGHT

Carranza Consul Disclaims Responsibility for Two Battles With United States Soldiers in Brownsville.

Brownsville, Texas, Sept. 20.—Carranza officials have disclaimed all responsibility for the two battles near here between Mexicans and American soldiers.

The first fight, which occurred a short distance from Brownsville, resulted in the wounding of one Mexican. During its progress a crowd of Mexicans appeared at General Nafarrete's headquarters in Matamoros and asked for guns with which to fight the Americans. They were refused.

The scene of the second fight was the Donna pumping plant. It was in the late afternoon and continued for several minutes. Two Carranzista officers finally appeared on the opposite bank of the river and ordered the Mexicans to cease firing. It is reported that 17 Mexicans were slightly wounded in this engagement, although this had not been confirmed.

Both American and Carranzista consuls have entered protests of the action of the others' countrymen.

Seeks "Sentiment to Aid U. S."

Washington, Sept. 20.—W. J. Bryan has announced that he has taken under advisement a suggestion from editors of foreign language newspapers published in America that he make a trip to Europe as a private peace envoy to the warring powers. In a statement to a committee of the editors, who had urged him to undertake the task, Mr. Bryan indicated that he might visit neutral European countries in the hope of finding there sentiment to aid America in "the maintaining of neutrality and the prevention of preparedness.

Expect Light Hemlock Cut.

Milwaukee, Sept. 20.—The hemlock lumber cut in the northern woods of Wisconsin and Michigan the coming winter will be the lightest in many years, according to an announcement made at a meeting of the Hemlock Lumber Manufacturers' association. Hemlock lumber men are over-supplied, it was said. The increasing inroads of Canadian yellow pine and fir pine were blamed for the condition. Free admission of Canadian lumber to the United States makes the reduction in the cut necessary.

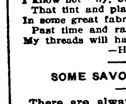
SOME SAVORY TOASTS.



There are always pieces of bread that may be utilized as toast, making appetizing dishes. A most tasty sandwich for supper is this—cut bread in thin slices, spread with butter and on a thin slice of cheese, cover with another slice of bread and fry in a little hot butter until the bread is brown.

Cheese Toast.—This is another way of serving toast with cheese. Mix a cupful of grated cheese, with a dash of mustard, a half teaspoonful of salt, a tablespoonful of butter and a pinch of cayenne. Heat carefully to a smooth paste and spread on toast. Place the toast in the oven to get thoroughly hot. Serve hot.

Cinnamon toast is liked by the children. Toast bread, butter it, and sprinkle with a mixture of sugar and cinnamon.

Cream Toast.—This old fashioned dish is so well known that it hardly needs mention. Melt in a double boiler two tablespoonfuls of butter, add the same amount of flour, and when bubbling hot stir in slowly a cupful of milk. Season with salt and stir until well cooked. Thin cream will make a more delicious sauce. Toast the bread, dip the edges in hot water to soften, spread with butter and pour over the white sauce. Serve in a deep dish and have the sauce well cover the heaped up toast.

Salmon Toast.—Cut some smoked salmon or halibut or any rich smoked fish in thin slices, arrange on squares of toast and sprinkle with pepper. Put into the oven to get hot, cover with greased paper to keep from burning. Serve very hot.

Buttered bread toasted in the oven and cut in small squares is a good accompaniment to soup or cut in points and used as a garnish for many dishes. It adds to the appearance of the dish. Narrow strips of toast an inch wide and three inches long served with the salad course, is another way of serving it.

For breakfast there is nothing more appetizing than a crisp well buttered piece of toast which may be served with a poached egg on top or simply buttered.

If we never saw the contrast that there is 'tween sun and rain;
If we never knew the difference that there is 'tween joy and pain;
How could we prize the beauty of a
  sunlit summer day,
Or know half the glowing pleasure of an hour that's free and gay?

A COLLECTION OF MUFFINS.

Delicious hot cakes are universally liked. The following are a few that one will enjoy trying.

Prune Muffins.—Cream a half cupful of butter with a fourth of a cupful of sugar; add a beaten egg. Sift together two cupfuls of flour, three teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one-half teaspoonful of salt, and add to the first mixture alternately with three-fourths of a cupful of milk. Stir in a cupful of stewed, stoned prunes which have been cut in pieces. Bake in warm, buttered muffin pans.

Virginia Muffins.—Sift two cupfuls of flour with two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one teaspoonful of salt and a fourth of a cupful of sugar. Add a fourth of a cupful of melted butter, one egg, well beaten and a cupful of seeded raisins. Stir to a smooth batter with a cupful of milk and bake in hot muffin pans, well buttered.

Rice Muffins.—Sift three cupfuls of flour with four teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one teaspoonful of salt, and two-thirds of a cupful of sugar. Add two eggs well beaten, two-thirds of a cupful of cooked rice, one-half a cupful of melted shortening, three-fourths of a cupful of currants, and one and a third cupfuls of water. Mix well and bake in hot, buttered muffin pans.

Cheese Muffins.—These are good to serve with a salad. Sift two cupfuls of flour with two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one teaspoonful of salt, and a fourth of a cupful of sugar. Add one-fourth of a cupful of melted butter, one beaten egg, one-fourth of a cupful of grated cheese, and a cupful of milk. Stir and bake in well-buttered pans.

Bacon cooked and broken in bits may be added to the above recipe, (using less shortening) in the place of the cheese.

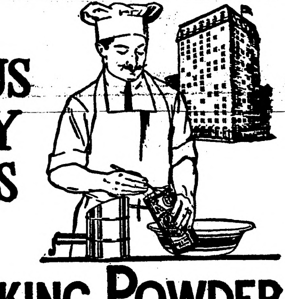
WHY FAMOUS PASTRY COOKS USE KC BAKING POWDER



The patrons of our first class hotels and restaurants are exacting—they demand the best. Women go where the pastry and cakes are noted for their excellence. Men are attracted by hot bread and biscuits—when fresh and moist and light.

The pastry cook with a reputation uses K C Baking Powder because he knows that results are certain; every time everything is as good as his best.

Then, too, with K C Baking Powder he can mix the various kinds of batter before the rush of the meal begins and bake as needed so that every order goes to the table fresh and hot, yet the last he bakes are just as good as the first.

K C
25 OUNCES FOR 25¢
BAKING POWDER

The reasons behind these reasons is that K C is really a blend of two baking powders. One commences to give off leavening gas as soon as moistened. The other requires both moisture and heat to make it active. Dough or batter will remain in a partially leavened condition for hours, and when put in the oven, will come up as light as if mixed a moment before.

For cookies, pancakes, doughnuts and the like, which cannot all be baked at once, K C is indispensable. For all baking the double raise makes doubly certain.

Follow the example of the professional cook and your baking will be equal to his.

Kidney disease often advances so rapidly that many a person is firmly in its grasp before aware of its progress. Prompt attention should be given the slightest symptom of kidney disorder. Brainerd.—At the Mission Lake Farmers' club harvest home picnic C. E. Brown, of Elk River, spoke on "The Needs of a Potato Market."

Swanville.—The Morrison county Sunday school convention was held here. State Secretary Locker and department officers were present.

Rush City.—The 44th annual Chisago county fair was held in Rush City. Aeroplane flights and a racing program were presented. Special trains were run from all nearby towns each day.

Bemidji.—Nymore, a suburb of this city, may be annexed to Bemidji. Business men of both places favor the proposition and at a meeting of the city council of Bemidji, a committee was appointed to take the matter up with the village officials of Nymore.

St. Paul.—While the harvest of corn in Minnesota this year will yield not more than half of a normal crop, that which will be gathered will net the farmers a fortune in good sound seed, according to Albert F. Woods, director of the department of agriculture, University of Minnesota.

Duluth.—Fred E. Ganzaw, 57 years old, assistant chief of the Duluth fire department, was killed when a motor truck on which he was riding collided with a touring car while making a rapid run to a small fire in West Duluth. The touring car belongs to R. F. Cochran of Cloquet.

Faribault.—The vestry of the Cathedral of Our Merciful Saviour has arranged for the celebration of the 50th anniversary of the coming of Major William Milligan to Faribault. In all the years since, Milligan has been connected with the cathedral or St. Mary's hall, both of which he helped to build.

Madelia.—Edna Hall, 9-year-old daughter of A. M. Hall, was burned fatally by the flames from a gasoline lamp. She attempted to turn down the wick, but turned it up instead. Frightened, she picked up the lamp and started for the doorway to throw it outside. Her face, hands and neck were burned.

Duluth.—Suspicion that the steamer Onoko was destroyed by agents of the German-Austrian alliance, because the wheat was for export to England, is discredited here. Captain John Monaghan, government inspector of hulls here, declares that in his opinion the sinking was due to the breaking of a plate under the floor of the engine. The plate, he says was eaten away by rust.

Mankato.—Lack of confidence in banks has cost August Weigelt $700. He became suspicious about 10 days ago and drew out his money. When he went to the cellar one day after an absence in town and looked for the pail in which he had placed the money, it was gone. The officials do not know whom to suspect, unless it is some person who induced him to withdraw his money from the bank.

Osseo.—Directors of the State bank want $900 for the automobile belonging to the bank, which was wrecked and burned while driven by S. F. Nelson of Minneapolis, assistant bank examiner. They have served notice on A. H. Turrittin, state superintendent of banks, that they consider the car worth $900 and want that sum paid into the bank's cash drawer.

Minneapolis, Minn.—With prompt acceptance of Mayor Nye's challenge to produce facts to support his assertions concerning "blind pigs" in Minneapolis the Rev. J. M. Cleary, rector of the Church of the Incarnation, gave out a statement in which he offered to give names and addresses of 265 places in Minneapolis which could not be accounted for on a legal basis.

Duluth, Minn.—Two judges, both claiming to be the duly authorized instrument of the law, kept the municipal courtroom in an uproar while jurors and lawyers looked on perplexed, and a crowd of curious spectators enjoyed the spectacle. Judge Windom, who claims to be the "holdover" judge, rapped with his gavel for order. Judge Smallwood appointed to fill the "vacancy" by Governor Hammond, not to be outdone, used his crutch for the same purpose.

Duluth, Minn.—The steamer Onoko, belonging to the Steinbrenner interests in Cleveland, O., loaded with 111,000 bushels of wheat, consigned to Buffalo, by the Capitol Elevator company, sank while off Knife Island, about 14 miles out of Duluth, almost without a moment's warning. None of the crew was lost. Captain Dunn reported to G. A. Tomlinson, agent of the Onoko at this point, that he did not know the cause of the vessel's sinking.

St. Paul.—George H. Hazzard, as secretary of the Minnesota Pioneers' association, now believes that all differences of opinion between his association and the State Fair association will be adjusted, and that the Log Cabin at the State Fair will be open next year as usual. The opinion is based upon a recent conference Mr. Hazzard had with C. P. Craig of the State Fair association, and upon a letter received from E. W. Murphy of the board of managers of the fair.

Buffalo, Minn.—His skull crushed, and his feet and hands securely tied with telephone wire, the body of C. E. Vern Bergman, former Minneapolis jitney bus driver, was found half covered with leaves and brush in a lonely wood six miles northeast of Buffalo. The body, which evidently had been there for about two weeks, was found by a boy. Mystery surrounds the crime, and no motive is known. The man's money and valuables were intact, and so far as known, he had no enemies. Theft of his Ford car, which is missing, is the only motive suggested by the known circumstances.

FOR RURAL SCHOOL WEEK IN OCTOBER

STATE SUPERINTENDENT INVITES SUGGESTIONS FROM COUNTY EDUCATORS.

STATE CAPITOL HAPPENINGS

Events of General Interest in Minnesota Condensed and Revised for The Greater Convenience of Busy Readers.

St. Paul.—

To bring the rural schools in closer touch with the remainder of the state's educational system, C. G. Schulz, state superintendent of education, is arranging for a "rural school week," October 11 to 16.

He has addressed notices to the county superintendents inviting their assistance and suggestions.

"The five normal schools, the University of Minnesota, the college of education, the school of agriculture and the inspectors and assistants in this department," said Mr. Schulz, "have arranged to give their services to visiting rural schools under direction of the county superintendents."

The objects of this suggested cooperative visiting are to offer support of the educational institutions and state department to the rural schools to establish a closer relationship and to observe conditions in the rural schools with a view of such changes and betterment as a study of this kind may suggest.

To Organize Boosters.

Governor Hammond has a plan to cement into one organization the various booster elements of Minnesota.

He said he expects to call his proposed development meeting in St. Paul as soon as possible after the county fairs have closed, probably in October or November.

"At present there are booster organizations in all sections of the state," he said. "There should be some way in which they could work together. My idea is to have the organizations send representatives here.

"Each man will know definitely what his particular section of the state needs. Then when they are assembled let suggestions be made. When these are all received let the conferees get together and concentrate their efforts on those things which will aid in the development of the state as a whole.

"As a result the attention of the 1917 Legislature should be called to what is needed most over the whole state in the way of development."

To Discuss Health Needs.

"The Newer Public Health and Minnesota Health Needs" will be discussed by Governor Hammond and President Vincent of the university at the state sanitary conference and public health convention at Rochester, September 29. A call announcing the importance of the sanitary conference, issued by Governor Hammond, points to the death of 1,830 people in Minnesota during the past year from preventable diseases.

"Clean Milk," as a means of preventing the spread of disease, will be one of the leading topics of the convention. Dr. R. W. Archibald of Winona will tell how his city solved the problem of obtaining clean milk.

Dr. A. T. Laird, superintendent of the Nopeming sanitarium, will talk on "Community Control of Tuberculosis;" Miss Alma Wrestling, school nurse at Albert Lea, will discuss school and municipal health nursing.

State May Enter Fight.

The state's legal department may take a hand in the fight over the municipal judgeship in Duluth to settle whether Judge W. L. Windom or Judge W. H. Smallwood is the legal incumbent.

Attorney General Lyndon A. Smith said he is studying the statutes to see if he cannot bring quo warranto proceedings in the supreme court to summon both judges there and have them show by what warrant they expect to hold the municipal judgeship.

Judge Windom clings to the bench with the argument that he is judge until his successor has been elected and qualified.

Judge Smallwood argues that he is the judge because the Governor appointed him to the office.

Would Abolish Boards.

Abolition of the state Drainage Commission, the state Board of Immigration, the Board of Audit and the position of clerk of government surveys was recommended by Julius A. Schmahl, secretary of state, to the Efficiency and Economy Commission which has sent letters to the heads of all departments asking suggestions. Mr. Schmahl recommends that the licensing of chauffeurs be separated from his department, and that the issuances of such licenses be made by a state civil service commission.

What to Do for Itching Skins

Eczema, ringworm and other itching, burning skin eruptions are so easily made worse by improper treatment, that one has to be very careful. There is one method, however, that you need not hesitate to use, even on a baby's tender skin—that is, the resinol treatment. Resinol is the prescription of a Baltimore doctor, put up in the form of resinol ointment and resinol soap. This proved so remarkably successful, that thousands of other physicians have prescribed it constantly for 20 years.

Resinol stops itching instantly, and almost always heals the eruption quickly and at little cost. Resinol ointment and resinol soap can be bought at any druggist's, and are not at all expensive.

VIOLINS IN BANK VAULTS

Maker Says 20 Instruments Will Be Worth $5,000 Each in Future.

In the vaults of the Mercantile Trust and Deposit company, where thousands of dollars' worth of securities and other valuables have been placed for safe keeping, twenty or more violins of all descriptions have been packed carefully away by their owner in the hope that some day they will make him independently rich, a Baltimore dispatch to the Philadelphia Record states.

The owner is Frank Della Torre of 1629 North Calvert street, prominent in society. The instruments do not represent much value now, but 20 years hence, the owner says, there isn't an instrument among them that will bring less than $4,000 or $5,000.

Della Torre now is in England. About eight months ago he was called to Europe on business, and has been there ever since. But for months before he sailed he occupied his time in collecting all kinds of violins and remaking them. In this sort of work he is remarkably skillful. But it is the old violin that produces the tone which appeals to the trained ear of the musician and commands high prices. Twenty years hence, it is believed, violins of Della Torre will be classed with the best instruments to be found in America.

Libel on the Bagpipe.

All English battalions were recently warned to keep a careful watch for any contrivances which the Germans might use with the object of producing poisonous gases. Shortly afterward a certain regiment on taking over some trenches found an old bagpipe left in the lines. At once the colonel, who possessed a rare sense of humor, sent the following message to brigade headquarters: "A weird instrument has just been discovered in my trenches; it is believed to be used for producing asphyxiating noises."

When a girl goes around boasting of the number of men who have made love to her it's a sign they didn't ask her to marry.

This Gem of Irish Wit.

Lieut. "Andy" Rohan, who was at his best when, on a dull and quiet evening in the headquarters at the old city hall, he gathered about him the night police reporters and told them stories of his youth and Ireland, told this one to his friend, "Matty" White:

"When I left Ireland, this manny a year ago, a lad in brogans and top hat, my mither came to the dock and she wept and wept at my going away. 'Never mind, mither mine,' says I. 'Amerikky is a land o' gold and opportunities. In a year I'll come back to ye—I h.' But I didn't. I didn't have annybody to go back to. My mither was here keepin' house for us seven lads, and every one of us was travelin' out o' the same station."—Chicago Herald.

FASHION FIXES THE PRICE

Ignorance of Real Value of Fabric Plays Buyer Into Hand of Merchant.

That fashion and not intrinsic value skyrockets the price of fancy weaves was recently acknowledged by a cotton manufacturer, Beatrice Denison writes in Good Housekeeping. He was speaking of "gaberdine," the season's favorite.

"Why, do you know," he said, "it's the same old imitation cotton serge that we've been making and selling to retailers in small towns in the South and West for years? It never would 'go' in the large cities, but now that it's been given this new French name of the woolen goods so popular this spring, we can't make enough of it. Naturally, when the supply gets short, the price goes up. It's our chance—and the retailer's—and we both take it." This is an excellent illustration of the way in which ignorance of the real value of a fabric plays the buyer into the hand of the merchant.

Art, as construed by the magazines, appears to be a picture of a woman wearing only one or two articles of clothing.

The Alternative.

"Please may I keep my book till Monday?" asked the small voice of a small boy the other day over the tall counter of a London public library.

"Why do you want to keep it?" said the librarian.

"Because I ain't finished it," said the little fellow.

"How long will it take you to finish it?" quoth the librarian.

"An hour," said the boy.

"Well," said the librarian, "it is Saturday night, but we do not close for two hours. Go home and finish the book and bring it back."

The boy thought hard, and the librarian said:

"Can't you do that?"

"No," he said, "I can't do that, because if I go home I'll get a bath!"

Patient Knew Himself.

"You haven't any serious or organic trouble," said the young physician, cheerfully. "You're a little nervous and run down, that's all. Take more exercise, eat less and forget your troubles."

The hypochondriac snorted. "Young man," he demanded, his voice shaking, "how long have you been a doctor?"

"I took my degree three years ago," answered the medico.

"And I am an invalid of 25 years' experience. Who are you to disagree with me?"—Brooklyn Eagle.

Post Toasties

The germ-proof, dust-proof, moisture-proof wax-sealed wrapping keeps the

New Post Toasties

in perfect condition.

But more important these flakes are made by a new process that gives them a new form and a distinctive flavour, entirely different from other corn flakes.

In this new process, intense heat expands the interior moisture, producing little pearl-like "puffs," a distinguishing characteristic of the New Post Toasties.

These flakes have a body and firmness that don't mush down, even when cream or milk is added. Toasties come factory-fresh, as crisp and delicious as when they leave the big ovens.

Mines in Warfare.

A land mine in warfare consists of a charge of high explosive buried in the ground, and arranged so as to explode when the enemy's troops are over it. Mines are also used in siege warfare, tunnels being driven under the enemy's fortifications and enormous quantities of high explosive placed in them.

INSPIRATION OF THE COUNTY FAIR

By Peter Radford.

When you enter the agricultural department of the county fair, you feel your soul uplifted and your life takes on a new power—that is the inspiration of the soil. You are overpowered by the grandeur and magnificence of the scene—that is the spirit of the harvest. You can hear the voice of nature calling you back to the soil—that is opportunity knocking at your door. It is a good chance to spend a quiet hour in contact with the purity and perfection of nature and to sweeten your life with its fragrance, elevate your ideals with its beauty and expand your imagination with its power.

These products as food are fit for the gods, and as an article of commerce they ought to bring tip-top prices on any market in the world.

The products of the soil are teachers and preachers as well. Their beauty gives human life its first entertainment, their perfection stirs the genius in artists; their purity furnishes models for growth of character and their marvelous achievements excite our curiosity and we inquire into the wonderful process of nature.

Before leaving the parlor of agriculture where nature is parading in her most graceful attire and science is climbing the giddy heights of perfection, let us pause and take a retrospective view. How many of you know that after these wonderful products are raised, they can seldom be marketed at a profit? Take the blushing Elberta, for example—they were fed to the hogs by the carload last year. The onion—the nation's favorite vegetable—every year rots by the acre in the Southwest for want of a market and as a result hundreds of farmers have lost their homes. Cotton—nature's capitalist—often goes begging on the market at less than cost of production.

It is great to wander through the exhibits while the band is playing "Dixie" and boast of the marvelous fertility of the soil and pride ourselves on our ability to master science, but it is also well to remember that there is a market side to agriculture that does not reflect its hardships in the exhibits at a county fair.

UNIVERSAL PEACE

This nation is now in the midst of a controversy as to how best to promote universal peace. That question we will leave for diplomats to discuss, but peace within nations is no less important than peace between nations and it is heavily laden with prosperity for every citizen within our commonwealth.

Many leading politicians and ofttimes political platforms have declared war upon business and no cabinet crisis ever resulted. Many men have stood in high places and hurled "gas bombs" at industry; thrust bayonets into business enterprises and bombarded agriculture with indifference. Party leaders have many times broken diplomatic relations with industry; sent political aviators spying through the affairs of business, and political submarines have sent torpedoes crushing into the destiny of commerce. During the past quarter of a century we have fought many a duel with progress, permitted many politicians to carry on a guerrilla warfare against civilization and point a pistol at the heart of honest enterprise.

No man should be permitted to cry out for universal peace until his record has been searched for explosives, for no vessel armed or laden with munitions of war should be given a clearance to sail for the port of Universal Peace. Let us by all means have peace, but peace, like charity, should begin at home.

GRASPING AT THE SHADOW

No man—especially if he is married—would deny woman any right she demands. Take the earth and give us peace, but why does woman long for the ballot?

When all is said and done, is not the selection of the butcher more important to the home than the election of a mayor; is not the employment of the dairyman a far more important event in the life of the children than the appointment of a postmaster; is not the selection of books for the family library more important than voting bonds for jail and court house? Why does woman lay aside the important things in life? Why leave the substance and grasp at the shadow?

Be it said to the credit of womanhood that it is not, as a rule, the woman who rocks the cradle that wants to cast the ballot; it is not the mother who teaches her children to say "Now I lay me down to sleep" that harangues the populace, it is not the daughter who hopes to reign as queen over a happy home that longs for the uniform of the suffragette. It is, as a rule, the woman who despises her nature, neglects her children and [illegible] motherhood that leads parades [illegible].

ANNUAL MEETING OF AMERICAN PLOWMEN

National Farmers' Union Renders Unselfish Service to Agriculture.

By Peter Radford.

The National Farmers' Union will hold its annual convention in Lincoln, Nebraska, on September seventh, and will round out the eleventh year of its activities in the interest of the American plowman. When that convention is called to order every farmer in America should pause and bow his head in honor of the men gathered there to render a patriotic and unselfish service to agriculture. That organization, born in the cotton fields of Texas, has grown until geographically it covers almost the whole of the United States and economically it deals with every question in which the welfare of the men who bare their backs to the summer sun are involved. It has battled for a better marketing system, rural credits, cheap money, diversification, scientific production, agricultural legislation and has carried on its work of education and co-operation in season and out.

The Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union of America brings the question of organization squarely before every farmer in this nation. Without organization the farmers can neither help themselves nor be helped by others and through organization and systematic effort all things are possible.

The farmers of the United States contribute more and get less from government than any other class of business. They have better securities and pay a higher rate of interest than any other line of industry. They market more products and have less to say in fixing the price than any other business and they get more political buncombe and less constructive legislation than any other class of people. The farmers can only acquire such influence in business, in government and in economics as will enable them to share equitably the fruits of their labor through organization and every farmer on American soil who desires to help himself and his fellow plowmen should rally around the Union.

POLITICAL GOSSIPS

When one class of people has anything to say, it has become largely the custom to make a political issue out of it instead of a friendly discussion, to print it in a law book instead of a newspaper and to argue it before a jury instead of to settle it in the higher courts of Common Sense. As a result, political agitators, political lawyers, political preachers and masculine women are powerful in politics and dissension, selfishness, intolerance and hysterics run rampant in public affairs, for when the low, damp, murky atmosphere of misunderstanding envelops public thought it breeds political reptiles, vermin, bugs and lice which the pure air of truth and the sunshine of understanding will choke to death.

We have too many self-appointed interpreters of industry who are incapable of grasping the fundamental principles of business and who at best can only translate gossip and add color to sensational stories. No business can stand upon error and might rules—right or wrong. No industry can thrive upon misunderstanding, for public opinion is more powerful than a King's sword.

Where prejudice, suspicion and class hatred prevail, power gravitates into the hands of the weak, for demagogues thrive upon dissension and statesmen sicken upon strife.

The remedy lies in eliminating the middleman—the political gossip—and this result can be accomplished by the managers of business sitting around the table of industry and talking it over with the people. Interchange of information between industries and the people is as necessary to success in business as interchange in commodities, for the people can only rule when the public understands. Away with political interpreters who summon evil spirits from their prison cells and loose them to prey upon the welfare of the people in the name of "My Country."

PHILIP

Philip, the Macedonian king, while drowsy with wine was trying a case and the prisoner after sentence was pronounced, exclaimed, "I appeal." "And to whom do you appeal?" inquired the astonished monarch. "I appeal from Philip drunk to Philip sober," replied the prisoner, and the king granted the request and at a rehearing gave the prisoner his liberty.

The people drowsy with the wine of discord ofttimes pronounce a verdict on public questions which they reverse in their more calm and deliberate moments. The next best thing to making no mistakes is to correct them.

WESTERN BANKERS TO DISCUSS LOAN

ANGLO-FRENCH COMMISSION AND EASTERNERS REACH VIRTUAL AGREEMENT.

AMOUNT TO BE HALF BILLION

If Western Bankers Are in Accordance With Tentative Plan Arranged, the Hugh Credit Program Will be Assured.

New York, Sept. 28.—The Anglo-French financial commission and eastern bankers have reached a virtual agreement on the details of the proposed half billion dollar credit loan to Great Britain and France. Four members of the commission will leave here at once for Chicago, to confer with Western bankers over the tentative terms.

Following is the details of the loan upon which the commission and the bankers of Eastern states are in virtual accord:

The amount—Approximately $500,000,000.

The securities—Joint Anglo-French notes.

The interest rate—Five per cent to yield the investor about 5½ per cent by the notes being offered at slightly under par.

A conversion privilege at maturity of the notes—the holder to receive cash or joint Anglo-French 15 or 20 year bonds bearing 4½ per cent interest.

It became known also that the entire program had been submitted by cable to London and Paris and that the attitude of the home governments, so far as disclosed, is one of approval for all that the commission has accomplished.

Adoption of Program Assured.

It is assumed that the parliaments of both Great Britain and France would have to authorize the issuance of the loan, inasmuch as it is an external loan and therefore would not be covered by any of the loans authorized so far.

Whether Paris and London, in addition to approving the work of their delegates, had formally ratified it in addition was not divulged. It was thought doubtful, however, if this had yet been done, or would be done until the agreement passes beyond the tentative stage.

If the Western bankers are in accordance with the tentative agreement upon which the Eastern financiers and the commission have reached an understanding the program will stand, barring unforeseen developments and its final adoption is as good as assured. This assertion was made by an American financier who has been of the inner circle throughout the period of negotiations.

A member of the firm of J. P. Morgan and company will be in Chicago. Bankers of the Twin Cities, St. Louis and other Western and Middle Western cities will attend the Chicago conference.

SLAVS HOLD BACK GERMANS

Russians Possess Fortress Triangle, Including Dubno, Kovno and Lutsk—Repulse Austrians.

London, Sept. 28. — Some of the fiercest fighting of the campaign is in progress on the Russian front. The Germans continue their furious attacks in an effort to drive the Russians out of Dvinsk, while in Volhynia and Galicia the Russians continue to harass the Austro-Germans, who had designs on Kiev, from which town they are now further away than they were a few weeks ago.

Austrians Driven Back.

General Ivanoff apparently is determined to hold back the Austro-Germans and his efforts are meeting with success. The fortress triangle, which includes Dubno, Kovno and Lutsk, is almost entirely in the possession of the Russians.

In Galicia the Austrians have been driven back across the rivers which run parallel to the border.

The Italians, like the rest of the Allies, report a number of successes in taking fortified mountains from the Austrians.

HAITIENS ATTACK AMERICANS

Forty Rebels Are Killed in Encounter With U. S. Troops—Refuse to Disarm.

Cape Haitien, Sept. 28.—In an attack by Haitien rebels on an American force, about two miles from Cape Haitien, 40 Haitiens were killed. Ten Americans were wounded.

The rebels have refused to disarm and the Americans are marching on Haut du Cap, in the Plain of the North.

Old Chicago Church Burns.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—Grace Episcopal church, 1430 South Wabash avenue, a landmark erected in 1868 and one of the largest and best known churches in the Middle West, was destroyed by a fire which also razed a six story building occupied by the Western Furniture Exposition company, causing a property loss of more than $500,000. The blaze started in the furniture building shortly after 4 o'clock in the morning and was communicated to Grace church by falling walls.

RAIDERS FIRE 2,000 SHOTS AT TROOPS

MEXICANS DESTROY STORE AT PROGRESO, TEXAS—KILL U. S. CAVALRYMAN.

FLEE LEAVING LOOT BEHIND

Band Is Pursued By Soldiers, Both Sides Keeping Up Steady Fire—Four of the Americans' Horses Shot.

Brownsville, Texas, Sept. 27.—The firing of arms by several hundred Mexicans on the other side of the Rio Grande river to cover the retreat of 70 to 80 Mexicans who looted and set fire to a store at Progreso, Texas, 35 miles west of here, was told of in an official report made by Major Edward Anderson of the Twelfth cavalry.

Private Henry W. Stubblefield was killed and Captain C. V. P. Anderson wounded in the arm during the fight. Earlier reports that Private Kennedy also was injured proved incorrect. At least four Mexicans are known to have been killed.

Mexicans Fire 2,000 Shots.

Later three detachments of troops B and C of the Twelfth cavalry were stationed in the vicinity of the fight. Two thousand shots are said to have been fired by the Mexicans.

About 1,000 shots were fired by the Americans at the Mexicans as they were crossing the river.

The Mexican band of 70 or 80 while looting the store of Florencio Saenz, at Progreso, at daybreak were surprised by 12 men of Troop C, Twelfth cavalry. Private Stubblefield was killed by two shots fired from the interior of the building, killing him instantly. The soldiers were not aware of the presence of the Mexicans. The Mexicans immediately fled from the place, leaving their loot behind. They turned toward the river, both sides keeping up a steady fire. Four of the Americans' horses were shot from under them in the pursuit. Reinforcements hurried to Progreso from Donna, Mercedes and Santa Maria.

Raiders Cross Rio Grande.

The American troops kept up their running fire at the fleeing Mexicans until the latter succeeded in crossing the Rio Grande under protection of the fire of their comrades. After considerable cheering from the Mexican side, the firing ceased, the Mexicans disappearing.

TO RELEASE AMERICAN GOODS

British Embassy Declares Arrangements Completed to Allow Cargoes to Leave Rotterdam.

Washington, Sept. 27.—The way has been cleared for the release of American owned goods of German and Austrian origin now held up at neutral ports of Europe by the British order-in-council. The British embassy notified the state department that it was prepared to receive applications for permits to export such goods in cases where American importers had either paid for them or rendered themselves liable for the purchase price before May 1, 1915.

Vigorous informal representations have been made by the state department in its efforts to secure an agreement for the release of this merchandise, worth about $167,000,000.

Arrangements for Release of Goods.

While the British authorities on June 15 declined to receive unofficial representations by the trade advisers regarding the shipments, information from time to time reached the state department that private interests in London were securing permits releasing goods from Rotterdam.

Sir Richard Crawford, commercial attache of the British embassy, notified Foreign Trade Adviser W. B. Fleming that arrangements for the release of goods through the trade advisers at last had been completed.

BIG ALBERTA WHEAT YIELD

Returns from Threshing Operations Indicate Total Will Reach 34,860,000 Bushels.

Edmonton, Sept. 25. — That there will be a much greater yield of spring wheat in province of Alberta this year, than even the most optimistic anticipated, is the opinion of Hon. Duncan Marshall, minister of agriculture.

Returns from threshing operations all over the province, tell a story which shows Marshall and even the farmers, too modest in calculations.

Marshall now is convinced the average yield of spring wheat will be 28, instead of 23 bushels, making the total estimated yield 34,860,000 bushels.

Austrian Prince Slain in Fight.

Vienna, Sept. 24.—Prince Frederic of Thurn and Taxis was killed in the fighting in Southeastern Galicia.

Von Papen Goes to Mexico.

Washington, Sept. 23.—Captain Franz von Papen, the military attache of the German embassy, who figured in the Dumba correspondence, is en route to Mexico. This disposes finally of any measures by this government in connection with the administration of discipline to the German officer who approved the strike plan intrusted by the Austro-Hungarian ambassador to James F. J. Archibald for delivery to the Austro-Hungarian minister of foreign affairs. Von Papen left New York ostensibly for Yellowstone park.

STATE BREVITIES

Luverne.—A new selling record for Rock county farm lands was established this week, when Jasper Christianson paid $44,400 for Lena Gertz farm of 240 acres in Kanaranzi township.

Duluth.—The heavy demand for boats to carry ore is rapidly being augmented by a demand for boats to carry coal. The supply of tonnage is fast being reduced by grain. Brokers sought boats to work on 3¼ cents for the last 10 days of this month and 3⅜ cents for the last half of October, grain cargoes.

Windom.—Samuel H. Kirkbride of Chicago, representing the American Bible society, appealed to the members of the Minnesota Methodist Episcopal conference for help in raising 1,000,000 nickels by Sunday school children in the United States to send 1,000,000 Bibles to soldiers on European battlefields.

Walker.—Walker was in darkness last week, while repairs were being made at the power plant. The city was without light for about ten days. The moving picture theater, barber shops and other places of business were forced to close at nightfall, and merchants enjoyed a rushing business in kerosene and candles.

Moorhead.—Ole Norby, Clay county, Minnesota, the farmer who was shot by William Brendemuhl, his brother-in-law and one of Clay county's wealthiest farmers, died at a Fargo hospital Brendemuhl surrendered to the sheriff. He says he acted in self-defense. A charge of assault in the first degree filed against Brendemuhl will likely be changed to murder.

Brainerd. — A new mine has been started four miles east of Brainerd and near Woodrow by the Abdar Development company, which will sink a lath shaft 100 feet deep. The mine will be under the supervision of Captain William J. Treloar, who will also have supervision of the Adams mine at Oreland. Directly in charge of the Abdar mine will be W. J. Nichols of Brainerd.

Duluth.—For five minutes every wheel on the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railway system stopped turning and every office and shop activity ceased while funeral services took place at Marquette, Mich., for Colonel William Foresman Fitch. The general suspension was a tribute from the road's officials and employes to the line's former president and general manager.

New Ulm.—Speaking upon the topic, "Hints on Infantry Training," Major Arthur Johnson, federal inspector and instructor in the regular army, stated at the meeting here of the Minnesota National Guard association that Minnesota had a higher efficiency and better equipment than the Ohio National guard. Recruits for the guard were more easily obtained in this state, he said, because of a more kindly feeling toward the militia.

St. Cloud.—June has always been considered the month of marriages, but in Stearns county September will lead by 50 per cent, according to the estimate of the county clerk, who attributes the demand for marriage licenses to good crops. In the last 12 hours, 12 licenses were issued, a record breaking day for the local office. All but two of the couples were from the country and upon that fact the clerk bases his positive statement that good crops are an aid to Cupid.

Albert Lea.—As one result of the settlement by the courts last fall in the factional fight of the five Freeborn county Lutheran synod churches, two edifices, which will cost more than $15,000, are in course of construction. In the final settlement, the Hartland church was deeded to the Rev. Thor Strand forces while the parsonage went to the anti-Strand congregation. The anti-Strands will complete a new church this month and Rev. Mr. Lunde will have charge. Rev. Thor Strand is preaching in the old church.

Fergus Falls.—Judge Parsons handed down a decision in the district court here, vesting the sole management and control of the city water and light plants in the water and light commission. The charter says that the commission shall manage the plants and fix the rates, but that it shall make requisition to the council for all supplies and the council shall allow all bills. The commission wished to install water meters, and the council refused to approve the requisition on the ground that the people were opposed.

Fort Snelling.—A stone slab weighing about 250 pounds, upon the face of which is handsomely carved what appears to be the coat of arms or royal emblem of some reigning European house of the 16th century or earlier, was unearthed by Frank and Luther Gates while they were digging a well on their lot at 5345 Forty-eighth avenue So. near Minnehaha falls. The tablet is about 5 feet long, 2½ feet wide and 4 inches thick, and the carving reveals workmanship of a high type, being characteristic of many historical relics of the early centuries.

Winona.—The grand jury has returned an indictment against Rev. Father L. M. Lesches for assault in the first degree, charging that August 27 he assaulted Bishop P. R. Heffron with intent to kill. Father Lesches was not in court when indictment was returned. Bishop Heffron continues to improve from the wounds suffered when Father Lesches shot him.

Bemidji.—Francis, the 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Werth of this city, was severely scalded by falling backward into a tub of hot water. He probably will recover, physicians say.

SAYS STATE MUST ASSIST SETTLERS

STATE AUDITOR ADVOCATES LEGISLATION FAVORING DEVELOPMENT OF MINNESOTA.

STATE CAPITOL HAPPENINGS

Events of General Interest in Minnesota Condensed and Revised for The Greater Convenience of Busy Readers.

St. Paul.—

Speaking to a large crowd at the annual Hubbard county fair, J. A. O. Preus, state auditor, advocated legislation favoring the development of northern Minnesota.

"Minnesota has more than 51,000,000 acres," he said; "44,000,000 are on the tax rolls and 27,000,000 are under cultivation. Nearly half of the state's lands are awaiting the plow. The greater portion of your county is still untilled."

Touching upon the great tide of immigration that has been turned toward Canada in recent years, Mr. Preus said:

"You need more people, more actual settlers—farmers—in your community, county and section of the state. And in this the state should assist you. Many people from the states east and south of Minnesota are being made familiar with the agricultural value of northern Minnesota lands. They must be made to stop here and not permitted to go on to Canada. You should vote for constitutional amendment No. 1. It provides that $250,000 may be set aside out of the state school fund to improve state lands.

"The state still has 2,000,000 acres for sale—considerable of it is in your county. In the cutover region it costs from $10 to $50 an acre to crop the land, and many a bona fide settler has come to this section of Minnesota with a family and too little money to 'stick it out' because this was so. It cost him too much to clear his first three or four acres and there was too much time taken before he could realize on his labors. Amendment No. 1 is intended to remedy this. It will make it possible for the state to clear three or four acres of each 80 acres sold. This, together with the easy terms of sale of state land should bring a tide of immigration to northern Minnesota that has been before unequaled."

Tax Levy Reduced.

The rate of taxation for state purposes as made public by State Auditor Preus will be 4.15 mills for that portion of the state outside of Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth, and 4.1 for the three cities named.

The division of the rate is made necessary by the 1-20 mill tax ordered by the last legislature for the teacher's retirement and pension fund. This tax is collectable only in that portion of the state outside of cities of the first class.

The levy as fixed for 1916 by Mr. Preus is 63-100 of a mill less than last year's levy. The levy for 1914 was 3.52 mills. This reduction is made possible by the elimination of the levy for the Historical society building and also the levy for Itaska State park. Of the levies remaining, that for the armories is reduced .02 of a mill. The levy in detail, in terms of mills, is as follows:

State revenue fund	1.4
Soldiers' relief fund .0001	.1
State road and bridge .001	1.0
Prison building fund .0002	.2
National Guard armories, .00003	.03
Educational building fund, .000014	.14
	2.87

In addition to the levies named, there is one for state schools amounting to 1.23 mills. The state revenue tax is reduced two-tenths of a mill. The total for the various state expenses is 2.87 mills, which is a considerable reduction from last year.

The levy as ordered by Mr. Preus is based on this year's assessment and is collectable in 1915. It is the smallest levy for state purposes in some years.

Increases Capital Stock.

The Washburn-Crosby company of Minneapolis increased its capital stock by $3,000,000 with the filing of amended articles of incorporation with Julius A. Schmahl, secretary of state. The flour milling corporation now is capitalized at $9,000,000.

Urges Neutrality.

Governor W. S. Hammond, who spoke at the Traverse county fair here, made a strong plea for neutrality in deeds if not in thoughts on the part of all citizens. He urged everyone to support President Wilson in his policies and said there would be no war while Wilson is president.

Reports Labor Disbursements.

State department of labor disbursements for the fiscal year of 1915 ending July 31 were $58,928.01, of which $43,680 was spent for salaries from the general fund and $5,627 for salaries from the contingent fund, according to the report of the state public examiner. Expenses for traveling were $5,709.33 and miscellaneous expenses were $3,911.68. The department's appropriations amounted to $64,680. The examiner's report comments on the fact that there were no unnecessary expenses.

JEWELERS GIVEN JOLT BY SLEUTH

Convention Is Thrilled by Clever Stunt Pulled by Famous Detective.

FRISKS SILVER WATCH

Lifts Timepiece From President's Pocket Right Before His Very Eyes—Is Found on Another Official.

The great detective had just concluded his stirring speech. "Thieves had best have a care," he had said, "for the jewelers are now protected against them quite as fully as are the bankers."

Applause filled the room in the Grand Central palace, where the members of the American National Retail Jewelers' association had assembled for their annual meeting.

"We now have just time"—began President Tinley L. Combs of Omaha, Neb., but he went no further. In place of the watch he had started to consult was a void—an aching void, if one might judge from the expression on Mr. Combs' face. The watch was gone.

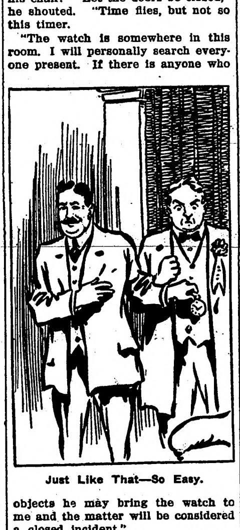
"Gentlemen," said the president, "if this is a joke, one might say it was a timely one. My watch is gone. A great detective is here. Perhaps he can put into actual operation some of the things he has just been telling us."

Detective on the Job.

A breathless silence filled the great room. All eyes were upon the detective.

Quite unabashed by the attention he was receiving, he hastily rose from his chair. "Let the doors be closed," he shouted. "Time flies, but not so this timer.

"The watch is somewhere in this room. I will personally search everyone present. If there is anyone who objects he may bring the watch to me and the matter will be considered a closed incident."



Just Like That—So Easy.

No one stirred.

"Very well, then, I'll proceed with the searching."

From the very first pocket into which he thrust his trained fingers came forth a watch.

"Ah, here is a watch," said the detective, exultantly. "I scarce expected to meet with success quite as soon. Here is a watch for you, Mr. Combs," he said, and promptly sat down.

"Thanks," said Mr. Combs, "mine was only silver, but this gold one will do."

Finds the Watch.

Had the situation been less serious the laugh that followed might have been more hearty. Hastily the watch was returned to its rightful owner. Then the detective continued his search.

A moment later a very guilty looking silver watch was extracted from the waistcoat pocket of one of the members of the executive committee.

"This is your property, is it not, Mr. Combs?" demanded the detective. It was.

"I knew it," said William J. Burns, the detective. "You see, I put it there myself. I thought it would be a good stunt."

Then the meeting proceeded.

LETS LAWYERS BATTLE ON

Judge Adjourns Court While Attorneys Fight, Then Resumes Hearing of the Case.

Hammond, Ind.—A garnishee case resolved itself into a fistic encounter in Judge Reiland's court at Indiana Harbor recently, when L. W. Saric and Marcus Herschcovitz, lawyers, passed the lie.

The court refused to call time. In fact, Judge Reiland adjourned court to give the belligerents all the time they wanted. They took ten minutes and then an armistice was declared and Judge Reiland went on with the trial of the case.

Saric looked as though he had fought with a bearcat.

There Was a Doubt.

Here is a little story that was told by Congressman William H. Murray of Oklahoma, in gently throwing the harpoon into a lawyer friend:

One afternoon a stranger debarked from a train at a bustling town in the West and headed up the street. Finally he met a party that looked like a native.

"Pardon me," said the stranger, halting the likely-looking party. "Are you a resident of this town?"

"Yes, sir," was the rejoinder of the other. "Been here something like fifty years. What can I do for you?"

"I am looking for a criminal lawyer," responded the stranger. "Have you one here?"

"Well, reflectively answered the native, "we think we have, but we can't prove it on him."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

HUNT FOR MURDERER AT LAKE

DETECTIVES SEARCH FOR MRS. HEINECKE'S SLAYER.

Officers Scour Minnetonka District for Man in Overalls With Scratches on Cheeks.

Minneapolis, Sept. 27.—A man in a brown coat and blue overalls, whose cheeks bear deep scratches and who is haggard and shaken with fear, is being sought by four Minneapolis detectives in the Lake Minnetonka district. The police are confident his arrest will solve the mystery of who killed Mrs. Anna Heinecke in her Madison street home Wednesday.

The search for this man began Thursday morning after information concerning him had been brought to the police by the proprietor of a lower Nicollet avenue second-hand store. The proprietor told the police the suspect came into the store Thursday morning and asked for shoes. He was nervous and excited. The proprietor questioned him and the man became visibly unnerved. Trembling violently he grabbed the shoes the storekeeper had shown him, and ran. The storekeeper pursued but was distanced in the Nicollet avenue traffic. He says he followed the man into the Great Northern station and saw him leap upon the rear platform of a Lake Minnetonka train that was just leaving the platform. The storekeeper, whose name is withheld by the police reported immediately, and detectives were put on the trail.

Evidences Found Near Lake.

Suspicion grew in the face of new evidence said to have been discovered near the lake. The two detectives asked for help and got it. An arrest appeared likely on a farm not far from Wayzata. The suspect answered the description of the man wanted in every particular, the police say. He wore blue overalls, a brown coat, both sides of his face were covered with scratches, such as the police believe Mrs. Heinecke inflicted upon her assailant.

The description tallies with that of the man who gave gum to children of the Schiller school on the afternoon of the murder, hurrying away when Mrs. Josephine Vawislak, proprietor of a confectionery store at 3700 Grand street, sought to question him.

SOIL PRODUCTS SHOW OPENS

Exposition at Denver Has Great Exhibits of Interest to Farmers of Country.

Denver, Colo., Sept. 27.—The international soil-products exhibition began here today and will continue until October 10, while the international farm congress will hold its meetings here October 4-7. Among the delegates there are representatives from nearly every country on the globe. The United States government has an exhibit for which congress appropriated $20,000. This and the Canadian exhibit are of great value. The Auditorium, one of the largest buildings west of the Mississippi river, is the concentrating point of the group of twelve exposition buildings.

Twenty states have installed fine exhibits of agricultural crops and machinery, gas and electric appliances, motor cars and accessories, dairy products and machinery, industrial, commercial and varied industries exhibits, minerals and mines displays and demonstration, and tractor shows. There are also international and interstate displays, a Colorado state exhibit, railway and land show.

One of the prominent characteristics of the exposition is the interest show in the achievement of women.

Austria Must Recall Dumba.

Washington, Sept. 27.—Ambassador Frederick C. Penfield at Vienna has been instructed to make clear to the Austrian government informally that the United States must insist on the recall of Dr. Constantin Dumba, the Austrian ambassador here, and that his departure "on leave of absence" would not be satisfactory. From messages exchanged between Ambassador Penfield and the state department is apparent that the Austrian government misunderstood the desires of the United States.

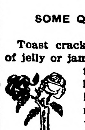
SOME QUICK DESSERTS.

Toast crackers and put a spoonful of jelly or jam on each. Whip cream, flavor with vanilla and heap on the jelly. Sprinkle with grated cocoanut or chopped nuts if whipped cream is not available.



Cracker Shortcake. — Open a can of peaches or any canned fruit, pour off the sirup and boil it up with sugar to make a rich sauce. Butter crackers, place the peaches on them, sprinkle with sugar and put another cracker on top. Put into the oven long enough to heat through and serve with hot fruit sauce.

Jelly Pancakes.—Make a batter of a cupful of milk, a cupful of flour, one teaspoonful of baking powder and a quarter of a teaspoonful of salt. Beat an egg, add the milk and flour, beating well, fry on a hot greased griddle. Spread with jelly, roll up and sprinkle with powdered sugar.

Raspberry Trifle.—Line a glass dish with thin slices of sponge cake. Pour over it raspberry juice to soften it, then lay over it a layer of whole berries. On this place another layer of cake and another layer of raspberries. Pour over all whipped sweetened cream.

Banana Dessert. — Slice bananas and sprinkle them with powdered sugar, chopped nut meats and the juice of half a lemon. Surround with seeded raisins and serve with cream.

A few cooked prunes stirred into sweetened and flavored whipped cream and served on squares or strips of cake makes a most tasty dessert. Any kind of fruit may be served in the same way, pineapple is especially good.

Cooked rice served with a hard sauce, flavored with crushed, fresh fruit, is another good dessert.

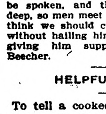
Marmalade, cream cheese, dates, figs and nuts in combination may be used for sweet sandwich filling.

Maple sugar with chopped salted almonds is one that is always liked. Moisten the sugar with thick cream, then add the chopped nuts. The browned almonds make a most appetizing flavor with the maple sugar.

> As ships meet at sea, a moment together, when words of greeting must be spoken, and then away into the deep, so men meet in this world; and I think we should cross no man's path without hailing him, and, if he needs, giving him supplies.—Henry Ward Beecher.

HELPFUL HINTS.

To tell a cooked egg from a fresh one, should they get mixed on the shelf, twirl the egg on a smooth surface. The cooked egg will spin, the raw will not.



A roll of surgeon's plaster will be found most useful for many things other than its authorized purpose.

When making frosting use instead of fresh water that which has been colored by cooked beets. Mix this with powdered sugar and you have a wholesome pink frosting.

When cooking milk, to keep it from burning, put a few spoonfuls of water in the dish and when boiling add the milk.

Apples are one of the most wholesome of fruits and should be given freely to children, especially in the winter. Cranberries are said to stimulate the liver

For the overtired housewife a most restful attitude is to lie on the back with the feet elevated on a couple of pillows or cushions. Ten minutes in this position will effect a wonderful rest.

A splendid idea to keep stockings mated, especially in a large family, is to place good-sized patent fasteners on the top hem of the stockings, then when the hose are taken off they are snapped together, may be so washed, and will return still united.

Never throw away old quilts, as they make the best kind of padding for a stair carpet.

When sweater sleeves become thin at the elbow, cut them out of the arm hole and exchange them, putting the left sleeve into the right arm hole. This change brings the worn part on the front of the sleeve.

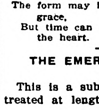
Wash hairbrushes in common baking-soda water; a teaspoonful to a pint of hot water. Dip the brushes up and down in this until clean, then rinse in clear water and dry, bristle-side down

Buttons will stay on longer if the knot in the thread is put under the button before beginning to sew it on.

The flush of youth soon passes from the face,
The spells of fancy, from the mind depart,
The form may lose its symmetry, its grace,
But time can claim no victory o'er the heart.

THE EMERGENCY SHELF.

This is a subject which has been treated at length several times, but one which is so important that it needs to come often before us. The housewife who has a well-stocked emergency shelf may be assured that no sudden inroad of unexpected company will cause her any inconvenience.



Here are some of the many things which will be useful, although each housewife will find additions and changes to make, suitable to her needs.

First, have a few cans of good soup. This, with some crisp crackers, makes a fine beginning to any hurried meal and may be prepared almost as quickly as it takes to write it. One may add milk or cream to extend the amount of these soups and usually it improves them.

On this shelf have a few cans of fish, such as tunny or tuna, salmon and crab or lobster; these may be used in various ways as salads, hot dishes or chowders if so desired. Cutlets, using a can of salmon, adding white sauce, rolling in crumbs and frying in deep fat, will go further than a can of salmon served plain.

A box of codfish, jars of pickles, canned corn beef and dried beef, olives, canned fruit, nuts and dates are other helpful furnishings to the shelf.

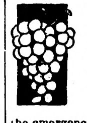
Even lemon pie filling comes canned now to use in an emergency. These foods are expensive for everyday use, but to have some of these things on the shelf even if used but once a year, will prove worth the investment.

A few quickly prepared menus should be at hand, so that in the hurry one need only glance at them to choose a good meal.

There is a shady side of life,
And a sunny side as well,
And 'tis for every one to say
On which he'd choose to dwell;
For every one unto himself
Commits a grievous sin,
Who bars the blessed sunshine out,
And shuts the shadows in.

MORE ABOUT EMERGENCY SHELF.

There are many quickly prepared cheese dishes, so there should always be a jar of grated cheese. A piece of cheese keeps well, tightly covered, if it is sprinkled generously with salt. Cans of spaghetti and tomato, deviled chicken, cans veal and ham, which can be heated, are items for the emergency shelf. Naturally some of these things will spoil if kept too long, so they may be used and replaced from time to time. The cost of replacing articles will not be great. It is well to remember when buying any kind of canned goods to see that the ends of the cans are flat. If they bulge, reject them for this denotes the presence of gas and they are not fit for food. Never leave any food in a tin can; empty it at once when opened.



Pie crust may be prepared all but the water; put in a glass jar and is ready to use on the instant.

Even bread, the Boston brown variety, is found in cans and may be a most welcome addition to the shelf.

"When one is seven miles from a lemon," the emergency shelf is an absolute life saver.

Boiled dressings may be made which will keep for weeks in the cellar or ice chest. In fact many housekeepers always keep a bowl of salad dressing on hand, or one may make a salad out of almost anything.

Salted wafers, small cakes, fruit cookies and fruit cake, will keep for weeks if kept from the air, and so one may feel at ease, even though company drops in without warning.

Hot Potatoes.

When removing hot potatoes from the oven pull over your hands little bags that sugar comes in. Anybody is apt to burn hands or arms in turning potatoes or taking them from the oven, and these little bags are convenient to have for protectors.

Instruction From the Press.

In a polite age almost every person becomes a reader, and receives more instruction from the press than the pulpit.—Goldsmith.

WHY DINING CAR CHEFS PREFER KC BAKING POWDER
Those who have had cakes ruined by jarring the stove, slamming the oven door or a heavy footstep, may have wondered how the dining car chef can turn out such marvelous biscuits, hot breads and pastry when his oven is being incessantly jarred and jolted and shaken by the motion of the train.
To get pastry to raise and stay raised under these conditions, a baking powder must be used that continues to give off its leavening gas—that sustains the raise—until the dough is baked through.
Dining Car Chefs have found a baking powder exactly suited to their needs in K C and you will find it just as well suited to your requirements. K C is really a blend of two baking powders, one active as soon as moistened, the other requiring both moisture and heat to start the generation of leavening gas. No matter how moist and rich you make your cake, K C Baking Powder will sustain the raise until a crust is formed and all danger of falling is past.
K C Baking Powder is pure and healthful. It is guaranteed under all pure food laws, and is guaranteed to please you. And it is sold at a reasonable price—no baking powder should sell for more.

Had Used Them.

"Look here," said a lodger to his landlady, "your daughter has been using my comb and brush gain."

"I beg your pardon," said the landlady, indignantly. "I never allow my children to meddle with my lodgers' belongings in any way."

"But I am sure she has been using them," said the lodger, "for there are long black hairs on them, and she is the only person with black hair in the house."

"Oh, now I remember; she did have them to comb and brush our dear old poodle," said the landlady; "but I am quite sure she did not use them for herself—she's too honest to be guilty of that sort of thing."

CURED OF BRIGHT'S DISEASE.
Mrs. A. L. Crawford, Medfield, Mass., writes: "Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me of Bright's Disease, and I am healthy and strong to-day and have been blessed with good health ever since my cure. When the doctors pronounced my case Bright's Disease I was in such a serious condition that they could not do anything for me. I kept getting worse. My limbs from my ankles to my knees swelled and my eyes were so swollen that I couldn't see. As a last hope I thought I would give Dodd's Kidney Pills a trial. I gradually improved and kept on taking them and they cured me thoroughly."

Sticking to His Prediction.

Two workmen met in the street and stopped to chat about their friends.

"Casey seems to be doing well where he is," remarked one presently.

"He'll not stop long at that job," replied the other with a gloomy shake of the head.

"Why not? He seems to be quite comfortably placed."

"But he'll not stay there a month. I say it, and I've said it ever since he got that job eighteen months ago."

Where He Learned.

"Why, Willie, I'm surprised to hear you use such language. You have been playing with those naughty boys again, haven't you?"

"Truly I haven't, mamma. I was just over to Tommy Brown's house playing with the parrot his uncle sent him from Chicago."

Thought So.

"Does she approve of cosmetics?"

"She seems to lend countenance to them, as far as I can see."

YES, FATHER PURSUED THEM

In Fact the Old Gentleman Overtook and Stuck Very Close to the Eloping Pair.

When the conversation turned to the subject of romantic marriages this little anecdote was volunteered by H. H. Asker, a North Dakota politician:

One afternoon Green was standing on the corner looking at the jitneys when he was suddenly confronted by an acquaintance of other years. Soon they were comparing notes and recalling happy hours.

"So you were married ten years ago?" said the acquaintance in response to a statement made by Brown. "Took place in the church, I suppose, with bridesmaids, flowers, cake and the brass band?"

"No," answered Brown, with a reflective expression, "it was an elopement."

"An elopement, eh?" returned the acquaintance. "Did the girl's father follow you?"

"Yes," answered Brown, with something akin to a sigh, "and he has been with us ever since."

An Old Accomplishment.

"That wife of mine is a great one for fads; her latest is firing china," said the young married man.

"That was one of the first ones my wife had," the older man said.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Bakke, in Thief River Falls, on Thursday, Sept. 30th. at 5 o'clock P. M., occured the marriage of their daughter Olga Emilie to Robert Earl Spinks, of Remer, Minn.

The bride wore a traveling suit of blue serge trimmed with fur and a picture hat, and the bridegroom was attired in a grey suit. The bride's sister, Agnes, was maid of honor and wore a pink crepe de chene dress, white coat and black hat trimmed in pink. The groom was attended by Willie Bakke as best man.

The rooms were prettily decorated with autumn leaves, smilax and pink roses.

Congratulations and best wishes were extended to the happy couple, after which a bounteous and delicious five course dinner was partaken of, while Miss Emma Backe rendered some appropriate and beautiful piano selections. The tables were beautifully decorated with sweet peas and smilax.

The bride is a popular young lady of Thief River Falls. The groom is a prominent young doctor at Remer and enjoying a splendid practice.

We join with their many friends in extending them our best wishes for their future happiness.

Luncheon a Success.

The tidy little sum of $22.75 was taken in at the lunch and entertainment given by Mesdames Anderson, Nohre, Mickelson and Docken last Sunday afternoon, the proceeds to go to the China Mission fund. The hospitable Nelson's allowed their commodious restaurant quarters to be used for serving the lunch which was greatly appreciated by the entertainers as a goodly number were in attendance. The reading and speech by Rev. Ordahl on the mission work in Africa was very interesting and enjoyed by all, as were also the songs rendered by the choir.

IN STERLING LIVES A GIRL

Who Suffered As Many Girls Do—Tells How She Found Relief.

Sterling, Conn.—"I am a girl of 22 years and I used to faint away every month and was very weak. I was also bothered a lot with female weakness. I read your little book 'Wisdom for Women,' and I saw how others had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and decided to try it, and it has made me feel like a new girl and I am now relieved of all these troubles. I hope all young girls will get relief as I have. I never felt better in my life."—Mrs. JOHN TETREAULT, Box 116, Sterling, Conn.

Massena, N. Y.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I highly recommend it. If anyone wants to write to me I will gladly tell her about my case. I was certainly in a bad condition as my blood was all turning to water. I had pimples on my face and a bad color, and for five years I had been troubled with suppression. The doctors called it 'Anemia and Exhaustion,' and said I was all run down, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought me out all right."—Miss LAVINA MYRES, Box 74, Massena, N.Y.

Young Girls, Heed This Advice.

Girls who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, headache, dragging-down sensations, fainting spells or indigestion, should immediately seek restoration to health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

DOG WAITING AT MASTER'S GRAVE

Kansas Collie Is Still Hoping for the Return of His Owner.

KEEPS ALL-NIGHT VIGIL

Animal Each Day Makes Rounds They So Often Traveled Together, Then Trots to New Grave in Cemetery.

Buckner, Mo.—Pete is only a dog. Just a collie dog with the gentle, expressive eyes of his kind and a good deal of gray about his muzzle. Folks in Buckner, Mo., say that they can notice the gray the last three weeks or so, but they may be mistaken in that.

Pete, being only a dog, is not expected to know the depths of emotion that persons feel. He is not supposed to understand about death and sorrow and utter loneliness and that sort of thing. He was a smart dog, people said, and had been a faithful companion to his master, William Hudspeth, who lived on a farm near Buckner.

But when Mr. Hudspeth died three weeks ago, everyone forgot about Pete. There were so many things to be looked after that the grief-stricken family left him to his own devices.

Beyond a Dog's Understanding.

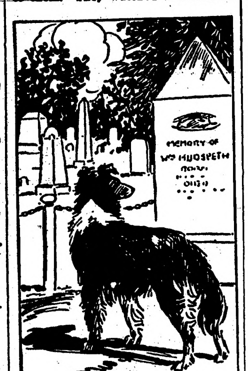
It had been a strange day for Pete. Early in the morning the people who came to the house had routed him out of his place in front of the door where he had lain during the two weeks his master was in bed.

They wouldn't let him in where his master was, not even in the house, although he tried to get in several times. And then finally they brought his master out in a big box and everybody went down the road with him. Pete went along, of course.

They went on across the railroad tracks and up the rock road.

He stopped with the rest of them at the place where the white stones stood about in the grass and watched them all go over to a big hole in the ground. But his master wasn't amongst them. Perhaps he wasn't in the big box after all. He'd probably stopped in town as he always did, and Pete, foolish dog, hadn't noticed it. It was much more likely than that his master was in that box they were putting down in the hole.

So Pete started back. The loungers on the bank steps called to him as he stopped there but he paid no attention to them. They watched him trot on down the street and stop for a moment at each store his master had used to visit. Then he disappeared out the road to the farm.



Pete Was Never Missed a Day at the Graveyard.

Waiting in Cemetery.

The sexton, working late that night, heard a whining among the graves. When he came to the newest one he found Pete. The dog lay on the grass at the side of the headstone and would not come away when the sexton left. The next morning he was still there.

Since then Pete has never missed a day at the graveyard. When he turns in from the road he goes straight to the Hudspeth lot and stays there for hours at a time. The sexton has noticed his restlessness. He haunts around among the stones only to return to his master's grave. Finally he goes back to town and makes once more the round of the stores.

Sometimes he goes out to the farm then. Sometimes he goes back to the graveyard and the sexton finds him in the morning whining at the mound of earth. Always he has a restless, troubled air as he searches for someone who cannot be found.

And there he sits at his master's grave.

GERMAN NOTE ON ARABIC DISPUTE GIVEN LANSING

COMMUNICATION FROM BERLIN IS UNDERSTOOD TO AFFORD A NEGOTIABLE BASIS FOR SETTLEMENT OF QUESTION.

SECRETARY RECEIVES MEXICAN DELEGATES

Takes First Step in Policy That U. S. Government Is to Pursue in Deciding What Faction Is Deserving of Recognition—Case of Von Papen Is Disposed of.

New York, Oct. 4.—Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, has delivered to Secretary Lansing a note from the German government concerning the Arabic case, which it is understood, affords a negotiable basis for the settlement of the question.

The ambassador was closeted with Secretary Lansing for only a few minutes, leaving with him a note, the contents of which was not disclosed. Both the secretary and the ambassador decided that nothing concerning it would be announced. It is understood that the secretary will take the note with him to Washington and after discussing it with President Wilson will indicate whether or not it is satisfactory.

Basis for Negotiations.

It was learned reliably that the note furnishes a basis for further negotiations and from this it was inferred that, while admitting the principle that merchantment would not be torpedoed without warning, Germany was anxious to submit to arbitration the question of fact as to whether or not the Arabic was engaged in a hostile act at the time she was torpedoed and how much indemnity must be paid as a consequence if the verdict is against the German commander.

It was the first conference between the representatives of the two governments for two weeks, during which time the German ambassador has been given an opportunity to communicate to his foreign office the evidence gathered by the United States tending to prove conclusively that the Arabic was torpedoed without warning and was not engaged in a hostile act, as Germany claims.

Von Papen Case Ended.

The case of Captain von Papen, military attache of the German embassy, was disposed of.

Secretary Lansing took the first step in the policy that the United States government is to pursue within the next week in deciding what faction in Mexico is deserving of recognition. He received Luis Cabrera, minister of finance for the Carranza government, and Roberto Pesqueira, another prominent adviser of General Carranza.

Next week Mr. Lansing will receive delegates from the Villa cause and other independent groups.

DISCUSS PLANS FOR DEFENSE

Prominent Men Meet in Washington in National Conference on Preparedness for War.

Washington, Oct. 4.—Prominent men from all parts of the country interested in the present movement for more adequate preparation for war, gathered here today in the first national defense conference ever held.

The conference is under the direction of the National Defense league, and among the organizations officially participating are the Navy league, United Spanish War veterans, Army and Navy union and National Rifle Association of America. The conference is presided over by Representative Kahn of California, chairman, and Senator Robert F. Brussard of Louisiana, vice-chairman.

Women will play a prominent part in the conference. The women of the Navy league have organized especially for the occasion and the various women's patriotic organizations also are showing their desire to further the cause of national preparedness.

GERMAN SHELL SUPPLY LOW

London, Oct. 4.—"As in the earlier battles of the war the victory in the latest fighting was mainly a question of which side had the biggest supply of shells—our supply was unlimited but the Germans had to economize in ammunition, therefore they lost," writes a London artillery officer in a letter giving a detailed account of the past week's battle in Northern France.

Sues Girl's Mother for Slander.

New York, Oct. 4.—A suit for slander, in which $50,000 damages probably will be asked, was brought against Mrs. Edward Kelly. Mrs. Kelly is the mother of Miss Eugenia Kelly, who last May was arrested on her mother's accusation of incorrigibility and was brought up in court. It was alleged at the time that Miss Eugenia had been wilfully influenced by Al Davis who was then represented as a professional dancer, who was going about with the girl solely because she was rich.

WINNEAPOLIS IS "WET" AS RESULT OF VOTERS' VERDICT

HENNEPIN COUNTY GIVES MAJORITY OF EIGHT THOUSAND IN FAVOR OF RETAINING SALOONS.

CHARGES OF FRAUD ARE MADE

Voters Decide That 423 Saloons in Hennepin County Shall Remain in Business—Minneapolis Largest City in Country to Test Saloon Issue.

Minneapolis, Oct. 5.—That the prohibition forces had been routed by a majority of at least 8,000 was indicated at midnight when returns from 180 precincts out of 193 gave the wets 37,048 and the drys 28,552. Frank E. Aid, head of the saloon forces, estimated at midnight that the wets had carried the county by from 8,000 to 9,000.

The vote in the muncipalties of Minneapolis was generally in favor of the wets and the country vote seemed to give the edge to the drys.

Rev. George B. Safford, head of the dry organization, charged "grossest frauds and illegal voting" as responsible for the large vote polled by the wet forces.

"It now appears that the wets have carried the election," Mr. Stafford said shortly before midnight. "If it had not been for the grossest frauds and illegal voting there would have been no doubt about the results. We are still in the ring however and if we are defeated shall bide our time."

During the day charges were freely made by both sides and much bitterness was shown at the polling places. Three men were arrested at the Seven Corners charged with violating the corrupt practices act. It was said by the police that these men were employes of a brewing company and thye were distributing "wet" hand bills.

Intense enthusiasm marked the street demonstration here last night. As bulletins appeared on the boards before the newspaper offices the crowd would burst into cheers. On the roof of one newspaper building a searchlight swept the skies, the color thrown on the clouds indicating the trend of the vote. A white light signaled that the drys were leading and a green light showed the wets ahead.

As the vote see-sawed early in the night, thousands watched the rays of the searchlight, as they reflected alternately white and green. Adherents of the wet burst into prolonged cheers as the green light showed continually for 20 minutes shortly after 10 o'clock, indicating the wet victory.

Most of the population of Hennepin county is within the city boundary but as there are saloons in all villages and the wet and drys waged their fight vigorously everywhere. Minneapolis with a population of 325,000 has 399 saloons, and is said to be the largest city in the country to test the prohibition issue by ballot. At the headquarters of both the wets and drys many telegrams were received during the day making inquiries as to the probable outcome of the contest and showing wide spread interest in the election.

There are 423 saloons in the county.

NO WORD FROM BULGARIA.

London, Oct. 5.—When the time allotted Bulgaria by the allies, through Russia, to turn her back on Germany, Austria and Turkey, had expired, the expiration of the time limit had brought no immediate surface indications to clarify the situation.

Whether the Russian minister had left the Bulgarian capital, as his government threatened should Bulgaria decline to submit to the Russian ultimatum, Whether Bulgaria dissembled asking for further time, or whether King Ferdinand and his supporters observed silence, is not yet known in London. Either the censorship or the vagaries of wartime cable service, or the two combines, resulted in keeping London in the dark although definite news is expected hourly.

Events have been transpiring, however, in keeping with the fast approaching crisis involving the entry of the Balkans in the European conflict. Russian warships have appeared in the Black sea, off the Bulgarian port of Varna; French and British troops have landed at Saloniki, a Greek port 50 miles south of the Bulgarian frontier, and Bulgarian troops which have been on the move for several days, have been massed in great numbers along the Serbian border.

"Your husband is terrible excited over what he sees in the paper," remarked the neighbor.

"Yes," replied Mrs. Corntossel. "An' I dunno but I'm glad of it. Of course, I don't want the government to have no trouble on my account. But it's a great relief to have him hangin' around the post office waitin' to get somethin' to read besides get-rich-quick circulars.

NO DOUBT THAT RESINOL DOES HEAL SICK SKIN

When you know physicians have prescribed resinol for 20 years in the treatment of eczema and other itching, burning, unsightly skin eruptions, and have written thousands of reports saying: "It is my regular prescription for itching," "Resinol has produced brilliant results," "The result it gave was marvelous in one of the worst cases of eczema," etc., etc., doesn't it make you feel that "this is the treatment I can rely on for MY skin-trouble?" The moment resinol ointment touches itching skins, the itching stops and healing begins. Sold by all druggists.—Adv.

Why That Lame Back?

Morning lameness, sharp twinges when stooping, or a dull, all-day backache; each is cause enough to suspect kidney trouble. Get after the cause. Help the kidneys. We Americans overdo, overeat and neglect our sleep and exercise, and so we are becoming a nation of kidney sufferers. 72% more deaths from kidney disease than in 1890, is the story told by the 1910 census. ASKS STATE'S AID FOR LEPROSARIUM

GOVERNOR REFERS CALIFORNIA HEALTH BOARD REPORT TO DR. BRACKEN.

STATE CAPITOL HAPPENINGS

Events of General Interest in Minnesota Condensed and Revised for The Greater Convenience of Busy Readers.

St. Paul.—Minnesota's aid was asked through Governor Hammond in having established a federal leprosarium. Governor Hiram Johnson of California transmitted a copy of a report of the leprosy committee of the California board of health suggesting establishment of the institution. All the states are being asked to co-operate. The letter of Governor Johnson was sent to Dr. H. M. Bracken, secretary of the state board of health. The federal leprosarium is suggested as a means of reducing the cost to the separate states of caring for lepers.

For Fire Prevention.

R. W. Hargadine, state fire marshal, has sent to every school superintendent in Minnesota a copy of Governor Hammond's proclamation setting aside Saturday, October 9, as the fourth annual observance of Fire Prevention day. As the schools will be closed on that date it is suggested the exercises be held on Friday, preceding.

C. G. Schulze, state superintendent of education, is a firm believer in the benefits which will accrue as a result of the observance of Prevention day and has given his sanction to the distribution of prevention literature among the schools. He also has included a program of exercises.

Mayors of cities and towns, fire chiefs and civic organizations and clubs have been asked to lend their aid. A number already have answered in the affirmative.

High in Health Work.

That Minnesota stands high in public health work, but that the state should have a full-fledged department of health, held aloof from political influence, is the contention of Dr. H. M. Bracken, secretary of the Minnesota state board of health, in a statement made public by him. Dr. Bracken has been in public health service for 18 years. "Methods of state health regulation," said Dr. Bracken, "may be grouped under these three heads: A board or department which has to do purely with public health matters. A state health commissioner acting alone or with a board. A board which has charge not only of public health matters, but also the licensing of physicians."

Corn Grower Wins Medal.

Arthur Hoese of Mayer has won honors at the Panama-Pacific exposition as champion corn grower of Minnesota, says a letter to Governor W. S. Hammond from Charles F. Mills, secretary of the National Topnotch Farmers' club. Mr. Mills reported exposition authorities would forward a medal for Mr. Hoese. Mr. Hoese grew 135.14 bushels of corn on an acre, said to be a new high mark for Minnesota.

Calls in $1,435,000.

Walter J. Smith, state treasurer, called on Minnesota banks to turn in to him $1,435,000 on deposit in the banks, with which to meet the October school apportionment. This represents the total deposits outside of the active checking accounts. About $1,500,000 is expected to be apportioned to the schools from the general school fund. The apportionment will be made by C. G. Schulz, state superintendent of education.

State Treasurer Replies.

Nothing is wrong with the state treasurer's department, Walter J. Smith, treasurer, has announced in a letter written to Miss Jessie E. Scott, secretary of the efficiency and economy commission. The letter is in answer to a request by the commission for recommendations in reforming the state administration. Neither does Mr. Smith believe that any of the present boards should be abolished.

One-half of Deaths Preventable.

The twenty-fourth conference of the State Charities and Correction association came to a close with addresses by Dr. H. M. Bracken, executive officer of the state board of health, and C. C. Stillman, secretary of United Charities. Dr. Bracken discussed the "Economies of Preventive Medicine." About one-half the deaths in Minnesota yearly, he said, are due to preventable diseases.

Opposes Phone Rate Increase.

Mayor Day of Long Prairie appeared before the state railroad commission to oppose the petition of the Long Prairie Telephone company, for permission to increase its rates. The manager asserted the company has spent $12,700 to put in a full metallic circuit and the old rates of $1 for residence and $2 for business telephones are no longer compensatory. The proposed new rates are $1 75 for one party and $1.25 for four-party residence phones, and $2 75 for one-part and $2.25 for two-party telephones.

STATE BREVITIES

Crookston.—The Northwest school of agriculture at Crookston opened tenth year on Oct. 5. The teach training course, which runs for months, opened Sept. 7 with Miss Grace B. Sherwood, instructor.

Herman.—James J. Hill delivered a characteristic address at the Grant county fair in this place. He spoke from an automobile in front of the grandstand. Other speakers were Mr. Smith of St. Paul, and F. W. Murphy of Wheaton.

St. Cloud.—Stephen Zenner, a farmer, was killed when the Great Northern flyer struck the auto in which he was riding at the Osseo crossing. Joe Pohl, son-in-law and driver of the car, rode the pilot several car lengths before dropping off at one side as the train came to a stop.

Rochester.—More than 200 physicians and surgeons from throughout the state were registered here to attend the joint meeting of the Minnesota Public Health association and the Minnesota State Sanitary conference, and 500 were expected to attend the meetings of the Minnesota State Medical association.

Winona.—Children of Peter Speltz, pioneer of Winona county, arrived here to celebrate his 77th birthday. Instead they attended his funeral, for an acute attack of heart disease caused his death. A family reunion had been planned and the guests were met at the stations by Winona relatives, who informed them of Mr. Speltz' death. The funeral was held Friday.

Winona.—Two watches about 400 years old have been brought to Winona by Louis Tell Burkholder, a Swiss watchmaker. One of the watches was made in Paris by Mallet, who died in 1452, and the other was made in Liverpool, Eng., by Hans Hardmann, who died in 1529. The construction of both watches is crude and neither has a lever of escapement. The works are of solid gold.

Perham.—The Perham annual agricultural fair was a success, considering unfavorable weather conditions. More than 1,100 entrance tickets were sold. The cash prize on cattle was awarded to J. L. Sawyer of Butler, the cup to J. W. Kimball of Butler, and the cup for hogs to F. Mattfield of Gormantown. Great interest was shown in all the stock exhibits. The amusements were furnished by carnival companies.

Duluth.—Mrs. Andrew Streem, wife of an Ingleside farmer, is dead with the top of her head blown off by a charge of buckshot and Streem is in jail here charged with murder. John Messner, a neighbor, the only witness, told the police Streem was drunk and said he was going to shoot at his wife to frighten her. Messner left the doorway where he had been standing and heard the shot fired as he turned his back. Streem says the gun was accidentally discharged.

Duluth.—As the cashier of the Duluth Street Railway company turned away from a window at the First National bank with the semi-monthly payroll, he was jostled by two men and a leather sack containing $1,600 was snatched from his hand. It was handed to a third man and he disappeared. The cashier grappled with the man who snatched the sack and held him until the police came. The captive gave his name at headquarters as Ralph P. Miller.

Faribault.—The city council has let the contract for the installation of an electrically driven pump at the city waterworks, and also for the furnishing of the current to run the pump. Councilman Pomadt has been fighting the proposition from the start, and an injunction was served to prevent the council from letting the contract. The matter was in court several days, and was finally set aside by the judge. The contract for the current was let to the Consumers' Power company and runs for a term of 10 years.

Rochester.—Rochester's university faculty in connection with the high school has been completed and the university work is now in progress. First year studies only are offered this year. The faculty includes W. C. Bolcom of the University of Minnesota, instructor in history and English; Miss Belle Comstock, a university graduate, instructor in French, Latin and German; Miss Jane Nesbit, botany, and James B. Mack of the University of Syracuse, instructor in chemistry, physics, and university mathematics.

Duluth.—Six Duluth men had a narrow escape two miles east of Two Harbors when the tug F. W. Gillett, owned by the Jeffrey Towing company of Duluth, sprung a leak, and, becoming unmanageable, had to be abandoned. John Wanless, diver, Captain William Jones and the other four members of the tug's crew saved their lives by rowing through the heavy northeast gale that prevailed, to a scow which the tug was towing. Their distress signals were answered by the tug Edna G., which took off the shipwrecked men.

Brainerd.—The concentrator of the Cuyuna-Sultana mine is working full blast, and shipments of manganiferous ores are under way. The Jun Lake property in section three, inside the village limits of Ironton, is being prospected. The Breitung company is sinking a shaft under the supervision of Captain Jule.

Winona.—Rev. Louis M. Lesches entered a plea of not guilty to the indictment charging assault in the first degree. The plea was entered through counsel before a crowded courtroom. Father Lesches is accused of having shot Bishop Heffron

ENGLISH VERBS TOO MUCH

Frenchman Tried Hard, But Somehow He Couldn't Place Them Where They Belonged.

He was a hard-working and intelligent Frenchman, but the English verbs still troubled him.

"Ay, yes, m'sieur, I saw Mrs. Brown the other day," he said to an American friend, "and she telled—I mean, told—me that her school was soon to break down."

"Break up, surely."

"Ah, yes, break up? Your verbs do trouble me so yet! Break up—that was it!"

"Why was she going to let her school break up so early?"

"Because influenza had broken down in it."

"Broken out. It is a bit puzzling, isn't it?"

"Broken out—ah, yes! And she is going to leave the house in charge of a caretaker, as she fears it might be broken—How do I say that, please?"

"Broken into, I expect."

"That is it. Broken into—by the burglar."

"Is her son married yet?"

"No, the engagement is broken in."

"Broken off. Oh, I hadn't heard of that! Is she worried about it?"

"He only broke up the news to her last week. Is that right?"

"No; you should say just 'broke there.'"

"Ah, well, I'm nearly broke myself by those verbs of yours!"

And he went sadly on his way.—Exchange.

During the first half of last year, more than $22,000,000 worth of diamonds were produced in South Africa.

A DOCTOR'S EXPERIENCE

Medicine Not Needed in This Case.

It is hard to convince some people that coffee does them an injury! They lay their bad feelings to almost every cause but the true and unsuspected one.

But the doctor knows. His wide experience has proven to him that, to some systems, coffee is an insidious poison that undermines the health. Ask him if coffee is a cause of constipation, stomach and nervous troubles.

"I have been a coffee drinker all my life, and when taken sick two years ago with nervous prostration, the doctor said that my nervous system was broken down and that I would have to give up coffee.

"I got so weak and shaky I could not work, and reading an advertisement of Postum I asked my grocer if he had any of it. He said, 'Yes,' and that he used it in his family and it was all it claimed to be.

"So I quit coffee and commenced to use Postum steadily, and in about two weeks I could sleep better and get up in the morning feeling fresh. In about two months I began to gain flesh. I weighed only 146 pounds when I commenced on Postum and now I weigh 167 and feel better than I did at 20 years of age.

"I am working every day and sleep well at night. My two children were coffee drinkers, but they have not drank any since Postum came into the house, and are far more healthy than they were before." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Postum comes in two forms:

Postum Cereal—the original form—must be well boiled. 15c and 25c packages.

Instant Postum—a soluble powder—dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water, and, with cream and sugar, makes a delicious beverage instantly. 30c and 50c tins.

Both kinds are equally delicious and cost about the same per cup.

Had Liquidated.

"Look here, waiter. Eighty cents is an outrageous price for a portion of asparagus."

"Yes, sir, but you see, sir, we're putting on a very expensive cabaret show, and—"

"I know all about the cabaret show. I paid for that with the soup."

Do You Arrest for Spending?

"A speedometer indicates how fast one is going."

"So does one bank balance."

Talking It Over.

"Mah husban' ain't been arrested in 25 years."

"Mine's up fo' life, too."

Useful in His Day.

"Nobody mentions the sea serpent any more," remarked the reminiscent person.

"Yes," replied Mr. Growcher; "and I must confess I miss him. The sea serpent was one of our most useful animals."

"But they say he never existed."

"I don't care whether he existed or not. He provided conversation about the ocean that did not threaten international misunderstandings of any kind."

Are They Still Friends?

The young women present were discussing their ages. And one of the girls said:

"I don't know what it is about my appearance, but everybody always guesses me a lot younger than I really am."

And another of the girls answered, oh, so sweetly:

"Oh, that's after they have heard you talk, isn't it, dear?"

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

THIS is the caution applied to the public announcement of Castoria that has been manufactured under the supervision of Chas. H. Fletcher for over 30 years—the genuine Castoria. We respectfully call the attention of fathers and mothers when purchasing Castoria to see that the wrapper bears his signature in black. When the wrapper is removed the same signature appears on both sides of the bottle in red. Parents who have used Castoria for their little ones in the past years need no warning against counterfeits and imitations, but our present duty is to call the attention of the younger generation to the great danger of introducing into their families spurious medicines.

It is to be regretted that there are people who are now engaged in the nefarious business of putting up and selling all sorts of substitutes, or what should more properly be termed counterfeits, for medicinal preparations not only for adults, but worse yet, for children's medicines. It therefore devolves on the mother to scrutinize closely what she gives her child. Adults can do that for themselves, but the child has to rely on the mother's watchfulness.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chat H. Fletcher

EVIDENTLY NOT AN ARTIST

Judging From Comment, Bilkins Had a Good Deal to Learn About Photography.

Young Bilkins is an enthusiastic devotee of amateur photography. He always insists upon "taking" his family and friends posed in more or less artistic attitudes.

Not long ago there was an exhibition of the work of a local photographic club to which the young fellow belongs, and where were displayed the results of certain of his efforts to immortalize his family and friends. In one corner hung a group of figures twisted into the most extraordinary positions, the general effect being that of persons in various stages of paralysis.

"Who in the world are those queer-looking people?" asked someone.

"Oh, those are some of Bilkins' strained relations," said a bystander.

Warrior of Today.

George Wharton Pepper said at a luncheon at the Pittsburgh training camp for officers:

"The methods of warfare have changed enormously in the past year. The sword, for example, is no longer carried. The sword has quite disappeared from war.

"A story comes from the Argonne about a French chasseur who took a German officer prisoner. The chasseur, a boy, a tyro, said to the officer:

"'Give up your sword.'

"But the officer shook his head and answered:

"'I have no sword to give up. But won't my vitriol spray, my oil projector or my gas cylinder do as well?'"

Implement Generally Used.

"Sir, we are starting a new railroad and want your daughter to drive the first spike."

"I have no doubt she will consider it an honor to officiate."

"Thank you. We have provided a small gold spike. Also a silver hammer."

"One minute. I don't think she could drive a spike with a hammer. Better provide a hair brush."

Paw Still on the Job.

Little Lemuel—What's a book-worm, paw?

Paw—It's a worm that would rather digest a book by eating it than by reading it.

If you are able to appear indifferent the man who wants to sell you his dog finally will give him to you.

Assisting Ambition

Men of ambition—with the desire to forge ahead—need revitalizing food to help them to compel success.

Grape-Nuts

is a success food. It is made from whole wheat and malted barley and, pound for pound, contains far more "go" and "get there" than ordinary foods.

It retains all the nutriment of the grains, including their natural mineral salts—Phosphate of Potash, etc., often lacking in ordinary food, but essential to thorough upbuilding of sinew, brain and nerves.

Grape-Nuts is partially predigested and agrees with all. It's the ideal vigor-food for child and adult.

HIS OWN GUARD ON WAY TO JAIL

David Esaacson Hopes in Prison to Invent Something for Government.

MAN OF MANY PARTS

Had Premonition of Fate and Feels He Will Still Be of Some Use—Believes in Upholding Law.

Atlanta, Ga.—David Esaacson, bowed by age and troubles, poor as a church mouse, inventor, alchemist, dreamer, swindler, on his way to the federal prison here, boarded the steamship City of Columbus at her pier in New York city. Searching out Captain Diehl of the steamer, Esaacson announced himself as a United States officer, charged with taking a prisoner to Atlanta.

"And where is the prisoner?" asked Captain Diehl.

"I am the prisoner," Esaacson replied to the astonished captain. "I am at once prisoner on parole and my own guard, for I have given my word that I will deliver myself."

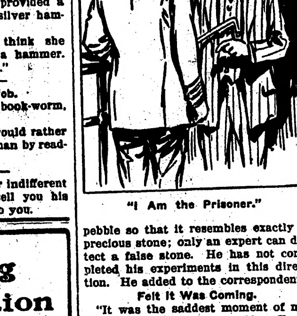
Esaacson, sixty years old, was convicted in the federal court in New York city of having used the United States mails to swindle many persons through a manufacturing company, of which he was president. Esaacson was sentenced to imprisonment of a year and a day in the federal prison here and to pay a fine of $200.

Passengers Ignorant.

Not knowing who he was, Esaacson's fellow passengers were delighted with him; his conversation proved him a man of the world; the seascapes he painted delighted the other voyagers. Landing at Savannah, Esaacson dallied there a day or two, then came here and relieved himself of his duty as a deputy United States marshal; he delivered himself to the warden of the jail. Esaacson said:

"Marshal McCarthy is one of the best of God's noblemen. He said to me: 'Esaacson, I am going to let you take yourself to Atlanta, not because I am partial to you—for I would do this for any man in whom I had confidence—but because your case has appealed very strongly to me.' Such kindness from a man accustomed to handling prisoners penetrated the very core of my being."

Esaacson claims to have rediscovered an art which the ancient Etruscans practiced—that of enameling a pebble so that it resembles exactly a precious stone; only an expert can detect a false stone. He has not completed his experiments in this direction. He added to the correspondent:



"I Am the Prisoner."

Felt It Was Coming.

"It was the saddest moment of my whole life the day I left New York. I never felt so crushed in spirit, but I am going to bear it philosophically. For, believe it or not, this series of experiences was preordained. Years ago I had a premonition that certain events would occur in my life; I could almost see the future and discern their nature."

Esaacson derided the accusation that he had bled his dupes for $500,000.

"A few thousand, a few thousand," he said, "of which I have not a centime now.

"Old as I am, I have not completed my work, my honest work, by a great deal," he concluded. "While in Atlanta I shall continue that work, pursue my discoveries, and, together with my painting, I shall keep busy. Some day—and I can see it as clearly as I see the light now—I shall invent something that will be of use to the United States government, in the enforcement of whose laws I believe thoroughly. My experience will be one that in years to come will bring some benefit, and if I can devote myself while in Atlanta toward the invention of something that will be of service to Uncle Sam, I shall not count my time as having been spent in vain."

BRITISH SUBMARINE OFFICER HAS STRANGEST EXPERIENCE THAT HAS BEFALLEN ANY MAN DURING WAR.

PUSHES AHEAD OF HIM RAFT WITH EXPLOSIVES

Lieutenant Hughes Leaves Sub-Sea Craft to Destroy Viaduct, But Cliffs Prove Unscalable At Landing—He Then Dynamites Railroad Crossing and Plunges Into Sea.

London, Oct. 11.—How Lieutenant D'Oyly Hughes, attached to a British submarine operating in the Sea of Marmora, swam from the craft, pushing ahead of him a raft bearing explosives with which he made a breach in the Turkish railway skirting the beach, is related in an official report given out here. This statement, chronicling perhaps the strangest experience that has befallen any man during this war, says:

"His weapons consisted of an automatic service pistol and a sharpened bayonet. He also carried an electric torch and a whistle.

Climbs to Railway.

"The cliffs proved unscalable at the first point of landing. He therefore relaunched his raft until a less precipitous spot was reached, and after a stiff climb and a considerable march he reached the railway.

"Sighting a viaduct," continues the statement, "he planned to destroy that, but abandoned the idea because of the presence of enemy workmen. He then selected a brick culvert under which he placed a charge of explosive and lighted a fuse.

Escapes to Sea.

"He effected an escape by running a mile down the railway and plunged into the sea just as the explosive went off. Debris was scattered near him, indicating that the explosion was effective.

"Having blown his whistle to summon the submarine, the lieutenant swam out to sea. However, on sighting the submarine he mistook it for a group of Turkish row boats, whereupon he swam toward shore. Subsequently he discovered his mistake and again entered the water. He was rescued by the submarine when he was on the verge of exhaustion."

ST. LOUIS COUNTY IS SHORT

Discrepancies in Office of County Treasurer, Amounting to $3,000 Reported to Examiner.

Duluth, Minn., Oct. 11.—Following a two weeks' examination of the books in County Treasurer George Vivian's office, Charles R. Boostrum last night submitted a report to Andrew E. Fritz, public examiner for Minnesota, showing discrepancies and shortages in the office accounts, amounting to more than $3,000.

The discrepancies are held to indicate malfeasance on the part of assistants in the treasurer's office.

The examination was conducted at the express request of County Treasurer Vivian. During September he found several accounts that aroused his suspicion and resulted in the dismissal, pending the report of the public examiner, of Joseph T. Nelson, deputy treasurer, and Gust L. Wedan, one of the bookkeepers in the office.

Vassar Semicentennial Exercises.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Oct. 11.—Alumnae commemorative exercises to celebrate the semicentennial of the founding of Vassar college by the wealthy brewer Mathew Vassar were held here today. This morning addresses were delivered by three prominent Vassar graduates—Mary A. Jordan, professor of English at Smith college; Ellen C. Semple, and Julia C. Lathrop, chief of the children's bureau of the United States department of labor. In the afternoon the students presented the "Pageant of Minerva."

Teamster's Words Would Have Required Adjustment Before Their Use in the Pulpit.

A man was brought before a police court charged with abusing his team and using loud and profane language on the street. One of the witnesses was a pious old darky, who was submitted to a short cross-examination

"Did the defendant use improper language while he was beating his horses?" asked the lawyer.

"Well he talk mighty loud, suh."

"Did he indulge in profanity?"

The witness seemed puzzled. The lawyer put the question in another form:

"What I mean, Uncle Aus, is—did he use words that would be proper for your minister to use in a sermon?"

"Oh, yes suh," the old man replied with a grin that revealed the full width of his immense mouth; "but dey'd have to be 'ranged diff'runt."—Everybody's Magazine.

"And the old parlor light will never burn low for him again."

"You don't mean it?"

"I am astonished."

Sick Women Attention

Is it possible there is a woman in this country who continues to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial after all the evidence that is continually being published, which proves beyond contradiction that this grand old medicine has relieved more suffering among women than any other one medicine in the world?

We have published in the newspapers of the United States more genuine testimonial letters than have ever been published in the interest of any other medicine for women—and every year we publish many new testimonials, all genuine and true. Here are three never before published:

From Mrs. S. T. Richmond, Providence, R. I.

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—"For the benefit of women who suffer as I have done I wish to state what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I did some heavy lifting and the doctor said it caused a displacement. I have always been weak and I overworked after my baby was born and inflammation set in, then nervous prostration, from which I did not recover until I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The Compound is my best friend and when I hear of a woman with troubles like mine I try to induce her to take your medicine."—Mrs. S. T. RICHMOND, 84 Progress Avenue, Providence, R.I.

From Mrs. Maria Irwin, Peru, N.Y.

PERU, N.Y.—"Before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was very irregular and had much pain. I had lost three children, and felt worn out all the time. This splendid medicine helped me as nothing else had done, and I am thankful every day that I took it."—Mrs. MARIA IRWIN, R.F.D. 1, Peru, N.Y.

From Mrs. Jane D. Duncan, W. Quincy, Mass.

SOUTH QUINCY, MASS.—"The doctor said that I had organic trouble and he doctored me for a long time and I did not get any relief. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised and I tried it and found relief before I had finished the first bottle. I continued taking it all through middle life and am now a strong, healthy woman and earn my own living."—Mrs. JANE D. DUNCAN, Forest Avenue, West Quincy, Mass.

STATE BREVITIES

Elbow Lake. — Alfred Bjornerud, aged 27, and Eddie Christopherson, 19, were arrested here, charged with attempting to wreck Soo train 105 on the night of October 1 at the crossing of the Soo and Great Northern tracks.

Montevideo.—Mildred Bentley was on her way back to Montevideo, the romance in her life crushed by the suicide of her fiance, Second Lieutenant Karl Fosnes, First infantry, U. S. A., found dead in his room at Schofield barracks, Honolulu.

Mankato.—Seven school districts in this county, all close to Garden City, have voted on the question of consolidation with the central school to be at Garden City. The proposition carried by 55 majority. The election was preceded by a bitter fight, and it is expected litigation will follow.

Detroit.—Settlement of the dispute over the Indian lands in the White Earth district was discussed at a conference here attended by Senator Clapp and others. A proposal to submit the matter to a commission and thus end long litigation was considered. The government has been trying to settle the matter by litigation for years and has spent from $300,000 to $400,000.

St. Paul.—Minnesota has been released from quarantine for foot-and-mouth disease, according to advices from Washington. The quarantine had been imposed on certain townships in Dodge county. Only one case of the disease is said to have appeared there. The federal authorities and the state live stock sanitary board took co-operative action to stamp out the disease and prevent its spread.

St. Cloud.—Prizes for nearly $150 were distributed to the 34 students in Stearns county who won premiums at the Stearns county fair for having raised the best potatoes. Preliminary contests were first held at 18 points throughout the county and the best six in each district competed at the county fair. In the district contests there were 400 entries or nearly double the number that competed a year ago.

Long Prairie.—In the case of the state against Chris Altenberg, charged with the murder of his brother-in-law, Anton Larson, last February, the defendant entered a plea of guilty to a charge of manslaughter in the first degree and was sentenced to hard labor at Stillwater until released by due process of law. This means imprisonment of at least five years and unless paroled or pardoned he must serve 20 years.

Waseca.—"Christianity on Trial" was the subject of an address made by Dr. Cyrus Northrop, president emeritus of the University of Minnesota, before the general Congregational conference here. Dr. Northrop made an eloquent plea for greater unity among Christian denominations. He dwelt upon the devastation caused by the European war and the fact that none of the warring nations will admit responsibility for starting it.

Duluth.—Parting from the steamer William H. Sawyer when its towline snapped near Sand island, the schooner Tuxbury, owned by the Hamilton Transportation company, with Captain John Smith and a crew of seven men aboard, drifted all night in the lake and was picked up by the steamer Jesse Spalding. The schooner Alice Norris went adrift with the Tuxbury and made the Duluth harbor under sail before a 46-mile gale. The schooner Limit of Superior broke from the tug Moose.

Le Sueur Center.—Dr. J. A. Dudos, who was charged with the murder of an infant 10 years ago, when the complainant, Mrs. Mary Petersdorf, supposed aunt of the infant, was declared insane, following her testimony that the physician had strangled her infant nephew at birth and at the point of a revolver had made her promise never to reveal the case, was cleared on trial here. The defense produced experts and the court declared the complainant insane and the case was dismissed.

Winona.—Mrs. Mary Fricke, 48 years old, was awarded a verdict of $400 against William Ramin, 55 years old, for breach of promise. The trial took place before Judge Granger in district court here. The plaintiff, who sought to recover $5,000, is a widow and lives at Austin. The defendant is a farmer in this county and is a widower. The defense was that the promise to marry was incidental, depending upon the marriage of Ramin's daughter. The testimony was heard by a crowded courtroom.

Luverne.—Rock county is awakening to the importance of good roads. A year or two ago the state road running from this city eastward to the Nobles county line was constructed. It is the best and most scientifically built highway in this section of the country. The county commissioners have now awarded the contract for the building of five miles more of state road and for the construction of three large concrete steel bridges and 60 concrete culverts. The new road will start on section 34 in Denver township.

Faribault.—Nearly the full amount of stock for the establishment of a packing plant in Faribault has been subscribed. Local business men are back of the project and it is expected to have the plant in operation next year. Seventy-five men will be employed within a year. An architect is drawing plans for the new plant.

Northfield.—In order to cut advertising expenditures, business men have organized the Northfield Ad club, to be affiliated with the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World. This is the first club in Minnesota outside Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth

MILLIONS GIVEN STATE SCHOOLS

DISTRIBUTION MADE BY SUPERINTENDENT—FUNDS EARN $11,721,675.

STATE CAPITOL HAPPENINGS

Events of General Interest in Minnesota Condensed and Revised for The Greater Convenience of Busy Readers.

St. Paul.—The permanent school funds of the state since 1863 have earned $11,721,674.90, according to figures prepared by Walter J. Smith, state treasurer, on the eve of the October school apportionment. The principal was turned over to the schools for the support of education in Minnesota. The total does not include one cent of taxation. All the money was earned by investments made with the school funds and represents the interest which has accrued since establishment of the funds. More than $3,000,000 was distributed to the schools by C. G. Schulz, state superintendent of education.

Funds May Not Be Available.

Attorney General Smith will be asked for an opinion as to whether the $2,000 appropriated by the Legislature under the joint resolution creating the efficiency and economy committee is available.

State Auditor Preus probably will ask for the opinion. It is not believed that the appropriation will be available, since the resolution was not certified to the Governor.

In that case, the members of the committee will have to pay their own expenses when they attend the meetings of the committee, and look to the next session of the Legislature for reimbursement.

If the appropriation is not available, the committee probably will not attempt to employ an accountant or a stenographer of its own, but will avail itself of the offers made by Governor Hammond and State Auditor Preus, to allow employes of their departments to give as much time as they can spare to the service of the committee.

The auditor's office will furnish an accountant and the Governor's office a stenographer.

Increases County Taxes.

The Minnesota Tax Commission has increased the assessed value of personal property in Ramsey county by $988,668. The returns of the county board showed the assessed value to be $29,834,989. As equalized by the tax commission the value is $30,823,657. In Minneapolis the commission added $1,306,737 to the total of $40,040,263 returned by the Hennepin county board. In the whole of Hennepin county the tax commission added $1,421,646, bringing the total valuation as equalized to $43,658,316. The increases in both counties on household goods were 10 per cent.

State Mine Produces.

Word was received by J. A. O. Preus, state auditor, that the Philbin mine, owned by the state, has entered the producing class. "Its output this season," said Mr. Preus, "will not be very great, but the deposit of ore contained in the mine is sufficiently large to insure good-sized shipments for some years to come. The records show an admitted tonnage of approximately 4,000,000 tons. The mine probably will yield $1,000,000 to the state in royalties."

Butter-Makers to Meet.

Scoring in the September butter and cheese contest of the dairy and food department started. The scorers are James Sorenson and S. G. Gustafson. More than 200 tubs were entered. The final educational contest of the year will be held at the annual meeting of the Minnesota Butter and Cheesemakers' association in Minneapolis next month. Entries must be in St. Paul by October 20.

Appeals Rate Reduction.

S. D. Works, state insurance commissioner, has been served notice of an appeal by the General Inspection company of Minneapolis from his recent order reducing the rate on public school property in Duluth. Mr. Works directed a reduction of the rate from $1.64 per $100 for a five-year period to $1.43 per $100. He held that the old rate was discriminatory.

* * *

For New Highways.

The state highway commission has taken up the question of appropriations for two proposed state roads 101 miles long in Cass county. The roads would cost $250,000. If established they will be built under the Elwell law, the state paying half the cost in 10 annual installments.

To Stop Bible Reading.

The Mankato school district has been offered another chance not to be cut off from state aid for the high school and has accepted it. The board of education received a letter from C. G. Schulz of the department of education, saying that if the board would see to it that reading of the Bible in the high school was eliminated, he would include the Mankato school on the list to receive state aid, as heretofore. The board passed a resolution complying with the requirements of the state board.

Nothing New.

"I see," said Bilkins, "that a French scientist has discovered a method for staving off old age."

"Well, what of it?" demanded Wilkins. "There's nothing new in that. A man can stave off old age by jumping off the Eiffel tower, or dropping a lighted match in a powder barrel while sitting on it, or by rocking the boat when he's out on the water, or by riding over Niagara falls sitting astride of a log. Those French scientists make me tired with their hullabaloo over nothing."—Harper's Weekly.

What Mamma Said.

Little pitchers not only have long ears, but wide mouths sometimes. One of these is in Buffalo, and when the bell rang the other day, she went to the door, where she found some ladies.

"My dear," said one, "will you please tell your mother that we would like to see her?"

The child departed silently, and after a while returned, sat down and silently watched the callers.

"Well," said one at length, "and what did mamma say?"

"She said, 'Oh, dear. I don't want to, but I s'pose I must.'"

Equatorial Michigan.

Representative Billy Wilson, who dwells in Chicago, found himself in the upper peninsula of Michigan doing some fishing and hunting. While there he conversed with the guide that he had hired in order to have somebody around to talk to.

"Must get mighty all-fired cold up here in winter," remarked Wilson one morning.

"Yes, it often gets away down to 45 below zero," replied the native.

"Don't see how you stand it," said the congressman.

"Oh, I always spend my winters in the South," explained the guide.

"Go South, eh? Well, well! That's enterprising. And where do you go?"

"Grand Rapids," said the guide.—Collier's Weekly.

HARD ON CHILDREN

When Teacher Has Coffee Habit.

"Best is best, and best will ever live." When a person feels this way about Postum they are glad to give testimony for the benefit of others.

A school teacher down in Miss. says: "I had been a coffee drinker since my childhood, and the last few years it had injured me seriously.

"One cup of coffee taken at breakfast would cause me to become so nervous that I could scarcely go through with the day's duties, and this nervousness was often accompanied by deep depression of spirits and heart palpitation.

"I am a teacher by profession, and when under the influence of coffee had to struggle against crossness when in the school room.

"When talking this over with my physician, he suggested that I try Postum, so I purchased a package and made it carefully according to directions; found it excellent of flavour, and nourishing.

"In a short time I noticed very gratifying effects. My nervousness disappeared, I was not irritated by my pupils, life seemed full of sunshine, and my heart troubled me no longer.

"I attribute my change in health and spirits to Postum alone."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Postum comes in two forms:

Postum Cereal—the original form—must be well boiled. 15c and 25c packages.

Instant Postum—a soluble powder—dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water, and, with cream and sugar, makes a delicious beverage instantly. 30c and 50c tins.

Both kinds are equally delicious and cost about the same per cup.

"There's a Reason" for Postum.

CONTINENTAL ARMY 400,000 STRONG, IS PLAN OF GARRISON

CITIZEN RESERVE, A REGULAR ARMY OF 140,000 AND MILITIA OF 125,000 WOULD GIVE U. S. FORCE OF 650,000.

PROGRAM FOR NATIONAL DEFENSE IS COMPLETED

Proposes Total Expenditure on Army and Navy Next Year of About $400,000,000—Secretary Daniels' Naval Construction Program Is Approved.

PLAN FOR NATIONAL DEFENSE

NAVY.

Five-year program — 10 dreadnaughts, 6 battle cruisers, 70 submarines, 50 destroyers, 10 scout cruisers, host of auxiliary craft.

First year—2 dreadnaughts, 2 battle cruisers, 25 coast submarines, 5 seagoing submarines, 12 destroyers, 3 scout cruisers.

ARMY.

Regulars, 140,000 men; continental army, 400,000; increased national guard.

AVIATION.

Two new detachments.

EXPENDITURES—1916.

Estimated at $400,000,000.

Washington, Oct. 18.—The administration program for national defense to be recommended to the forthcoming session of Congress, proposing a total expenditure on the army and navy next year of about $400,000,000, is practically completed.

Secretary Garrison's plan, approved by the President, calls for an increase of $75,000,000 in the war department's annual appropriation to be used for augmenting the regular army to 140,000 men and the creation of a new continental army of 400,000 men, which, together with the militia of 125,000, would give the United States a military force in time of need of 665,000.

$500,000,000 For Navy.

Approval also was given to the proposal of Secretary Daniels and the general board of the navy for a five-year naval construction program to cost $500,000,000, giving the navy 10 new dreadnaughts and six battle cruisers, as well as more than 70 submarines, 50 destroyers, 10 scout cruisers and a host of auxiliary ships.

Discuss Number of Ships.

Secretary Daniels and members of the general board were in conference until late at night, discussing the exact number of ships to be recommended for the first year and a scheme for equalizing the expenditures over the five-year period.

The program for the first year, which seemed likely of adoption, called for two battle cruisers, two dreadnaughts, 25 coast submarines, 5 seagoing submarines, 12 destroyers, three scout ships and 8,000 increase in personnel.

Secretary Garrison has carefully guarded his plan for strengthening the military establishment and organizing a great continental army for defense.

The program proposes:

First—Regular army 140,000 men, an increase of more than 50,000 men in the present establishment.

Second—A continental army, 400,000 strong, enlisted for six years for service within the continental United States. These men would serve two months a year for the first three years with the colors, undergoing a period of intensive training. The remaining three years they would be on furlough, subject to call in time of need.

Increases in Army.

Behind this army would be the national guard, now some 125,000 strong, but whose numbers might be substantially augmented by the organization of the continental army. The plans contemplate the transfer of such National guard officers and men as desire it into the continental army, and more liberal treatment of the guardsmen would be urged, and an increase of these state forces encouraged in every possible way.

Increases in the regular establishment contemplated are:

Infantry—Ten regiments. Field artillery—Four regiments. Coast artillery—Fifty-two companies. Engineer corps—Fifteen companies.

Aviation corps—Two detachments.

All of these new commands would be organized at peace strength. Adequate supplies of small arms and field guns and howitzers and of reserve ammunition for the enlarged establishment would be sought.

U. S. Demands Surrender of Passport.

New York, Oct. 16.—Representatives of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice have demanded that Max Loudon, who says he is of the German nobility, surrender a passport issued by the United States government last July. Loudon was held here in default of bail on a bigamy charge. Mrs. Rose O'Brien of Albion, N. Y., and Amelie Wendt of Poughkeepsie, both of whom Loudon is accused of marrying, were expected to come here at the request of the district attorney.

OPPOSES U. S. OWNING ROADS

I. C. C. MEMBER ADVISES PUBLIC OWNERSHIP AS LAST RESORT.

Clements Holds Politics Would Figure too Largely in Management of Government-owned Lines.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 18.—Judson C. Clements, of Washington, D. C., a members of the Interstate Commerce commission, declared against government ownership of railroads while speaking here at the final session of the twenty-seventh annual convention of the National Association of Railroad Commissioners. He held politics would figure too largely in the management of government-owned roads.

Only as Last Resort.

Mr. Clements made his statement while explaining the work of the Interstate Commerce commission in determining the valuation of the railroads of the United States, as ordered by the federal valuation act of 1913.

"Public ownership should be resorted to only as a last resort," he said. "The country is not ready to assume control yet.

"With the determination of the valuation of the roads and the new factors of railroad control now entering into play, it would be possible to devise a plan to abolish the evils of the railroad question more easily than by public purchase."

CRUISER SUNK OFF FINLAND

Naval Battle Between Russian and German Warships Has Occurred Belief—Zeppelin Raids Coast.

SECOND GERMAN SHIP SUNK.

London, Oct. 16.—Dispatches to the evening newspapers here say that a second German torpedo boat was sunk by the British submarine E-19 near Faxe.

London, Oct. 16.—War's interest turned for the moment from land to sea. Copenhagen reports told of the sinking by a British submarine of a German destroyer, after a battle with a cruiser and two destroyers. The cruiser and remaining destroyer fled. The action took place in the Sound, a narrow strait between Denmark and Sweden.

At the same time, a Stockholm dispatch told of a sea battle in the Gulf of Finland off Porkala peninsula, 20 miles southwest of Helsingfors, in which one cruiser was reported sunk and another badly damaged.

It is presumed that the action was between German and Russian warships.

No details of the engagement were received.

The account of the British-German naval battle from Copenhagen, says:

Craft Moved in Circles.

"The German craft moved in circles to avoid the attack of the submarine, which was bombarded heavily. This continued for some time until the submarine lodged a torpedo in the destroyer, which sank with a terrific explosion. The other German warships are said to have retreated.

"A sharp lookout from the Danish coast is being kept, but no survivors have been found."

Charleston, S. C., Oct. 16.—Sidney J. Cohen, a newspaper political writer, was killed and four men were shot in a gun battle that occurred here just outside the room where the democratic city executive committee was to meet to canvass the returns of the municipal primary last Tuesday.

It is said the shooting occurred at the moment set for calling the meeting to order and that the boxes containing the ballots to be canvassed by the committee were thrown into the street. Great confusion followed and excitement in the city is intense.

Many shortage reports were sent to the company on shipments to points in Iowa passing through Elmore.

Thief River Falls.—A picture of a woman, thumb marked, faded and yellow, but which a gray and bent man refused to part with, promises to be the means to reveal the life tragedy ended with his suicide here. Every mark of identification had been removed from the clothing. There was nothing in the pocket but the photograph. It was made apparently years ago by Rhode & Schultz of Chicago.

Duluth.—That the seamen's act, which will go into effect November 4, be suspended for sixty days to allow the lake vessels to care for the huge crops which must be moved eastward, was the gist of a resolution adopted by the public affairs committee of the Commercial club at a meeting held here. If the law is enforced, it was contended in the resolution, it will tie up boats and leave all the grain remaining to be moved after November 4 at this end of the lakes.

Duluth.—"If you wish to make people see the advantages of the gospel you have to do as other good advertisers make them realize they need your goods, said Rev. More advertisements and more snap will fill the empty seats, he said. Mrs. Hobart of St. Paul discussed methods of interesting children in missionary work.

She is believed to be a member of a gang of smugglers who have been bringing the drug into this country from Canada. Her frequent trips aroused suspicion.

Walker, Minn. — Chippewa Indian men, women and children are baring their arms to a squad of physicians at the agency this week, in order to come in for the $18.50 annuity checks which are being issued from the Leech Lake agency office. Owing to a new ruling of the department, every Indian has to be vaccinated before he can draw his annuity check. Some of the Indians take the matter as a joke while others are remonstrating and causing not a little confusion to the work of the pay clerks.

Minneapolis.—Governors of all the federal reserve banks of the United States will meet in Minneapolis, Wednesday, Oct. 20. It will be the first meeting of the governors outside Washington, except a conference in Chicago in June. "We will be able to show the governors a remarkable situation," Governor Theodore Wold of the ninth district federal reserve bank, Minneapolis, said. "We have an enormous crop to finance, yet the bank deposits of the city are the largest ever known and there is a loaning power on the part of the commercial banks here of $20,000,000 to $25,000,000 that is not yet utilized. Money rates are low. I do not recall a like situation in my experience."

CHEAP BUILDINGS HELD DANGEROUS

WORKS ADVOCATES STATE SUPERVISION OVER INSURANCE POLICIES IN MINNESOTA.

STATE CAPITOL HAPPENINGS

Events of General Interest in Minnesota Condensed and Revised for The Greater Convenience of Busy Readers.

St. Paul.

Direct state supervision over every fire insurance policy issued on property within Minnesota is advocated by S. D. Works, insurance commissioner, in a report made by him to the efficiency and economy commission. Mr. Works asks that all policies be submitted to his department for approval, not only to prevent discrimination in the matter of rates, but also "as a wholesome check on over-insurance." In this connection he points out that over-insurance inevitably increases fire hazard, through the reward it offers possible incendiaries.

The insurance commissioner's communication was filed in response to a request addressed to all state departments by the efficiency and economy commission for suggestions. Elsewhere in his report he makes the charge that buildings of poor construction no better than firetraps are being put up widely throughout the state. He suggests that a competent inspector be added to his department to co-operate with architects and to be given authority to prevent the erection of dangerous buildings.

Pardon Refused Trio.

The state board of pardons granted three pardons and 16 commutations of sentence, but again blasted the hopes of the Columbia Heights murderers, Orlin Kalderwit, John Kolb and Charles Hammon. Their application, continued from a previous meeting, was denied. The three men were sent to Stillwater May 16, 1905. Kalderwit for life and each of the others for 30 years, for the murder of little Freddie King. The three men held up a crowd in a Columbia Heights saloon and in the excitement one of them fired a shot which killed 9-year-old Freddie King. The trio were arrested and identified, but always have claimed that it was a case of mistaken identity.

Absolute pardons granted were as follows:

Joe Spradley, sent to the reformatory April 17 from Hennepin county for third degree burglary.

George Wilmot, sent to prison April 10, 1915, from Hennepin county for assault with intent to kill.

Edward Gordon, sent to prison Nov. 21, 1912, from Polk county for grand larceny, second degree.

Farmers' and Home-Makers' Week.

The biggest and best Farmers' and Home-Makers' week in the history of the Minnesota College of Agriculture is the aim of the committee which is now making arrangements for the week's work. An effort will be made to secure an attendance of not less than 1,500.

Similar weeks at other agricultural colleges in the country draw even larger numbers, and, with the interest which exists in Minnesota in better farming and right home-making, the people at the college of agriculture feel that 1,500 is not an impossible mark for the next Farmers' and Home-Makers' week.

The date set is January 3-8, 1916. This brings the week at a time when students of the school of agriculture are at home for the winter holidays and the large dormitories on the campus will be available for the use of those who attend the short course.

State Erects Monument.

A monument erected by the state in the cemetery here in memory of those who lost their lives in the fire of Sept. 1, 1894, which destroyed Brook Park, Hinckley and Sandstone, was dedicated. Attack Warehouse Law.

An attack on the law which went into effect Oct. 1, compelling all storage warehouses to pay $100 a year license and to assume a $50,000 bond was begun by three Duluth firms, papers being served on the railroad and warehouse commission. The firms go into court at Duluth to ask for an injunction restraining the commission from enforcing the law.

Operating conditions in the state insurance department are reviewed in a report filed by the public examiner through Deputy Examiner Swan B. Molander. The report covers the fiscal year ended July 31, last. The department, during the year, expended $85,817.49, the net cost of its operation having been $35,635.54, or an increase of $5,155.73. Fees increased only $2,506.27. The report calls attention to the fact that the last legislature considerably increased the scope of the department's work, increasing the cost of operation.

WOMAN REFUSES OPERATION

Tells How She Was Saved by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Louisville, Ky.—"I think if more suffering women would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound they would enjoy better health. I suffered from a female trouble, and the doctors decided I had a tumorous growth and would have to be operated upon, but I refused as I do not believe in operations. I had fainting spells, bloated, and could hardly stand the pain in my left side. My husband insisted that I try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am so thankful I did, for I am now a well woman. I sleep better, do all my housework and take long walks. I never fail to praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for my good health."—Mrs. J. M. RESCH, 1900 West Broadway, Louisville, Ky.

Since we guarantee that all testimonials which we publish are genuine, is it not fair to suppose that if Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has the virtue to help these women it will help any other woman who is suffering in a like manner?

If you are ill do not drag along until an operation is necessary, but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Going It Too Hard

We are inclined nowadays to "go it too hard;" to overwork, worry, eat and drink too much, and to neglect our rest and sleep. This fills the blood with uric acid. The kidneys weaken and then it's a siege of backache, dizzy, nervous spells, rheumatic pains and distressing urinary disorders. Don't wait for worse troubles. Strengthen the kidneys. N. P. ENGINEER RIDES TO DEATH IN TRAIN CRASH

TWENTY-ONE ARE INJURED WHEN TWO TRAINS COME TOGETHER NEAR STERLING, NORTH DAKOTA.

STICKS TO HIS POST AND BACK IS BROKEN

Air Brakes Fail to Work and Passenger Train Crashes into Freight—Several North Dakotans Are Among the Injured—Fireman's Leg Is Broken.

Mandan, Oct. 18.—An engineer who stuck to his post was the only one killed in a railroad wreck at Angora Siding Saturday afternoon, though 21 were injured. John Wantland of Jamestown, engineer of a Northern Pacific passenger train, rode to his death at the little station west of Sterling, to save the lives of passengers in the crowded coaches of his train. Despite his sacrifice his unruly engine slid and snorted head on into the engine of an east-bound stock train and twenty-one persons were hurled from their seats and injured.

Thrown Eighty Feet

Wantland was thrown eighty feet through the cab window. His back was broken and he died five minutes after he was picked up.

List of Injured.

Mrs. J. L. Sinclair, Jamestown, N. D., face badly cut; Miss Alida Peterson, Dawson, teeth knocked out; Mrs. Mary Zebling, Richardton, N. D., right arm broken; Anna Kjelland, Linton, N. D., arm broken; Mrs. Lydia Oliver, Bismarck, head cut; Conductor Peter Delmore, long cut on back of head.

Others injured in various ways, mostly severely bruised, were: Delia A. Taylor, Linton; C. Varnet, Beach, N. D.; H. H Bates, Minneapolis; G. Johnson, Driscoll, N. D.; J. C. Wagner, Steele, N. D.; J. McGuckow, Glendive, Mont.; J. T. Coughlin, Valley City; Tom Peckham, Bristol, S. D.; H. E. Brandt, St. Paul; J. Lelmer, Hebron; John Davis, Delavan, Wis.; J. S. Rick, Walla Walla, Wash.; Eleanor Barker; Mrs. Margaret Gleason, Tuttle, N. D.; Brakeman Tom Connor; C. G. Barnard.

Air Brakes Fail to Work

Wantland's train, No. 7, had orders to use the siding to pass around the freight which was standing on the main line. As the passenger train approached Wantland shut off steam to slow down nearly to a stop while a brakeman was to have run forward to throw the switch. When he reached the point where his experience told him was the place to apply the air brakes he threw them on. The train, however, failed to slacken its speed. A second application of the air brought no response. Then he used the emergency brake. Still his train kept on.

Train Would Not Stop

In a final effort Wantland reversed the steam. The engine lacked traction to stop the heavy train and with wheels locked slid forward.

Wantland's fireman, whose name is Farstag, jumped. His leg was broken. The crew of the freight train left its engine, too. Only Wantland stayed at his post.

ITALIANS TAKE OFFENSIVE

London, Oct. 18.—For four days a great battle has been raging along the entire Italian front. Taking advantage of attacks by the Austrians, the Italians have launched the general offensive which they had been preparing for months. If successful this offensive will draw many Austrian soldiers into this war zone and thus lessen the pressure against Serbia and break the Austrian lines in the Trentino and along the Isonzo river.

German Transports Sunk.

Petrograd, Oct. 18.—British submarines, operating in the Baltic sea, have sunk five German transports and forced another ashore, according to a Russian official statement given out here.

Serbs Defeat Bulgers

London, Oct. 18.—An Athens dispatch to Reuter's Telegram company says that ourists arriving from Saloniki report great activity there, with friendly relations prevailing between the foreign contingents and the Greeks.

The troops, adds the dispatch, are in excellent spirits and eager to proceed up country. The town is under military law and patrolled by mixed details of French and Greek troops.

The German steamer Athena, which had been at Saloniki since the outbreak of the war, sailed recently, conveyed by a Greek destroyer, for Piraeus, which is no longer considered a neutral port.

U. S. Represents Britain

Washington, Oct. 18.—At Great Britain's request British interests in Bulgaria will be looked after by the United States.

Rumania to Remain Neutral

London, Oct. 18.—Rumania has joined Greece in declining to enlarge the conflagration in the Near East, by declaring officially that the Rumanian government intends to preserve strict neutrality.

Bulgarians Driven Back

Salonika, Oct. 18.—Heavy cannonading is reported around Doiran, Southeastern Serbia. The Serbians are said to have forced the Bulgarians to retire. The Serbians are advancing from Souvovo in the direction of Stroumitza, which they claim they expect to take shortly.

Bulgaria Favors Greece

Berlin, Oct. 18.—The Overseas News agency says today: "According to the Cologne Gazette, the Greek government has asked the Bulgarian government to permit the export of Bulgarian corn to Greece, and the request has been granted."

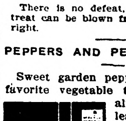
PEPPERS AND PEPPER DISHES.



Sweet garden peppers are such a favorite vegetable that one should always have at least a dozen plants in the garden to supply the needs of the table. A name commonly used for this vegetable when canned is pimento, which is incorrectly used, as pimento is allspice. The real name is "pimiento," giving another syllable. A chopped green pepper given to almost any salad, and especially a potato salad, improves it wonderfully. Care should be taken to carefully wash them, remove the white inner fiber, as well as the seeds, before using. Peppers chopped and pounded, then fixed with cream cheese make a most appetizing relish.

Fried sweet peppers make a nice garnish to serve with lamb, mutton or pork chops.

Stuffed Peppers.—Bread crumbs with tomato or rice and a few nuts, corn beef hash, boiled rice with chicken, and many other combinations make fine stuffing for peppers. See that they are well washed, then cut off the best end to make a stable receptacle, remove the white fiber and seeds; fill the pepper, replacing the cap. Put them into a baking dish with a little stock or butter and water to keep them moist while baking.

Steak Smothered in Sweet Peppers.—Spread over a round steak the following mixture: A cup of bread crumbs, one small onion, chopped; a little poultry dressing, a pint of tomatoes and peppers mixed; if canned they will not need chopping. Place the stuffing on steak, roll and tie and pour over the tomato and pepper mixture. Cook very slowly three hours. Add boiling water or tomato juice if the meat becomes dry. Canned peppers should always find a place on the emergency shelf, as they add much to many dishes. Creamed eggs with a pepper or two added, either chopped or rubbed through a sieve; serve on toast as usual and have an unusual relish. These eggs may be served with a border of seasoned boiled rice instead of toast, if desired.

GOOD EATING.

Some of the following are so unusual that it may take faith to try them, but they will be enjoyed.

Yorkshire Bucks.—Toast 12 slices of bread and on top of each place a square of cheese, and on top of the cheese a thin slice of bacon: sprinkle with paprika and place the toast in a dripping pan and pour over a little weakened vinegar, enough to moisten the toast. Place in the oven until the cheese is melted and serve hot.

Apple Dumplings With Peanut Butter.—Sift a pint of flour, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, a half teaspoonful of salt, then rub in a half cupful of peanut butter; moisten with iced water as for pie crust. Roll out and cut in squares. Lay on each square a cored, peeled apple, sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon, wet the edges and pinch them together. Bake and serve with cream and sugar.

Cuban Stew.—Take four pounds of mutton, one cupful of olive oil, one can of tomatoes, eight medium sized onions, one can of peas, one can of mushrooms and eight potatoes; a tablespoonful of salt and a few dashes of pepper. Put olive oil into a kettle, and when hot add onions, tomatoes and meat, cut in pieces, with the salt and pepper. Cover closely and simmer three hours. Then add the potatoes, cut in halves, and when they are tender add the peas and mushrooms, drained from the cans. When well heated, thicken the gravy and serve hot.

Simple Cake.—Into a measuring cup holding half a pint break an egg, a tablespoonful of melted lard, three tablespoonfuls of canned cream, then fill the cup with water. Sift together one and a half cupfuls of flour, one cupful of sugar, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder and a pinch of salt. Add the liquid and beat hard for five minutes. Bake in layers or in a loaf.

Gypsy Stew.—Cook together young carrots cut in slices, green onions, peas and new potatoes. Fry a slice of diced salt pork, turn in the tender vegetables, add milk to it and seasonings, and serve very hot.

Life is made of little "ifs,"
Good and bad together;
It's just the "ifs" that all through life

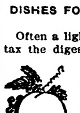
DISHES FOR EVENING PARTIES.

Often a light supper which does not tax the digestion will be found most agreeable.



Dresden Oysters. — Chop two dozen large oysters, mix with a tablespoonful of melted butter, an unbeaten egg, one-third of the bulk of bread crumbs a tablespoonful of chopped parsley and a little onion juice. Season with salt, and paprika. Form into balls and bake ten or fifteen minutes in a hot oven. Serve on oyster shells with parsley and lemon as a garnish.

Asparagus With Stuffed Eggs. — Take canned asparagus, or if fresh, cook until tender in salted water and arrange on a platter in a border of buttered toast points and quartered, stuffed eggs. Pour over a hot sauce made as follows: Take two tablespoonfuls of butter and two and a half of flour; when well mixed add a pint of chicken stock, or a small can of chicken broth and six finely minced mushrooms. Stir and cook for fifteen minutes, then add a cupful of hot cream and the juice of a lemon; strain and reheat.

Chicken and Mushroom Patties. — Saute two cupfuls of mushrooms in two tablespoonfuls of butter five minutes; season well with salt and pepper. Remove from the fire, take out a scant cupful and chop the remainder fine with two and a half cupfuls of cold cooked chicken. Beat two eggs, add salt, pepper and the juice of half a lemon. Add a tablespoonful of chopped parsley and a pint of boiling milk; stirring until it thickens. Now add the mushroom and chicken mixture and when very hot fill patty shells and garnish the tops with whole mushrooms.

Gingerbread with whipped cream and a cupful of hot coffee is well liked by many people who do not enjoy rich cake.

Cold ham, boiled or fried, put through the meat chopper, mixed with a little mustard or hard-boiled egg, is nice filling for sandwiches.

GOOD THINGS FROM GRAPES.

Grapes are at their best when eaten ripe and fresh from the vines garnished with their own leaves. Grapes if placed over night on ice, then served with a leaf or two on a plate will have a frosty appearance which will give them an added beauty and the cool fruit will be most grateful.

Grape Juice.—To prepare—pick the stems from the fruit and cover with enough water to be seen between the grapes. Cook until the seeds are free and the skins look pink or have lost their color, then strain. Return the juice to the fire and boil 20 minutes; then to each quart add a cupful of sugar; cook ten minutes longer and bottle in airtight bottles, dipping the corks in melted paraffin.

Grape Juice Ice Cream.—To a cupful of grape juice add a pint of thin cream and sugar to sweeten, a tablespoonful of lemon juice, mix and freeze.

Grape Jam.—Remove the skin from the pulp of well-washed grapes and put them in separate utensils; heat the pulp with a cupful of water and press through a sieve to remove the seeds; add the skins to the pulp and weigh. To each pound of fruit add three-fourths of a pound of sugar and just enough water to prevent burning. Cook slowly for 40 minutes.

Grape Sherbet.—Take three pounds of Concord grapes, three lemons, three pints of water and three cupfuls of sugar. Wash the grapes and put them in a granite pan, mash and squeeze out all the juice; measure and add an equal amount of water, the lemon juice and sugar. The sugar and water, if boiled to a sirup, will make a smoother sherbet. The amount of water should be allowed when measuring. Freeze as usual.

A pretty novelty is crystallized grapes. Select firm, large grapes in perfect bunches; wash carefully and dip in white of egg, then in pulverized sugar. Arrange on a platter on a bed of grape leaves.

For grape jelly the grapes should be underripe. Prepare them as for grape juice, then add the sugar to the juice and cook until it thickens in a cold dish, when a teaspoonful is tried.

Down in the sooothwestern section of Texas a gentleman by the name of Patten was running for the state senate. His partner, being very much interested in the election, took an active part in the campaign. One day he met a young man from the forks of the creek, and after inquiring about his father, mother and the rest of the family, discussing the weather, crops, stocks and things in general, said:

"Well, Bill, is the old man going to support Mr. Patten this fall?"

The young rustic scratched his head and after some little hesitation replied:

"Well, I don't know, sir, but I think not, sir; you see he's having a darn hard time supporting himself, sir!"—Mack's National Monthly.

Kissing by Proxy.

A small boy of twelve loaned his knife one day in school to what he considered his best girl. After the girl had returned the knife he sent a note back to her reading as follows:

"Dear Jane: I am sucking my knife because I know you had it in your mouth."

It's awfully hard to give away some of the things you want to get rid of.

An Easy Way to Get Rid of Ugly Pimples

Bathe your face for several minutes with resinol soap and hot water, then apply a little resinol ointment very gently. Let this stay on ten minutes, and wash off with resinol soap and more hot water, finishing with a dash of cold water to close the pores. Do this once or twice a day, and you will be astonished to find how quickly the healing resinol medication soothes and cleanses the pores, removes pimples and blackheads, and leaves the complexion clear and velvety.

Resinol ointment and resinol soap stop itching instantly and speedily heal skin humors, sores, burns, wounds and chafing. Sold by all druggists.

Evidently Not Particular.

At a trial in the court of common pleas in Sandusky, O., in 1872, several citizens were subpenaed to testify as to the character and habits of A— B—, defendant. Among the number was an ex-probate judge of grave demeanor. The state's attorney asked this gentleman if he was acquainted with the defendant, and he replied, "Yes."

"Are you sufficiently acquainted with the defendant to know his general habits?"

"Yes, sir."

"Are they good or bad?"

"Fair."

"Now, sir, do you before this court and jury testify that you are in the habit of associating with the same kind of company as this defendant?"

"Oh, yes; I associate with all grades of company, from lawyers up."

Signs.

"Jack has given up smoking."

"U-m! Don't say so?"

"Yes, and I hear he has resigned from his club."

"Well, that's going some."

"And he's quit playing golf, too."

"That confirms the rumor that he's married."

BULGARS REPULSED ALONG WHOLE LINE; ALLIES ADVANCING

SERBIANS ARE NOW CONSIDERED SECURE — ANGLO-FRENCH TROOPS BEING RUSHED TO THE FRONT.

AUSTRO-GERMANS HASTEN DRIVE TO CONSTANTINOPLE

Teuton Tacticians Are Aiming to Get Through by Shortest Possible Route to Bulgarian Territory, Belief—Montenegrins and Serbians Offer Stubborn Resistance.

Petrograd, Oct. 20.—Capture of 9,300 prisoners in scattered engagements along the eastern front is announced in the official war office bulletin.

London, Oct. 20.—A late edition of the Evening News publishes the following dispatch from Athens: "The Bulgarians have been repulsed along the whole line. The Serbians are now considered secure and the Allies are advancing against the Bulgarians. The Allied troops are being rushed to the front hastily."

London, Oct. 20.—A dispatch to the Chronicle from Rome says:

"According to a Bucharest telegram the Serbians took 2,000 prisoners and four guns in the Gornacco sector. The enemy's losses in killed and wounded also were very heavy. The Serbians were victorious in the Timok region of northeast Serbia, taking 300 prisoners."

Paris, Oct. 20.—Development of tremendous Teutonic pressure to southeastward rather than due south through Serbia and Semendria is arousing the suspicions here that the Austro-German tacticians are aiming [illegible] to get through by the shortest possible route to friendly Bulgarian territory.

The drive across Serbia in the [illegible] regions would be but 25 or 30 miles at the narrowest point of Serb territory. Thence, after crossing [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] connection with Constantinople.

Serbs Strongly Reinforced.

There is heavy fighting in [illegible] Vranya district [illegible], according to reliable news from [illegible] the Serbians have been strongly reinforced. Beyond Vranya telegraphic communication is interrupted.

Report has it that the Allies already have occupied the important strategic town of Strumitza on the extreme southwestern part of Bulgaria, across the Greek border and that a landing has been made by them in Turkey at Enos, in the mouth of the Maritza river, a short distance southeast of the Bulgarian port of Dedeagatch. While Enos is a shallow water port and its environs are unhealthy owing to the marshy country surrounding the city, the Maritza river is navigable at this season of the year by barges as far as Adrianople.

Stubbornly Oppose Teutons.

All along the line the Serbians and their Montenegrin neighbors, who also are being attacked, are offering very stubborn resistance to both Austro-Germans and Bulgarians, and while they have given up a number of towns and positions they have not yet reached the line on which they expect to make their stand.

The Bulgarians, so far as can be learned, made progress only in the Zlotokonska valley, near the River Morava, north of the town of Vranya, where they blew up a bridge. There is no confirmation, however, of the report that they cut the railway in this vicinity, the bridge which they destroyed being a small wooden one near the railway. The Bulgarian force which penetrated the valley is not a large one.

Surprise for Central Powers.

The Italians, according to the latest reports, will not send a contingent to the Balkans but co-operation of their navy in the Aegean, where an allied fleet has already gathered, is looked for.

The point at which the Russians will strike has not yet been disclosed. The expectation is, however, that the allies have a surprise for the central powers and that steps are being taken to bring Turkey to her knees before assistance can reach her.

Six Men Rob Train; Escape.

New York, Oct. 20.—Six men held up and robbed a West Shore train in Haverstraw and then escaped in an automobile.

Hearings in Chicago Strike.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—Definite decision to get the facts underlying the strike of garment workers, which now is in its fourth week, through public hearings, was made by the aldermanic committee investigating the strike. Notifications were sent out during the day to employers and employes alike that the hearings would begin at 2 p. m., in the council chamber. Members of the council committee declared that they were far from satisfied with the information they had been able to get.

CHICAGO MAYOR SPENDS DAY IN MINNEAPOLIS.

Thompson Declares Sunday Lid Will Stay on While the Law Stands—Favors Enforcement.

Minneapolis, Oct. 20.—William Hale Thompson, mayor of Chicago, former "cow puncher," more recently banker and real estate operator, athlete and advocate of the strenuous life, spent a strenuous day in Minneapolis with his party, which is returning from a trip to the San Francisco exposition.

Breakfast at the Athletic club with Mayor Nye as host, an automobile ride in the forenoon, luncheon and a speech at the University club, an afternoon spent at the Minneapolis Institute, the Walker gallery [illegible] [illegible] the former football player [illegible] a [illegible] hours entertainment as he has participated in for some time, as he admitted just before his special train left at 11:30 p. m.

Favors Law Enforcement.

The dinner was the more formal of the varied events of the day. Mayor Thompson took occasion in his remarks on this occasion to elaborate somewhat on his previous statements regarding the Chicago Sunday closing order which has occasioned so much comment.

"I have no set ideas on the liquor question or prohibition," he said. "When I ordered the saloons to close on the Sabbath day I had only one feeling, that I had held up my right hand and had taken an oath to execute the laws.

"It seems that the matter will become a political issue with the Republicans standing for law enforcement and the Democrats favoring a lax enforcement. It will be extremely interesting to watch the outcome [illegible] to see if people favor law enforcement [illegible] [illegible] office [illegible] should seek to be with the same [illegible] we secured before."

"I am not a candidate for president" is the answer he made as he has on numerous previous occasions.

BRITISH NURSE'S EXECUTION JUST, IS BERLIN CLAIM

DEATH OF MISS CAVELL IS EXPLAINED BY GERMAN UNDER-SECRETARY FOR FOREIGN AFFAIRS.

WORLD-WIDE CONSPIRACY INVOLVED, HE DECLARES

Countless British, Belgian and French Soldiers Again Fighting in Ranks Who Owe Their Escape to Band Headed by English Woman, Says Teuton Official.

Berlin, via the Hague and London, Oct. 26.—Dr. Alfred F. M. Zimmerman, German under-secretary for foreign affairs, has issued an official explanation of the recent execution in Belgium of Miss Edith Cavell, the British nurse. He prefaced his remarks by the declaration that he had examined every jot and tittle of the evidence with the greatest care and found the verdict, though regrettable, to be just. His statement follows:

Official Explanaion Made.

"I see by the British and the American press that the shooting of an English woman and the conviction of several other women in Brussels for treason have created a great impression and that we are being severely criticised. It is indeed hard that a woman must be executed, but remember to what shall a state come which is in war if it allows to pass unnoticed a crime against the safety of its armies because committed by women. No law book in the world, least of all those dealing with war regulations, makes such a differenation and the feminine sex has but one preference, according to legal usages, namely that women in a delicate condition may not be executed. Otherwise man and woman are equal before the law and only their degree of guilt makes a difference in the sentence for the crime and its consequences.

Claims World-wide Plot.

"In the Cavell case I have reviewed the decision of the court and examined the evidence down to the smallest details. The result is so convicting and all the circumstances are so clear and convincing that no court martial in the world would have reached any other decision. For it concerns not the act of one single person, rather it concerns a well-thought-out, world-wide conspiracy which succeeded for nine months to render the most valuable services to the enemy to the disadvantage of our army. Countless British, Belgian and French soldiers now are again fighting in the ranks who owe their escape to the activity of the band now sentenced, at the head of which stood Miss Cavell.

Greatest Duties in War.

"With such a situation under the very eyes of the authorities only the utmost severity can bring relief and the government violates the most elemental duty toward the army and its safety that does not adopt the srictest measures These duties in war are greater than any other.

"I admit certainly that the motive of those convicted was not unnoble and that they acted out of love for the fatherland. But in war time one must be ready to seal one's love for the fatherland with one's blood whether one opposes the enemy in battle or whether one commits acts in its interest which justly carry with them the death penalty.

New Attempts Feared.

"If others are shown mercy it will be at the cost of our army for it is to be feared that new attempts will be made to injure us if it is believed possible escape without punishment or with the risk of only a light sentence.

"The weakness of our enemies' arguments is proved by the fact that they do not attempt to combat the justice of the sentence, but try to influence public opinion against us by false reports of the execution. It is claimed that the soldiers assigned to the execution first refused to shoot and finally fired so faultily that the officers had to kill the accused with a revolver. No word of this is true. I have the official report of the execution in which it is established that it took place entirely within established regulations and that death occurred immediately after the first salvo, as the physician present attests."

Gill Clay Factory Burns.

Muncie, Ind., Oct. 25.—The Gill clay pot factory burned. The loss is estimated at $100,000.

May Appeal on Drug Law.

Minneapolis, Oct. 25.—Data is being prepared upon which to base an appeal to the supreme court from the recent ruling of Judge Booth regarding the Harrison anti-narcotic law, the druggists in attendance at the western branch of the American Pharmaceutical association learned Judge Booth's ruling that sale of narcotics must be proved to constitute an offense under the law, and that mere possession is not a violation, was given exhaustive discussion.

It is a magnificent estate, suitable in every way to accommodate the presidential establishment. It includes about thirty acres of beautiful lawns and terraced gardens, a lake and tennis courts. VOICE IS HEARD ACROSS ATLANTIC

ARLINGTON, VA., TALKS WITH PARIS, FRANCE, WHILE HONOLULU ALSO LISTENS.

WIRELESS 'PHONE IS SUCCESS

American Telephone and Telegraph Company Receives Cable Message Saying That Words Were Distinctly Heard by French

New York, Oct. 23.—Arlington, Va., has just talked by wireless telephone with Paris, France. Honolulu also heard the operator talking from Arlington.

Announcement that the human voice had been successfully projected across the Atlantic was made on behalf of John J. Carty, chief engineer of the American Telephone & Telegraph company, at the company's office here. Later Mr. Carty telephoned from Chicago, confirming the announcement.

To B. B. Webb, a telephone engineer, fell the honor of being the first man to span with his voice the space between the old world and the new.

Wireless Signals Paris.

The wireless snapped out the signal and soon there came back a response. Awaiting word from Mr. Webb at the Paris end of the wireless radiation were H. E. Shreeve and A. M. Curtis, other engineers, and a group of French officers listening with especially designed apparatus.

Webb, at Arlington, had a transmitting instrument, but no receiving apparatus. He knew, therefore, that he would have to wait for the cable to confirm the success or failure of the experiment.

"Hello, Shreeve!" he shouted into the mouthpiece.

"Hello, Shreeve!"

"Hello" Heard by French.

He then began to count: "One, two, three, four; one, two, three, four. Goodbye."

Late in the afternoon the expected cable message came. It was addressed to the company here and said that Webb's "hellos" and "good-byes" had been distinctly heard by the engineers and French army officers in Paris and that portions of his test figures had also been picked up. At about the same time there came a message from Honolulu, saying that Webb's talk had been understood.

ELLA FLAGG YOUNG TO QUIT

Superintendent of Chicago Schools Blames Newspapers For Their "Persistent Discussions."

Chicago, Oct. 23. — Ella Flagg Young, for six years superintendent of schools, announced that she would resign Dec. 8.

In announcing that she would not seek reappointment, the superintendent blamed "persistent discussion of the superintendency of schools in the daily newspapers" for her determination to quit.

Mrs. Young, who is 70 years old, has been active in school affairs since 1862 when she began teaching grade schools.

Pope to Hold Consistory.

Rome, via Paris, Oct. 25.—Although Pope Benedict did not wish to hold a consistory during the war, he has now changed his original intention as the Italian members in the Sacred college are in fewer numbers than the foreign cardinals. There is mention of the creation of French, German and perhaps Austrian cardinals, but otherwise the cardinals created will be Italians. It is asserted that the pontiff's allocution on the occasion will be the most important exposition of his views on peace that he has yet made.

Marauders Start Four Fires.

Sacramento, Cal., Oct. 25.—Marauders, concluding a campaign of arson across two states, started four fires in a big hop ranch across the American river from here and did damage estimated at $35,000. Fire fighters found telephone wires cut and pumps put out of commission and were threatened with death when seeking aid. The hop kilns and picking plant were destroyed. The press rooms and warehouses were saved. The ranch is one of several owned by the firm of Horst Brothers.

WORLD WIDE TRADE CAMPAIGN

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE TO AID U. S. MERCHANTS.

Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce to Double Staff—Large Appropriations Needed.

Washington, Oct. 26. — Elaborate plans for a world-wide campaign for trade by the United States are revealed in the estimates of the department of commerce expenditures for the next fiscal year, to be presented to congress this winter. Through the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, the department proposes to aid American merchants and manufacturers in taking advantage of wonderful opportunities now before them and in preparing for the struggle for trade supremacy which commercial officials are certain will follow the European war.

For Commercial Preparedness.

Reorganization of the staff in Washington and an increase to about twice its present extent of the foreign commercial service are contemplated, according to a statement discussing the new estimates made public by Dr. E. E. Pratt, chief of the bureau. Appropriations will be sought to provide for extensive investigations of commercial conditions abroad and for tariff inquiries by the cost of production division.

BRYAN MAN IS FOR WILSON

Senator John W. Kern of Indiana Experiences Change of Sentiment—Favors Preparedness.

Washington, Oct. 23.—Senator John W. Kern of Indiana, leader of the senate, has visited the president to announce to him that he and Indiana had been for the preparedness program all the time.

Two weeks ago Senator Kern was dead against the program as wasteful, unnecessary and dangerous. It seems as though Senator Kern had his wires crossed and did not realize that the president was for the program.

He has now squared himself handsomely.

Such sudden collapses of opposition give the president hope that the program will be agreed to without prolonged debate and without partisan acrimony.

Senator Kern was a principal prop of the Bryan pacifists. His defection indicates that Mr. Bryan will have to confine his efforts to the house, where he has a bunch of noisy followers of the Tavenner type. They probably will muster enough votes to delay but not defeat action.

GERMANY CONTROLS FOOD

Federal Government Decides to Assume Responsibility for Price and Supply of Victuals.

Berlin, Oct. 25.—The German federal government has decided to assume control of the price and supply of victuals throughout Germany. Up to the present time the state provincial authorities had been considered competent to handle the food situation.

The German government considers it necessary, the Overseas News agency says, to equalize the position of the various sections of the empire as to the distribution and the price of victuals, which are abundant, but under different conditions in the various states and provinces of Germany.

Wilson and Fiancee at Church.

Washington, Oct. 25. — President Wilson attended church with his fiancee, Mrs. Norman Galt, for the first time since their engagement was announced. They were accompanied by Miss Margaret Wilson. Word of their coming brought out such a crowd that many had to be turned away from the church.

Millionaire's Son Attacks Girl.

Chicago, Oct. 25.—A mysterious attack on Miss Anna Lamree, leading woman of a burlesque show, was revealed by the detention at the detective bureau of Herbert Elbert. Miss Lamree, who was attacked in her hotel room Wednesday night or early Thursday morning, is at a hospital with her head crushed and her right side paralyzed. It is said that she has slight chance of recovery. Elbert is said to be a grandson of Charles Smith, millionaire piano manufacturer, and stepson of Dr. E. J. Schwandt.

TEXANS THREATEN TO INVADE MEXICO

READY TO "TAKE IT OUT ON GREASERS" AT NEXT INSTANCE OF BANDITRY.

CONSPIRACY OF AMERICANS?

The Administration Members Believe There Is More to Outbreaks Along Border Than Mere Lawlessness on the Part of Bandits.

Brownsville, Texas, Oct. 23.—Brownsville has "declared war" on Mexico.

One hundred citizens of this place have announced their intention of crossing the river at the next instance of banditry and "taking it out on the greasers."

The situation is the tensest since the initial Madero revolution. Military and civil officials realize the difficulty of restraining the thoroughly aroused citizens and fear international complications.

A mass meeting of citizens was held behind closed doors. The import of the meeting is not known, further than that it has to do with reprisals for the two recent bandit raids near Olmito and Ojo De Agua, which resulted in the death of six Americans and the wounding of 11 others.

Bandits Gather Forces. Americans May Be at Fault.

It became an open secret at the capital in the course of the day that many administration members believe there is more to the outbreaks along the border than mere lawlessness on the part of a number of bandits; that the source of continued attacks may be found with Americans hostile to the recognition of Carranza and still hoping to bring about intervention.

If the outlaws now on rampage have such inspiration, it is expected the justice department will be able to run down the conspirators. "The secret service force on the border will be increased immediately—as rapidly as the department's facilities permit," was the statement following the attorney general's talk with the president.

WOMEN LOSE JERSEY FIGHT

Suffrage Is Beaten by 65,000, President Wilson's Own District Rejecting the Cause.

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 21.—Suffrage was beaten in New Jersey by probably 65,000. Essex county (Newark) alone returned a majority of 14,000 the constitutional amendment to give women the ballot. President Wilson's own district went "anti." The district rejected the "cause" by a vote of 150 to 64. The town of Princeton, in which the president voted, rejected the suffrage amendment by a majority of 182.

Women Get Same Pay as Men.

London, Oct. 25.—In a statement just issued David Lloyd George, minister of munitions, announced that women 18 years of age and over engaged in munition work receive a minimum wage of one pound weekly. While doing skilled work on time or by piece women get the same pay as men, the announcement further states.

This official recognition of the right of women to receive the same pay as men for the same work is claimed as a great victory by militant suffragists.

Yaquis Occupy Naco.

Naco, Ariz., Oct. 23.—Evacuated by its Carranza garrison the town of Naco, Sonora, across the border was occupied last night by Yaqui Indians in the service of General Villa.

Firing Squad Fails to Kill Woman.

Amsterdam, Oct. 25.—The Telegraaf publishes an article from its Antwerp correspondent in which it is said that some weeks ago a French woman, Mme. Louise Frenay, was executed at Liege. The correspondent says that the act of the German firing squad was not accurate and that as in the case of Miss Edith Cavell, under similar circumstances, the commanding officer of the firing squad was obliged to put Mme. Frenay to death by shooting her through the head with his revolver.

GIRLS TRAPPED IN FLAMING FACTORY BURNED TO DEATH

BODIES OF FOUR WOMEN AND ONE MAN TAKEN FROM UPPER FLOORS BY FIREMEN.

ONLY TEN EMPLOYES ARE KNOWN TO HAVE ESCAPED

Police Estimate There Were at Least 100 Persons in Building Occupied by Several Manufacturing Plants —Dead Were Mostly from Box Factory.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 26.—Several girls were reported dead, many were injured and twenty-two are still unaccounted for as a result of a fire that swept the Union Box company's plant, Allegheny.

One hundred girls, trapped in the building, leaped from windows to the street before firemen could arrive with nets.

At 2 o'clock the known dead were two, said police. Nine girls were in the hospital. The blaze, starting in the feed store of W. S. Brown, below the factory loft, spread so rapidly that most of the apparatus in the city was called to fight it.

Officials of the company whose plant in Allegheny was destroyed by fire said at 2:30 that of the 26 men and girl employes only 10, to their knowledge, had escaped from the burning building. Of those who escaped, nine were in the hospital.

The bodies of four girls and one man were taken from the upper floors of the building by firemen. At least 10 others were believed to be in the building.

Hundred Persons in Building.

Besides the box factory, several other manufacturing plants occupied the building. Police estimated there were at least 100 persons there when the blaze started. The dead, however, were mostly from the box factory. Five girls were taken down a rope, three jumped from the third story, where the box factory was located. Two of the girls were injured severely by jumping to the street. Others escaped by making a desperate leap across a space more than four feet wide to an adjoining building.

Only the quick thinking of C. R. Carlisle, who happened to be passing the building at the time the flames were discovered, prevented the flames from gathering a much heavier toll. He rushed to a nearby factory and secured a rope which he threw to a third-story window and five girls slid down this.

A big fire steamer racing to the fire turned turtle, pinning the driver beneath it. He was seriously hurt. Other firemen were overcome by smoke.

GERMAN CRUISER DESTROYED

Prinz Adalbert Attacked and Sunk by British Submarine Operating Near Libau.

Ptrograd, via London, Oct. 26.—A British submarine operating near Libau attacked and sank a German cruiser of the Prinz Adalbert class, according to official announcement.

The Prinz Adalbert is an armored cruiser 392 feet in length and with a displacement of 8,800 tons. She carries a complement of 557 men.

To Enforce Closing Law.

Minneapolis, Oct. 26.—As a sequel to the ban on the cabaret, to rigid orders for the suppression of blind pigs and to efforts of the retail liquor dealers to get rid of unlicensed drinking places, has come an order from Mayor Nye commanding the police to enforce the Sunday closing law to the letter. Complaint was made to the mayor that some of the cafes and hotels were tilting the Sunday lid, and the cry went up during the recent county option campaign that the larger places were being permitted to sell on the quiet after hours.

Leading Cotton Man Dies.

Waltham, Mass., Oct. 26.—Arthur T. Lyman, one of the leading cotton manufacturers of the country, died at his home here. He was 83 years old. Mr. Lyman was president of the Pacific mills, the Bigelow Carpet company, the Massachusetts Cotton mills, in Georgia, and the mills of the same name in Lowell, and other concerns, and was proprietor of most of the locks and canals on the Merrimac river.

Dumba Denies He Was Snubbed.

Berlin, Oct. 26.—Dr. C. T. Dumba, former Austro-Hungarian ambassador at Washington, who has arrived here from the United States, gave out the following interview: "As to the causes which necessitated my return to Vienna, I need not go into details. But if you ask me if the tales are true that people on board the steamer avoided me I can only reply that the opposite is true. My wife and I felt ourselves under the necessity of conducting ourselves with reserve toward our fellow travelers."

WORLD WIDE TRADE CAMPAIGN

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE TO AID U. S. MERCHANTS.

Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce to Double Staff—Large Appropriations Needed.

Washington, Oct. 26. — Elaborate plans for a world-wide campaign for trade by the United States are revealed in the estimates of the department of commerce expenditures for the next fiscal year, to be presented to congress this winter. Through the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, the department proposes to aid American merchants and manufacturers in taking advantage of wonderful opportunities now before them and in preparing for the struggle for trade supremacy which commercial officials are certain will follow the European war.

For Commercial Preparedness.

Reorganization of the staff in Washington and an increase to about twice its present extent of the foreign commercial service are contemplated, according to a statement discussing the new estimates made public by Dr. E. E. Pratt, chief of the bureau. Appropriations will be sought to provide for extensive investigations of commercial conditions abroad and for tariff inquiries by the cost of production division.

"As a part of the general program of 'preparedness,'" said Doctor Pratt, "the secretary of commerce will request congress to make a very largely increased appropriation for the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce. Secretary Redfield believes that commercial preparedness should not be overlooked, that the United States is facing a great and unusual opportunity for increased world commerce, and he has expressed these convictions in the requests which he will make on congress to enable the department of commerce to do a larger and more effective work in promoting commerce than is now possible.

"One of the most important increases asked for is an increased clerical staff in Washington. This amounts practically to a reorganization of the bureau with additional divisions and departments for new branches of the work which have recently been undertaken."

WILSON'S WEDDING DEC. 20

Announcement Made Unofficially That Ceremony Will Take Place Shortly Before Christmas.

Washington, Oct. 26.—The wedding of President Wilson and Mrs. Norman Galt will take place soon before the Christmas holidays, probably Dec. 20, at the home of Mrs. Galt on Twentieth street, according to definite information just obtained.

The announcement was made unofficially, simultaneously with the announcement of the president's daughter, Miss Margaret's, intended departure for Madison, Wis., to resume social service work.

The wedding, it is said, will be an afternoon affair with only members of the two immediate families present. The wedding trip will be in the South.

Engagements of the president in the next several weeks include a speech in Columbus, Ohio, Dec. 10; voting at Princeton, N. J., in the state election and a speech at New York before the Manhattan club in New York.

Rowden, attorney, who was hacked to death in his apartments and whose death was discovered by his bride of nine days. Rowden's friends told the police he had inherited a feud, which two years ago caused the death of two of his relatives in a street battle. Rowden recently visited Vienna to bring punishment to the slayers.

MRS. THOMSON TELLS WOMEN

How She Was Helped During Change of Life by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I am just 52 years of age and during Change of Life I suffered for six years terribly. I tried several doctors but none seemed to give me any relief. Every month the pains were intense in both sides, and made me so weak that I had to go to bed. At last a friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me and I tried it at once and found much relief. After that I had no pains at all and could do my housework and shopping the same as always. For years I have praised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for what it has done for me, and shall always recommend it as a woman's friend. You are at liberty to use my letter in any way."—Mrs. THOMSON, 649 W. Russell St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Perry Belmont, condemning materialism at a Newport dinner, said:

"Take the average husband. Could anything be more material than he?

"Tell the average husband that his love is growing cold, and he won't so much as lift his eyes from the evening paper.

"But tell him that his consomme is growing cold, and—zip, he's off for the dining room in 29-foot leaps."

STATE BREVITIES

Rochester.—The Olmsted County Taxpayers and Good Roads association is the name of a new organization formed in this city for the specific purpose of building good roads.

Worthington. — Edward Thiel and Albert E. Deere are under arrest in the Nobles county jail, charged with the murder of Charles Dillehay, proprietor of a theater at Ellsworth, the night of Wednesday, Sept. 22. Both are said to have confessed to complicity in the crime.

Duluth.—A jury in the case of Walter Richeson, former assistant clerk of the municipal court, on trial in the district court on a charge of embezzlement, was dismissed by Judge Fesler after being unable to reach a verdict in twenty-four hours' deliberation. The jurors stood six for acquittal and six for conviction.

Fergus Falls.—The 1-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Christ Derky of the town of Corliss, this county, found a large screw while playing and put it in his mouth. It slipped down his throat and choked him. An older boy ran out to the field where his parents were at work, but before they arrived the child was dead.

Brainerd. — Proceedings, believed to be the first of their kind, wherein the entire state tax commission appeared in district court chambers to answer mandamus proceedings, were heard before Judge W. S. McClenahan. The proceedings were brought by Y. P. Jones and others of Clearwater county in what is known as the First National bank of Bagley case.

Rochester.—A new union church was formally dedicated at Douglas, a few miles from Rochester. The new church is designed to serve as a community center. Religious services of any denomination may be held there, although the property is in the hands of a corporation affiliated with the Evangelical Synod Church of North America, of which Rev. W. W. Bunge is the pastor in Rochester.

Faribault.—Business men of Faribault have succeeded in raising the required amount of capital for the establishment of a packing plant. The amount to be raised before the erection of buildings was commenced was $200,000. Many farmers in Rice, Steele, Goodhue, Dakota, Waseca, Le Sueur and Scott counties are subscribers. The company has been organized for $500,000 and more stock will be sold.

Albert Lea.—Frank H. Fisk, formerly surveyor of this county, was adjudged insane by Judge of Probate A. U. Mayland and was taken to the hospital at Rochester. Mr. Fisk is widely known for his engineering ability. Many of the dredging projects in southern Minnesota were under his supervision. Overwork and failing health are thought to be the cause of his insanity. Physicians say he can live only a few weeks.

Albert Lea. — Seventy-five automobile loads of Albert Lea Auto club members drove to Hartland to attend the annual harvest festival in that village. The Hartland band escorted the visitors into the town. Edward Olson, president of the Citizens' National bank of Albert Lea, won the prize for being the heaviest man at the celebration. A large blue ribbon was tied around his neck and he was carried through the principal streets by firemen.

Delano.—The congregation of the Methodist Episcopal church of Delano tendered a reception to Rev. and Mrs. G. L. Haggans at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Ketchbach. Mrs. Haggans is a bride and the affair was given in her honor. Superintendent Wetzel of the public schools made an address of welcome which was responded to in happy vein by Rev. Mr. Haggans. Mrs. Wetzel, Mrs. Ketchbach and Charles Brunkow gave several vocal numbers and Miss Dorothy Dodge gave two readings.

Mora. — W. B. Thurston, United States dairy specialist, and R. H. Giverson, teacher of agriculture in the high school, are co-operating in a campaign to raise the standard of the dairy industry here. One of their recent activities was to visit several dairy farms in company with students of the agricultural classes of the high school. This was done to interest dairymen in regularly weighing and testing the milk from their cows. Some of this work has already been done and good results have been secured.

East Grand Forks.—Peter Swanson of International Falls, Minn., is held by East Grand Forks police on a charge of murdering Charles Norton 70 years old, who was kicked to death in a local rooming house.

Sam Sorenson, a transient, and Charles Fern, a laboring man who says he makes Minneapolis his headquarters, are being held as witnesses. They were in the room when the assault took place, the police say.

Norton, who was porter at the place was killed when he attempted to order some men out of the room.

Fulda.—The frog industry is in full swing here and gives employment to several persons. Frogs are more numerous than for years. In a week, two firms purchased about 4,000 dozen and shipped them to the cities. The frogs are caught by boys and men who find them hiding in crevices of the rocks around the lake. Sixty-five dozen were taken from around and beneath one rock.

Virginia. — More than 300 delegates arrived here to attend the third annual convention of the League of Minnesota Municipalities. Mayor J. P. Seberger of St. Cloud presided.

NO COMPLAINTS TO RAIL COMMISSION

BULLETINS BELIEVED TO HAVE AIDED FARMERS IN AVOIDING CAR SHORTAGES.

STATE CAPITOL HAPPENINGS

Events of General Interest in Minnesota Condensed and Revised for The Greater Convenience of Busy Readers.

St. Paul.

The railroad and warehouse commission figuratively is keeping its fingers crossed these days because no complaints are coming in as to car shortages in moving the big crops. The commission early in the shipping season sent out bulletins of instruction to shippers showing them how to avoid shortages. It has learned that the railroads insisted that their agents post the bulletins in conspicuous places and that the elevator men kept the suggestions in prominent places where the farmers would see them and be governed accordingly. The grain has been moving steadily so far. Oats, flax and barley have been shipped in large quantities. Some of the wheat is being held for higher prices, it is said, which may have something to do with the absence of car shortages. When the potato shipping season is well under way a shortage is feared.

Plans for Development.

Governor Hammond has called on commercial, civic and development organizations of the state to study plans they may wish to submit at a booster meeting which the governor expects to call soon to agree on a plan for unified development of all sections of Minnesota. It is suggested by the governor that the various organizations in each county meet and elect delegates to represent the county at the booster meeting, which is to be held in St. Paul. Governor Hammond will ask larger development associations which take in a number of counties also to send delegates to the meeting. When the various organizations are heard from, Governor Hammond will name a day on which the county conventions may be held, and when the delegates are chosen he will set the convention day for the big meeting in St. Paul.

Roseau School Case Decided.

The supreme court has decided that Mrs. Bergit Billberg shall remain county superintendent of schools of Roseau county. Quo warranto proceedings brought by Attorney General Lyndon A. Smith on behalf of Mrs. Anna Connelly Olsen to oust Mrs. Billberg were dismissed. Mrs. Olsen was in office as superintendent of schools when the general election was held. November, 1914. Eddy E. Billberg, husband of Bergit Billberg, opposed Mrs. Olsen at the election and won out. Mrs. Olsen contested the election on the ground that Billberg had violated the corrupt practices act by circulating an alleged slanderous pamphlet against her. The trial court decided Billberg should remain in office.

Would Limit Banks.

The chartering of so many state banks should be stopped, according to A. H. Turrittin, superintendent of banks, who made this suggestion to the economy and efficiency commission. "On account of the rapidly increasing number of banks, the majority of which have only $10,000 capital, some limit should be placed on their number," he said.

Timber Brings $225,812.

Buyers of state timber at the sale at the state capitol paid in $56,453.02 in checks to cover the initial payment of 25 per cent. This means a sale of $225,812.08, but the sale in reality was heavier, as the actual cut of timber shown by the scale always runs higher than the preliminary estimates. The bulk of the 53,000,000 feet of timber offered was bid in, most of it at the appraised price. The pine timber was appraised at $7 to $3 a thousand feet, but much of it was run up to higher figures in the bidding.

Pennsylvania Young Man Causes Girl to Jilt Man She Was Engaged To.

MAKES QUICK RESOLVE

When Young Woman Asks Him to Wish Her Happiness He Decides He Alone Can Give It to Her.

Bridgeport, Conn.—Paul J. Barber is a prominent young business man of Wilkes-Barre, Pa. With his friend and classmate of old University of Pennsylvania days, Edward Poli, he came here recently for a visit.

The especial attraction which Bridgeport held for Poli was a young woman who was then visiting Miss Ruth B. Alling, the attractive daughter of Noyes B. Alling, who conducts several rubber stores. Naturally Poli and Barber were frequent visitors at the Alling home during their stay.

Some days ago Barber, in opening his mail, found a postal from Miss Alling. She had "just dropped him a line" to let him know she was to be married to John R. Wrigle, manager of the Bridgeport Compressed Paper Box company. She "hoped he would wish her happiness" in her engagement and subsequent marriage.

Barber did wish her happiness—all the happiness in the world—but he was determined he would be the one who would bring her this bountiful happiness.

Puts in Long-Distance Call.

The young man hastened to the nearest long-distance telephone. He called the Alling home, got Miss Alling on the wire, having prearranged with the Wilkes-Barre operator that no matter how high the tolls rose he must not be interrupted.

There is little likelihood of anyone ever knowing, including Barber himself, just what was said in that conversation or how it was said, but it was eminently stisfactory and effective.

Barber, in consequence, took the next train for Bridgeport. He did not announce his arrival here, but he and Miss Alling, a few hours later, might have been observed on a train bound for New York. Their destination there was the city hall. A license was procured. It was no aldermanic holiday and—but what's the use? You know the rest.

This is not the end, however. Mr. Wrigle, happy in the part of Miss Alling's accepted sweetheart, knocked gayly at her front door the very day she and Barber had left for New York on aldermanic business. Mrs. Alling came to the door.

He Called Up the Ailing Home.

"Where is Ruth?" asked the accepted one.

And then he had to be told

SHOT A COON? HERE'S ALIBI

Two Men Fired at It All Night, but It Was a Crow's Nest Instead of a Coon.

Ashtabula, O.—Hale Britton of Richmond Center started down his pasture lane a few night ago, when his dog struck a coon trail and soon landed the coon up a tree.

Britton went to the house for a shotgun, and when he returned he could just see the coon high up in the top of the tree. He shot at the animal several times, then decided the shotgun was too short range to reach him. After telling his dog to keep a close watch, Britton went over to D. Tinkham's house, and the two returned with Tinkham's rifle. From then on until one o'clock they took turns firing at the coon.

Finally they built a fire and waited until daylight. Then they learned the coon they had been shooting at all night was a crow's nest.

WILLOWS TO SAVE THE CANAL

Roots Will Form Web, Says Inventor, and Prevent Landslides at Panama.

E. Moody Boynton, inventor of the monorail system of transportation, is convinced that willow trees can be made to stop the Panama canal landslides. He has written President Wilson what he thinks should be done, and his letter has been forwarded to the isthmian officials.

Mr. Boynton proposes that willow piles be driven close together along both sides of the canal where slides occur. These willows will grow. He says that the roots of each will spread out as far as 100 feet, all forming together a web which would hold earth firmly.

Getting the Doctor.

Ira Collins calls to our attention the difference that forty years has made in the old time run for the doctor. Forty years ago a runaway team injured a man on the Nemeha bottom. A neighbor saddled one of those famous race horses bred by the Smiths. Mormets and Wittwers and raced him to Sabetha, 18 miles away, for old Doctor Irwin. When he turned in the head of Main street he commenced to shout, "Oh, doc, oh, doc, d-o-c," and the doctor was on the spot with his thoroughbred old Monk and raced away on the last lap for the life of the Nebraskan. It took two hours and thirty minutes to pace that 36 miles. A short time ago a hay fork jumped from the roof of a big barn near Whiting and stabbed the operator twice in the chest. The injured man was bundled into the farmer's auto and in 33 minutes was upon the operating table in Sabetha, 26 miles away.—Leavenworth Times.

Motor Progress.

"Now our new 1916 patent negotiable runabout is the latest thing on the market," said the agent.

"What's the advantage?" asked the prospective buyer.

"To begin with, it is a dividend-bearing car," said the agent, "but in addition to that we have arranged with national and other banks in all parts of the world to cash 'em on sight if the owner ever gets hard up."

FEED CHILDREN

On Properly Selected Food. It Pays Big Dividends.

If parents will give just a little intelligent thought to the feeding of their children the difference in the health of the little folks will pay, many times over, for the small trouble.

A mother writes: "Our children are all so much better and stronger than they ever were before we made a change in the character of the food. We have quit using potatoes three times a day with coffee and so much meat.

"Now we give the little folks some fruit, either fresh, stewed, or canned, some Grape-Nuts with cream, occasionally some soft boiled eggs, and some Postum for breakfast and supper. Then for dinner they have some meat and vegetables.

"It would be hard to fully describe the change in the children, they have grown so sturdy and strong, and we attribute this change to the food elements that, I understand, exist in Grape-Nuts and Postum.

"A short time ago my baby was teething and had a great deal of stomach and bowel trouble. Nothing seemed to agree with him until I tried Grape-Nuts softened and mixed with rich milk and he improved rapidly and got sturdy and well."

"There's a Reason."

Making It Personal.

It is sad to see family relics sold at auction, but the most painful thing under the hammer is generally your thumbnail.

What Gives Milk Its Color.

Recent experiments show that the color of milk is chiefly due to the presence of carotin, a coloring matter found abundantly in green plants, especially in grass. The yellow pigments of our bodies also consist of carotin, which is probably derived chiefly from our food.

Slavery Originated in the East.

Absolute slavery seems to have appeared in the eastern colonies somewhat earlier than in the southern, for slavery existed in New York in 1628, in New Jersey in 1623, in Massachusetts in 1630, in Connecticut in 1631 and in Delaware in 1636. There was a statutory recognition of slavery in Massachusetts in 1641, which was considerably ahead of such recognition of slavery in Virginia or Maryland.

Nature Supreme.

Not all the product of artificial greeneries are so lovely as that of the fields, the country garden, the fence rows, the first roses, the daffodils, the arbutus which hides under the hillside leaves, the first buds of the rhododendrons and the other forms telling of the life blood drawn direct from the earth, while poor mankind has to take all second hand.

Mines in Warfare.

A land mine in warfare consists of a charge of high explosive buried in the ground, and arranged so as to explode when the enemy's troops are over it. Mines are also used in siege warfare, tunnels being driven under the enemy's fortifications and enormous quantities of high explosive placed in them.

Advance registrations at the State Agricultural School at Crookston show a big increase over last year which had the largest enrollment in its history. The tenth year opens with no changes in the faculty giving to the students the advantage of an experienced teaching staff. A special course in dressmaking will be offered girls beginning in October and in January. Full particulars regarding this work and the regular courses will be mailed anyone upon writing to the School.

The northwestern Minnesota educational association will meet in annual session at Thief River Falls on Thursday and Friday November 4th. and 5th.

A comprehensive program, including every feature of educational activity, is under preparation and will be announced at an early date. Commissioner Claxton of Washington D. C. and several other prominent educators from this and adjoining states will be present. The state department officals will attend and confer with school officers and also appear on several programs.

Suitable local entertament will be provided and ample provision will be made for rooms and meals for all in attendance.

Teachers and school officers are requested to give this important event wide publicity and make definite arrangements to attend. Further and fuller information will appear week by week.

REPORT FROM ROME SAYS GERMANY MAY MAKE PEACE OFFER

DISPATCH RECEIVED IN LONDON ASSERTS VON BEULOW WILL SUBMIT PROPOSALS TO WILSON.

BREAK BETWEEN GREECE AND ALLIES IS HINTED

Note Handed to Athens Government Contained Such an Intimation, Says Message to Central News —Greek Cabinet Crisis Is Narrowly Averted.

London, Oct. 27.—A report has reached here that Prince von Buelow, former German chancellor, will shortly submit to President Wilson and King Alfonso of Spain an outline of the conditions on which Germany might be disposed to discuss terms of peace.

The report is contained in a Reuter dispatch from Madrid and had not been corroborated from any other source. The dispatch gives as authority Prince Camporeale, an Italian nobleman, who is a brotherinlaw of Prince von Buelow. The report was first published in Madrid, the correspondent says, in the form of a message from Rome.

At last reports, Prince von Buelow was ill. A message from Berlin on Sunday said he was confined to his room in Cologne as the result of a slight indisposition. The prince was on the way to Baden-Baden.

Washington Not Informed.

Washington, Oct. 27.—There is nothing in the London peace story as far as the state department is informed. It has no hint of any communication of the king coming and has not made any overtures recently that would call out a statement. The German embassy considers the matter doubtful.

Break With Greece Possible.

London, Oct. 27.—A diplomatic break between Greece and the Allies break between Greece and the Allies as a possibility if allied operations in the Balkans are interfered with by the Greeks' interpretation of their neutrality. A note handed by the Allies' representatives to the Greek government contained such an intimation, an Athens dispatch to the Central News said.

Cabinet Session Heated.

Athens, Oct. 27.—Another cabinet crisis has been narrowly averted. During a debate in the chamber of deputies a difference of opinion developed between Stephen Dragoumis, minister of finance, and Eleutherios Venizelos, former minister and leader of the majority party. The debate was on the subject of Turkish properties in Macedonia, which were confiscated after the Balkan war. Heated remarks were exchanged and there were constant interruptions from the government side.

M. Venizelos tartly reminded the government that its control of the chamber depended entirely on the votes of his party. The chamber was thrown into confusion and the sitting was suspended.

The cabinet assembled hastily and as a result of its consultation, M. Dragoumis made conciliatory explanations which brought about a settlement of the dispute.

LE SUEUR COUNTY WETS WIN

Carry Option Election by Majority of 1,227 Ballots, Only Four Precincts Voting Dry.

Le Sueur, Oct. 27.—Le Sueur county voted to stay in the wet ranks in the county option election here by a majority of 1,227 ballots. Only four precincts voted dry. A very small vote was cast, the total being about 25 precincts below normal. There was little interest displayed by either side in the campaign.

Get $18,000,000 Ford Stock.

Walkerville, Ont., Oct. 27.—Distribution of a 600 per cent stock dividend to shareholders of the Ford Motor company of Canada, equivalent, at the present price of the stock, to $18,000,000, was recommended by the company's stockholders at their annual meeting. This action follows payment of a 50 per cent cash dividend which was made by the company to its stockholders within the last two weeks. There are only about 150 stockholders in the company.

King George to Visit Front.

London, Oct. 27.—King George is now in France, whither he has gone to visit the British army. He hopes also to see some of the Allied troops.

Finds Victim Is His Mother.

St. Paul, Oct. 27.—Attracted by a crowd that had surrounded the scene of a fatal accident in which a street car had struck and dragged a woman 50 feet at University and Prior avenues, St. Paul, last evening, Roy Fillmore learned the victim was his mother. He was in time to leap upon the footboard of an ambulance that was taking her to the Cobb hospital. His mother, who was Mrs. Charles Fillmore, died a short time after the ac[illegible]

CHARLTON MUST SERVE TERM.

AMERICAN SENTENCED TO SIX YEARS FOR KILLING WIFE.

Convicted Man Tells Court That He Must Trust to Italian Justice.

Como, Italy, Oct. 27.—Porter Charlton, the American who has been on trial here charged with murdering his wife in 1910, has been condemned to six years and eight months imprisonment.

Baron Schiacca, the presiding judge, before the case went to the jury, asked Charlton whether he had anything to add to the defense.

Trusts to Italian Justice.

With tears in his eyes Charlton said: "I trust entirely to Italian justice. I can only say that I am a most unfortunate man."

Both the prosecutor and the counsel for the defense made stirring pleas the former for the imposition of a heavy sentence, and the latter, composed of Signors Gataneo and Michelli Picardi, for acquittal on the ground that he prisoner was totally irresponsible when the crime was committed. Signor Picardi declared that no man in Charlton's condition could be responsible for his action under any law.

Serbs Withdraw From Danube Leaving Enemy Free Passage Through Bulgaria.

London, Oct. 27.—The Bucharest, Roumania, correspondent of the Times sends the following:

"Serbian troops have withdrawn from the neighborhood of the Danube and the Austrians have crossed the river, traversing the island of Odakale. The Austrian forces will now obtain free passage through Bulgaria from Orzova, where 50 steamers and lighters laden with munitions have assembled."

Bribery Charged in Horse Sales.

Winnipeg, Oct. 27.—Before Sir Charles Davidson, sitting as dominion government commissioner, Harry Whitla, K. C., was granted permission to appear as councel for Lieutenant Colonel H. D. Smith, V. S., who, Willet Hinman declared in his evidence, accepted $175 as commission on sale of 35 horses to the Canadian government from Hinman's sale stables.

Mr. Whitla stated that Lieutenant Colonel Smith is now assistant director in the veterinary service of the Second Canadian contingent and had been in France for the past six weeks. He has cabled Smith asking for an answer to Mr. Hinman's charges.

Box Factory Fire Investigated.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 27.—Investigations started by city and county officials into the box factory fire that took the lives of 12 girl employees and one man, and caused serious injuries to eight other persons have been begun. Mayor J. G. Armstrong announced that a detailed inquiry of all the circumstances would be made. Two reports showing that the factory was exceedingly dangerous were turned into the department of public safety within the last few months, it was learned.

German Food Problem Serious.

Copenhagen, Oct. 27.—The difficult problem of feeding Germany will be discussed at a conference, called by Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg, of representatives of all parties in the reichstag, according to confidential information received here.

THE CHARM OF MOTHERHOOD

Enhanced By Perfect Physical Health.

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

A Mystery.

"What did I do last night?"

"You remained at home and went to bed early."

"Then where in thunder did I get this headache?"

Sentiment.

She—Do you realize what a girls first kiss means to her?

He—Yes—lots more like it.

Can't Do the Work

A bad back makes hard work harder. All day the dull throb and the sharp, darting pains make you miserable, and there's no rest at night. Maybe it's your daily work that hurts the kidneys, for jarring, jolting, lifting, reaching, dampness and many other strains do weaken them.

Cure the kidneys. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. They have helped thousands and should do as well for you.

Paxtine

A Soluble Antiseptic Powder to be dissolved in water as needed For Douches

In the local treatment of woman's ills, such as leucorrhoea and inflammation, hot douches of Paxtine are very efficacious. No woman who has ever used medicated douches will fail to appreciate the clean and healthy condition Paxtine produces and the prompt relief from soreness and discomfort which follows its use. This is because Paxtine possesses superior cleansing, disinfecting and healing properties.

For ten years the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. has recommended Paxtine in their private correspondence with women, which proves its superiority. Women who have been relieved say it is "worth its weight in gold." At druggists. 50c. large box or by mail. Sample free. The Paxton Toilet Co., Boston, Mass.

STATE BREVITIES

St. Cloud.—Arthur Achen, aged 31 years, and Earl Hess, aged 29, are in the county jail awaiting trial on the charge of having robbed the Great Northern stations at Richmond and Coldspring, Oct. 18.

Duluth.—Duluth business interests, particularly grain men, are deeply interested in the outcome of a referendum election in New York State, when it will be determined whether $27,000,000 additional bonds will be issued to complete the enlargement of the Erie canal.

Benson.—To commemorate 25 years of graduating classes from the Benson high school, the alumni association is arranging for the establishment of a students' loan fund that will be available to pupils who desire a college education but are prevented by lack of funds.

Winona.—In a valley near here where a pirate pair is operating with a team of ponies and a wagon in which the men carry their plunder, including even tiny pigs lifted from pens in farmyards, farmers have mobilized, armed and are prepared to defend their property.

Mankato.—A dollar watch, stolen from Thomas D. Booth, who is thought to have been murdered on an Omaha freight train, forms the only known clue by which his murderers may be traced. Its number will be procured and sent to the police departments of many cities.

Dawson.—Five hundred men, more than three-fourths of them farmers, met at the Dawson city hall and decided unanimously to organize a farmers and merchants' club. E. J. Mannix of Sioux Falls, S. D., made the principal address and pointed out the advantages of such an organization.

St. Paul.—Julius A. Schmahl, secretary of state, is only a "possible candidate" for the Republican gubernatorial nomination and not an avowed candidate, as recent dispatches from Cincinnati indicated. Mr. Schmahl has returned to St. Paul from Cincinnati, where he has been attending the first convention of secretaries of state.

St. Cloud.—A reward of $500 has been offered by relatives of Walter Brackett, who disappeared from his farm near St. Cloud Sept. 24, for information leading to the recovery of his body. The relatives are convinced that the man has been killed. Walter L. Brackett is the son of Arthur Brackett of Excelsior and the nephew of C. S. Brackett, Minneapolis groceryman.

Crookston. — The first colt show for Polk county has just been held in Crookston in connection with the first of a series of monthly market days. It was under the auspices of the Crookston Commercial club and under the supervision of Superintendent C. G. Selvig of the Northwest School of Agriculture and was such a pronounced success that next fall it will be carried out on a much larger scale.

St. Peter.—Committees appointed to take charge of St. Peter's first annual colt show have agreed upon Saturday, Nov. 20, as the date for the exhibition. The show will be open to horse breeders of Nicollet and Le Sueur counties. Prizes will be offered for draft colts foaled on and after Jan. 1, 1915, and judges will be secured from the Minnesota college of agriculture. The stock entered in competition will be paraded before judging.

St. Peter.—Police officials are puzzled over a mysterious fire which broke out in the studio of G. H. Ribble photographer, just before midnight. When the fire department reached the studio the back door was found open, and oil was running from a bottle lying on the floor in one of the rear rooms. Later it was discovered that the incendiary forced the back door open with a jimmy. No threats had been made against Mr. Ribble, and he can make no explanation of the attempted crime.

Bemidji.—Five hundred farmers are expected to attend the institute which will be held in Bemidji Nov. 20, and a total attendance of more than 1,000 persons is counted upon. The purpose of the meeting and the keynote of the speeches will be improvements in dairy cattle and better soil management. The farmers will be addressed by Professor A. J. McGuire, T. R. Crane and Miss Josephine F. Berry, in charge of the domestic science department of the University of Minnesota. A free dinner will be served to the farmers at noon.

Grand Rapids.—After having been out about three and a half hours, following a trial that lasted over eight days, the jury in the case of the state of Minnesota vs. Gust Voigt, who was charged with attempting to poison his stepmother, Mrs. Emma C. Voigt on May 4 last, returned a verdict of not guilty.

Mr. J. M. Sinclair of Olivehill, Tenn., writes: "I strained my back, which weakened my kidneys and caused an awful bad backache and inflammation of the bladder. Later I became so much worse that I consulted a doctor, who said that I had Diabetes and that my heart was affected. I suffered for four years and was in a nervous state and very much depressed. Vilna's Napoleonic Veteran.

In Vilna, which is temporarily in the possession of Germany, lives Peter Laptieff, one of Europe's "old men," for he was born in the year 1789, says the London Chronicle. When Napoleon invaded Russia, and got as far as Dvinsk, he was in need of a guide. But the inhabitants had fled, Laptieff's family hiding in the recesses of a forest. But curiosity drew him, and he hid in a tree to watch the invaders. He was seen, captured and taken before the emperor, who ordered him to act as guide to the vanguard of the army. This he did for 36 hours, and then escaped. He fought against both of his country's present allies, against the French at Borodino, and against the English in the Crimea. Tired of making history, he took to making bricks, but now lives in retirement with his son and grandson.

He Was an Expert.

There was only a glimmer of light in the hall, but the old gentleman at the head of the stairs could just discern the outlines of two figures, very close together, near the front door.

"Helen," he snapped angrily, "this is too much! It's half-past eleven, and that young man's not gone yet! Doesn't he know how to say good-night?"

After a short silence there floated up the stairs to him in his daughter's voice, low, breathless, languorous:

"Doesn't he know how to say good-night?" she echoed. "Oh, father, I should just think he does!"

"My little grandson often comes up to show me how large the muscles of his arms are.

"He was a delicate child, but has developed into a strong, healthy boy and Postum has been the principal factor.

"I was induced to give him the Postum because of my own experience with it.

"I am sixty years old, and have been a victim of nervous dyspepsia for many years. Have tried all sorts of medicines and had treatment from many physicians, but no permanent relief came.

"I used to read the Postum advertisements in our paper. At first I gave but little attention to them, but finally something in one of the advertisements made me conclude to try Postum.

"I was very particular to have it prepared strictly according to directions, and used good, rich cream. It was very nice indeed, and about bedtime I said to the members of the family that I believed I felt better. One of them laughed and said, 'That's another of mother's notions,' but the notion has not left me yet.

"I continued to improve right along after leaving off coffee and taking Postum, and now after three years' use I feel so well that I am almost young again. I know Postum was the cause of the change in my health and I cannot say too much in its favor. I wish I could persuade all nervous people to use it."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Postum comes in two forms:

Postum Cereal—the original form—must be well boiled. 15c and 25c packages.

Instant Postum—a soluble powder—dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water, and, with cream and sugar, makes a delicious beverage instantly. 30c and 50c tins.

Both kinds are equally delicious and cost about the same per cup.

Plea For Prairie Chickens.

Ducks are plentiful, prairie chickens are scarce and partridges are few and far between, according to reports from Minnesota hunting regions to Carlos Avery, fish and game commissioner. A wet, cold spring is held to blame for the comparative lack of chickens.

"It is a shame to kill what few chickens are left," wrote John Huderle of McLeod county.

Ducks are said to abound in Roseau, Pine, Itasca, Jackson, Nicollet, Stearns and Watonwan counties.

Hunters are more and more impressed with the apparent passing of the prairie chicken. Past activities of sportsmen as well as unfavorable weather for propagation of the birds are accountable for the decimation of these game birds.

North of the Thief river chickens are reported scarce. Other communities that report few of these birds are Mahnomen, Pine, Itasca, Renville, Stearns, Lake, St. Louis, Kittson, Marshall, Hennepin and Ramsey counties.

271,137 Public School Children.

Public school figures for the fiscal year 1914-15, compiled under the direction of Dr. C. G. Schulz, state superintendent of education, show an increase in enrollment of 22,246 over the previous year, making a total of 271,137 public school children in the state. Two hundred and ninety new schools were erected, raising the total number of buildings to 9,254. There are 221 high schools, 241 graded schools and 143 consolidated schools, the increase in the latter class being highly encouraging as it is only four years since the consolidation movement began in Minnesota. To instruct the army of children there were employed 17,138 teachers, an increase of 1,040 over the previous school year.

More than 16,000 checks will be required to apportion the $1,500,000 state school aid fund which Walter J. Smith, state treasurer, is distributing among 86 counties. The county auditors draw 8,043 drafts on the state treasurer, that being the number of school districts sharing in the distribution, and the county treasurers draw checks payable to the school district treasurers. This makes a total of 16,172 checks. The apportionment this year is based on an average enrollment of 421,772 pupils. The per capita allotment is $3.55.

SHELL FRAGMENT PART OF TORPEDO, U. S. EXPERTS SAY

PIECE OF METAL TAKEN FROM DECK OF HESPERIAN COULD NOT HAVE BEEN PART OF MARINE MINE.

TO INFORM GERMANY OF RESULT OF THE INQUIRY

Secretary of State Lansing Says Decision of Navy Department Will Be Communicated to Berlin Government or to Bernstorff—Not to Question Good Faith.

Washington, Nov. 1.—Secretary of State Robert Lansing has announced that the navy department had indicated that the fragment of the engine of war which sank the Allen liner Hesperian was a part of a torpedo.

The German government has persistently denied that the Hesperian was torpedoed.

In the opinion of United States naval experts the fragment could not have been a part of a marine mine.

The secretary said the result of the navy department's investigation immediately would be communicated either to the German government directly or to Ambassador von Bernstorff.

Volunteers No Information.

The secretary volunteered no information regarding what form the communication to the German government might take.

Germany has made to the United States a qualified disclaimer of responsibility for the sinking of the Hesperian. In a note to Ambassador James W. Gerard on Sept. 14, the foreign office said that on the face of the evidence then at hand, Germany was satisfied that the Hesperian was not sunk by a German submarine.

The fragment of metal examined by the navy department experts was said to have been picked from the deck of the Hesperian after the explosion. The Hesperian sank early in September off the Irish coast while making her way to a port after being disabled by the explosion. The fragment was made of polished steel and was about nine inches long. It was sent to the state department by the American embassy at London.

Department Heretofore In Doubt.

The state department, heretofore, has been in doubt regarding the direct cause of the sinking of the Hesperian.

Several affidavits from passengers and officers of the ship have been received by the state department. The signers swore that the ship had been torpedoed. The fragment of metal was sent along as proof that the statements in the affidavits were true.

The Hesperian was declared to have been in regular passenger carrying service. The state department has been informed there were no troops aboard at the time of the sinking, but that several wounded Canadian soldiers were traveling on individual tickets as passengers. Two Americans were passengers.

Not to Question Good Faith.

The position of the United States has been to take no steps to question the good faith of Germany's assurances, unless it was shown clearly that the sinking of the Hesperian was in violation of them. The president and Secretary Lansing have been reluctant to believe that the Hesperian was sunk deliberately without valid excuse. Just what weight the report made by the navy department to Secretary Lansing will have could not be definitely ascertained.

VICTIMS OF FIRE BURIED

Twenty-one Little Girls Who Lost Lives in Conflagration Which Destroyed School, Laid to Rest.

Peabody, Mass., Nov. 1.—This busy manufacturing town hushed its machinery Saturday to pay tribute to the memory of 21 little girls who lost their lives in the fire which destroyed the St. John's parochial school Thursday.

The parents of three of the children elected to have their little ones buried in private, but for the 18 others a public mass was held at St. John's Roman Catholic church.

Hundreds of residents prepared to join the procession to the church, which was able to accommodate only a few of those who wished to attend. The supply of carriages in the town was exhausted and many citizens offered their automobiles to accommodate the mourners.

All stores and factories were closed during the services.

Conference On Alleged Bomb Plot.

The conference, it is expected, will decide whether the prisoners shall be prosecuted in the federal or state courts.

FRANCE ADMITS EXECUTION OF 2 WOMEN AS SPIES

DECLINES TO BE DRAWN INTO DISCUSSION FROM STANDPOINT OF COMPARISON WITH CAVELL AFFAIR.

ARE FOUND TO POSSESS VALUABLE INFORMATION

Both Victims, According to French Records, Confessed to Having Received Money from Germany as Compensation for Reports on Movements of Armies.

Paris, Nov. 2.—France makes no secret of the fact that she has executed two women spies, but refuses to be drawn into a discussion of the incidents from the standpoint of comparison with the Edith Cavell affair.

French records show that the women, Ottilie Voss and Marguerite Schmidt, were spies and paid the penalty with their lives.

Ottilie Voss was arrested by French secret service agents at Bourges, Feb. 27. She was unmarried and 33 years old. For seven years before the war she lived at Agen in the Bordeaux region, giving German lessons.

Returned to Germany.

When hostilities broke out she returned to her former home in Germany. Being out of work she became a spy and was sent to France.

Her orders were to visit Nice, Montpellier, Marseilles and Lyons, to note the importance of new troop formations, the frequency of railroad transports, their direction, the army sanitary condition, the number of wounded and arrivals of troops at the ports especially black soldiers. She was to report also on the population's general state of mind.

She traveled as directed, returned to Germany, made her report and received her pay.

Later she again came to France on a similar mission with $100 expense money. Her arrest at Bourges followed and her full confession was made two days after. The council of war of the Eighth region condemned her unanimously for espionage.

Confesses After Examination.

Marguerite Schmidt was born at Thiaucourt, France. She was 25 years old. She was arrested Feb. 17 at the Nancy railroad station, as a suspect and after a long examination confessed that the Germans had paid her to obtain information concerning the presence of British troops, reported to be in the Nancy region. She was to report also concerning various other regiments encamped between Bar-le-Duc and St. Menehould.

Although sent to France by the Germans, she declared she did not really intend to spy on the French, but planned to report to the German authorities that she had been prevented from doing her work by her arrest. Her presence at Nancy was held to refute this claim, however. She had in her possession, too, a book of questions, prepared by a German officer, which she was to ask the French.

To all questions she replied simply "I am sorry."

She was condemned March 20 for espionage.

Seven-eighths of the students were deported, killed or exiled and the young girls carried away to harems, the letter states. The letter was written July 19, 1915, Rev. Mr. Smith said and was addressed to Bishop Caspar ian of Boston, but the name of the writer, an American, is withheld in the fear of the Turks.

ANURIC!

The Newest Discovery in Chemistry

This is a recent discovery of Doctor Pierce, who is head of the Invalid's Hotel and Surgical Institute at Buffalo, N. Y. Experiments at Dr. Pierce's Hospital for several years proved that there is no other eliminator of uric acid that can be compared to it. For those easily recognized symptoms of inflammation—as backache, scalding urine and frequent urination, as well as sediment in the urine, or if uric acid in the blood has caused rheumatism, it is simply wonderful how surely "Anuric" acts. The best of results are always obtained in cases of acute rheumatism in the joints, in gravel and gout, and invariably the pains and stiffness which so frequently and persistently accompany the disease rapidly disappear.

Go to your nearest drug store and simply ask for a 50-cent package of "Anuric" manufactured by Dr. Pierce, or even write Dr. Pierce for a large trial package (10c). If you suspect kidney or bladder trouble, send him a sample of your water and describe symptoms. Dr. Pierce's chemist will examine it, then Dr. Pierce will report to you without fee or charge.

NOTE—"Anuric" is thirty-seven times more active than lithia in eliminating uric acid, and is a harmless but reliable chemical compound that may be safely given to children, but should be used only by grown-ups who actually wish to restore their kidneys to perfect health, by conscientiously using one box—or more in extreme cases as Anuric" (thanks to Doctor Pierce's achievement) is by far the most perfect kidney and bladder corrector obtainable.

SERBIA'S ARSENAL TOWN CAPTURED BY TEUTONS

Kraguyevatz Falls Before Army of Central Powers, While Nish, Serbian War Capital Is Menaced by Bulgarians — Roumanians Desire Intervention.

London, Nov. 3.—A Bucharest dispatch to the Times says it is reported in official naval quarters that the Russians have forced a landing at Varna on the Black Sea coast of Bulgaria.

Rome via Paris, Nov. 3.—The Austro-Germans are preparing a new offensive against the Suez canal, according to an Athens dispatch to the Tribuna, which adds that the British have made great preparations to meet such an eventuality.

They have flooded the land along the canal, leaving the fortifications just standing out of the water, the defenders being supplied with provisions by gunboats.

London, Nov. 3.—The Germans have occupied Kraguyevatz, the arsenal town of Serbia, while their Bulgarian allies are pushing their way through the mountains to Nish, Serbia's war capital.

From all sides the Germans, Austrians and Bulgarians are slowly closing in on the Serbian armies, the position of which grows graver day by day. They are fighting [illegible] however to save their [illegible] such losses [illegible] Mackensen's [illegible] compelled to send for reinforcements and leave [illegible] invading [illegible] part of the country [illegible] who have had more experience in mountain warfare than [illegible] the Serbians are waging.

Bulgars Move Westward.

From the junction of the [illegible] and Timok rivers in the northeast to Uskup in the south, the Bulgarians are moving westward, driving the Serbians out of the towns and into the mountains, but from Uskup southward they have been checked, as the Serbians in that territory have been reinforced by the French and British with modern guns and with gunners who gained valuable experience in France and Gallipoli.

Beyond the forces landed at Saloniki, which German estimates place at 70,000 men, there is no news of further assistance being sent by the allies to Serbia.

Roumanians Are Restless.

There is, however, evidence in dispatches from Bucharest that the people of Roumania at least desire intervention and that pressure is being brought on the king and cabinet to induce them to join the allies and permit a Russian force to pass through Roumanian territory to attack Bulgaria from the east. Greece continues her friendly neutrality.

Violent artillery encounters and infantry skirmishing between the French and Bulgarians in Serbia were reported in the war office's statement. From Krivolak to Veles there has been violent cannonading and a huge struggle impends.

The retaking of Veles, Sofia, by Bulgarian troops has been officially confirmed, according to a Havas dispatch from Athens.

New York, Nov. 3.—Herman Ridder, treasurer of the Democratic national committee and publisher of the New Yorker Staats Zeitung, died suddenly at his home in this city.

Mr. Ridder was owner and editor of the New Yorker Staats Zeitung, one of the foremost German newspapers in the United States, and through this he was particularly conspicuous recently in his recent defense of the German position in the European war.

Hocking Seizure Arouses Washington.

Washington, Nov. 3.—Officials here informally indicated their displeasure at the action of Great Britain in seizing the American ship Hocking because of the alleged invalidity in its transfer of registry. It is considered likely that a protest will be transmitted to the British foreign office within a few days. The state department will insist that the nationality of American ships is determined by the flag and not by ownership and will recall previous positions taken by Great Britain.

Robert Fay, the self-confessed plotter against American munitions plants and steamships carrying war supplies, is declared by the authorities at Berlin not to be an officer in the German army, though he asserts he is a lieutenant.

Claim 306 Strikers Hurt.

Chicago, Nov. 3.—The names of 306 persons said to have been beaten or otherwise injured by police or "slugging sluggers," were made public by officers of the striking garment workers as a retort to the roster of persons injured as prepared by the police. "Me forget it!" replied the other fraction. "Why, how can you say such a thing? Of course I won't forget it."

And he didn't. The very next day he shook four dimes out of the box to meet a deficiency in his car-fare allowance.

THAT IS, something is wrong with baby, but we can't tell just what it is. All mothers recognize the term by the lassitude, weakness, loss of appetite, inclination to sleep, heavy breathing, and lack of interest shown by baby. These are the symptoms of sickness. It may be fever, congestion, worms, croup, diphtheria, or scarlatina. Do not lose a minute. Give the child Castoria. It will start the digestive organs into operation, open the pores of the skin, carry off the fœtid matter, and drive away the threatened sickness.

Salmon Thrive in Maine.

Success has been met by the bureau of fisheries in establishing humpback salmon on the Maine coast, according to reports from that territory. The fish were planted in February, 1914. Many fish weighing five to seven and a half pounds have been taken or seen in Penobscot river, Me., and twenty were captured alive by agents of the bureau near Bangor and held in an effort to obtain ripe eggs. From two of these fish 8,000 eggs were taken September 6, and, after fertilization, sent to the Craig Brook hatchery for incubation. Local fishermen caught and ate large numbers, and an employee of the Green Lake hatchery took fifteen fish last week. These had passed through the fishways in dams in Dennys river and were dropping down stream in a spent condition; at the same time both live and dead fish were observed below the dams.

Quite Right.

"What do you understand by the phrase 'a liberal education?'" asked the professor when the freshman class in economics had assembled.

TURN OVER TIME

When Nature Hints About the Food.

When there's no relish to food and all that one eats doesn't seem to do any good then is the time to make a turn-over in the diet, for that's Nature's way of dropping a hint that the food isn't the kind required.

"For a number of years I followed railroad work, much of it being office work of a trying nature. Meal times were our busiest; and eating too much and too quickly of food such as is commonly served in hotels and restaurants, together with the sedentary habits, were not long in giving me dyspepsia and stomach trouble which reduced my weight from 205 to 160 pounds.

"There was little relish in any food and none of it seemed to do me any good. It seemed the more I ate the poorer I got and was always hungry before another meal, no matter how much I had eaten.

"Then I commenced a trial of Grape-Nuts food, and was surprised how a small saucer of it would carry me along, strong, and with satisfied appetite, until the next meal, with no sensations of hunger, weakness or distress as before.

"I have been following this diet now for several months and my improvement has been so great all the others in my family have taken up the use of Grape-Nuts with complete satisfaction and much improvement in health.

"Most people eat hurriedly, have lots of worry, thus hindering digestion and therefore need a food that is predigested and concentrated in nourishment."

"There's a Reason."

STATE BREVITIES

Duluth. — More than 1,000 men have been sent to lumber camps tributary to this point in a week and more are going out every day.

Lake City. — The first annual tri-county dairymen's convention, said to be the first in southern Minnesota this year, will be held here Nov. 18 and 19.

Rochester. — Paul Fischer, a theater employe here, was a victim of a holdup, the first to be reported as a consequence of dark streets, owing to the destruction of the light plant.

Brainerd. — The shortest grand jury session in the history of Crow Wing county has been completed at district court here. It sat five hours, returned three indictments and adjourned.

Thief River Falls.—One thousand educators were expected at the annual convention of the Northwestern Minnesota Educational association which convened here Thursday, nearly 200 having registered before 9 a. m.

Albert Lea. — The Clover creamery plant in Pickerel Lake township, including residence, power plant, all equipment and other creamery buildings adjoining, was sold under the hammer for $206. The property was worth about $3,000.

Rochester. — A. D. Allis of Oronoco, this county, one of the "forty-niners" who made the overland trip to California during the gold rush, is planning another trip to that state next month to be made under the most modern conditions.

Bemidji. — Charged with embezzling $269, Christian N. Thompson, postmaster at Nebish, was arrested and arraigned before United States Commissioner H. A. Simons. He waived examination and will appear before the federal grand jury Nov. 9. He gave $1,000 bonds.

St. Cloud. — The state authorities may be asked to take a hand in the efforts of the normal school authorities to persuade the city commissioners to have the Tenth street bridge repaired so that the noise from passing automobiles and teams will not interfere with the classes.

St. Peter. — The city council has passed an ordinance making students and minors liable to a fine or imprisonment if they enter any place in St. Peter where intoxicating liquors are served as a beverage. This ordinance also makes it unlawful for them to procure cigars and tobaccos.

Virginia. — Virginia voted 569 to 306 to retain the ward aldermanic form of government. The charter commission had submitted plans for government by five commissioners or by a city manager to be employed by a board of low salaried commissioners. The commission form was defeated in every ward.

Waconia. — John Lindner, a pioneer of this county, and Henry Vahl, a neighbor, were killed and Valentine Lindner, a son, was seriously injured in a cave-in of a ditch they were building to drain a mud lake on the Lindner and Vahl farms three miles from here, and Mr. and Mrs. James Horn were severely injured when their automobile overturned while they were speeding to the scene of the accident.

Bemidji. — Legislation that will affect more than 500,000 acres of land in northern Minnesota will be discussed at a meeting to be held at Federal Dam about Dec. 8, when the matter of lowering the high water in the vicinity of Leech lake will be taken up. This action comes as the result of a conference of the Federal Dam Commercial club and George R. Ralph, formerly Minnesota state drainage engineer.

Duluth. — With the boom in shipbuilding it is expected that the yard of the American Shipbuilding company at the Head of the Lakes, idle except as a repair yard for many years, will be used this winter. So many contracts have been made for the construction of new giant steamers for the Great Lakes, and a number for Norway, that almost all of the yard berths on the Great Lakes are filled.

Mankato. — Miss Esther Miller of Smith's Mill, 21 years old, whose marriage to Arthur Tarne, a young farmer, was to take place Wednesday, was found dead in her bed by her mother. Her death is thought to have occurred from natural causes. She had spent the evening with her betrothed, addressing invitations to the wedding. Her trousseau will be her shroud. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. August Miller, farmers, living near the Waseca county line.

Duluth. — A delegation of Lake Vermilion Indians invaded the lobby of the Spalding hotel here to interview Congressman C. B. Miller. They marched in in single file, found the congressman seated in the lobby, surrounded him and held a powwow. Their quest was to have the congressman procure permission for them to hunt and fish on Vermilion lake, which they cannot do now, owing to the state game and fish laws being enforced on the Indian reservation.

Duluth. — The La Follette seamen's act passed by the last congress went into effect last Thursday on the Great Lakes and oceans. For the past ten days government inspectors of vessels here have been rushed harder than at any time since the offices were established, examining sailors as to their seamanship and physical ability.

St. Cloud.—Declaring he was about to commit suicide and asking that his wife at Little Falls be notified, Joseph Vittmer was apprehended here and sent back to Little Falls for examination in probate court.

MINNESOTA EXPERIMENT STATION URGES EXTREME CARE IN STORAGE OF CROP.

STATE CAPITOL HAPPENINGS

Events of General Interest in Minnesota Condensed and Revised for The Greater Convenience of Busy Readers.

St. Paul.

Extreme care in the storage of potatoes is urged by the Minnesota experiment station as a consequence of the appearance of "late blight dry rot" and "black leg rot" which have done and are doing considerable damage in different parts of the state. E. C. Stakman of the division of plant pathology in the college of agriculture, after personal observation in the potato growing districts, said that all loss from late blight dry rot could have been prevented by proper spraying. About all that can be done now is to provide the best of storage to prevent further loss. Potatoes showing evidence of black leg infection should be rejected when seed potatoes are selected in the spring. The tubers selected for seed should be treated in corrosive sublimate, 4 ounces to 30 gallons, but the treated tubers should not be used for food or fed to stock on account of the danger of poisoning.

To Make Few Changes.

It is doubtful if the efficiency and economy commission will attempt anything like a complete reorganization of the state's administrative departments at the session in January. The governor favors a complete scheme on the order of the one presented to the legislature last winter, but the members who were in the city last week indicated they favor progressive reorganizations; that they will recommend as many reforms as they think can be passed through the legislature, and leave the balance to a future session. The state inspection system probably will be reorganized completely. The hotel, the oil, dairy and food inspectors and probably some others will be included in one body so that when one inspector visits a town he may do all the inspecting that is necessary there under the law. Where experts in any line are needed their employment will be recommended, but the first object of the commission will be to avoid duplication of work.

State to Borrow $3,000,000.

Within the next month State Treasurer Smith will make an arrangement for a loan of between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 in order to carry the state over until March 1, next, when railroad gross earning taxes will be available. The money is needed to care for salaries and other expenses of the state which are met by the revenue fund. This heavy loan is made necessary because of the heavy expenditure for school purposes which falls due this month. Generally the state is compelled to pay from 4 to 5 per cent. The money is procured from the banks of the two cities and generally for a short period.

Governor's Aid Asked.

Governor Hammond has been asked to offer a reward for Walter Brackett, a farmer living near St. Cloud, who disappeared Sept. 24, and whom relatives think was kidnaped and killed. The governor was interested in the case by Attorney General Lyndon A. Smith. Sheriff Langum, a friend of Brackett's, and Brackett's relatives brought the case to Mr. Smith's attention. Sheriff Langum and a private detective were called by the governor to confer concerning the details of Brackett's disappearance. The missing man's parents live at Excelsior.

May Reduce Taxes.

The supreme court will consider the matter of reduction of taxes asked by the Western Union Telegraph company Dec. 1. The telegraph company seeks a reduction in its taxes on the ground that it should be assessed in class 4 of the classified assessment law instead of under the special law affecting telegraph companies. If the contention of the telegraph company is upheld by the court the company will pay $17,616 instead of $44,040 as figured by the Minnesota tax commission.

PLANS FOR DEFENSE

PRESIDENT WILSON STATES THE PREPAREDNESS PROGRAM OF ADMINISTRATION.

ASKS SUPPORT OF NATION

In Speech Before Manhattan Club Chief Executive Tells How Army Should Be Enlarged and Navy Developed for Protection of America.

New York, Nov. 5.—What President Wilson and his administration are planning in the way of a larger army and navy for the adequate protection of the United States was summarized by the chief executive last night in a speech at the fiftieth anniversary of the Manhattan club.

Our ambition, said Mr. Wilson, is not only to be free and prosperous ourselves, but also to be the friend and thoughtful partisan of those who are free or who desire freedom the world over. We shall, he declared he believed, never again take another foot of territory by conquest, or seek to make an independent people subject to our dominion. Because of the great European conflict, said the president, "from one end of our own dear country to the other men are asking one another what our own force is, how far we are prepared to maintain ourselves against any interference with our action or development."

Though the mission of America in the world is essentially a mission of peace and good will among men, declared Mr. Wilson, we feel justified in preparing ourselves to vindicate our right to independent and unmolested action by making the force that is in us ready for assertion.

Plans for the Army.

"And we know," continued the president, "that we can do this in a way that will be itself an illustration of the American spirit. In accordance with our American traditions we want and shall work for only an army adequate to the constant and legitimate uses of times of international peace. But we do want to feel that there is a great body of citizens who have received at least the most rudimentary and necessary forms of military training; that they will be ready to form themselves into a fighting force at the call of the nation; and that the nation has the munitions and supplies with which to equip them without delay should it be necessary to call them into action. We wish to supply them with the training they need, and we think we can do so without calling them at any time too long away from their civilian pursuits.

"It is with this idea, with this conception in mind that the plans have been made which it will be my privilege to lay before the congress at its next session. That plan calls for only such an increase in the regular army of the United States as experience has proved to be required for the performance of the necessary duties of the army in the Philippines, in Hawaii, in Porto Rico, upon the borders of the United States, at the coast fortifications, and at the military posts of the interior. For the rest, it calls for the training within the next three years of a force of 400,000 citizen soldiers to be raised in annual contingents of 133,000, who would be asked to enlist for three years with the colors and three years on furlough, but who during their three years of enlistment with the colors would not be organized as a standing force but would be expected merely to undergo intensive training for a very brief period of each year. Their training would take place in immediate association with the organized units of the regular army. It would have no touch of the amateur about it, neither would it exact of the volunteers more than they could give in any one year from their civilian pursuits.

"And none of this would be done in such a way as in the slightest degree to supersede or subordinate our present serviceable and efficient National Guard. On the contrary, the National Guard itself would be used as a part of the instrumentality by which training would be given the citizens who enlisted under the new conditions, and I should hope and expect that the legislation by which all this would be accomplished would put the National Guard itself upon a better and more permanent footing than it has ever been before, giving it not only the recognition which it deserves but a more definite connection with the military organization of the nation.

For Development of the Navy.

"It has been American policy time out of mind to look to the navy as the first and chief line of defense. The navy of the United States is already a very great and efficient force. Not rapidly, but slowly, with careful attention, our naval force has been developed until the navy of the United States stands recognized as one of the most efficient and notable of the modern time. All that is needed in order to bring it to a point of extraordinary force and efficiency as compared with the other navies of the world is that we should hasten our pace in the policy we have long been pursuing, and that chief of all we should have a definite policy of development, not made from year to year but looking well into the future and planning for a definite consummation. We can and should profit in all that we do by the experience and example that have been made obvious to us by the military and naval events of the actual present. It is not merely a matter of building battleships and cruisers and submarines, but also a matter of making sure that we shall have the adequate equipment of men and munitions and supplies for the vessels we build and intend to build. Part of our problem is the problem of what I may call the mobilization of the resources of the nation at the proper time if it should ever be necessary to mobilize them for national defense. We shall study the efficiency and adequate equipment as carefully as we shall study the number and size of our ships, and I believe that the plans already in part made public by the navy department are plans which the whole nation can approve with rational enthusiasm.

"No thoughtful man feels any panic haste in this matter. The country is not threatened from any quarter. She stands in friendly relations with all the world. Her resources are known and her self-respect and her capacity to care for her own citizens and her own rights. There is no fear amongst us. Under the new world conditions we have become thoughtful of the things which all reasonable men consider necessary for security and self-defense on the part of every nation confronted with the great enterprise of human liberty and independence.

"In the fulfillment of the program I propose I shall ask for the hearty support of the country, of the rank and file of America, of men of all shades of political opinion. I would not feel that I was discharging the solemn obligation I owe the country were I not to speak in terms of the deepest solemnity of the urgency and necessity of preparing ourselves to guard and protect the rights and privileges of our people, our sacred heritage of the fathers who struggled to make us an independent nation.

Hits at the Hyphenates.

"The only thing within our own borders that has given us grave concern in recent months has been that voices have been raised in America professing to be the voices of Americans which were not indeed and in truth American, but which spoke alien sympathies, which came from men who loved other countries better than they loved America, men who were partisans of other causes than that of America and had forgotten that their chief and only allegiance was to the great government under which they live. These voices have not been many, but they have been very loud and very clamorous. They have proceeded from a few who were bitter and who were grievously misled. America has not opened its doors in vain to men and women out of other nations. The vast majority of those who have come to take advantage of her hospitality have united their spirits with hers as well as their fortunes. These men who speak alien sympathies are not their spokesmen, but are the spokesmen of small groups whom it is high time that the nation should call to a reckoning. The chief thing necessary in America in order that she should let all the world know that she is prepared to maintain her own great position is that the real voice of the nation should sound forth unmistakably and in majestic volume, in the deep unison of a common, unhesitating national feeling. I do not doubt that upon the first occasion, upon the first opportunity, upon the first definite challenge, that voice will speak forth in tones which no man can doubt and with commands which no man dare gainsay or resist.

"May I not say, while I am speaking of this, that there is another danger that we should guard against? We should rebuke not only manifestations of racial feeling here in America where there should be none, but also every manifestation of religious and sectarian antagonism.

"Here is the nation God has builded by our hands. What shall we do with it? Who is there who does not stand ready at all times to act in her behalf in a spirit of devoted and disinterested patriotism? We are yet only in the youth and first consciousness of our power. The day of our country's life is still but in its fresh morning. Let us lift our eyes to the great tracts of life yet to be conquered in the interests of righteous peace. Come, let us renew our allegiance to America, conserve her strength in its purity, make her chief among those who serve mankind, self-reverenced, self-commanded, mistress of all forces of quiet counsel, strong above all others in good will and the might of invincible justice and right."

ALLEGED OROZCO CONFESSION MAY LEAD TO ARRESTS

FEDERAL ACTION EXPECTED AGAINST HUERTA FOLLOWERS AS RESULT OF REVELATIONS.

BREAK BETWEEN OBREGON AND CARRANZA RUMORED

Popularity of "El Mocho" Said to Have Caused Words with Present Chief of de facto Government—Armies Concentrating for Blow Which May End Present Strife.

San Antonio, Texas, Nov. 8.—Federal authorities are discussing the alleged confession of Jose Orozco in regard to the alleged plot to restore Victoriana Huerta to power in Mexico. Warrants were issued Saturday and it was believed at least a dozen arrests will be made.

Orozco, who was the chief lieutenant of his cousin, Pascual Orozco, is a prisoner at El Paso. He is alleged to have stated that $11,000,000 has been pledged to support the Huerta movement. Agents were stationed in New York, New Orleans, Galveston and Ean Antonio.

According to Orozco the invaders were to seize Juarez, which Huerta was to proclaim as his provisional capital.

Has 10,000 Followers.

From El Paso come reports of a split between Carranza and Obregon. This was said to be Obregon's reason for going to Agua Prieta, where he has 10,000 loyal followers.

Obregon may open negotiations with the defeated Villa forces, it was rumored, to unite against the recognized head of the present de facto government. While passing through El Paso, Obregon would make no statement regarding his standing with Carranza. To all questions he replied: "Mexico will be at peace soon."

The popularity of "El Mocho" (the one-armed man) as Mexicans now call Obregon, caused words between Carranza and Obregon on their recent tour of northern Mexico. In Saltillo, Torreon and other cities they visited together, the multitude acclaimed Obregon enthusiastically, but there was hardly a cheer for Carranza.

Carranzistas Concentrating.

Carranza forces to the north and south of Villa's retreating army are concentrating for a blow which the de facto leaders hope will end the strife in northern Mexico, according to reports sent to Washington by Major General Funston, who also reported that General Obregon, Carranza's chief commander, would arrive at Douglas, Ariz., shortly to begin organizing a campaign.

Obregon's troops will be brought over the American railway from Laredo to Douglas. They will be unable to take the field for some days as they are arriving without equipment.

U. S. CRUISER AIDS VESSEL.

San Diego Races 250 Miles After Receiving Distress Signals from Wrecked Coast Steamer.

Dan Diego, Cal., Nov. 8.—The United States cruiser San Diego was standing by the wrecked coast steamer Fort Bragg off Point Palmilla ready to take aboard the vessel's 24 passengers and crew of 23, who were believed to be safe on the beach.

The San Diego, with Rear Admiral Winslow aboard, picked up the Fort Bragg's distress signals and raced 250 miles to her aid.

All of the Fort Bragg's lifeboats were lost except one, whether it succeeded in taking ashore the line which enabled passengers and crew to escape by means of a breeches buoy or whether the stricken vessel was close enough to the beach to use its life gun remained to be told.

When the San Diego arrived on the scene, passengers and crew could be seen huddled about bonfires on the beach. It was impossible for the cruiser to communicate with them until daylight.

The steamer, a wooden vessel of 705 tons, was believed to be a total loss. In addition to a cargo of merchandise, she was thought to be carrying gold and silver from Mexican mines.

Milk Educational Campaign.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—A country-wide educational campaign to cost $250,000, to instruct the public to use milk as a means of decreasing the cost of living and for improvement of health was authorized by the National Dairy Council.

Tries to Save Horse; Burned.

Williston, N. D., Nov. 8.—A desperate effort to save his employer's horse from a burning barn cost Joseph Hofsath, a farm laborer, his life. While the family was away a fire was started in the hayloft by a 4-year-old child. With the building in flames Hofsath, who had been attracted in from the fields, went into the barn in an attempt to get a stallion valued at $[illegible] out of the building. Frightened by the fire, the horse crushed the farm hand against the sides of the stall and both man and horse burned to death.

Thought Umbrellas Unmilitary.

Umbrellas and khaki seem a most unlikely combination; yet one instance is recorded of British soldiers taking their umbrellas into action, according to the London Chronicle. On December 10, 1813, during the battle of the Nive, the Grenadier guards captured a redoubt outside Bayonne. While they were in possession of this Wellington passed by and noticed that the officers had umbrellas up to protect themselves from the heavy rain.

He sent back his aide-de-camp, Lord Arthur Hill, to tell them that "the duke does not approve of the use of umbrellas in action. The guards' officers may, if they please, carry umbrellas even in uniform when on duty at St. James, but in the field it is not only ridiculous, but unmilitary."

It's the little troubles that wear away a man's conceit.

Steel vs. Iron.

For some purpose iron is to be preferred to steel and vice versa. To easily distinguish one from the other, make a bright spot on the metal with a file or sand paper and apply a single drop of nitric acid. Allow it to remain for one or two minutes and wash or wipe off. If the spot has a pale ashy appearance it is wrought iron; if it is a brownish black, it is steel; if a deep black, it is cast iron.

In both imports and exports the United States has about doubled its business with South American countries during the past year. Imports in September were $30,052,765, compared with $15,858,284 for September, 1914. Exports amounted to $16,938,717, against $8,288,881 for the same month a year ago.

The statement also shows improvement in trade with Mexico.

PROTESTS HOLDING OF SHIP

Ambassador Gerard Instructed to Make Representations to Germany Against Seizure.

Washington, Nov. 10.—Ambassador Gerard at Berlin has been instructed to protest to the German government against the detention of the American sailing ship Pass of Balmaha, which, after being seized by a British warship, was captured with the prize crew aboard by a German submarine. Germany recently ordered the vessel held for prize court proceedings at Hamburg on the ground that her transfer from Canadian to American registry after the war began was illegal.

FRENCH GUNS DECIDE FIGHT

Arrive at Isvor in Midst of Terribly Bloody Battle Between Bulgarians and Serbs.

Rome, Nov. 10.—Details of the battles at Isvor and Babuna arriving at Rome show that the fighting was terribly bloody owing to the stubbornness of the Serbians and Bulgarians, who slaughtered each other without pity. Heaps of slain remained on the field.

The battle was decided on the third day as a result of the arrival of French artillery and British cavalry. The French guns demoralized the Bulgarians and the cavalry accentuated the panic.

Hennepin Election Probe Continued.

Minneapolis, Nov. 10.—Members of the new grand jury plan to take up the investigation of alleged illegal voting at the county option election last October where the old grand jury left it. Two members of the old grand jury laid before the present body all the information they had at hand. A committee to investigate the matter further was appointed by G. F. Piper, foreman. BAGDAD OCCUPIED BY BRITISH, 80,000 SLAVS IN BULGARIA

RUSSIANS DISEMBARK ON COAST AND 200,000 WILL ARRIVE BY LAND IF ROUMANIA DOES NOT OPPOSE.

ALLIES LAND A TOTAL OF 220,000 MEN AT SALONIKI

Attitude of Roumania Less Clear, One Dispatch Announcing Country Has Disarmed Russian Steamers on Danube—Another Report Says Ships Ascend River.

Rome, Nov. 10—Commenting on the information that the British have occupied Bagdad, the Tribune says:

"Such an event is, perhaps, the most important of the present war. The occupation of Bagdad will certainly produce an enormous echo in the Moslem world, which considers this the moral capital of Mohammedanism, more than Constantinople, or Mecca. The occupation of Bagdad may have serious consequences on the issue of the European war."

Rome, Nov. 10.—The Corriere Della Sera learns from Saloniki that the Russians have landed 80,000 on the Bulgarian coast. Another 200,000 are to arrive by land, if Roumania does not oppose, according to these dispatches.

The landing of Allied troops at Saloniki continues. The total has now reached 220,000.

Roumania's Attitude Not Clear.

The attitude of Roumania is becoming less clear. One dispatch announces that Roumania has disarmed all Russian steamers and tugs on the Danube, substituting the Roumanian flag. Another states that a great fleet of Russian torpedo boats and destroyers is ascending the Danube to attack the Austrian fleet and destroy the transports laden with munitions which are unloading at Vidin.

Kruzevac Is Occupied by Germans, Who Take Many Prisoners and Guns.

London, Nov. 10.—The Austro-Germans have succeeded in crossing the Morava river, in Serbia, and General Von Gallwitz has occupied Kruzevac, one of Serbia's largest towns, about 30 miles due northwest of Nish. The fall of Kruzevac means that the branch railway line to Uzhitze near the Bosnian frontier has been broken by the invaders close to the point where it leaves the main Belgrade-Nish-Saloniki line. A large number of prisoners, 16 guns and a lot of war material fell into German hands.

C., Nov. 10.—A new and greater Europe growing out of the war now raging with the peoples of the warring nations coming at last to a realization of the real liberty Americans gained so long ago, was pictured by the secretary of the interior, Frank K. Lane, in an address before the State Literary and Historical association of North Carolina.

Train Runs on Alaskan Road.

The Mother's Labor of Love

"To my mind the noblest holiday in the world is Thanksgiving. And next the Creator there is no one the holiday should be dedicated to as much as to mothers."—Abraham Lincoln.

PASS ON THE JOY OF THANKSGIVING

Making Others Glad Should Be Considered One of the Chief Duties of the Season.

IT'S the easiest thing in the world to look for trouble and to find it waiting, grim and terrible, for your search. It isn't very hard to count your blessings in a negative sort of way, by saying, "Yes, it's very nice, but it could be much nicer." It's quite the usual thing to hear folk complain—and complaining is heard more often than praise and thankfulness. Yet—so they tell us—a little over three hundred years ago a band of sturdy, venturesome Christian folk were very thankful indeed and praised their Lord fervently over a handful of parched corn and a bit of unleavened bread.

Once a year we set apart a day, consecrated to their memory, and try to throw aside the customs and complainings of the world as we know it. We gather together—families of us—and eat turkey and plum pudding; we talk of commonplaces and sometimes we feel bored and tired. Yet we are supposed to be celebrating.

We have bushels of things to be glad for this year—hundreds; it seems more than we ever had. As we offer up our blessings it won't be hard to remember that across a dividing bit of ocean other people are starving to death, and that ought to make us just a bit more thankful. As we see our families sitting around talking commonplaces it may help us to think of other families in other countries that are fighting and dying on blood-stained battlefields. As we hear the crisp November wind banging in the trees, we ought to be mighty thankful that it isn't the sound of cannon and bugles and screams that we're hearing. Oh, friends of mine, it won't be very hard to be thankful this year!

As I was walking down Fourth avenue a few days ago I was thinking, with my head in the clouds, of many things; thinking so hard that I did not notice exactly where my feet were taking me. It was only when I stumbled against a little boy who was running around a corner that I came down to earth with a bump.

"Oh! I'm so sorry," I said. "Did I hurt you?"

"Dat's a' right, lady," said the little boy with a dirty Raphael-cherub grin. "I was only running!"

"Oh!"—he was lingering at my side, so I felt it necessary to make conversation—"you were running—playing something?"

"Huh!" the little boy grunted beatifically as he pulled up one ragged stocking. "Oh, no; I was jus' running fer fun."

His little face crinkled with smiles again and he trotted on out of my sight.

Just running for fun, for the pure joy of living. A little boy with nothing else to make him happy—and yet a number of us frown and fret in the midst of all sorts of pleasures.

I was talking to a chum of mine not long ago, and some way our conversation drifted around to Thanksgiving time, and our interpretation of the day.

"It's all wrong!" said my chum earnestly, "all wrong!"

"Why?" I asked curiously. "I'm always thankful for my blessings on Thanksgiving; so are most people. Why is it all wrong?"

"Well," answered my chum, "on Thanksgiving day we sit around and talk and eat—principally. I once asked a little girl what Thanksgiving day meant, and she said 'turkey and cranberry sauce!' And then we thank God complacently for our harvests, and our food, and our clothes, and his love. Isn't it so?"

"Yes," I admitted.

"Well," continued the girl, "the Pilgrims did that, too, years ago. But they did not stop there. After they thanked God for their own blessings they tried to pass on the joy to folk less fortunate than they were. They even invited the Indians, beings that they had every reason to be afraid of, into their homes and gave them a little of the season's cheer. They kept Thanksgiving."

"Then"—I was choosing my words rather carefully—"then your idea is not to be thankful yourself—only to give someone else a chance to be thankful?"

"But," asked the girl softly, "isn't that the right way to be thankful?"

Isn't it?

It's a very easy thing to pass along the outside of life without even dipping down into the depths, and ever so many people do it because it is the easiest way. Somehow it is hard to convince folk that things that tear at their heartstrings are the things that they should see and know. It's mighty easy to eat our Thanksgiving dinners without a thought of our brothers and sisters who are starving on some other street in the same city, and it's only because it is so much easier, I reckon, that people do forget to pass a bit of their plenty and peace.

But, as I write, I can't help thinking of filled-to-overflowing baskets that I have seen in missions, of eager children grasping fat turkeys, of mothers crying happy tears over coal and wood that will keep them warm and happy. I can't help having my mind slip away from the well-filled tables and the happy smiles and the cheerful commonplaces of our own country, to the dreary homes in Europe that are being brightened because the people of this land were willing—yes, more than willing—to share their blessings with others.

Oh, friends of mine, it's the easiest thing in the world to look for trouble, and it isn't very hard to find people who are fretting and crying and counting their blessings in a negative sort of way instead of just being happy. But somehow, when we stop to look around us and think, the world seems to be a pretty nice place at Thanksgiving time.—Margaret E. Sangster, Jr., in Christian Herald.

THANKSGIVING DAY

We plow the fields, and scatter
 The good seed o'er the land,
But it is fed and watered
 By God's almighty hand.
He sends the snow in winter
 The warmth to swell the grain,
The seed time and the harvest
 And soft refreshing rain.
All good gifts around us
 Are sent from heaven above,
Then thank the Lord, Oh, thank the Lord
 For all his love.

ITALY WILL AID IN BALKANS

TO GIVE SUFFICIENT SUPPORT TO ASSURE TRIUMPH.

Determination of Allies in Campaign Shown by Large Force Being Sent to Region.

London, Nov. 15. — The continued landing of British and French troops at Saloniki is causing some uneasiness in Bulgaria and Turkey, and the ministers of those two powers again protested to the Greek government, which took formal notice of their protests.

The determination of the Entente Allies in their Balkan campaign is shown by the large force they are sending to the Balkans and news was received from Rome that Italy also had decided to intervene in this region "in a manner worthy of her greatness" and to give sufficient support to the British and French to assure a complete triumph. This is said to have had some influence on Greece and Roumania. Roumania, however, is waiting for the developments of the Russian plans.

How to Heal Skin Diseases

A Baltimore doctor suggests this simple, but reliable and inexpensive, home treatment for people suffering with eczema, ringworm, rashes and similar itching, burning skin troubles.

At any reliable druggist's get a jar of resinol ointment and a cake of resinol soap. These are not at all expensive. With the resinol soap and warm water bathe the affected parts thoroughly, until they are free from crusts and the skin is softened. Dry very gently, spread on a thin layer of the resinol ointment, and cover with a light bandage—if necessary to protect the clothing. This should be done twice a day. Usually the distressing itching and burning stop with the first treatment, and the skin soon becomes clear and healthy again.

Briefly defined, faith is a fixed belief that the impossible is going to happen.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original little liver pills put up 40 years ago. They regulate liver and bowels.—Adv.

It usually is the man whose distinction is that of being the father of a great many children who deserts them and the woman who bore them.

Hanford's Balsam has been successfully used since 1846. As a liniment for domestic animals it is unsurpassed. Adv.

One Advantage.

"Do you find living with alimony better than living with a husband?"

"I should say I do. That comes in regularly, at least."

Defining a Mugwump.

The definitions given by children of certain words which elude the lexicographer are sometimes amusing.

One little fellow, for instance, came to his mother with a complaint the other day and said:

"Maw, Johnny is such a mugwump that I won't sleep with him no more."

"Why, Charley," said his mother, "whatever do you mean? A mugwump? What is that?"

"Why don't you know? But then you women don't ought to be expected to know nothin' o' pol'tics. But father knows, an' he says a 'mugwump is a chap what don't take either side, an' that's Johnny all over. He sleeps in the middle an' where do I come in?"

Scriptural Proof.

"At a negro camp meeting in North Carolina," says Senator Ben Tillman, "a testifying penitent referred to himself and his unconverted brothers as 'niggers' in a spirit of abject humility which he deemed well pleasing to his Maker. The presiding elder, who 'amended' his speech at proper intervals, finally threw out a gentle rebuke.

"'Call yo'se'f a cullud person, brother,' he admonished, impressively, 'Niggers is a term of reproach invented by proud white folks. Dey ain't no mention in de Bible of niggers.'"

"'Oh, yes, dey is, parson,' the penitent contradicted solemnly. 'Don't you rec-lect de place where it tells 'bout nigger Demus?'"

CHANGE

Quit Coffee and Got Well.

A woman's coffee experience is interesting. "For two weeks at a time I have taken no food but skim milk, for solid food would ferment and cause such distress that I could hardly breathe at times, also excruciating pain and heart palpitation and all the time I was so nervous and restless.

"From childhood up I had been a coffee and tea drinker and for the past 20 years I had been trying different physicians but could get only temporary relief. Then I read an article telling how some one had been helped by leaving off coffee and drinking Postum and it seemed so pleasant just to read about good health I decided to try Postum.

"I made the change from coffee to Postum and there is such a difference in me that I don't feel like the same person. We all found Postum delicious and like it better than coffee. My health now is wonderfully good.

"As soon as I made the shift to Postum I got better and now my troubles are gone. I am fleshy, my food assimilates, the pressure in the chest and palpitation are all gone, my bowels are regular, have no more stomach trouble and my headaches are gone. Remember I did not use medicines at all—just left off coffee and used Postum steadily." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Postum comes in two forms:

Postum Cereal—the original form—must be well boiled. 15c and 25c packages.

Instant Postum—a soluble powder—dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water and, with cream and sugar, makes a delicious beverage instantly. 30c and 50c tins.

Both kinds are equally delicious and cost about the same per cup.

"There's a Reason" for Postum.

State News in Brief

Doings of Last Few Days Throughout Minnesota Condensed for Hasty Perusal.

St. Cloud. — Nicholas Traufler, 93 years old, for fifty years a resident of Stearns county, died at the home of his daughter. He is survived by his widow, five children, twenty-four grandchildren and twenty-one great-grandchildren.

Stillwater.—Louis D. Jarchow, sheriff of Washington county the last five years, died here after an illness of several weeks from paralysis. He was about 50 years old, and a son of Nicholas Jarchow. He was born and reared at Stillwater.

Winona.—Carrying supplies for one of the warring nations of Europe, a special train of thirty-seven cars passed through East Winona on the Burlington road, northbound. The railway company maintained secrecy relative to the nature of the shipment.

Faribault. — Occupants of the farm home of Charles Laufferer, at Blooming Grove, barely escaped when it was destroyed by fire. The blaze is thought to have started from a defective flue. The hired man was awakened when smoke filled his room. Escape was cut off and he jumped from a second story window.

Winona. — R. T. Doud, 81 years old, a Winona county pioneer, probably will be the oldest hunter in the North woods this year. He procured a big game license and with C. E. Maxham, 72 years old, left for Marifield, Minn., near Brainerd. The two aged men made arrangements for a seventy-five mile overland trip in the north.

Albert Lea.—Somebody painted red the entrance of the new church at Hartland, and as a result war is threatened again between opposing factions among members of the five Lutheran churches of this county. The followers of T. J. Strand, ousted minister, who built the church, say the anti-Strand faction daubed on the paint. The charge is denied.

Duluth.—A picturesque career was brought to a dramatic close when W. E. Archibald Le Quesne dropped dead while addressing the Sunday school at Trinity Episcopal cathedral here. Mr. Le Quesne, a native of Nova Scotia, served as a scout for General Miles in the Sioux Indian campaign, part of the time being under command of Colonel William Cody (Buffalo Bill).

Duluth. — Reports of receipts of coal at the head of the lakes, the distributing point of the northwest, for October, show a falling off from those of last year. Bituminous was short during the month by 209,144 tons, and for the season to Nov. 1, 1,735,687 tons. Anthracite is slightly ahead of last year, October showing 26,493 tons more and the season to Nov. 1, 74,920 tons excess.

Red Wing. — Seven English Lutheran ministers make up a party that will hunt big game in the woods of the north. "The expedition is sort of a pastor's retreat," said Rev. Willis Beck of Zumbrota, "and we plan to have a grand time. We will leave in a few days to shoot deer." Others in the party are Rev. C. C. Roth of St. Paul's church, Red Wing; Rev. E. Schultz, Cannon Falls; Rev. Dr. W. P. Christy, Rev. D. E. Bosserman, Minneapolis, and Rev. W. H. Gable, Superior, Wis.

Minneapolis.—Charles C. Daniels of North Carolina, special assistant to the attorney general and for the last 18 months in charge of the government's prosecution of White Earth Indian land cases, is to be superseded in office by a Minnesota man. Mr. Daniels, who is a brother of Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels and a close friend and follower of William Jennings Bryan, is either to be ousted from the government service or transferred to some other part of the country.

Red Wing. — Miss Rolfe Tripp, 19-year-old daughter of Timothy Tripp of this city, leaped from the Wisconsin channel bridge on the island road, opposite Red Wing, and was drowned. She had been employed as a domestic at Edward Maetzold's home at Hager and it is said she quit work at 8 a. m. and started to walk to Red Wing, three miles. Harlie Johnson, a Wisconsin dairyman, saw her jump from the wooden span to the water, 25 feet below, and heard her cries, but was unable to rescue her.

Duluth. — In 1916 about $860,000 will be spent for road work in St. Louis county under the supervision of the state highway commission, the county board having levied $615,000 for the general fund, an increase of $115,000 over that of last year; besides which there was levied $75,000 for roads in the unorganized townships, authorized by the last legislature; $30,000 for the St. Louis county portion of the Duluth-St. Vincent road; and $110,000 to retire the Miller trunk road bond issue of 1893.

St. Cloud. — Search for Walter L. Brackett, missing Excelsior, Minn. farmer, for whom Governor Hammond has been asked to offer a reward, took a new turn with the finding of a supposed clue in the fact that a W. L. Brackett registered at a hotel in Chicago two days after the disappearance.

Thief River Falls.—The first shipment of Guernsey cattle to this locality by the county association was made this week. Twelve registered head, eleven cows and one bull were purchased in New York state by Harry Woolson, secretary of the association.

PLANS TESTS TO DETERMINE ANIMALS' CARRYING POWER OF TUBERCULOSIS GERMS.

STATE CAPITOL HAPPENINGS

Events of General Interest in Minnesota Condensed and Revised for The Greater Convenience of Busy Readers.

St. Paul.

The state live stock sanitary board, the Crookston experiment station staff and the cattle experts at the Minnesota college of agriculture will co-operate in an experiment which may result in the minimizing of losses resulting from tubercular infections in prize cattle.

Seventeen animals out of fifty-two in the herd of the Crookston school of agriculture, reacted to the tuberculin test when the herd last was infected. Many of these animals have only local infection.

The object of the experiment will be to determine the animals' germ-carrying powers. They will be segregated in a special barn about 700 feet from the cattle sheds at Crookston. X-ray tests, similar to those made in discovering local tubercular infection in humans will be made on the cattle. If it is found that there is no danger of infection at the conclusion of the experiment, the animals may be placed in a new herd.

Peace Greatest Blessing.

The greatest blessing for which the people of Minnesota should give thanks Nov. 25 is that the nation is at peace, Governor Hammond says in his Thanksgiving day proclamation. The proclamation follows:

"The people of Minnesota have special reason to give thanks to God for His blessings through and by which they have peace, contentment and the material things necessary for their welfare and wholesome enjoyment. The riches of the state, due to the fertility of its soil, the mineral deposits, the forests, the fish, the game and much else, supplemented by industry and frugality, are ample for the needs and reasonable desires of all who dwell in it. Unfortunately some who possess more of the world's goods than they need give too little heed to others, who, through misfortune or other cause, have less than actual necessities demand, and so suffer. Will not the prosperous at this time look for those who are in want, relieve the distressed, help the fallen to rise and bring hope and cheer to the disconsolate for the sake of Him who has given to us so bountifully? There are no unusual disturbances; tranquillity prevails, and there is little of the bitterness and strife, leaving neighbor to suspect neighbor of evil designs or section to oppose section. But, greatest of all, our nation is at peace. In the midst of the greatest war the world has known, accompanied with the most awful loss of life and destruction of property and attended by all the grief misery and woe that so terrific a struggle can develop, America is at peace. Our hearts bleed with sympathy for the stricken ones. We pray that the terrible conflict may end. We are thankful that we have been spared from the catastrophe that has come upon so many of the great nations of the world. So it is especially fitting that we should set apart a day for Thanksgiving, and I do hereby, as governor of the state of Minnesota, proclaim Thursday, Nov. 25, 1915, as Thanksgiving day, and I do most earnestly call upon the people of our commonwealth on that day to meet at their usual places of worship in order that they may there better render thanks to Almighty God for the manifold blessings we enjoy."

Burns Old Bonds.

Paper representing $2,161,000 went up in smoke through the Capitol chimney when Governor Hammond tossed into the fire the canceled bonds and certificates accumulated in the office of Walter J. Smith, state treasurer. It took the governor about three minutes to feed the bundles of old papers to the flames. The burning was attended by state officials.

★ ★ ★

Farmers Meet at Capitol.

Farmers from institutions under the state board of control met at the Capitol and discussed uniform methods for handling their produce. They took up such instances as milk which, in some cases, is measured by the pound and in others by liquid measure.

Much Diphtheria in State.

More cases of diphtheria in Minnesota than ever before at this time of year are reported by the state board of health. The state laboratories examined 7,470 diphtheria cultures since Sept. 1, according to the director of the division of preventable diseases, as compared with 5,665 cultures in the corresponding period of 1914. The corresponding figure in 1913 was 137; in 1912, 1,447. Diphtheria is reported active in Cohasset and Grand Rapids, Melrose, Paynesville, Benson, DeGraff and other towns.

WHY "ANURIC" IS AN INSURANCE AGAINST SUDDEN DEATH!

Sufferers from Backache, Rheumatism and Kidney Trouble

Before an Insurance Company will take a risk on your life the examining physician will test the urine and report whether you are a good risk. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog, you suffer from backache, sick-headache, dizzy spells, or the twinges and pains of lumbago, rheumatism and gout. The urine is often cloudy, full of sediment; channels often get sore and sleep is disturbed two or three times a night. This is the time you should consult some physician of wide experience—such as Dr. Pierce, of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. Send him 10 cents for sample package of his new discovery—"Anuric." Write him your symptoms and send a sample of urine for test. Experience has taught Dr. Pierce that "Anuric" is the most powerful agent in dissolving uric acid, as hot water melts sugar, besides being absolutely harmless and is endowed with other properties, for it preserves the kidneys in a healthy condition by thoroughly cleansing them. Checks the degeneration of the blood-vessels, as well as regulating blood pressure. "Anuric" is a regular insurance and life-saver for all big meat eaters and those who deposit lime-salts in their joints. Ask the druggist for "Anuric" put up by Dr. Pierce, in 50-cent packages.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong, sick women well, no alcohol. Sold in tablets or liquid.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Catarrh being greatly influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts thru the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative powers of Hall's Catarrh Cure that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

BUSINESS IN CANADA IS GOOD

Successful Crops and Big Yields Help the Railway.

The remarkable fields that are reported of the wheat crop of Western Canada for 1915 bear out the estimate of an average yield over the three western provinces of upward of 25 bushels per acre. There is no portion of that great west of 24,000 square miles in which the crop was not good and the yields abundant. An American farmer who was induced to place under cultivation land that he had been holding for five years for speculative purposes and higher prices, says that he made the price of the land out of this year's crop of oats. No doubt, others, too, who took the advice of the Department of the Interior to cultivate the unoccupied land, have done as well.

But the story of the great crop that Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta produced this year is best told in the language of the railways in the added cars that it has been necessary to place in commission, the extra trains required to be run, the increased tonnage of the grain steamers.

It is found that railway earnings continue to improve.

The C. P. R. earnings for the second week of October showed an increase of $762,000 over last year, the total being only $310,000 below the gross earnings of the corresponding week of 1913, when the Western wheat crop made a new record for that date. The increase in C. P. R. earnings for the corresponding week of that year was only $351,000, or less than half of the increase reported this year. The grain movement in the West within the past two weeks has taxed the resources of the Canadian roads as never before, despite their increased facilities. The C. P. R. is handling 2,000 cars per day, a new record. The G. T. R. and the C. N. R. are also making new shipment records. The other day the W. Grant Morden, of the Canada Steamships Company, the largest freighter of the Canadian fleet on the Upper Lakes, brought down a cargo of 476,315 bushels, a new record for Canadian shipping. Records are "going by the board" in all directions this fall, due to Canada's record crop. The largest Canadian wheat movement through the port of New York ever known is reported for the period up to October 15th, when since shipments of the new crop began in August, 4,265,791 bushels have been reloaded for England, France and Italy. This is over half as much as was shipped of American wheat from the same port in the same period. And, be it remembered, Montreal, not New York, is the main export gateway for Canadian wheat. New York gets the overflow in competition with Montreal.—Advertisement.

Sad Pleasure.

A minister who had resigned from his church was making his farewell calls. He called at the home of one of his parishoners who sent her little girl down to the parlor to entertain the minister for a few minutes, the mother not being dressed to receive him. After a few of the customary remarks about the weather the little girl said to the minister:

"I hear that we are to have the sad pleasure of losing you."

HEADACHE AND NEURALGIA

Hoyt's Headache and Neuralgia Cologne now heads the list as a successful remedy for the relief of headache, nervousness, insomnia, car sickness, etc.

The dangerous tablet has had its day. Hoyt's Headache and Neuralgia Cologne is a harmless, refreshing, fragrant preparation, marvelous in its action, relieving nervousness, sleeplessness, exhaustion and all head and nerve ailments by external use and inhaling. It is not a nerve food, but a nerve soother. By giving the nerves a rest they furnish their own food and tone, and all nerve pains disappear.

For children's colds and catarrh it is just the remedy, harmless and efficient and so pleasant to use. For men a pleasant remedy to relieve and clear the head "the morning after the night before." This is not an expensive preparation at 50 cents a bottle, because it brings the relief. It has many imitators at less price, but if they do not bring the desired results they are not cheap at any price.

Get Hoyt's and you will be satisfied. For sale at all drug stores.

It Surely Is.
